REPORT

OF THE

WORK OF THE ARCHIVES BRANCH

FOR THE YEAR 1912

ARTHUR G. DOUGHTY

Dominion Archivist.

OTTAWA
PRINTED BY C. H. PARMELEE, PRINTER TO THE KING'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY 1913

[No. 15.—1912.]

To the Honourable Louis Coderre, K.C.,
Secretary of State,
Ottawa.

Sir,—I have the honour to submit the following report of the operations of the Archives Branch for the year ended March 31, 1912.

Many important additions were made during the year to the division of Manuscripts, to the Map division and to the Library; and several exceedingly scarce engravings and prints relating to Canadian history were added to our collection. Through the courtesy of the Gentlemen of St. Sulpice access has been obtained to the archives of the Seminary at Montreal. The Sulpicians have been Seigniors of Montreal practically since the foundation of the city, and naturally the Seminary has become the depository of an extensive and valuable collection of documents bearing on the history of Montreal during the past two hundred and fifty years.

The generosity of the Gentlemen of the Seminary in placing copies of these documents at the disposal of the Archives will be greatly appreciated by all students of history. The task of investigating the records has been assigned to Mr. J. C. O. Bertrand who has received much valuable assistance and advice from Mr. Hébert, the registrar, and Mr. Henri Gauthier, the archivist of the Seminary.

A list of the documents already transcribed is given in Appendix C to this report.

The work of copying records in other places in the Province of Quebec, and also in Ontario and in the Maritime Provinces has been vigorously prosecuted. From the Province of Nova Scotia we have received several important collections of documents, including the private papers of Joseph Howe, the gift of Mr. Sydenham Howe, and those of George Johnston, the gift of his estate. By the use of the photostat now in operation at the Archives copies of documents can be made by photography at a great reduction of time and labour, with the additional advantage of an exact reproduction of every feature of the original.

It is the intention of the Department to install a photostat in the Province of Quebec and one in the Maritime Provinces.

Several documents of special interest are printed as an appendix in addition to the lists, and summaries of documents received.

During the past year a calendar of the maps in the Archives has been published, and three volumes of much historical interest are in the press—(1) a second volume of Constitutional Documents, (2) a volume of documents relating to Prairie Legislation, (3) Documents relating to the War of 1812. A catalogue of pamphlets from 1867 to date is in preparation. I have also to acknowledge the generous gift of Mrs.

Marslin of a number of souvenirs presented to her by different members of the Royal Family consisting of books and pictures, a gift prompted, as the donor states, by her appreciation of the position Canada is taking as a member of the British Empire; and some papers and interesting water colours by Sir Edmund and Lady Head, the gift of Miss Head.

A list of the several appendices to this report, lettered from A to N. is subjoined.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

A. G. DOUGHTY.

On the twentieth day of the month of June seeing the extreme necessity to which we were reduced [of feeding on] the Roots that are in the woods after having been ten months only eating seven ounces of pea flour a Day for each man I decided not to allow all to suffer any longer [but] to remain with sixteen persons both in the fort and in the habitation including two little Indian girls who had been given me by the Indians to be taken to france and to send all the rest of my Companions among the Indians who were to take them all and to give them [the means of] life, deciding to send the S[r] Boullé my brother-in-law in a little craft of seven or eights tons burthen with thirty persons to leave twenty at gaspay among the indians giving in payment two Robes of Beaver-skins and in the craft there were Five hundred Beaver-skins belonging to the S[r] de Caen having instructed the said boullé to go and look for a passage in some ship to go to france or in finding none to take the risk of crossing the sea to give information of the necessity in which we were even if he were unwilling to Return to Quebecq to share in our distress.

The sd. boulle left Tadoussacq for this purpose, the Twenty sixth of the Month of July opposite mantane he met the S[r] Emery de Caen commanding a ship which was on its way to bring us help and to take away the furs belonging to him in the cabin (lhabitation) of the little craft he took the Five hundred Beaver-skins that were there and put them in his own [ship] This done the sd. boullé got into a Boat to Come and bring me [the] news of the help that was coming to us by the sd. S[r] emery de Caen and The seventh of the sd. month of July the sd. boullé was taken from the boat by Captain thomas who fired a Gun at him when trying to escape having discovered that they were Enemies and the sd. S[r] thomas at once manned a Boat with a double crew and chased the sd. boullé so hard that they caught him aud robbed him of everything which [he] had in the said boat Both clothes and arms and from there [he] went to find the general Kearke whom he told that the S[r] Emery de Caen had told him that peace was made to which the general replied has he the signed articles of the Said peace no not that I know to which the sd. Gnal Answers that he believed Nothing of what was told him him of it to guard [him, Boullé] and thus brought him to the port of Tadoussacq with Six sailors.

The sd. gñal knowing the help that was coming to Quebecq from the sd. de Caen and the extreme need the S[r] de Champlain was in both from the Indians and from several sailors of the boat immediately fitted out a flyboat and two pataches with twenty pieces of iron Cannon and some two hundred and fifty men taking the risk of sending the flyboat and her two pataches up [the river] to Quebecq which they did being quite near the habitation before we had news of their coming which was the Nineteenth of July when they at once summoned the sd. sr. de Champlain to surrender and hand over the place to them by means of a reasonable Agreement offering us every possible consideration.

The S[r] de Champlain after assembling the leading [men] at his habitation and taking into account the utter want of food not being able to resist or to subsist having neither provisions nor more [than] two or three hundred rounds of musketry help nor news of any one who might be coming resolved to accept the best terms they could [obtain] and to this end the sd. Champlain set forth the articles of his demands which were answered by the Captains Louis and thomas Kearke which the said Champlain accepted as hereinunder.

The next day [the] twentieth of the sd. month Captain Kearke took possession of the fort and habitation as well as of the houses of the Jesuit fathers recolletz and the houses of two families who remained throughout in their homes or on their property they placed guards and seized the arms and other commodities of the fort and habitation as well as of all the furs both in the warehouses and of Jesuit fathers who had three hundred and also of the Compagnons de lhabitation to whom Captain Louis promised twenty crowns to each one who would give up their robes of Beaver-skins which had been promised them by the Agreement.

[They took] from the assistant Clerk named Corneille his Chest a part [of which] was stolen from him contrary to the pledged faith of the articles by a frenchman called le baillif a native of Amiens who had been employed by the S[r] de Caen in his warehouse in the sd. Quebecq the which frenchman [who was] very wicked in his life and in his morals [and] who is clerk for messieurs the English in the sd. warehouse is suspected of having stolen a Chalice worth a hundred Livres from the recolletz fathers As well as a hundred livres in silver and gold which he stole in the night from the said Corneille [and] gave him back the purse the next day notwithstanding this complaint was made to Captain Louis who remained in command in this place [and] who made some enquiry about it promising to make a closer one the fact remains that nothing more has been done about it.

Captain Louis when paying a visit to the Jesuit fathers promised them that nothing belonging to them would be taken in any way whatsoever which was kept to seeing which the sd. fathers made him the offer that if they had anything that pleased him he should take it he asked for several books and pictures such as he wished for which could not be denied him.

Also that which belonged to the recolletz fathers was preserved to them except the silver-gilt chalice [which] as said was stolen from them.

The sd. Captain louis gave me a Receipt for all the Arms and commodities that were in the habitation.

I learned being at Tadoussacq that when the sd. Jesuit fathers took ship to come from Quebecq to the sd. Tadoussacq the Captain louis wished to inspect their chest, and seeing there two silver-gilt chalices with the cruets in a stand he asked to have the sd. Chalices and wishing to handle them a Jesuit father named father massé said to him sir those are sacred things do Not profane them, straightway said he profanely since you tell me that I shall take them Because I do not believe and will take away the Idolatry The faith which [you] put in these things that is why I take them which I should not otherwise have done.

Moreover general Kearke Kept the Surgeon of the habitation against his will a Carpenter a ploughman and a sailor telling them he would give them as much pay as they had from the french saying he was forced to do this all the more that he had need of those [of them?] on his ships.

I sailed from the sd. Quebecq in the flyboat with the S[r] thomas Kearke The XXIII[rd] of the said month July who also took the two pataches with him after having unloaded them on the way at [a distance of] twenty and four leagues from Quebecq we met the sd. Emery de Caen who was coming up the River [and] who was attacked by the sd. thomas Kearke and his two pataches [in which attack] he defended himself very well Until the sd. sr. thomas boarded him in such fashion that they could not break loose from each other, at last the sd. S[r] de Caen not being able to contend against a force much greater than his own, yielded on the same terms as those of Quebecq the Which the sd. Captain thomas promised him and took possession of his ship and of all that was in it taking it to Tadoussacq.

The Sd. general Kearke being returned from Quebec to Tadoussacq told me I must give up the Receipt all the more that it was Important to his brother and himself and that I must give it up to him not being able to refuse in the Condition I was in on his ships I placed it in his hands We were a month longer at the sd. tadoussacq waiting till all the Supplies were transported to the sd. Quebecq Which being done we left the sd. port of Tadoussacq the third Day of September to return to England where we arrived the thirteenth of the month of october 1629.

In the Conference held last Thursday between Messs the keeper of the Seals and marshal de Schomberg and the Agents of the King of Great Britain for the settlement of matters relating to Canada and to la Cadye.

The Agents offered to restore Canada without restriction and asked that articles should be appointed on behalf of the two kings to decide on their claims to port Royal Submitting as sole title A memorandum sent by Mr Carleton and drawn up [by] Captain Alexander son of the Secretary of state of Scotland the person chiefly concerned in the matter whereby They claimed to shew that the Scots and English made the first landings in the settlements occupied prior to the war by the french and that consequently their right was anterior to ours.

The keeper of the Seals Having examined their arguments Answered that it could not be replied by writing in such Wise as they asked inasmuch as their memorandum was not authentic not signed by any public minister That it was A loose sheet drawn up by A private individual for his [own] Advantage [and] having no foundation inasmuch as the dates were lacking and that they could not shew at what period the English planted their colouy in the places where ours [now] are.

He also stated that he had a document in latin whereby the decisive answer concerning the restitution of the places in la Cadye was promised him within three months after the Day of its date which delay had been asked for solely for the purpose of doing things in an orderly [fashion] and to satisfy the scotsmen who had borne all the cost of the expedition [which was] leaving that there was no further reason for postponemeut nor to put the matter in doubt or compromise.

The Result was that either the King of G.B. should Restore without delay the places taken from the french in la Cadye or that he should not take it as a Breach [of peace] were we to recover them by force. having no other Purpose thau to regain our own wrongfully Seized by certain individuals Who should not be upheld contrary to the law of nations and to the Detriment of the union and public peace which we desire to maiutain with the scots our ancient friends.

And inasmuch as the English have always beeu in possession of certain places in la Cadye wherein those who have been driven away will be replaced on condition that they live as our friends and that an agreement be reached concerniug the bounds and limits between the Ones and the others [between them and us].

That the restitution of the things taken which shall be still in existence shall be carried out to the full and the value of those which have been sold or removed by reasonable agreement and in good faith and as shall be decided by expert and intelligent persons coucerning whom the princes shall agree and each shall also appoint one of the subjects of the other [namely a] responsible man who shall give surety and warrant for the execution of the things decided on.

That in the meauwhile all executive decrees, letters of marque and reprisals heretofore granted shall be revoked and declared null [and void] in order that matters may be amicably settled.

Thereafter the keeper of the seals proposed to send a man to England with power to treat of all the points at issue between us and accordingly appointed the Sieur de Caen who for various reasous cauuot be [considered] fitted for the task in question.

1°. Because he has no knowledge of la Cadye save by the accouuts of others haviug Never been in the places [referred to] nor made any settlements even in Canada Whither he has only journeyed as A merchant who goes to do business and not with the purpose of discovering the country and of establishing the French dominion there.

2°. It is manifestly contrary to the Interests of those of the company who have dispossessed him and [since] he might out of revenge or in the hope of recovery Throw matters into confusion and break up their Association.

3°. Having an action against the merchants of Londou for the Beaver-skins which were taken from him since peace [was made] which he estimates at Fifty thousand crowns It is to be feared that having the power at command being unwilling to lessen his claim in any way He should hinder the settlement of the main treaty being urged [thereto] by several persons Interested in His business.

The only person capable of treating and of conveying Instructions to the Kings ambassador is the capt. Champelain as [being] the one who made the first landings in the countries [in question] founded the settlements built the forts and visited the harbours and coasts of which He has a very exact plan and charts which he will shew to Monseigneur the Cardinal if so desired and will give him information concerning the condition of the country the situation of the settlements of what should be done to maintain ourselves there and to draw profit from it.

He has a share in the companye de la nouvelle france the Directors of which have been instructed by Monseigr the cardinal to attend the naval council to morrow morning.

DEPOSITION OF JAN DESCAMBOURS as to his detention at Rochelle and failure to relieve the fortress of Quebec, etc.

October 30.

On tuesday [the]thirtieth Day of october m vic twenty nine, Before us Jan aveline &c.

Appeared Jan Descambours, Saying that he had embarked in the month of march last in one of the pataches of the Sr de Caen commanded by him for the purpose of going to the assistance of The fortress and habitation of Quebec in new france, And that being about three hundred leagues at sea They were overtaken by so violent A Storm that it carried away all their masts and all their Sails whereby They were constrained to return to la rochelle where the new company caused the Sd. Sr de Caen's pataches to be seized, The which delayed them for more than fifteen Days. For from thence ensued the ruin of new france, inasmuch as they went and arrived in canada two or three days after the English And had they not been stopped at la Rochelle They would have arrived more than ten Days before the english who having found the Wind fairer in the river St Laurens took the fort and habitation commanded by the Sr Champlain by agreement [with its possessors].

[He] Said that his Captn having after two engagements fought with the English passed thanks to the fog through the Sr Querc's four ships at anchor off the moulin Vauldre And doing his best to get up the River to precede the others who were in front of them They learned from the Indians of the taking of the fortress as above [stated], And [that] afterwards the said Querc having ordered the ships which had taken the sd. habitation to Come and fire on the patache of the sd. Sr de Caen sent down a Phlibot [fly boat] armed with eight guns [and supported] by two pataches each armed with four Guns and Came and fought the deponent's patache for the space of Three hours, But A brother of the sd. Sr Querc, commanding the sd. three Ships, seeing that they had lost seven or eight english He caused the sd. Sr de Champlain to appear who came on deck, and the sd. Querc shouting, pledged his word that he would grant the same terms as he had given to the sd Sr de Champlain, which the sd. De Caen seeing and that there did not seem to be any possibility of holding out Inasmuch as the whole of the sd. S[r] Querc's force was above them at the passage They agreed to surrender The terms were that no englishman should enter the deponent's Ship until they should have joined their general, and that no frenchman should be robbed which was kept to.

[He] Said that the English have brought back about Five or six thousand of beaver-skins belonging to the General de Caen, besides those which they were able to trade with the Indians which are not a great many.

Said that the english sent all their Provisions and goods to the fort and habitation of Quebec, where They left Eighty or a hundred English with sufficient ammunition for the protection of the sd. fort.

Said that in the Ship of the sd. De Caen There were five or six men [who were] wounded in the last fight And seven or eight english killed.

Said that the sd. english left in the sd. country the two pataches which they had passed and another as well which they have taken up to the sd. country.

Said that all the french both the sd. S[r] de Caen and the S[rs] dupont and champlain embarked in the Ships of the S[r] Querc who to the number of Six ships & the S[r] de Caen's patache set Sail from Tadousac the XIII D[y] of September and arrived at the Downs (ladune) in England on Satudday last the sd. S[rs] de Caen, Dupont and Champlain having been taken to London, all the other french landed at the Downs to return thence to france and he [the] deponent having embarked at dover to Come to this Town arrived there To Day.

Said that he had no word of the new patache which parted from them during the heavy gale and that it must be taken for certain that she went down.

Said that the Capt[n] Jacques Michel who took the english to Canada died there & was buried The which he has Sworn and affirmed [to be] True, and signed.

I must now refer to the matter of St Christopher and Canada. In regard to the first, I was very glad to learn, as you were good enough to inform me of the truth of what occurred there, the Earl of Carlile* who is the only person Concerned having given out that he had gained a great victory over ours by land, where there were some four hundred left, and that having acknowledged their fault, They had asked for peace, which the english are said to have granted them and Imposed a kind of tribute for the lands they hold in the Island; On my giving the King to understand that which you told me about it, He said that he was better Informed than I and told a story of a land battle and the great advantages which his people had gained. Whereto I begged him not to trust the news and to believe that I was telling him the truth, concerning which I know that that very Day [when] supping with the Queen he found great fault with the Earl of Carlile who could not confess to having been beaten for fear of discrediting his plantation which he hopes to sell to some merchants For tobacco has decreased ten fold here in the last year. They are therefore thinking of planting Canary Vines there instead of tobacco. After St. Christopher I spoke to the King about the restitution of Canada and [the] fort of Quebec shewing by the capitulation that it was taken after the [conclusion of] peace. He said to me The Scots claim that the french have formerly wrongfully taken [the country] from them, and that in the short while wherein they can get back their own It must be allowed them [to do so] and that this is not contrary to the treaty. I replied that I saw he had been given Information on the matter at variance with the Truth, but that I did not wish to enter into these disputes, to wit who were the first to discover these lands, the french or the Scots. It was Enough for me to tell him that we were in possession of Canada and Quebec before the war, that we have since been deprived of it, that by the treaty we should be put back there, wherefore I begged him to consider the matter simply and in good faith and to order the restitution of it and of the goods that had been seized. He told me that I was better Informed than he and that I was right that his commissoners would settle this matter along with others relating to trade. I know nevertheless that since [then] Those of his council have wished to enquire into this claim on Canada, and of nine who were present there were Six sufficiently Insolent to wish to Maintain that they ought not to give up Canada to us. But the three of whom the Lord Treasurer was one maintained that it should [be] given up. They now desire that I should meet them in order to advise as I told you how to make good what has been done since the peace, That is to treat of the restitution of eight or ten of our ships which have been taken on their way to Spain, of their two which were taken by Bontemps on the coast of barbary, of St. Christopher and of Canada without going any farther in [respect of] a general regulation of trade, which They neither look for nor desire. As to that which you sent me concerning the flag and the [right of] search at sea, They will not hear of anything, their purpose being to hold this matter in abeyance until they see what they can expect [to gain] from the peace with Spain. If that is made the letters of marque [will] cease, if it is not made They believe that we have such need of their support and assistance against the might of Spain that we shall willingly agree to prohibit our subjects from carrying any grain or cloths into Spain. I should raise some difficulty about treating for the restitution of private property without a general settlement were it not for the fact of Canada, For as for the ships which they hold here They are of small consequence and [they] are being strongly urged by their [own] merchants [who are] Interested in those held at Dieppe which they say are of great value. I shall nevertheless have leisure to carry on these discussions without binding myself [in any way] until I know the King's wishes and yours, [as to]whether I am to treat concerning the private property [referred to] should they be unwilling to arrive at a general settlement. And whether in the event of my treating for them and they give me full satisfaction in respect of giving back the said ships and of Canada, I may also promise them the return of the two [ships] which are at Dieppe with all the goods. The whole of this discussion bears solely on the recovery of these two ships which are at Dieppe, otherwise I doubt if we should have any satisfaction from them. And we must here take into account that I can only obtain one promise of the restitution of Canada the performance of which can only take place next Spring, Which I beg of you, Monseigneur to consider and to give me precise instructions as to how I should act having nothing to hope for with these people here who are bold enough to shamelessly deny truth and right and have made peace with us more out of shame and inability to make war than out of friendship and regard for the general good. As for the Toiras ship the Lord Treasurer told me plainly that we must look for it not of friendship and not by agreement, and on my asking him to explain he told me that there could be no friendship until we should have removed the Ré flags which are in Nostre dame, I think I [already] wrote you that I fancied that this was what they were aiming at.

I fear lest in the deed they shall give me for the surrender of Canada they may wish to insert a clause reserving their claims and in that case I do not know whether I ought to accept it.

In regard to the matter of Canada I have told you what I have done up to the present and how all the goods were seized and kept, And that These Gentlemen of the council were putting off from Day to day my admission to a conference with a view to straightening out all that had been done since the peace, Which they have not yet done their whole time having been taken up for the last fifteen Days in Questioning those prisoners to whom I shall refer presently. I have no doubt whatever so far as I can be sure of the fickleness of these people Here but that I shall obtain an order for the surrender of Canada into the hands of those whom it may please the King to send thither, the performance whereof as I have told you cannot take place before the month of April or May. The greatest difficulty is to know what is meant by the words Canada or new france, I see by the [letter] you wrote me by the hand of Mons^{r} Martin that you specify Cape Breton and Laccadie, whereof being in doubt I have begged the S^{r} Champlain, whom I would willingly have retained here, to give me in writing before leaving the names of the places and coasts which I should claim as belonging to the King and should be restored to him, Which he did a copy of which I am sending you whereby you will see that neither Cape breton nor Laccadie are included, and that he thinks it sufficient that we should have the right to go and fish there. I beg of you Monseigneur to have this point enquired into with him [Champlain] and those who are familiar with it in order to set the matter in the clearest possible light and not lay claim to any thing which they can refuse us nor yet give up anything which belongs to the King, or if you prefer that I should simply without explanation on my part or on theirs be satisfied with their declaring that Canada and the fortress of Quebec shall be surrendered to the King. Which might possibly be the better [way] In any case I shall await your instruction in regard to it. As also if I can promise the further restitution of the two ships which are at Dieppe as against the restitution of those which are adjudged here the decisions concerning which I shall send you by this mail or if not by the next for I see that this is their sole purpose and that we shall have difficulty in bringing them to a general settlement or to a recall of the letters of reprisals against our ships that are bound for Spain except I be given leave to speak boldly and to tell them plainly on the King's behalf that he will be compelled to issue like letters of marque to his subjects against the English ships that may be found at sea. I do not think that if they see us fully determined [to do this] they will dare to maintain so Unjust a quarrel. But they are a self-willed people and the King more so than all his subjects who are hard and bold in refusing those things whereto they think they cannot be compelled by force & for fear lest they should accuse me of too much heat I have confined myself to speaking to them of the matter in the manner wherein I wrote [of it] to you.

In regard to de Caen there can be no doubt as to his fidelity in this matter of Canada, where to say truth if Mons[r] de Lauson had had as much experience as [he had] zeal and devotion the misfortune they suffered would not have happened But this is not his trade**

My Lord

Since writing you my letter of the first which you will find with this which will be delivered to you by the S[r] de Caen whom I have deemed it advisable to send to you, These Gentlemen of the council notified me to attend their council the next day [the] third of this month in order to communicate to me a despatch which they had received from the S[r] Edmond Relative to a conference that he had had with Monsieur Bouthilier to whom I am reporting on all that took place in this council and on all the frivolous complaints they make to me Whereby you may Judge of the fickleness and Inconstancy of this nation, of the slight faith and certainty there is in treating with them. I will therefore not trouble you with it farther, This [letter] being only to tell you of the declaration they have given me in Latin of that which they had said to me two Days previously concerning the restitution of the things taken since the peace, begging me to regard it as merely a Draught of their Intention and to pay no attention to faults of words and phrases, whereof They told me that when I should have considered it They would come to an agreement without [any] difficulty. There is something ambiguous and not sufficiently explicit in regard to the abandonment of Cape breton and Port roial As also in what they say of the surrender of that which was taken at St. Christopher, which I intend not only to clear up, but to finish altogether. I know they have inserted it to please the Earl of Carlile* who as I told you openly professes himself the enemy of france and which would be a Cue and a pretext for Annoying us at every turn. They are also making a difficulty about the restitution of the goods taken and adjudicated between the XXIII april and the XX May when the peace was proclaimed, all the more that the Judges and the parties [concerned] say that knowing nothing of the peace, the former adjudicated, the latter Sold The goods and gave the sailors their share that it is Impossible to give them back and [that] two [cases] of this kind exist, as they also say occurred at dieppe and that it was agreed to return two thirds and to lose the third which had been given to the sailors. My opinion is that we shall have to adopt the [aforesaid] plan, You will see by means of the sd. restitutions what they [really] wish and likewise the revocation of those letters of reprisals [issued] to Cadeau and Launay, which as I told you in my former letters I shall make no difficulty about consenting to If they are Willing to Come to a general settlement it being however only a question of the restitution of the things previously seized without any assurance that they will do likewise in future I am objecting to this, And were it not [for] Cauada I should be absolutely of opinion that we ought to refuse the revocation in question and even to come to any restitution except by a general settlement, but as public affairs involve various considerations, you may possibly find it well that I should consent to the restitution of the things which they ask for and agree on a Day for Its being made. In which case I beg that you will let me know whether I am to promise the recall of the said letters [of reprisals] For as they make this a condition in their written [statement], it would also be a condition on our part in order to oblige them to fulfil all that they shall promise us concerning the surrender of Canada, Cape breton and Port roial about which There will be difficulties

* sic.

enough here and over the places to be evacuated in regard to which I think [that] it would be well that some of the King's Ships should accompany those who shall go thither in order to carry out promptly and powerfully that which should be [done] for when we shall have done so They will hide it [the fact], If we are weak They will dictate to us and this matter will never be satisfactorily settled. The S[r] de Caen who foresees nothing but difficulties [in the matter] will discuss it with you should you wish [to do so]. There are people over there who have served Mons[r] Edmond very ill, they have written from there that in speaking to the King he said all the evil possible of the late duke of Buckingam* and of the power he had over his Master who is not pleased at these tales. Mad[e] de la Trémouille is one of the persons who writes most news from over there and it [is] commonly [reported] by means of the merchants [that] she is in correspondence with the Earl of Carlile*. This is as much as I can discover, assuring you that I am

My Lord

After the receipt of y[r] last [letters] of the XXIX ultimo I carried on several conferences with those of the council without [however] getting any farther as you will see by the duplicate of the [letter] which I am writing to the King. I do not know what they will do about Canada, but whatever they may promise me I shall hold nothing for certain except we be in possession of it. For I see by experience that all that they promise in word they render doubtful in execution, whence the King's subjects find Themselves Daily cheated by these people here who although to some They have given back their ships after many complaints and proceedings, this has been with so many charges and outlays that they would have done better to abandon them from the first day they were taken, And since they do not punish these pirates in any way, but rather shew them every favour possible, This evil will never come to an end save by force and protection which The King shall give His Subjects as I pointed out to the King of Great Britain, who suffers himself to be led in this as in all matters by those of his counsel who happen to be all Partners and sharers in the captures that are made, and hold it for a maxim of their State that as they are Islanders they must hush up these piracies that are wrought by their Subjects in order to keep them in the practice of the sea. It is all the harm they can do, for of great purposes or of great undertakings whether of offence or defence They are Incapable.

The Spanish ambassador is here without power to treat of or to propose anything as He told me, but only to play the part of an ambassador notwithstanding They have sent one thence to Spain to treat of peace whereof they have no news as yet of its negotiation. The said Spanish Ambassador has brought Mr Smith Bishop of Chalcedon a Letter from the Nuncio who is in flanders, whereby he suggests to him in order to put an end to the differences existing between him and the regulars, to appoint two Bishops besides himself in England and to divide The Kingdom between three, who shall be chosen from among the regulars. This [comes of] a Jealousy which the Spaniards have against the said Lord Bishop whom they regard as french [in his sympathies] in order to lessen His power, nevertheless He being weary of these quarrels gladly agrees thereto and begs me to write to Monsr de Bethune to support this new erection of two Bishoprics at Rome if it is proposed there. I have told him that I would write to you about it and that you would instruct Monsr de Bethune to act in the matter according as———— should Deem it fitting. I am still awaiting both Monsr de fontenay and the capuchins who tarry too long and cannot ascertain whence the cause [of delay] proceeds. I greatly regret however having Sojourned so long and Uselessly and not to have the honour of Following in So glorious a journey as you are making whereof the success is awaited with great expectation and Jealousy from over there where the English ambassador who is in Savoy and must in the ordinary course go to france has despatched a courier thence in order to Learn how He should act in regard to you whereof I did not meddle to speak, save when they told me the Reason for the despatch of this courier, I said he was right being in a court where the Prince and His children yield precedence to you without question and even the Cardinal to whom the said Ambassador yields precedence on all occasions and that it would be very extravagant [for him] to claim rank and equality with you. I do not know what instructions they will give him, For since they are guided neither by reason nor by decency I dare not hope anything, save if it please your Lordship the continuance of the honour of your favour which I shall all my life strive to deserve by my obedience and my services being

SIRE,

In compliance with Your Majesty's commands conveyed to me in your last of the xxvi ultimo I have made renewed Representations on this side to the King of Great Britain and those of His council in order to arrive at a satisfactory settlement which should make trade between the Subjects of Your Maj^ty and his Subjects in conformity with the draught thereof which I sent to the Cardinal and to Mons^r Bouthilier, The former having advised me that Y^r Majesty approved of it. Having however discussed it on several occasions with the leading men of the council on this side, They being at last convinced both of the reasonableness and the justice [of it] gave me as a final answer that they were quite ready to order the surrender and restitution of all that had been taken from your Maj^ty's Subjects since the peace, Even Canada and the goods brought thence provided I could assure them that Your Majesty would on that side surrender the two Ships taken by Cap^t Bontemps, But that they could not cancel the letters of marque which they had given against ships carrying provisions or munitions of war to Spain which was an ordinary practice of their State, that they were moreover bound by the treaty which they made in the year sixteen twenty five of an offensive alliance with the States [General] to continue the said letters, that they could not therefore negotiate with me for the revocation of the same, that similar proposals had been made in the time of the late King Y^r Father to Queen Elizabeth by the S^rs de Boissise and de Beaumont then Ambassadors here who were satisfied with like answers wherewith the late King found no fault but continued to maintain peace and good friendship with the said lady Queen even as they hoped that Y^r Maj^ty would be satisfied with the same answer which they were making me on behalf of the King their Master, who moreover wished to give your Majesty all satisfaction and make a good settlement for the freedom of trade between your subjects from one Kingdom to the other, Whereto I represented to them The Result & consequence of this answer with all the discretion at my command in order to shew them that it would be difficult [and] even Impossible that Your Majesty should suffer his Subjects to be robbed and despoiled daily by the English without assisting & defending them for the preservation of their life & of their property, And that this defence could only be by force and [by] using the same means and reprisals against the English which would give rise to much trouble and misunderstanding between the two Crowns, That the last breach which had occurred was due to this Cause, That your Majesties had also provided by the last treaty of peace for the necessity of settling that which related to trade and to instruct your Ambassadors in this sense as I had been by y^r Majesty, so that not consenting to agree to this settlement, was tantamount to saying that they would not implement that which they had promised Whereof y^r Maj^ty would have Reason to complain and their Master would be held responsible, That the practice of this State which they alleged to me had Never been with us nor with our consent Besides that they could not call usage nor practice a thing which had Never been applied to us without constant complaint and opposition and for so short a time that they could not count a whole year of it, as I shewed them by the remainder of our treaties and of that which had passed between france and them since the treaty of perpetual alliance which was in sixteen eighteen. But as they are more set on their own way than on right. They held to their answer hoping so far as I can judge of their conduct and the condition of their affairs, that before your Majesty can decide what should be done in regard to this proceeding, they will have an answer from Their Ambassador whom they have in Spain, That if matters tend towards peace as They greatly wish, that all kinds of letters of reprisals and acts of hostility will come to an end at sea, in such wise as that Y^r^ Majesty shall obtain that which he wishes, [and] If on the other hand the war continues, they believe that Your Maj^ty^ is So much involved in the war of Italy against the house of Austria that he would be very glad to make a league for the continuation of the same with them, and go on gaining time with these arguments without being willing to settle anything, believing however that they are doing enough by surrendering that which has been taken since the peace. Whereto I have told them I did not think Y^r^ Majesty would agree, the things taken being of different natures and conditions, To wit Canada and the furs which were removed thence. As also two or three ships that were taken when fishing, or on their return were not Subject to any judgment or condition, nor could [they] allege any Conceivable cause for retaining them The treaty saying distinctly that whatever should have been taken after the Day of the signing of the same should be restored on the one side and on the other. That in respect of the ships that were at dieppe They were taken laden with arms and munitions of war which they were carrying to the Infidels and people with Whom we were at war. That by their laws and ours the transport of arms and such like to the Infidels was forbidden, that the matter should be referred for Judgment when the parties could produce their reasons and defend their right, whereas I insisted that Canada and the furs and ships taken on their way to fish should be simply given up and restored in Compliance with that which had been promised by the treaty and without condition, Whereto they put me off to discuss it yet once more And the next day I took occasion to represent to the King of Great Britain all the objections which those of his council had made to me, whom I found greatly set on not giving way, notwithstanding that I was able to point out to him all the troubles that I anticipated from this procedure, Concerning which I shall await Your Majesty's instructions without saying anything further, besides that I do not think it necessary [to do so] it being merely fitting that Y^r^ Majesty should devise means to prevent their doing harm or damage to His Subjects, and thereby set them [the English] in order and bring them to reason as He will well know how to do whenever it shall please Him this nation having Never been So weak nor So poor as it is at present. * * * * * * *

CHATEAUNEUF TO BOUTHILLIER.

SIR, Feb^y^ 20, 1630.

February 20, 1630. Page 45. I am however sending you this bearer who was sent to me by the Canada company to beg for its evacuation by the English. Which I have often done and in general terms. They have always promised it to me as I have informed the King sending him the memo. which I submitted. But as it is a question of carrying It out They wish to do so to The Letter that is to say to surrender to us the fort of Quebec which the English took from us, but to make no reference to Cape Breton and Port roial where they landed at the same time as at Quebec, contending that being coasts abandoned by the french, they did not take them from them and were therefore free to land there. Yet nevertheless I learn from all those who are familiar with Canadian matters, that their staying in those places would be greatly to the detriment of the company's plans and even of the fishery. Besides that it would be a disgrace to france to have lost something by this last war, the English and Scots have some ancient claims that these coasts were first discovered by them. And we much more right to shew the contrary, But all this is to go into discussion and conference while they are in actual possession, which I have always declined to do, Insisting on the terms of the treaty that things were to be restored as they were before the peace, and that, after they shall have withdrawn, they may have any conference they desire. They reply that this is good for the fort of Quebec But that as for port roial, they have taken nothing from the french there, and settled in An Uninhabited land where They still are and promise to live in all good friendship and Understanding with us. On account of these Unfounded claims I am putting off acceptance of the surrender of Quebec, for having submitted to them the memo which I sent you, If I agree to [take] Quebec only, They will take my Silence or acceptance of part of my demand as a recognition of their possession, and that the matter having been arranged I was satisfied with Quebec [alone], Concerning which I beg that you will let me know plainly [what are] the King's wishes otherwise I shall leave the matter at issue to Mons^{r} de fontenay without accepting anything. I am nevertheless constrained to add that they are making strenuous preparations to send people there this year, And that unless you stop them it will not be easy to get them away from there later on [and] even Impossible for this Prince to withdraw them [they] being all kinds of vagabonds barbarians and savages from Scotland whom they are sending there, and who are little skilled in obeying. * * *

Endorsed Agreement drawn up between the Sr de Montegu and the Agents of the King of Gt Britain at Dijon the last of March 1631

Relative to the mutual restitutions to be made.

The 1 Day of April at the sd. place of Dijon this Agreement having been examined in the King's Council where were [present] Monseigneur the Cardal, Msr the Keeper of the seals, the Mal de Schomberg, the Mal d'Effiat de Bullion and myself, we rejected the sd. agreement and another was made in presence of M. de Montegu, and of the srs. I talked about . . . ago to the Marquis de Brezé who told me very frankly all that had taken place & [while] all . . . is true & without malice yet rumour which is always inventing something new mixed up matters quite remote from one another both in time and subject and has caused them to be received as [if] said at one time & on one occasion & [I] cannot exonerate of great malice [the person] who talked thus, things being as they are. As for what he said concerning M. de la Mailleraye, He said [quite] truly that he was a clever man & was very discreet, & [not] more than half an hour later having spoken of very different matters [he] began to talk about different kinds of minds, Whereupon the sd. Sr de Brezé speaking of himself said that his mind was one that acted without craftiness and quite sincerely Which had no connexion whatever with that which had gone before & was quite irrelevant to it, & yet the conjunction gives rise to a comparison & the bad impression derived from it, wherein the malice consists.

In regard [however] to England, in saying that trade and commerce Shall be restored as it was heretofore I fear lest that may debar us from imposing the Duties whereby it is proposed to levy on foreigners in our ports the same dues that they lay on us in their state, for which reason I most humbly beg of you to consider whether it might not be possible to insert some little word which would preserve your freedom & yet should nevertheless seem in no wise other than in good faith, as [by] adding after these words: as it was heretofore and in the same manner as with the other allies of france.

We have also learned that the english are making preparations to conquer & invade all that france holds in Canada, They have sixteen ships quite ready & that They have already conquered it in imagination [is shewn by the fact] that in new maps Imprinted in Holland They have named Nova anglia that which had always been named Nova francia as You may see by the map I am sending you in a corner of the same which is not a matter of great importance if it stood alone, but with the warning we have of their intentions it seems to me that it should not be despised & [that it would be] well to make sure of in negotiating.

I shall expect the papers from the marine department when it shall please you [to send them] & you shall be good enough to give me a day [in] the holidays to go and sleep in town to have the honour of an interview & receive y^r^ decision on the difficulties You have met with in the Edict.

I shall send you at the earliest date God helping me the memorandum in the manner followed on similar occasions but bloodletting and a little pain oblige me to finish.

ARTICLES AGREED UPON BETWEEN THE TWO KINGS OF FRANCE AND ENGLAND THE* DAY OF* 1631.

The two Kings having Deemed it necessary for the Interests of their Crowns and the quiet of their subjects to restore the ancient alliance peace and friendship, long existing between their two Kingdoms Have again thought it their duty to think seriously of the preservation of the Princes and States their allies, and to this end Have done and negotiated that which here follows.

It has been agreed between them that they will assist The King of Sweden and Their Honours the States of Holland in the Sum of Three millions of livres each equally one half which Shall be furnished without any fail by The sd. two Kings within the first Six months of each year in The City of Amsterdam in ready money or bills of exchange good and Amounting to the sum of given and delivered to the agents or Attornies of the King of Sweden, and the Sum of to the sd. States, while and so long as they shall carry on the war Wherein they are now [engaged] and shall put their Arms in the field for that purpose.

To this end the sd. two Kings promised to treat and negotiate conjointly or Separately by their Ambassadors and residents at [the courts of] the sd. King of sweden and [the] States to the effect that in consideration of The sd. assistance They pledge themselves to make no Peace nor truce. Without their consent advice or participation, or to continue The war for Six or ten years, And even should they be unable to obtain One of these two conditions. The sd. two Kings Have nevertheless further agreed that they will not fail to furnish The sd. Three millions of livres to the sd. S[r] King of Sweden or States for whatever number of years they shall make and carry on The sd. war.

And inasmuch as the King of Great Britain declares that he has no dearer Care than to See His brother-in-law The Prince Palatine restored to his Estates or a part thereof The Most xtian King promises to intervene for him in good faith both with the Emperor and with the Duke of Bavaria to obtain for him by a favourable treaty A fitting satisfaction.

The two Kings will invite The Republic of Venice to unite with them in this Treaty and to assist The sd. King of Sweden and Their Honours the States, on condition that even should the said Republic decline to agree to it, The two Kings will not fail to furnish The sd. Three millions of livres to the said King of sweden and States as has been said.

For the confirmation of A greater peace and perfect understanding and friendship between the two Kings and to remove all subjects of disagreement that arise between them in regard to that which remains to be fulfilled of the last treaty of Peace and that which has since Arisen—

Their Majesties will pass the treaty agreed upon in London concerning The freedom of Trade and the restitution of things taken and held since the Peace Between the S[r] de Chasteauneuf Ambassador extraordinary & the Commissioners of the King of Great Britain.

And inasmuch as the King of Great Britain then put off giving the said S[r] de Chasteauneuf an answer concerning the surrender of Laccadre* and port Royal which have been taken from the french since the Peace, until he should have received advice from His Council of Scotland, Although by the answer given to the demands of the sd. S[r] de Chasteauneuf the surrender of all that had been taken in Laccadre,* port Royal Cape breton and other places from the french had been distinctly promised him in accordance with the terms of the Treaty of Peace, and that hitherto His M[ty] of Great Britain has not given satisfaction on this point.

*Sic.

*Sic.

The Most xtain King will make no objection to the delays and difficulties raised by the Scots. Provided that the King of Great Britain [shall] declare that the Treaty made and passed between Cap[t] de la Tour and Captain Alexander in Acadia the 1629 shall be of no effect, And that he is willing that the said La Tour & the french shall be restored and remain in the condition wherein they were in Acadia at the time that Peace was signed between the two crowns The XXIX April 1629 Promising further that neither he nor any of his English subjects shall assist the Scots in the sd. Acadia directly or indirectly in the event of their persisting in the difficulties they have hitherto made in connexion therewith, The sd. two Kings being further agreed that whatsoever may take place in Acadia and the coasts thereof between The french and the Scots shall not in any wise affect the Peace which is and shall continue firm between the two Crowns.

Endorsed. Proposed articles between france And England. Wherein Montaigu has written something himself which he wished added. M[r] Bontillier will not lose This copy as there is no other.

The King accepts the promise made by his M[ty] of Great Britain to surrender Quebec and port royal, And for the conditions He trusts to the answer given by the com[rs] of his M[ty] of great britain to the S[r] de Chasteanneuf the first [day of] february M.vi[c] thirty in the preceding year in latin whereof a copy is being sent.

In respect of the restitution of the Ships and merchandise taken on either side since the peace they shall be given back To wit to the french The ships called the Gabriel of S[t] Gilles, the Ste. Anne of havre de grace. The Trinity of ollonne. The St. Laurens of S[t] Mallo, The Cap du Ciel of Callais. And to the English the ships called the James the blessing & the bride or the value and estimate of the s l. Ships and merchandise as they have been valued and sold by the authority of Justice.

For the execution and restitution of everything on either side the time and the Day shall be agreed upon between the Comm[rs] of the two Kings in England And for this purpose His Ma[ty] is sending His authority to the S[r] De fontenay his ambassador.

I am sending you an Extract from the letter which I am writing to Mons[r] de fontenay on the subject of the surrender of Quebec and port Royal, whereby Monseigneur the Card[al] writes to Mons[r] de Lauzon Master of the Requests for the purpose of notifying the Canada company of what should be done in accordance with that which the King has commanded me to write to his Ambassador, Mons[r] de Lauzon Will see You in reference thereto I will therefore say no more to you about it not being able to add anything to the Extract of my letter on this point.

BOUTHILLIER TO FONTENAY.

April 16, 1631. Page 90.

I am sending you the enclosed letters which I beg you will deliver to Mons[r] de Montaigu.

I also beg of you to tell M[r] de Lauzon to see to getting ships ready for Quebec and Canada according to the promise made to the King his Master by the said sr. de Montaigu.

For this purpose the said s[r] de Lauzon will need to send two of the Company to England to ask for the instructions required for the reestablishment of the french in the places aforesaid, and arrange that the King of great britain shall send a Ship to take his express instructions to those who command there for him In order that in virtue thereof they may at once yield to our people possession of the places taken from them. The said two men shall embark on the English ship to go and meet their own people who will leave here at the same time.

My Lord,

This will convey to you the reasons and the conclusion of all our delays the reason has been the difficulty we have had in getting the places we have to surrender out of the hands of the Scots but the King has at last Satisfied them and they are ready to give them up the conclusion is that all the restitutions of merchandise on either side have been arranged with the Ambassador together with the surrender Sic. of the said places of Quebec and port real they are also willing to pass the treaty of commerce as drawn up by us there now remains therefore only the payment of the rest of the [Queen's] marriage (?) [portion] which the King expects Burlamasi to receive on arriving who will convey the King's despatches for the surrender of the places [in Canada and Acadia] and will at the same time ask for these orders for the money at whatever the present rate may be accounting for it to the King so that he may be able to use it for the King of Sweden for whom it is absolutely intended. I was not able to answer for the success of this resolution as being outside the [terms of the] precise promise made me concerning the payment of the money for which reason the Queen has seen fit My Lord to despatch this special courier to you in order that you might not be unprepared for some alteration of affairs when you receive the resolution which will be sent you in a very few days by your Amba[ssador] and also to induce you to undertake the settlement of this matter which merely turns upon a point of time since it has beeu determined to carry it out and the truth is it would not have been so urged were it not that the affairs of the King of sweden and his daily entreaties shew us plainly that the times which had been set for the payment and which had been named here by your Ambassador after the news of the surrender [of Quebec, etc.] would apparently be too late for which reason the *(Passage obscure; meaning seems to be that "the Queen relied on the hopes" . . .)* Queen was according to the hopes* always held out to me of a willingness to make the payment sooner in the event of its being determined here to use it in a quarter where this matter of time will not endanger so happy an agreement she promising you on behalf of the King that it [the money] shall be wholly and immediately applied to the affairs of the King of sweden and personally I believe that the journey of the Marquis who is hastening his preparations being already back from Scotland will depend largely on the success of this [matter] there may possibly be people who would not regret the delay but the success of this matter will give us an advantage over all the ill will which we may have to encounter and will not only give the Queen courage and inclination but strength and power to promote daily the results of the good understanding between the two crowns, wherefore Monseigneur taking the conjuncture into account and the good and the evil that may arise therefrom I have no doubt but that you will be willing to pleasure his Majesty in this matter being confident of receiving at the same time all the assurances of the fulfillment of all that should ensue from it the disadvantages of a misunderstanding as well as the certainty of falling into it if this present agreement miscarries are well known to us this is why I shall have no doubt of your ability to avoid them in an even greater difficulty than this one there is so little to be done in the present instance that the importance of not even seeming to fail makes me anxious moreover the general welfare [and] those who serve you personally will have the benefit of having overcome difficulties which you will not find it hard to conceive of [but] most of all I beg that Your Lordship will first inform the Queen of the resolution [come to] and if you are inclined to comply with our requests it will be honourable and fitting you should do so out of consideration for the Queen and to so state publicly and to send specially hither placing everything in her hands before the Ambassador announces it I have pledged my life to her that france would do this if she would make up her mind to satisfy us and I know well that your devotion to her honour and contentment is a better pledge for this [matter] than my life wherefore I beg that Your Lordship will despatch this news to us as soon as it may be possible for you to do so, because I am telling you of the result of everything [that the result...] which consists in the immediate satisfaction of Burlamasi all other things are as you wish them [to be] and you will soon have the Ambassador's report on them but we wished to be the first to prepare you to find nothing strange in this proceeding the Cardinal will oblige the Queen to whom he is not a little obliged for the opinions she has of him: it is alleged here that you gave us on your arrival here the same assurances of the payment of the marriage [portion] as are now made to us without any conditiou and a thousand other things but the upshot is that by granting this you would settle everything and would be assured of a profit on your money [it] being without fail used in sweden and without this [payment] a breach of the understanding will most certainly occur. I have written to the Cardinal reminding him of the promise to advance the money for this purpose for which it is actually [and] certainly intended moreover My Lord the respect to the Queen which is here looked for will be honourable and useful to you wherefore I conjure you to ensure the speedy despatch of this news if you accede to this request Burlamahi will leave at once if not his journey will be stopped. I will add nothing to this wearisome letter save [a mention of] the Marquise's pregnancy whom if you are a perfect gallant you will aid by procuring the absence of her husband which nothing will effect so speedily as our agreement you will see by the Queen's letter her feelings and her wishes I have fulfilled her commands in setting forth her wishes at length to whom they are so dear that being in conformity with the King's service one should look confidently for success the Chevalier will leave in eight days and will tell you how everything stands here and me that of

My Lord,

My not having hitherto made a direct report of matters to you has been due to my knowing how very carefully mons[r] Boutillier has been doing so, and also because I have not yet [received] your cipher [code] which I have often asked Mons[r] Charpentier [to give me] in order to communicate freely with you concerning matters which it was necessary to keep secret. Now [however], My Lord, although these two reasons still exist, the importance of matters makes it imperative that I should let you know the present condition of the treaty which you have sent me authority to sign and what has been done in connection therewith.

On Mons[r] de Montaigu's arrival here I urged the King of G.B.'s commissioners to carry out what he had promised in france touching the surreuder of quebec and Port Royal whither they were bound to send speedily in order to make the surrender of them whereto they replied they had never given him any authority to negotiate or to promise, that having gone to france for other reasons, he had reported to them on his return that an offer had been made to settle the payment of the marriage [portion] simultaneously with the delivery of the quebec despatches whereupon having wished to discuss [the matter] with him as being at variance with my special orders uotwithstanding I had a general [order] to confirm whatsoever had been promised him, he informed me that he had uot gone so far although he had said that the departure of those who should be commissioued to go to Canada would be considered as an actual surrender and that Without waiting for news of their arrival the english might send Burlamachi from france for the recovery of the remaiuder of the dowry, Which being also at variance with my instructions which are to the effect that his Ma[ty] has no intention that it should be mentioned it being a matter which has no counexiou with the execution of the treaty of peace and which must be done at his good pleasure and becomingly, I was not [however] able to get to that point though it would really have been useless [to do so] the english declaring their determination to stand by their terms and to take no measures for the surrenders except they be assured at the same time of that which they claim, which I have given them in word as far as I could and magnified the King's good intentions in clear aud pressing terms wherewith they being unwilling to be satisfied they have drawn up an article to be inserted in the treaty concerniug this matter, to which I could not subscribe they still persisting in wishing to send to frauce before [sending] despatches to Quebec, I urged against them the non-fulfilmeut of things promised and the hindrances they were raising to the voyage and to the treaty by their delays and by their new proposals also complaining that during the period of our conferences the second of which had been postponed for three weeks they had sent two ships to Canada, they replied that the ships were ouly laden with provisions which they did not wish to be captured knowing that preparations were being made in france, that the king their Master would on his side perform what he had promised, that the delays they had made were for the purpose of discussing [the matter] with their merchants concerned and that as evidence of their desire to avoid delays they had decided to send powers in due form by Burlamachi and all the despatches necessary for the surrender of the places to their Ambassador, so that their men might start from france without awaiting further instructions from England so soon as they were assured of their debt, I told them that the Banker's journey would be thought very strange nor did I think that he would gain anything by it uutil they should on their side have performed that which Montaigu and they themselves had promised, they rejoined that they would send him to their Ambassador who should have instructions to urge the matter and the other to facilitate and arrange the payments in case the [two countries] should be of one mind. That is the conclusion to which they have come based on the hope given them by Montaigu in order to be employed that they may succeed in their object through his agency and on several letters written from france to burlamachi which he has shewn to the Ld. Treasurer and to several others as I stated in my letter of march 1 which I begged Monsieur Boutillier to shew you.

There is nothing to object to in the remainder of the treaty, as Your Lordship will see by the memoranda thereon which I am sending you [and] which the english agree to. . . . . .

You are so used to the difficulties [connected with] surrenders that you will not wonder at the delays and obstacles which may arise therein the King my master hath at last removed all those that stood in the way of the surreuder of Quebec and port real which he is ready to make according to the agreements with the Ambassador of france provided that Burlamahi shall receive at the same time assignmeuts valid for the paymeut of the remainder of the Queen's marriage [portion] as this demand has somewhat exceeded the promise made to me I have only beeu able to reply to it by [an expression of] my hope according to that which your dordship gave me that in the event of their being willing to use it in assisting the king of sweden that france might bring herself to advance the money whereupon the King said to me that I might give every assurance on his part and that this purpose made him press for the payment now believing that france would very willingly agree to oblige him in this matter of time since delay would make this money useless to him the other matters My Lord have been settled here with the Ambassador of france according to the points conveyed by me the Queen has deemed it well to inform you of this resolution of the king's with the reasons [for it] in order that she might not shew a distrust of but rather a confidence in the good intention of the King her brother to grant it believing that a matter of time would rather be chosen in order to pleasure her than to inject a difficulty in [the way of] bringing to pass so important and so happy an ending of all their differences the Queen My Lord has no doubt of your equal willingness to do all that is useful and honourable which is why she feels confident that by your means this end shall be the beginning of much happiness to the two crowns personally My Lord I should be unable to allege any promise of so speedy a payment wherefore I speak only according to my hopes based on your prudence being able infallibly to assure you that the money will rather be used in sweden than touched here I have no doubt My Lord but that you will deem the respect you shall bear to the Queen in this business a means for bringing it about assigning whatever more you shall do to consideration for her and sending it [the money] to her hands this may have much import as a thing due in her need [of it] she has wished to inform Your Lordship of it through me in order to prevent your thinking the King's intentions to be in any wise changed by the demand of so speedy a payment you will receive from the french Ambassador all that has been agreed upon and asked for in writing wherein you will find nothing new except it be that you are always glad to find a fresh opportunity of doing more generous things than you have promised wherein you

Philippe Burlamachi has informed me that there was only left for him to receive certain arrears of the Stocks given him in payment of the Monies owing by His Most christian Ma^ty^ to the King my master as also he claims that Monsieur Deffiatt of happy memory had assured [him] that if he lost on the price of the Stocks in turning them into money he would be compensated. He assures me that by the delay of the Contracts of the said Stocks which were kept from him from the month of March 1631 Till the month of March 1632 He was much Involved in the Interests wherein he suffered, and that in order to turn the said Stocks into money He has lost at least the amount of Six thousand pounds Sterling without reckoning those which he advanced to the French Officers sent back to france, and others that were assigned on the same payment. He also told me that the Company of New france is withholding from him the Sum of Fifteen to Sixteen thousand livres tournois, for Provisions and supplies which on his order and Credit the Scots of Port Royal Sold to the Commandant de Rosilly Which sum according to the order of the said Commandant as shewn by his bill of exchange he paid here to the said Scots in virtue of his promise, without however being able to obtain payment of it Up to the present from Seig^r^ de Lauson at whose request he gave Credit to the said Commandant. This Morning we set sail in the Road before Governours Island, and Anchored in Nantasket, and in the evening got on board our Soldiers from Governours-Island and the Castle.

This night about twelve a clock we lost Capt. Welch who went in to Casko.

Tuesday 29. At seven this morning we set sail from the place aforesaid, the wind at S S E, & S E, close and foggy weather which forced us into Sheepscutt River.

Wednesday 30. At seven in the morning we set sail, the wind NW, fair weather, steered to Mount-Hegan, where the Boat was set on shoar, and brought off the Island Carratts & Cabbages, and several sorts of Garden herbs.

Thursday, May 1st. At 10 in the morning we anchored at Mount-Desart, the place appointed as aforesaid; in the evening Capt. John Alden who was sent within the Islands and commanded to view Penobscut-Fort, and to bring Tydings of Casteen, brought us this Intelligence; That Casteen was gone from thenee, and 200 Indians were in the Fort, and that the out-Centinels fired several musquets at them alongst shoar; whereupon the General and Counell ordered the Major and the several Captains with their respeetive Companies to prepare to attacque the said Fort.

Fryday 2. This Morning the wind came up at N E, we weigh'd and sail'd up the Harbour, which lieth W N W, and intended that night to make an Onsett on the aforesaid Fort, but by bad weather and a Contrary wind were hindred.

Saturday 3. This day all our souldiers were landed on an Island near us in order to fitt themselves to attacque the said Fort, but were hindred by bad weather that sprang up in the evening.

This day much Rain till evening, and after the Duty of the day was perform'd, it pleased God to send us fair weather, and about 8 in the evening the Soldiers were imbarqued for to ingage the said Fort, some on board the Sloop Mary, and some on board the Mary-Ann Ketch, and some in our Long-boat, Barge, and Pinnace, distance from the Fort 4 Leagues. Some Indians had been there, 'tis guessed about thirty.

Et par consequent rendit notre artillerie jnutile Ce qui nous obligea a faire des Sabords dans la chambre n'ayant q'un Canon qui faisoit feu sur l'ennemy qui venoit avec le vent et la marrée Et Le plus gros desdits Bastimens ayant 16. canons mouilla a la demie portée du mousquet Et faisant feu sur nostre navire avec son canon Et mousqueterie tandis que l'autre bastiment qui estoit un brigantin sur lequel jl y avoit 70 hommes venoit nous aborder comme jl fit parce quil ne tiroit pas tant d'eau que nous ce qui nous obligea anous retirer dans la chaloupe, quils essayerent de couler a fond a coups de Canon Et sur laquelle le brigantin faisoit un grand feu de mousqueterie jls ny blesserent cependant q'un matelot. Et sen retourna a jemsee pour passer en Canada, Le sieur de gouttin qui estoit resté au bas de la dite riviere avec partie de l'Equipage pressé par la faim fut* obligé de faire un canot d'Ecosse d'Espinetz pour se rendre a jemsee Et taseher par Le moyen des sauvages de revenir chercher Le restant de cet Equipage qui Estoit presque a demy mort nayant mangé que des herbes, Et quelques Coquillages pendant 9. jours, on luy dit que Monsieur de Vilbon Estoit party pour Quebec, mais quil nestoit encore qu'a six lieües, ce qui lobligea de depecher un canot pour le prier de l'attendre, dans ce temps, jl y descendit 15. sauvages qui Venoient en guerre par ce quils avoient appris quil y avoit des anglois dans la Riviere et dirent a Monsieur de Vilbon sil n'en vouloit pas estre, Et Le prierent de retourner avec eux Et ayant pris encore 5. Extrait de la relation faitte par Mr de Gouttin de la prisse du fort de Pimiquid

Des Monts deserts le 22 Aoust 1696 Accadie.

Je vous envoye un petit detail de ce qui s'est fait daus l'expedition de Pimiquit, ou vous scaurez que nous sommes arrivez Le 14, du pñt mois sur le 3. heures aprés midy, et qu'il avoit plus de 4. heures que tous les sauvages et la chalouppe ou estoient les bombes, et canons avec les dettachemens de Nanoüac et des vaissx estoient arrivez au portage, et avoient desja mis un mortier et deux canons a terre, et que les sauvages s'estoient allez poster au tour du fort, nous ne fusmes pas plustost moüillez que 15. sauvages vindrent du portage a nostre bord y prirent des vivres et partirent dans le mesme temps pour se rendre a un petit passage par ou les anglois pouvoient passer la nuit pour aller a Pescatoüet, ou a Baston.

Le dt jour 14. sur les 5. heures du soir Mr d'Iberville envoya M. du Talt garde de la Marine servant d'Enseigne sur son bord, pour sommer le commendant de Pimiquit, il en revient sur les 7. heures et demie, et nous dit que le Commandant avoit repondu que quand la mer seroit toute couverte de vaissx françois, et les bois remplis de françois et de Sauvages ils ne se rendroit qu'il ny fust forcé et qu'il n'ust veu Effectivement les efforts que l'ou feroit pour le reduire; nos gens embusqués autour du fort n'urent pas plustost apris la reponce du Commandant de Pimiquit qu'ils commencerent a escarmouscher, et il leur fut repondu pareillement du fort par la mousqueterie et quelques Coups de Canon, Le 15. a deux heures aprés minuit Mr d'Iberville descendit a terre, et apres avoir reconnu l'Estat et situation du fort, et resollu les endroits pour placer les batries, Il fit travailler avec tant de diligence tant au transport des mortiers bonbes,* et affuts et canons, que sur les trois heures apres midy, il y eut un mortier en batterie qui tira 4 bombes qui ne tomberent pas dans le fort on le fit sommer pour la 2e fois, aprés qu'on luy eut dit qu'il ny avoit aucun quartier luy ayant exageré le nombre des bombes et artillerie et que l'on les abandonneroit à la fureur des sauvages, qui prioient Mr d'Iberville de ne les recevoir a composition, cette derniere sommation Intimida sy fort la garnison, et Mr dest Castin qui servoit d'Interprette leur donna sy bien l'alarme qu'ils dirent au commendant qu'ils vouloient se rendre. et demanderent a Mr dest Castin un certifficat comme on avoit 500 bombes a leur Jetter, Jls envoyerent des otages aux bateries, à Mr d'Iberville, et dans la Capitulation il fut permis à la garnison de Pimiquit de sortir avec leurs meilleurs habits seulement.

Le dt Jour 15e M. de villieu entra dans le fort avec son detachement, et ceux des vaissx avec lesquels il fit occuper tous les postes sur les 8. heures du soir on fit sortir 45 hommes de la garnison angloise que l'on envoyé aux vaissx le restant n'ayant pû sembarquer acceause de la nuit, et les ayant voulu mettre hors du fort ils s'escrierent qu'ils Estoient perdus et que les Sauvages les tueroient, et on fut obligé de les laisser rentrer.

Le Landemain 16e la garnison estant toute sortie elle se trouva forte de 92. hommes. elle avoit esté renforcée de 42. hommes sur la Nouvelle des vaissx françois, et la prise d'une de leurs fregattes: Le Commandant s'apelle Cap ne Chubd, il avoit sa femme et un garçon avec luy, Il y avoit 4. autres dames.

Le fort estoit de muraille de 5 pieds 2 pouces depaisseur du costé de la mar, et de 3. pieds du costé de la terre, et à le voirs* paroissoit tres beau et tres bon mais qui ne l'Estoit effectivement pas, les Logements Estoient tout autour du fort tres propres, Il Estoit flanqué de deux grosses tours et de deux petites, il avoit 50. pas communs sur chaque fasse, estoit quarré, et on pouvoit mettre 500. hommes en bataille dedans, des Crenaux en dedans tout autour, et une gorge en forme de boyaux qui fortifioit beaucoup le dedans, Le Magasin à poudre n'avoit rien a craindre que les bombes encor n'estoit ce que par un tres petit endroit, la grosse roche aupres duquel il estoit bâty faisoit une partie de sa voute, et de ses murailles.

Il y avoit 15. pces d'artillerie montée, et l'on peut dire que s'Ils avoient voulu faire leur devoir ils auroient fait perir plus de 370. hommes.

Il ne sy est trouvé aucune marches ny pelletrie, les armes poudre, et plomb, et tout le latin amassé ensemble a Esté partagé en quatre portions Esgalles aux Sauvages, ou à veu des Espées, et des Cinturons qu'avoient les soldats françois lors de la prise du port Royal, Le 17 on a travaillé a desmolir le fort. Le dt Jour Sur le Soir on a envoyé partie de la garnison dans la Chaloupe de M. de Chofours a baston, et en mesme temps on a proposé l'Esehange de nos prisonniers; J'oubliois de vous dire que l'on a trouvé un sauvage aux fers dans le fort les Jambes roides comme un baston; et n'en pouvant plus; Le 18 on mit Le feu au fort. LETTER FROM CAPTAIN NICHOLSON WRITTEN FROM JAMES CITY, VIRGINIA, TO THE LORDS OF TRADE AND PLANTATIONS, 4 NOVEMBER, 1690.

Lre from Cap^{t} Nicholson to the Committee.

Virginia, James Citty, Novem^{br}: 4th: 1690.

May itt please y^{r} Lord^{sps}

C. O. 5. Vol. 1305. p. 160.

By Cap^{t} Thomas Dilks, Command^{r} of their Maj^{ties} shipp Sam^{ll} & Henry, I presumed to write to your Lord^{sps} & still most humbly begg that your Lord^{sps} would be pleased to accept of my Dutyfull thanks for sending of me hither, where I doe & shall (God williug) endeavour to promote their most Sacred Maj^{ties} Interest in these American parts.

I have now seen all the Country, with y^{e} Places y^{t} are improperly called Fortifications & most of y^{e} Militia, w^{ch} I find neither well disciplined nor arm'd & y^{e} reason of their not being arm'd, is their Poverty. I am desired as yo^{e} Lord^{sps} may see by y^{e} Journall of y^{e} Counеill to begg of yo^{e} Lord^{sps} to speak to his most Sacred Maj^{tie} y^{t} he would be Graciously pleased to send hither some Arms for foot Souldiers, & find Granadeer Arms y^{e} properest for this Country. I intend (God willing) iu y^{e} Spring to take a Review of all y^{e} Militia, & see whether they have observed y^{e} Orders I gave them about their Exercise & equipping themselves wth Arms, and Ammunition. I am also to desire yo^{e} Lord^{sps} to Begg of his most Sacred Maj^{tie} some Stores for y^{e} Plattformes, an acc^{t} of them I send yo^{e} Lord^{sps}. This Country lies soe upou broad Navigable Rivers, y^{t} itt is almost impossible to secure y^{e} shipps, without a good Fort or two in each of y^{e} four Rivers: To build, keep them Garrison'd & in good Repair, will cost more than can be raised in this Country. I humbly offerr to yo^{e} Lord^{sps} that not only this Province, but Maryland, will be y^{e} best secured by Friggatts & a Fire Shipp would be Extraordinary Serviceable, for she might doe the same work as y^{e} Donbarton does now. The Men of Warr might secure y^{e} Country from a foreign Enemy, for now we are liable to have our shipps taken, & y^{e} Country plunder'd (not liveing together in Towns as other places doe) by a Privateer or two. The Friggatts would keep those Countries in aw, & sceure their Maj^{ties} Customes (w^{ch} your Lord^{sps} know are very considerable) for without them itt is almost impossible to hinder very irregular Tradeing here, but especially in Maryland.

Forts.

I am desired by their Maj^{ties} Councill here to begg yo^{e} Lord^{sps} would move his most Sacred Ma^{ty} about y^{e} Northern Neck. In y^{e} Journall of y^{e} Counеill y^{e} Case is att large, & M^{r} Secretary sends yo^{e}

Lord^{sps} a Coppy of a Comission Co^{ll} Ludwell gave in those parts, soe will not trouble yo^{e} Lord^{sps} wth y^{e} Repetition. of y^{t} affair. I hope some Order will come ab^{t} itt, & in y^{e} Interim will continue to prevent any Commotions y^{t} shall be raised in those parts. I am also desired by their Maj^{ties} Councill to beseech yo^{e} Lord^{sps} y^{t} you would represent to his most Sacred Ma^{ty} y^{e} lessening of their Ma^{tys} Revenues both in England & here, by not haveing Shipps to transport y^{e} Tobaccoes (w^{ch} is a perishing Comodity, especially y^{e} Oronokeque Tobac^{o}) & if shipps doe not come from England, y^{e} Country will be in a bad Condition, for want of Clothing, (for this last year there was not soe many shipps as formerly) & itt may putt them upon some other way of liveing, then by planting of Tobac^{os} w^{ch} I humbly conceive would be very Prejudiciall to their Maj^{ties} in respect of y^{e} Customs.

I was att our Southern Bounds, and if y^{e} Lords Propriet^{rs} gott a grant for North Carolina to begin att y^{e} Lattitude of 36 & a half, suppose they will take from this their Maj^{ties} Province, a great many Plantac̃ons, to the lessening of their Maj^{ties} Quitt rents, & great dissatisfaction of y^{e} plant^{rs} for those I spoke wth in North Carolina desired to be immediately under their Maj^{ties} Governm^{t} of Virginia, itt lying soe convenient for them, therefore hope wee shall keep them quiett.

What hath passed betwixt my self & Maryland send yo^{r} Lord^{sps} y^{e} Coppies of y^{e} Lett^{rs} & am in hopes that Province will be settled soon, for I am forced to be very watchfull of them, lest they should bring their neighbouring part of this Country in Disorder. I send yo^{r} Lord^{sps} a Coppy of a Lett^{r} sent by their Maj^{ties} Councill here to New England, and I have an acc^{t} from severall Principall Men there (whom I wrote to by y^{e} Messenger) y^{t} they are in a bad Condition. for y^{e} French & Indians have kill'd & taken about 1000 of their people, severall Towns, Forts & Plantac̃ons haveing been destroyed by y^{m} & some within 30 Miles of Boston, y^{t} there hath been great Taxes & liked to be greater, y^{e} Country very much impoverished, w^{ch} makes y^{e} people very uneasy, & there are great Divisions amongst y^{m}. All their honest Men have little or noe Trade, but y^{e} others (for all their Publick Calamities) manage now as formerly an Unlawfull Trade, for I am inform'd by severall, y^{t} they have Vessells come directly from y^{e} Canaries & Cadiz, whither they carry Tobaccoos. They have also a Trade with Newfoundland (where suppose they gett French Goo ls) for a Privateer took two Shipps tradeing there amongst the English, they came from France haveing been taken by them, one did belong to London & y^{e} other to New England. I hear they were bought in France by some English Merchants, they are Sailed by English Men and have y^{e} French Kings pass, & suppose these are not y^{e} only shipps y^{t} Trade thus.

Abont y^{e} 10th of Augst sailed from Boston, 32 Saile, 4 were Men of Warr, & 2 Fireshipps. They had on Board of Land & Seamen about 2200, S^{r} W^{m} Phipps had y^{e} title of Generall, They designed to conquer Canada, for by 2 or 3 French Prizes brought into New England, they understood y^{t} y^{e} French were very weak in Canada, & y^{t} y^{e} French King sent them Lett^{rs} y^{t} he could not assist them this year, (and I hope he never will be able, either to assist y^{m} or any other of his Countries). The middle of y^{e} last Month noe News at Boston, what their Fleet had done agst Canada. They write me from New England y^{t} they are 4000^{lb} in debt upon y^{e} Port Royall Expedition, & from y^{e} latter end of July att 500^{lb} p. Diem charge wth y^e Fleet & some hundred of Souldiers they are forced to keep in Garrisons, & marching to secure y^e Country, from y^e Indians, w^ch notwithstanding doe them mischief sometimes.

I have an acco^t from some of y^e Principall people of New York Governm^t y^t they are under very bad Circumstances by reason of their Taxes, their Warehouses broke open, & their Goods carried away, without paying for, their Houses plunder'd, Souldiers quarter'd upon them & exact money besides, their Vessells seized & dispos'd of w^th their loading by Cap^t Leysler & his accomplices, by whom also severall Gentl^n have been kept close Prison^rs good Baile being offer'd by them in Order to their Appealing for England, others lett out paying great Fines without any Legall Conviction, most of y^e English Merchants & Trad^rs forced to leave New York, so^e y^t most of y^e Trade is ruin'd, & y^e Countries adjaceut stand upon their Guard, in Order to secure themselves. The 3 Privateers w^ch were fitted out there this Summer, in Order to joyne y^e Boston^rs ag^st Canada, only went & replunder'd Port-Royall, & brought in 4 or 5 French Vessells y^t they took by Newfoundland. The designe they had of attacking Canada by Land, is failed though there was ab^t 600 English under y^e Command of oue Coll. Wintropp (of Connetticutt Collony) & ab^t 1500 Indians, they went soe far as y^e Lake, & not finding Canoes & provisions as y^e s^d Cap^t Leysler had promised & some haveing y^e small Pox, they return'd, y^e English to Albany, & y^e Indians to their own Country, but about 40 English, & 100 Indiaus went over y^e lake, killed & took some French att one of their out places. When they return'd to Albany found y^t Cap^t Leysler had put Coll : Wintropp, other Officer^s y^t went w^th him into Prison. They demanded to have them sett att Liberty, & he not doeing of itt presently, told him, y^t they would serve him & his Crew. as they had done y^e French, soe made him break open y^e Prison. (for they would not stay till y^e Keys came, lett all y^e Gentlemen out. Coll Wintropp & y^e New Englaud^rs return'd home, w^th a designe not to assist them any more, till a Govern^r came from their Ma^tys whom noe News of his Arrivall yet. I hope wee shall have Orders about Settleing a Post to New England, Intelligence from thence, & other Places, being att p^esent very chargeable.

If please God y^e New Englaud^rs doe not conquer Canada, suppose y^t not only themselves & New York Goverm^t will suffer, but y^e Warr may reach y^e heads of y^e Rivers in Pensilvania (where think they will meet w^th little resistance, y^e Goverm^t being in Quakers hands.) Maryland. & this Country, for 'tho y^e 5 Nations of Indians above Albany are our Friends yet, find they cannot be Govern'd as formerly, & say y^t y^e French make them great proffers, also they see what Distraction y^e English are in, & I am inform'd y^t there is not att Albany Goods to supply them, w^ch may be a great inducem^t for y^m to side w^th y^e French, if they can but supply them. I most humbly beseech yo^r Lord^sps to send yo^r Orders how we are to Act in this Warr. I transmitt to your Lord^sps y^e acco^t of y^e Plattformes, & y^e Survey of y^e Donbarton. I have spoke w^th Cap^t Rowe & Cap^t Bradly, & they assure me, that itt will in noe Case be safe for her to cruise this Winter, & I fear in y^e Summer neither. Wee being thus weake both att Sea and Land, hope some speedy Relief will be sent, but in y^e Interim, this their Most Sacred Maj^ties Country shall by all possible ways be secured, by him who craves leave to subscribe himself

Yo^r Lord^ps most obliged & obedient Servant

REPORT BY CAPTAIN MORRIS TO GOVERNOR SHIRLEY UPON HIS SURVEY OF LANDS IN NOVA SCOTIA AVAILABLE FOR PROTESTANT SETTLERS, 1749.

Enclosure in Letter of 18th Febr 1749 Shirley to Bedford.

A. & W. I., Vol. 63, p. 106.

Mimorandum.

In what Places in the Proviuce of Nova Scotia a Number of Protestants may speedily settle themselves, in such a manner as to be able to protect themselves against a Party of Indians and support themselves.

Annapolis Royal

N° 1. The lands lying between the Bason of Annapolis Royal and the Bay of St Marys will admit of Eighty or One hundred Familys. Their first Lotts, ought to be only sufficient for a House, Barn, and Garden of half an Acre each, and in like manner all the other Settlements and then their Farm Lotts may be laid all contiguous to them, their Home Settlement to border on the Bason of Annapolis from whence they will have a Communication by Water with the Garrison of Annapolis Royal, where they may sell their Timber, for the building & Repair of that Garrison and for Firewood, and thereby subsist themselves, while they are improving and clearing their Lands. In this Tract next to the Bay of St. Mary's is a considerable Quantity of Salt Marsh, and in the Bason a place call'd the Joggin, whether all the Inhabitants of the River at a certain Season of the year come to catch Shadd. No French Proprietors—Distance from Annapolis Fort Fourteen Mile.

N° 2. That Tract of Land lying between the Gut of Annapolis extending E N E to the first village: This will make a good Settlement, but the French Inhabitants are possesst of all the Marsh Lands which ought to be divided among the New Settlers & them in Equal Lotts. This will have the same advantage as the other in supplying the Garrison. Their House Lotts may be laid out at a Place call'd the Scotch Fort, a place of consequence, where the River of Annapolis is not above six hundred yards over, and the depth of the channell within one hundred yards of it. A Battery might be erected here under the Protection of such a Settlement which would Secure the Harbour and River. This would accomodate Forty Familys. Distance from the Fort five Mile.

N° 3. Another Settlement might be made adjoining to that and extending to Lands opposite to the Fort, it includes Twenty French Familys, a considerable Quantity of Marsh undyk'd; Forty Familys more might be accomodated. Settlement might be made Distance about two mile from the Fort.

N° 4. A Tract of Land on the Southernost side of the River extending from the Fort to Moose River would accommodate Eighty Settlers, because in this Tract are two considerable Marshes for the most part undik'd. This includes Eight French Familys. Their Settlement might be One Mile & a half from the Fort.

N° 5. & 6. Two small Settlements of thirty Familys each may be accommodated up the River Six Miles from the Garrison.

All these Familys might in a great Measure be supported by the Garrison in the Labour of Repairs, in finding Timber, boards, Shingles and Firewood, and if the Garrison should be revested with Brick, they would be able to make sufficient for that End, as there is the best of Brick Clay, in every district abovenam'd; which would save also, some Thousands of Pounds Sterling in Transportation.

And as there is no considerable Quantitys of Marsh further up the River, in a Body together; so no English Settlement can readily be brought forward. The absolute necessity of the Marsh Lands being alloted and apportioned I shall mention hereafter.

All the Lands lying between the Settlements on the River of Annapolis till you come to the River Canard, an Extent of Fifty Miles in length, lyes between two Ranges of Hills, & is about four Leagues wide, is for the most part Barren, has no Inhabitants, will admit of very few scattering families when the Country is fully settled.

Minas.

N° 1. River Canard has great Quantitys of Marsh Lands, and so has the River Habitant, a Fine Settlement might be made on Upland lying between these two Rivers of One hundred Familys Mowing Lands and Wood Lands equivalent to be assigned the French Proprietors west of their present Settlements.

N° 2. Minas and Gaspero have very large Quantitys of Marsh Lands will accommodate One Hundred and Fifty Families more. Mowing Lands for the Protestants and French South west of their Settlements and Wood Lands on the Eastern side of Pisgate River where they now fetch Wood all Water Carriage, The great Island on the Marsh will accommodate twenty Familys.

N° 3. Pizaquid. Sixty Familys; Settlement on a piece of land fronting the River St. Croix between two large Meddows. Equivalent Mowing & Wood Lands NW of Pizaquid & this will fully settle all the Lands between the River Pisgate and the River Canard.

The little Island on Grand Pre is well scituated for a Fort not only to assist and Forward all the above Settlements, but is so surrounded with Marsh, that no Regular Approach can be form'd against it without infinite expence, and therefore might be maintain'd with a few regular Forces it is thirteen hundred paces in length & four hundred in width but towards the Marsh great part is Low & wet grounds. No large ship can come within one mile & a half without grounding, there being but two fathom in the Channel at Low water.

N° 4. Harbour Advocate and Cape Doree will accommodate thirty Familys has three hund[d] Acres of Salt Marsh, and Excellent uplands. No French Proprietor. 'Tis said to have been granted the Duke of Chandos. Copper is found in the Crevices of the Rocks for two mile together and no doubt some valuable Copper Mines.

Cobequet will admit of several Settlements; the River Shubuaccadie is said to have the most fertile lands in the country and runs within two mile of Chebucto as does also y[e] River St. Croix; but as I am not personally acquainted with that part of the Country I leave it.

Tho that part of the Country ought to be attended to, as it is one of the Inroads of the Canadians into the Province.

Chiegnecto.

Chiegnecto Bason is surrounded with Marshes almost intire. Three in particular run far into the Country towards the Bay of Vert. The Northermost of Eight Mile in length & One mile & a half at a Common Breadth contains above seven thousand Acres, a navigable River in the midst of it for Sloops and small Vessells within two Mile of the Head of the Marsh. The next runs much farther and contaius a great Quantity, the other joins this last surrounding the old Settlement of Chiegnecto & contains above three thousand Acres besides there are several considerable Marshes on the River Minas & the South part of the Bason. Here more then Five Hundred Familys might be settled and find an Immediate Support if the Marshes and uplands were but equally divided and in contiguous Settlements One hundred familys in each Settlement and they may be thus accommodated.

N° 1. One hundred Familys in the South Settlements of Chiegnecto mark't N° 1 contiguous to the Bason, supplied with Marsh Lands N° 1 and Upland for mowing and woodland back and contiguous.

N° 2. One hundred Familys in Old Chiegnecto with part of the Marshes N° 1 & 2. Upland for mowing. The Lands on which Old Chiegnecto stands, being an Island on the Marshes, Four mile Long One Mile & a half wide in common.

N° 3. One hundred Familys where is settled Thirty French Familys. Upland for mowing a Ridge of Land between the two Meddows N° 2 & 3 and to extend four mile. It is two Mile wide, these two last Settlements may be supplied with Wood-Lands. the uncultivated Lands from Cape Marangnon to the first Marsh Three leagues in length this will be Water Carriage to their Doors.

N° 4. One hundred Familys on the same Ridge. Marsh the Upper part of N° 2 & 3 Grass & Wood lands adjoining and of an exceeding good Soil.

N° 5. One hundred Familys close to the Bason. Marsh Lands N° 3. Upland for Grass & Wood Lands contiguous.

N° 6. A Settlement of Sixty Familys at the River Minas, with Marsh, Grass & Wood Lands contiguous.

N° 7, 8 & 9. Three other Settlements may be made at Chipotee or Shepody, Marooncook & Patcootycak of fifty Familys each & in like manner.

From Chipotee or Shepody There is no Marsh Lands all along the Northern Shore (till you are past St. Johns) near thirty Leagues. The Lands are Mountainous and broken without a Harbour excepting that of St. John's River which is but indifferent, dangerous at its Entry, & much expos'd to a Southeast Wind. which is generally a storm; The Lands of St. John's River is said to be incapable of any great improvement till you come twenty Leagues into the Country: Yet as by this River, the Indians receive all their Food from Chiegnecto & Minas a blockhouse or small Wooden Fort would be necessary, either to carry on a Trade with them in Peace, and to Cultivate a good understanding between the English & them. or in War to distress them, by cutting of their Supplys; by this River the Canadians also enter into the Province of Nova Scotia: It is distant from Annapolis Thirteen Leagues North Westerly.

I would here take notice that in the Meddow N° 2 of Chicgnecto runs a River, which is said to be navigable within 4 mile of the Bay of Vert, but it is a mistake, it flows but about three Miles and a half from the Bason and there I crost it over a Bridge; a Fresh Water Brook empties itself (above that) into this River, which otherwise is dry at two hours Ebb. This fresh Brook is dry at some Seasons, it was quite dry in September last when I crost it, but spring and Fall there is Water enough, the Country being upon a Level, to bring, in small Canoes, Hog^ds^ of Rum & Molasses and other Merchandize, which the Inhabitants take in Exchange for Cattle, Wheat, Furrs &c carried to Louisburg by the Bay Vert.

On this Marsh also within a quarter of a mile of the Bason is a fine Hill or Island in an Oval Form near Sixty feet in Heigth, more than a quarter of a mile Long, and about half that width, The Foot of which this River passes by, on which a noble Fortress might be erected for the Protection of the Country; the Marshes surrounding it for a Mile distance except towards the Bason, would render it impregnable and large Ships cannot approach within half a mile, and that only upon the top of High Water, and in great Danger by the Rapidity of the Tide and their grounding in two hours.

'Twould be difficult for the Enemy to transport Cannon, across the Country, if not wholly impracticable, the Soil is deep and clayey, therefore the Inhabitants make no use of Wheel Carriages, but drag their Merchandize as above (in a Canoe about Seven feet long, & wide enô to hold a Hog^d^ & made for the Purpose) from Bay Vert is 4 mile to the Brook above mention'd, from old Chicgneeto to Bay Vert I measur'd Six Leagues.

To Divide the Marshes the French Inhabitants are possest of, for they have possest themselves of all that is valuable, and to allot a proportionable part to the Protestant Settlers is of the utmost consequence since without that I am sure it would be morrally impossible any large Number of Protestants can ever be settled in the Country, and the Reason is that they are lands that can be improved in perpetual Tillage, and the only Lands for certain Crops of Grains in the Country. Ten Acres allotted to every Family will produce, Wheat, Rye, Barley, Oats, Flax &c for a full and comfortable Support for them; On the Contrary the Uplands are not kind for Grain &c but produce exeellent English Grass, and no Sooner are the Lands clear'd and laid open to the Sun, but they naturally run into English Grass which is much heartier for the support of their Cattle in the Winter then their Salt Meddow Hay what Lands I have seen in improvement in the Country of the Upland fenc'd in for Grass has produced as large Crops as ever I saw in New England and that without the help of Manure. They will also produce fruit Trees of all kinds Natural to the Climate.

The unimprov'd Woods will always be a pasture from May to October for their Sheep Cattle Horses &c and will fatten them fit for the market; An Equivalent therefore may be assigned them, in Lands adjoining their Settlements, in the manner aforesaid and without any detriment to the present Settlers; only some Labour without which, they in a manner now live, for they raise their Provision with the least Labour of any People upon Earth.

Another Advantage will arise, that the Protestants will be intermixt with the present Inhabitants, and consequently an Intercourse of Trade and intermarriages, whereby in Time they will come to have one Common Interest & mutually send out Colonies to settle the Inland Countrys.

The above is humbly submitted by Charles Morris.

Will decide any disputes when his authority is established. Is not disturbed by their "Remonstrances, Discontent. "& Jealousys." Adds, in a postscript, that, having waived the military powers of his commission, in compliance with Gage's orders, he will not interfere in any matter within the Districts of Montreal and Three Rivers, unless forced to do so.

Expected to be continued in his command (as Brigadier). Province must be governed by military force; not more than fifty Protestant subjects in province, exclusive of troops: must choose magistracy from among them: their authority must rest on supreme magistrate's authority with the troops; otherwise "The Brigadier must in fact be the "Governor," to the oppression of the people, and the detriment of the province: begs him to present the case to the ministry at home. Speaks of the boundless powers of a commander in chief in America, and of the necessity of some control, some division of Military Authority in this vast Empire; is sure the provinces can never remnite; civil and military governors powerless in respect of commander in chief: cannot govern province unless he has authority with the troops; limits of his authority to be determined by Government. Would desist from the conflict, and leave the field to Burton and Christie, but for his affection for "a brave Valuable Race," his love of his country, and his own peace of mind. Wonders how change of ministry at home will affect the Colony and himself. Believes that Halifax encouraged Burton, &c., "to foment & keep up the factions of the English traders here" against his government. Defends his own conduct; refers to Court of enquiry (re Major Brown); encloses copies of correspondence, papers, etc., relating thereto; begs his intervention with Lord George Sackville. Fraser the previous winter; and the reason of his letter to Col. Christie in Oct., 1764; criticizes Christie's conduct: accused of having "made very improper uses" of his powers under the military government; will be very cautious about giving him a general press warrant. Attorney General declares press warrants illegal. Will not issue press warrant for batteaux service, under present conditions, until authorized thereto by His Majesty. Wishes him to regulate his convoys so as not to interfere with seed time, "the Harvest and tillage of the ground." To take a number of men away at this season, is to expose them to famine and the King's stores to unnecessary risks. Regrets loss of vessel; hopes Commander in Chief will not allow subsistence of troops to depend on safety of one ship. Wishes to know why soldiers may not assist in transporting the king's stores; but has granted warrant to Fraser, under present necessity. Blames Christie for disputing Fraser's former authority, and holds him responsible for the "Corruption" and "Poison" (among the people) of which he now complains. Wishes he would try to moderate Christie's conversation; Canadians must inevitably be influenced by constant disparagement of "a Governor who is to be recalled immediately." Reminds him that "the Civil Governor has no Coercive Power to impress Men "for the Services in Question"; will most certainly not issue a second "impress Order". . . "this is fair warning."

Adverts to a letter received from Burton re "his Transactions at Quebec", and to his complaint of the "Very Rude Stile" of Surgeon D[r] Mabane's letter to him. Oct. 22. Murray to Pitt. A detailed account of Canada; very interesting and curious. Number of inhabitants; landholding conditions; obligations of military service; speaks of Canadians as ignorant, superstitious "and entirely under the management of their priests." Threatened destruction the only method of provoking a revolt. Description of the River St. Lawrence, products of its banks; height of tide; naval possibilities; British ignorance of colony prior to 1759; wealth of fisheries; "the least encouragement would make "every man in Canada a fisherman consequently a Sailor." Opportunities of making colony formidable neglected by French, to grasp "at the insignificant fur trade." England indebted (for her easy conquest) to "the corruption and Avarice of the Governors." Does not know what fate of colony will be; is pointing out natural advantages of country to inhabitants; is doing every thing in his power "to convince them how happy they would be under the influence of British laws": will thereby "extinguish the prejudices" of the Canadians [cf. his letter to Amherst, M. 898 A, Nov. 1759]; measures taken, lease of trading posts, etc.

Will stay the winter "to endeavour at obtaining a final Settlement" of the matter. If so I plead "Guilty". He adds, in reference to this point, though under another article [12], that he "displeased the little Protestant Traders, "who all, Quakers, Puritans, Anabaptists, Presbiterians, Atheists, "Infidels and even Jews joined in protesting against any Considera- "tion being paid to the poor Canadians."] (*cf. Thinks "the "Great ones here", no less embarassed over the "Civil Matters" relating to the government of Quebec than Murray and himself were "puzzled". Suggests course which he should follow; should not "mention any thing of Resignation or Retirement, for they are "sometimes apt to take a man at his Word upon the slightest "Grounds, and Candidates are never wanting here".

APPENDIX J.

CORESPONDENCE EXCHANGED BETWEEN THE COMTE DE VIRY AND M. BAILLI DE SOLAR, REPRESENTATIVES OF THE KINGDOM OF SARDINIA AT THE ENGLISH AND FRENCH COURTS RESPECTIVELY. 1761-2.

SHELBURNE MANUSCRIPTS, VOL. 9, 1761-1762.

1761.

London, Nov. 17. — The Comte de Viry to M. le Bailli de Solar (autograph). Has transmitted H. E.'s letter to M[r] Stanley. Refers to an event, which he appears to consider favourable to the accomplishment of their hopes [for peace].

[No copy of M. le Bailly de Solar's autograph reply, dated Dec. 4, to this letter has been preserved].

London, Nov. 27. — The same to the same. Has received his letter of the 12[th] instant. Hopes his letter of previous week has been received, and made use of with a certain "Person who, I know, esteems you "highly".

Paris, Dec. 13. — Solar to Viry. Acknowledges receipt of letter of Nov. 27: has made use of the former one, as above suggested. Encloses copy of "the Person's" answer, which Viry may make such use of as he shall deem advisable. Insists, strongly, on the need of prudence and circumpection. Hints that "a Power" [England] certainly does "not desire peace". Has not, however, informed their own court [Sardinia] of their correspondence. Reasons for secrecy.

Versailles, Dec. 8. — Copy of the Duke de Choiseul's note to Solar. Re passports for Mess[rs] Pitt and Fox. Has read Viry's letter to his cousin. Assures him of the King's confidence in the King of Sardinia's friendship and of their willingness to listen to any proposals made by the latter's ministers. Suggests this as answer to Viry's two letters. Solar's remarks on the above note sent to Viry, are to the effect that it must be regarded merely as a personal compliment, to which no attention should be paid.

Paris, Dec. 13. — Solar to Viry. Asking him, in connexion with the above note, to confine himself to verbal communications: to give no copies to any one, but to burn the note as soon as he shall have communicated its contents.

Thinks peace assured if replies from London are favourable, especially re St. Lucia. Suggests sending signed preliminaries, and asking appointment of ministers [to treat of peace]. Necessity of strict secrecy.

Versailles, July (June) 12. — The Duc de Choiseul to Solar. [Copy.] France is determined to have peace, and will not fire a gun on behalf of Spain in Portugal. Is waiting courier's return in order to send signed preliminaries to London.

Paris, June 17. — Solar to Viry. Fears possible misuse of their confidential correspondence. The Duc de Choiseul assures him that peace is made if the answers from London are favourable. Spain will make larger claims if allowed to conquer Portugal. Reports interview with the Duc de Choiseul: Grimaldi has shewn latter a letter from London re Lord Grenville, M. de St. Severin, Spain and Portugal. The Duc de Choiseul's comments. Viry to communicate this to Lord Bute only. Britain should send troops to Portugal at once: Spanish advance on Lisbon made after receipt of peace proposals.

Paris, June 24. — The same to the same. Messieurs de Choiseul astonished at Viry's silence re intentions of British ministry: suspect that they wished to consult the King of Prussia before answering. Spanish answer to H.B.M's Declaration, received in Paris; said to be satisfactory. Rumours from London of breaking off negotiations.

Paris, June 27. — The same to the same. Letter of June 15 received. The Duc and the Comte de Choiseul anxious at delay in reply of English ministry. Spanish reply to be forwarded to London; will then rest with English ministry to put the last touch to the business. Does not think England will miss peace for the sake of St. Lucia.

London, June 25. Viry to Solar. Cipher and other letters received, shewn to Lord Bute, and burnt. Lord Bute strongly in favour of a secret negotiation between France and England. Assures him that he says nothing to their Court [Sardinia] about this correspondence.

London, June 28. The same to the same. Solar's letter of May 30, and Choiseul's detailed note of May 23, received June 3. Delays referred to due to King's illness. Now sends papers received from Lord Egremont: replies to the Duc de Choiseul's Memorandum, etc. Feels sure Egremont would have acted differently, had it been possible to do so. Would take too long to explain their motives.

Whitehall, June 26. Lord Egremont to Viry. Sends him his Memorandum in reply to Choiseul's of May 29. Surprised to find so little in agreement with what he had been led to expect. Changes in Cabinet have strengthened British ministry. Cannot agree with Choiseul in regard to Germany: thinks change of Russian policy would be a counterpoise in favour of England, should peace fail to be made. Hopes Messieurs de Choiseul will be able to induce Spain to adopt a peaceful policy. Will await reply of French Ministry as deciding the fate of the negotiation.

Lord Egremont's Memorandum. Gives answers in detail to articles in Choiseul's Memorandum, on which they do not agree. There seems to be an agreement in respect of the Cession of Canada, eighteen months for emigration, and fishing rights on the Banks and in Gulf of St. Lawrence. England holds to her first offer re St. Pierre and Miquelon. Did not expect France would make difficulties in regard to the Mississippi arrangement and to St. Lucia. Thinks compensation asked for in return for Martinique was very moderate, and speaks of the very doubtful claims of France to St. Lucia. As to alleged danger to Martinique from England's holding St. Lucia; he contends that Barbadoes would be in greater danger should the French continue to hold St. Lucia. England asked for both banks of the Mississippi chiefly in order to establish peace upon solid and lastiug foundations and to avoid all disputes concerning the limits of the two Nations on the continent of America. In respect of Africa, England is not aware of any trading-post still belonging to France in that part of the world: the phrase without prejudice to their trading posts needs explaining. As to East Indies, England offers to restore French trading-posts on Coromandel and Malabar Coast, but retains the Bengal post; Companies to settle details when preliminaries have been arranged. England cannot agree to proposed French arrangements re evacuation of places belongiug to Prussia, etc., without previously communicating with the King of Prussia, and the Emperor of Russia. Proposes that France and England shall withdraw the armies kept in pay by the two crowns, now in Germany. Hopes that what has been proposed will not meet with difficulties of such a kind as to cause the failure of a work whose conclusion is ardently desired.

London, June 27. Viry to Solar. Has forwarded the Comte de Choiseul's letter to Lord Egremont, and a copy of the letter to Solar. Has discussed all the letters, etc., with Lord Bute and M^{r} Mackenzie. Impossibility of conceding French demands. Details of his conversations with Lord Bute. Duke of Bedford suggested as ambassador extraordinary. Lord Egremont and the questions of Ile Royale, navigation of Senegal River, East Indian trading-posts. St. Lucia, etc. Viry's answers to various objections, re Ile Royale in particular. His interviews with George Grenville and Lord Bute, explains Choiseul's attitude to the latter: question of Stanley's letters and relations: Lord Egremont and the article relating to Germany, Prussia and Russia. France's reasons for keeping towns, etc., until conclusion of peace in Germany. Matter reported to the King; Council called for the 21st. Solar's cipher letter of 14th received and shewn to Lord Bute: meeting of various ministers: unable to grant further concessions or to lessen the claims made—for political and parliamentary reasons. Cabinet council of June 21, Choiseul's Memorandum discussed. His interview with Lord Egremont. Would risk advising King to cede St. Lucia, if sure that France would first sign preliminaries with England, on the basis of the other articles relating to a peace between the two Courts. Council of June 24; answer to Choiseul's Memorandum read. Sends answer, and other documents: expected difficulties from the first. Solar to make such use of this letter as he sees best.

(Undated.) (June 28.) The Comte de Choiseul to Solar. [Copy.] Has received Lord Egremont's letters, and will communicate them to the King.. Asks him to lend him copies to send to Choisy.

Versailles, June 28. The same to the same. Sending despatch for Lord Egremont to be transmitted through Viry. Thinks English in a position to conclude a glorious peace in a short time.

Versailles, June 28. The same to Lord Egremont. [Copy.] Explains that France could not make definite reply to H. B. M's Declaration of May 19, until she had learned the views of her allies. Answers now received from Madrid and Vienna shew those Courts to be in accord with the views of France and England. Sends him copies of answers of King of Spain, Empress-Queen, and other documents : King of France would like to learn views of King of Prussia. Encloses Memorandum of terms on which peace could be made between France and England: last word of France.

Versailles, June 25. The Duc de Choiseul to the Comte de Choiseul. Transmitting Spanish reply to H. B. M's Declaration, and Grimaldi's letter. Cessation of hostilities to date from ratification of preliminaries. 15. East Indies: Islands and trading posts claimed by France. 16. Exchange of Prisoners.

Notes on the preceding Articles. Last two ultimatums taken as basis of present negotiation.

1. The same as proposed in the last negotiation.

2. Entirely in conformity with English proposals.

3. Proposed surrender of Ile Royale the only change made by France in former proposals. Reasons in support of the proposed change.

4. Demolition of Dunkirk agreed to, as far as may be possible. without rendering town uninhabitable.

5. Larger concessions made in Louisiana than in former treaty.

6. Surrender of Martinique to France to be considered as offsetting foregoing concessions.

13. To England's satisfaction.

14. Not open to any objection; in conformity with two past ultimatums and with ordinary usage.

15 and last. Better to settle East Indian questions in Preliminaries, than to refer them to Companies: necessary to distinguish between the real and the relative position of a Power in regard to its conquests and its losses.

Paris, June 29. The Duc de Choiseul to Solar. [Copy.] Gives certain explanations as to despatch of English declaration to Madrid: the action of the French court while awaiting reply. Spanish and Viennese answers received before English; despatch of Spanish answer to London inevitable. Modification of Art. 5 (Louisiana boundaries) of no consequence. Spanish ambassador instructed to act with France: need of a speedy decision on the part of England. Court of Vienna will now do all that France wishes in regard to Germany.

Paris, June 29. The same to the same. Sending him above letter. War with Portugal must not be allowed to interfere with peace negotiations.

Paris, June 30. Solar to Viry. Sending him Spanish reply to H.B.M's Declaration; letter to Lord Egremont, etc. Gives him certain explanations re Grimaldi, Louisiana, and Mobile. The Duc de Choiseul's real intentions. England has only to insist on terms of former Memorandum. Need of a speedy decision.

Paris, June 30. The same to the same. The Duc de Choiseul authorized to assure England that His Catholic Majesty undertakes to supply the English with all the Campeachy wood (logwood) they may need

Also feels sure of Spain: Grimaldi ordered to be guided by him in everything. Peace depends upon the Island of St. Lucia.

Same date. Another letter of the same day. Enclosing despatch for M. de S. Severino. Speaks of him as a very dangerous Prince, and one to be mistrusted. Explanations as to George Grenville, the Neapolitan ambassador (S. Severino), Choiseul, Grimaldi, and present treaty: Viry not to deliver despatch until he has seen English ministers, and warned them against said ambassador. The whole matter has been arranged with Messrs de Choiseul. Again urges haste: "for God's sake, let us hurry, and get a very speedy answer "to this despatch."

June 30. The same to the same. Re letters despatched, and how his letters are to be sent. French ministers worried at long silence of English.

Notes on the Memorandum of Terms sent to London, June 28, 1762.

1. As agreed between the two Courts.

2. Agreed, as relates to fishing on Banks and in Gulf of St. Lawrence, and drying-places on Nfd. coast, as by treaty of Utrecht. Difficult to define off shore distance, but can easily be arranged in final treaty.

3. France hopes England will admit the justice as well as the moderation of her claim [respecting Ile Royale]: but asks that the expression reasonable inspection of Lord Egremont's Memo of June 28 be used, instead of the commissioner named in th first Memo of the Court of London.

4. Agreed. [Demolition of Dunkirk.]

5. Claim to whole of left bank of Mississippi would involve cession of New Orleans and of Louisiana. Line to pass by lakes Maurepas and Pontchartrain—granted. Map annexed.

6. Courts agreed as to this Article, except re Grenada.

7. Principles re Neutral Islands, laid down by England, adopted by France. Not a question of cession, but of defining rights.

8. No trade in Island of Goree: reasons why France asks equal trading rights on Senegal river, and reservation of trading-posts.

9. Granted.

10. Agreed.

11. France adopts proposal of M. de Viry's letter; copy herewith. No troops paid by Great Britain to serve with King of Prussia. That Crown might induce its allies to agree to a suspension of arms when French troops evacuate Germany.

14. We do not think it open to any objection.

15. France asks that surrenders on Coromandel and Malabar coasts shall be clearly defined in preliminary Articles. Claim to Bengal post, etc. Asks England to say exactly what her proposed arrangements are.

APPENDIX L.

ABSTRACTS OF POLITICAL CORRESPONDENCE RELATING TO UNITED STATES (1778-1780) IN THE MINISTRY OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS, FRANCE.

Vol. 1.

Contains 4 letters from M. Lotbinière a Canadian gentilhomme, to M. de Vergennes, Minister of Foreign Affairs, respecting plans of the former, to give the Americans the benefit of his assistance.

Vol. 2.

Contains a copy of the Treaty made between France & the United States, 1777.

Vol. 3. 1778.

1778. Versailles, April 22. Vergennes to Gérard, N°. 1. He is not to interfere in the matter which concerns Deane; but must induce him to stay with the Congress, in order to promote unity among its members. France is not yet at war with England. The squadron commanded by D'Estaing is intended to convince the Americans of the King's intention of protecting and strengthening their independence. What Gérard should say to them on this head. Part to be played by the deputies to the Congress in regard to obtaining convoys for the French merchants trading with America. Spain persists in her resolution and in her disapproval. She holds closely to the family compact. The arrival of her fleet may bring about a fortunate change of views on her part. Gérard's conduct in all that relates to this power must be in strict conformity with his instructions.

p. 11.

June 28. Vergennes to Gérard N°. 2. The alliance between France and the United States has caused universal joy in the latter country. Remarks re an article in the York Town Gazette referring to a speech of Gérard's to the American deputies, and containing the statement that the King was willing that the United States should make a separate peace with England, on the sole condition of a recognition of their independence. Admiral Byron, with 13 ships, is to sail shortly, in order to follow the King's squadron to America. Spain's mediation instigated by England. Negotiations for the restoration of peace in Germany. The Comte d'Estaing has been notified of Admiral Byron's having sailed for America.

p. 16.

Vol. 4. 1778.

Philadelphia, July 15. Gérard to Vergennes. N°. 1. Reached Philadelphia, July 12, after a passage of 91 days. Deputation of Congress to Chester. Report of Gérard's reception and arrival at Philadelphia. Conference with the president of the Congress, and principal members of the War and Naval committees, re the King's squadron. Difficulty as to Gérard's reception by and introduction to, the Congress.

p. 1.

July 15. Gérard to Vergennes [not numbered.] The Comte d'Estaing's plans for freeing the inhabitants of Ile St. Jean. Remarks on the plan elsewhere referred to; plan and notes relating thereto. being enclosed. p. 5.

Remarks on the Comte d'Estaing's plans re Ile St. Jean, Newfoundland, the Bermudas, and some of the Windward Islands. The plan in question, according to a note in the margin, was enclosed in Gérard's unnumbered letter of July 15. Extract of a letter from Comte d'Estaing, also enclosed therewith. p. 7.

July 16. Gérard to Vergennes. N°. 2. Documents relating to the evacuation of Philadelphia by the English [not enclosed] Congress holds firmly to the principle of independence. Party spirit in Congress, due to the disagreement of certain ambitious members. Vigorous action on the part of Congress, shewing that it counts on a decisive influence. Severity used in keeping up the currency of the paper money; its value is increasing. Secret abuses in trade, which send up the price of everything to an incredible extent; Congress however, moderates them as it sees fit; he himself is disposed to take advantage of this lowering of prices, in respect of supplies of flour for the King's squadron. Advantageous condition of the continental armies. Praises the militia and recruits. The affair at Monmouth would have been fatal to the English, but for General Lee's suspicious behaviour. Plans of military expeditions. Havoc wrought by the Indians. It is thought that the English would become dangerous to the United States in time of peace, were they to retain Florida, as they do now. There is little indication of asking French assistance in this operation. Gérard is reticent on this point.

For the conquest of Florida; proposed conquest of Pensacola, in order to offer it to Spain. Secret agent of Spain in touch with the Congress; favourably regarded by several members of that assembly. He is courting Gérard whom he has not yet put in a position to sound him as to his residence and his intentions; will be very circumspect in his endeavours to ascertain the attitude of the United States towards Spain. He will try to get to the bottom of Don Miralles. Plan for the establishment of a good navy. General Arnold entrusted with this task. Estimation in which this officer is held. Declaration made by the English in the south.

July 18 Gérard to Vergennes. N°. 3. Unsuccessful persecution of Deane's enemies. Necessity of assisting Don Juan de Miralles in matters relating to the Court of Spain. Sketch of operations proposed by General Washington and General Gates. Orders received by the English to engage the King's squadron out at sea: zeal of Congress on behalf of the squadron. Reasons that have hitherto delayed transmission of Gérard's credentials. p. 26.

July 19. Gérard to Vergennes. N°. 4. Describes anxiety of Congress, of general officers, and prominent citizens to see him. Their expressions of gratitude for proofs of the King's generosity. Dinner given him (Gérard) by the Congress, of which he took advantage to talk confidentially with a large number of its members. The chief efforts of the English commissioners have been directed towards fostering the traditional prejudices of Americans against France. The alternative which Congress would be willing to accept rather than fail of executing a single point of the treaties. Popular dispositions in favour of France. Joy shewn by the people of Delaware on hearing that the King's squadron had arrived. p. 30.

July 19. Gérard to Vergennes. N°. 5. Fresh letter from the English commissioners to the Congress shewn to him by the president of the Congress. Note on its date. Means used by the English to seduce the Americans [to withdraw them from the French alliance.] Lawrence's objections to the English proposals. Debates in the Congress on the reply to the English letter. Resolution to leave the English Commissioners' letter unanswered. p. 34.

July 25. Gérard to Vergennes. N°. 6. Whigs admit that the American government owes its present stability to the King's friendship and generosity. The conditions of the treaty have dispelled the distrust of France instilled into the Americans by the English. Means employed by the latter to foster among Americans their ancient hatred of the French name. The appearance of the King's squadron has wrecked all the means of seduction used on the Americans by the English . Offers made to a doubtful citizen in order to gain a knowledge of the French treaties; their receipt has upset the existence of a faction composed of certain members of the Congress. p. 38.

July 25. Gérard to Vergennes. N°. 7. Report of the havoc wrought by the English army on its way through New Jersey, and at the evacuation of Philadelphia. Quakers accused of having given all kinds of assistance to the English army. Means under consideration for the repression of the Tories. The confiscation of their property is regarded as one of the chief financial resources for the payment of the debts incurred by the Congress. Provisions plentiful in all the States, but their price has gone up to the level of the rarest and most unattainable articles. p. 43.

July 25. Gérard to Vergennes. N°. 8. Report of his interviews with Don Juan de Miralles, re attitude of Spain towards France and America. Unsuccessful attempts to carry out a plan proposed by the governor of South Carolina. Has induced Miralles to represent to his court that the Congress will not easily give up the navigation of the Mississippi. Result of the expedition undertaken by Major Willing. Plan of offering Pensacola to Spain. Miralles has allowed it to appear in the newspapers that letters received from Havana state that Spain had recognized the independence of America. Don Miralles insists strongly on the total exclusion of the English from the navigation of North America. South Carolina has received the treaty concluded with the King of France, with enthusiasm. Resolution of the Congress, whom he has urged to demand complete satisfaction for the insult offered to its members. p. 47.

Versailles, July 28. Vergennes to Gérard. N°. 3. The fight between the Bellepoule and the Arethusa goes to shew that hostilities were begun by the English. The French fleet sailed on the 8th of the month; the English on the 9th from Saint Helena. Lord Stormont recalled. Gérard instructed to inform the Congress that, with the rupture between France and England, the former court henceforth regards its conditional alliance with the United States as definite. France suspects England of wishing to make peace proposals to the united provinces, on the basis of a recognition of their independence. It is essential that France should forestall this attempt. Reasons that have hitherto kept the Congress from publishing the treaty of alliance in extenso: its unshaken resolution to stand by the treaties. The evacuation of Philadelphia attributed to the resolutions of the Congress; its members unanimous in assuring Gérard that English intrigues and negotiations will henceforth be unavailing. William,* the member from Georgia, bears witness to the popular approval of the treaty of alliance. p. 67.

Gives reasons for the delays which the Government's sanction of the plan of confederation and perpetual union formed by the Congress in regard to Maryland has hitherto encountered. This province rightly insists that the resources common to all the States shall be included in the political code. Division caused by the influence of the Congress on the choice of its members. Sept. 1. Gérard to Vergennes. N°. 20. Encloses return of Washington's army. Account of its order, and of its strength. Report that English are withdrawing part of their forces in New York to Europe, and are merely keeping the points they hold, which they can easily do. It must, however, be otherwise in Canada, or that conquest would go to the Americans. There seems little likelihood of a speedy evacuation of New York, now held by the English; the hopes of it have no solid foundation in fact. Spain's attitude considered doubtful in the United States since the appearance in the New York papers of a paragraph from a London paper. It is difficult to believe that the Americans could ever be dangerous to Spain on the continent (of America). Points out the precautions to be taken in connexion with this matter. Exchange of United States prisoners completed. The number of their English prisoners.

September 10. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 24. Has drawn up, in conjunction with Draiton, a member of the Congress, a written reply to the English commissioners, for the purpose of enlightening the American people as to England's intentions. The Euglish commissioners' views have not met with success. Tory objections to the wordiug of the United States Declaration of Iudependence; has given his support to their contention. Is suspicious of the motives underlying the attachment to the wording referred to. Reasons which keep a large number of the inhabitants of the Southern States from being attached to the English interests. Those on whom the English can count. Is doubtful whether the best methods will be used in drawing the line of separation. Cousideratious which might lead to salutory decisions. The Tories in league with the Indiaus are in arms only on the borders of Peuusylvania and Virginia. Effect ou Tories of news of evacuation of New York. It is thought not unlikely that the bulk of the English forces will remove to the West Indies. Resolution of the Congress which will weaken the American army by one third. Conjectures re sailing of King's squadron for the Islauds; has been careful not to say a word as to its destination. Reasons why he will merely explain, vaguely, that the cause of independence calls for great efforts. A committee is to consult with him as to the further operations in which the King's squadron might take part: does not anticipate anything which might hamper d'Estaiug in his operations. Reasons which lead Americans to wish that the King's squadron should betake itself to the Islands. interpretation of the movements taking place there. Gérard's own reasons for asserting that General Washington is mistaken on this point. Aim of avisos which de Miralles is having drawn up for Martiuique; but which will not be despatched until after the return of a spy sent to New York. The Congress is of opinion that Ameriea has nothing to fear from the English armies. The purpose which General Washington had in view in allowing his opinion on the English plan to become known. Aim of the reinforcement sent to General Sullivan; reasons why Amerieans would like General Clinton to undertake the siege of Boston. The motive underlying the proclamation of freedom of trade in the Islands.The bulk of the army considers the want of success in the attack on New York to be due to bad luek. p. 186

September 12. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 27. Forwarding the Philadelphia Gazette, containing the English eommissioners' letters and declarations. [Not enclosed.] It appears likely that the Court of London may come to see that the recognition of independence must precede any negotiations. News from New York; its evacuation expected shortly. No word of General Clinton's expedition; public opinion concerning it. What the English may possibly do. Date of execution of orders addressed to de Miralles. Eneloses a eopy of his letter to d'Estaing, giving an aecount of a conferenee with members of the Congress, re plans of operations. Has reluetantly yielded to their wish to temporize. The Congress desires and hopes to see a deerease in the English forces on the eontinent, so as to be able to arrange matters relating to finance. There are no funds available for carrying out the operations enumerated to him by Duer, the president of the committee. He (Gérard) has insisted on the demand of supplies for the King's squadron. There will be no eompensation save in case of co-operation; a method he has made use of in order to avoid a claim for compensation on the part of the United States. Encloses letter from General Heath re English squadron. How the English plan is regarded. Confidenee shewn by members of the Congress in respeet of the English undertaking. Has heard no complaint re the King's squadron. His answer to the question put to him as to the assistance to be looked for from Spain. An Acadian member asks for help in driving out the English. News of the English squadron from General Heath. Letter from General Sullivan on the same subjeet. Likelihood of New York's being evacuated. English attaek on Boston considered probable. Attack on the islands proposed by the latter, and Gérard's support of it in his conference with the committee. Has endeavoured to get an expression of opinion from them re troops needed by d'Estaing for the attack on Barbadoes. Committee admits that it has a plan of some kind, but cannot be induced to say what it is. Has urged the committee to supply d'Estaing with the forces needed for taking one of the Windward Islands. Has suggested Halifax as a place where a diversion might be made. Members have taken these ideas into consideration, but nothing is decided. Will merely forward the proposals made by the Congress. His remarks to the members re Sullivan's behaviour towards d'Estaing; members express their views concerning d'Estaing's conduct. Versailles, September 16. Vergennes to Gérard. N°. 5. Minister's reply to the request of the commissioners of the Congress, asking for a continuation of the subsidies. It is in the negative, but another quarter will be paid, in order to enable the commissioners to pay the drafts that will be presented to them. Fresh request from the commissioners of the Congress, relative to two matters: (1) The auditing of Beaumarchais' account: (2) the ratification of the contract made by the committee of trade with Therenau de Fancy. The King did not supply Beaumarchais with anything for the Congress, but merely allowed him to draw on his arsenals on behalf of that body, with the obligation of replacing what might be taken. The Court is awaiting news, both of Gérard and of the Comte d'Estaing. The French fleet sailed as long ago as August 17. p. 209

Philadelphia, September 20. Gérard to Vergennes. N°. 29. The writer of an article in the Philadelphia Gazette points out that England might end the war and ensure a large trade with the United States, by recognizing their independence. The Congress, however, is not of this mind as to the method of making peace. Its desire to conquer South Carolina. The three southern provinces are also anxious to take St. Augustine from the English. Gives his reasons for believing that the United States would gladly seize the immediate advantage of a peace, but is not therefore justified in thinking that they would make it without France. Is inclined to assume that if the English were to offer independence, it would be accepted. Does not believe Americans would make peace without France. Certain reflections on this head follow. Believes the American system is only suited to a war of defence, and that, consequently, they will never take New York, Newport, or Halifax. Shews advantage to be derived from stirring up the Congress to the conquest of Canada by promising to keep the English from assisting it by sea. Probability that the American army will be reduced to 8,000 men next year, unless the plans on Canada make a larger number necessary. The campaign against Canada could only take place next autumn. Sullivan's outburst has been condemned by everyone. Reasons why it would be better there should never be any joint operations between the King's forces and the Americans. Plan of asking the help of two or three ships to ensure the success of the attack on St. Augustine, reserved for Spain, which would demand the cession of that place to her. Advantages to be derived by France, were she to protect American trade. General impatience to see war formally declared. A member of the Congress asserted openly in the assembly that France was not in a state of war with England; an assertion from one of its members very ill-received by the Congress. Petitions from the regiments of the ten States re reduction of officers. Georgia and Carolina have no troops in the army. The Virginian regiments have refused to carry out the order in question. Gives particulars of the loss and damage caused by the hurricane of the 11th of August. The state of Pennsylvania has repealed the law which gave the American commander power to take the carts needed, of his own authority; this right is now reserved to the Executive Council of the State. The Gazette of the 19th instant contains a very guarded account of the expedition against Rhode Island. Some reflections on the weakening of England in Europe through her sending naval forces to America, to counterbalance the Comte d'Estaing's squadron. Foresees the necessity of warning the governors to prepare for an attack. Advantages that might ensue, inasmuch as Spain might capture the convoy bound to Jamaica. Miralles resolved on an expedition to Havana and to Martinique. English squadron returns to Sandy Hook. A large number of ships have entered the bay, many of which have suffered severely. It is surmised that the August packet has arrived with instructions for withdrawing a considerable part of the English troops from America who are probably intended for the Islands. The recall of the English commissioners is confidently expected. Measures taken to ensure the defeat of the expedition against Boston. Has induced the committee charged with settling the plan for combined operations with the King's squadron, to forego the proposed attack on Barbadoes. Has informed the Comte d'Estaing that he is at liberty to act as he thinks best. Has accepted the Congress' offer of a ship of six guns to go to the Islands, not having been able to find one for this purpose. The ship in question will leave shortly for Martinique, with Miralles' despatches and his own. A second ship is being sent from Charles Town to Havana. It is hoped that a ship may soon be sent from Baltimore to St. Eustache, whence the despatches will be sent to Porto Rico. Thinks it would be well to consent to the loan of 3 or 4 millions which Congress wishes to make in Holland; gives reasons for supporting the said loan. The sailors of Philadelphia maintain that Admiral Gambier's force will not prevent the King's squadron from leaving Boston when it wishes to do so. p. 213

Sept. 24. Gérard to d'Estaing. [Copy.] Congress anxious that the King's squadron should proceed to the West Indies. Assistance which the Congress asks of him (d'Estaing) for an attack on Barbadoes and the Bermudas. Forces which the Congress proposes to employ for this purpose. The intention is to cede to the King the right of conquest over Barbadoes. Has asked the United States for a force of 1000 or 1200 men in support of d'Estaing's own expedition against Barbadoes. Refused by the United States. Shews that the United States could spare the assistance asked of them by d'Estaing. Has urged the United States to provision the King's squadron. Proposed arrangements of United States in this connexion. Has offered to go and see General Washington in order to consult with him concerning future operations. The Congress declines to make any proposal of d'Estaing in regard to his operations. p. 227

September 24. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 30. Gives particulars of the alleged intention of the English to evacuate New York and to transport the troops thence to the Islands. It is said that 16 regiments have been ordered to return to Europe. Deserters from Byron's fleet. The town of Bedford partially burned by the English. Retrograde movement of Washington's army. It is feared the American army may be forced to go to New England. The Congress is devoting its attention to the establishment and maintenance of a good understanding between the two nations. The Congress able to supply all the military material we may need. Has offered a ship to convey his despatches to Martinique. Is entirely satisfied with their conduct towards him. Praises Mr Lee, president of the naval committee, in this respect. Great majority of votes in favour of Mr Deane; article in the Treaty with France for which he (Deane) is blamed. Praises the abilities and intelligence of Mr Govers Xenremors, the writer of a letter to Mr Carlisle. Encloses his own letter to the Comte d'Estaing, re his conferences with the committee of the Congress. Proposals made to him re combined operations for next year against Halifax, Quebec and Newfoundland. Americans would cede Newfoundland to France, even though they had assisted in conquering it. [Sept. 26.] News to the effect that the English are about to attack Charlestown with their whole naval force. Advantages they would derive from the success of this attack. The supposed design of the English against Charlestown has caused great alarm; means taken to resist it. General Washington's camp between Fredericksburg and Banbury. Belief in the attack on Boston seems to have been given up. He is personally of opinion that a great part of the preparations made by the English, is intended for Europe. Indians and Tories are infesting the outlying settlements of New York and Pennsylvania. Means taken for the defence of th Dlawr. p. 236

Sept. 29. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 31. Conjectures re the fleet of 50 sail seen off the Jersey coast. English descent on New Jersey to the number of 4 or 5 thousand men. Joy caused by the news brought by a ship in from St. Eustache which reports having seen the King's flag hoisted on the forts of San Domingo. General Clinton informs the Congress that he is authorized to ratify the convention of Saratoga: his ungoverned expressions and threats, which have only excited contempt. Reasons which justify the refusal to release Burgoyne's army; critical condition of the province of Pennsylvania. Advantages accruing to the administration from a published letter of a leader of the Quakers, and from the condemnation of two of them as guilty of high treason. p. 246

Philadelphia, Oct. 4. Gérard to Vergennes. N°. 32. Desolation caused on American coasts by scattered English attacks. English troops continue their ravages in the neighbourhood of Newark. Measures taken for the safety of Charlestown and Port Royal. General Clinton's plan of attack becomes known. Detachments sent by Washington. Gives reasons for continuance of disorder among the parties of the administration. The Congress grants compensation to the maimed and wounded. Explains why foreign officers may be excluded from the recompense granted by the Congress to American officers for a fixed period. Aim sought by English generals in their system of destruction. Suggestions which they are trying to make to the American people; but which cause no anxiety. Effects produced by jealousy and the desire of personal independence. Discussion raised in the Congress on the article of the treaty relating to molasses: is the outcome of intrigue and of personal interest. The president's name is mentioned for a post in Europe; conditions on which M^r. Deane might possibly be chosen. Has endeavoured, without success to combat M^r Deane's purpose of settling in France. Charges brought against the two Quakers who have been found guilty. It is thought desirable to give the Quakers a lesson by hanging two criminals of their sect: consternation among them. Members of the Congress and judges who have undertaken the defence of the two Quaker criminals. Reasons which led a member of the Congress to yield to the popular outcry; he is to be compensated. Spirit of Pennsylvanian legislation. Particulars of ravages and massacres committed by English off the coasts of Massachusetts and in other places. Arrival of Admiral Byron at Newport. General Clinton's eagerness to carry out his plan of destruction. The recall of Admiral Howe is a loss to America. The Congress is greatly concerned at the barbarity of the English, and is deliberating on the means of making use of reprisals. The Congress has become aware of its miscalculation as to the departure of the English and the evacuation of New York, and of the impossibility of holding the enemy in check everywhere. [Oct. 17]. Encloses copy of a proclamation issued by the English commissioners; its reception by the public. The one point in this proclamation that gives rise to anxiety; the motive to which it is assigned. Unsuccessful English landing at Great Egg harbour. News from New York re various movements of English troops. Two congressional resolutions, one re oath to be tendered to all office-holders in that body, the other re interdiction of dances and spectacles, published in the Philadelphia newspapers; reflections on the point. Differences of opinion re moral laws between members from the north and members from the south, responsible for delays in respect of important matters. The ascendancy of the Presbyterian leaders accounts for the delay in sending the United States plenipotentiary in France his credentials. Letters from Mess^rs Arthur Lee and Izard, making various charges against Franklin. Law proposed by a member of the Congress, prohibiting any member to accept lucrative employment while in office, rejected. Advantages expected to be gained from it.

Oct. 20. Gérard to Vergennes. N°. 33. Report of conferences between the Marquis de la Fayette and the committee appointed by the Congress for that purpose. Summary of Franklin's instructions as conveyed to Gérard by Morris. The acquisition and preservation of Newfoundland and the fisheries, depends. for the United States, on the possession of Halifax and Quebec; would grant to the French in possession of Newfoundland all the security and the facilities possible. His (Gérard's) own remarks to Morris on the comments wherewith he accompanied the reading of Franklin's instructions. The desire of the Congress that the English should be forced to evacuate United States territory, would make it appear that they are somewhat hampered in their power to act for themselves. Morris excuses himself by means of a general reference to his country's inability to carry on war with profit for any length of time. Proposed attack on Canada; its motives. Morris communicates particulars concerning it to Gérard. The co-operation of a French force is included in the proposal. Gérard questions Morris, re details of campaign in question; suggests that the Americans might be the only ones to suffer. This he knows to be Washington's opinion. Fears expressed by Morris re Spanish objections to campaign against Canada; presumes that Spain wishes Canada to remain English, in order to keep the United States in check in that direction. Morris shews this policy to be a mistaken one; results which he claims, ensue from it. Gérard's reply: claims to be unaware of Spain's views on the matter. His answer to Morris on the views expressed concerning St. Augustine, Pensacola and Mobile. Suggests that it may be necessary for the United States to give up the navigation of the Mississippi, and St. Augustine and Pensacola in order to reassure Spain, if she is really suspicious. Morris, following the advice of several of his friends, submits to Gérard the necessity of establishing a law of coercendo imperio, which would cut short all these negotiations, and would not be likely to meet with serious objections. States amount to which the debt of the Congress has risen. A loan of 3 millions sterling will, it is thought, be needed in order to carry on operations. Gérard praises Lafayette; whom he has advised to ask for leave only and not to resign, as he wished to do. [Oct. 21.] Encloses document relating to instructions to Franklin, re campaign against Canada. The prior evacuation of New York is, however, still looked for; but is not to be counted on. p. 23.

Versailles, Oct. 26

Vergennes to Gérard. N° 6. The protection and assistance given by the King to America, ought to ensure the indissolubility of the alliance which H.M. has formed with the latter country. The first result of the present war is to have made this eventual union definitive. Any peace proposal which failed to recognize the independence of America would be rejected. His Catholic Majesty, who is still endeavouring to bring about a peace, is well aware of this unalterable determination on the part of France. Uncertain attitude assumed by England in respect of an agreement, in order to gain time. The King of Spain's latest effort at the Court of London to bring it about. His instructions to the Marquis d'Almodovar, which are acceptable to the King of France, who has directly authorized that ambassador to present them in his name. The first article is the recognition of the sovereignty and independence of the United States. Spain is of the same mind. It would be well to let the leading members of the Congress know, confidentially, how matters stand. Should circumtances ever make it necessary to conclude a speedy peace with the Court of London, without being able to await the concurrence of the Congress, the interests of the United States would be as carefully looked after as if their representatives had taken part in the negotiations. Explains how it comes to pass that these representatives are unaware of what is going on in this connexion. The Cougress ought, ultimately, to send them the necessary full powers and instructions. France thinks it advisable to leave Canada and even Nova Scotia to England. The latter would be preferable, should it be found well to obtain territory for the United States in that part of America. The Floridas are at Spain's disposal. It is doubtful whether England would admit the Americans to the Newfoundland fisheries; concessions which the Congress might reasonably make, their own coasts being sufficiently rich in fish. Instructions which it would be well that the Congress should give its delegates in regard to the navigation of the Mississippi. States personal opinion of

M. Miralles re Canada and the two Floridas, and explains why France holds the opposite opinion on the matter. Reply to be made to the Congress, should it take a wrong view of France's attitude. Peace must not depend on the reunion of Canada with the possessions of the United States. Danger arising from the want of unity in the Congress, and desire of French Court that there should be complete harmony among its members. He will make known the King's displeasure against any Frenchmen who give cause for complaint in Philadelphia. French Court anxious at d'Estaing's silence; the public newspapers speak of various misfortunes which he has met with. p. 43

Philadelphia, Nov. 3. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 35. In answer to Despatch N° 2. The United States have decided on the campaign against Canada. Gives account of means available for undertaking it. Explains why a large number of people would like the doors of the Congress to be open in the case of debates other than those on affairs of state. False news of the sailing of the great English fleet. Manifesto issued by the Congress re reprisals against the English. p. 57

Versailles, Nov. 18. Vergennes to Gérard. N° 7. Refers to passage in latter's letter which seems to convey that the Congress would think itself at liberty to conclude a separate peace with England. The terms and the spirit of the French treaty are against this opinion. If the Congress will declare that it will listen to no peace proposal which does not include France, it will ensure an avoidance of all surprises. France has set the example in this matter. French court does not think the Congress intends to attack Canada, but rather New England and the neighbouring provinces. Spain is in favour of leaving Canada and Acadia to England. France is endeavouring to assist in restoring the credit of American paper. The French court is awaiting particulars of the failure to conquer Rhode Island; but does not think that d'Estaing is to blame. States attitude of France in relation to M. Miralles.Gérard will be careful to treat as a falsehood anything that may be published in the English papers at variance with France's engagements with the United States, or with the spirit of restraint which Spain has hitherto set on herself. France approves of the congressional resolution re Burgoyne's force; it must remain in America. Re establishment of a free port for American products. It might be well for Congress to set certain definite limits which the United provinces should be unable to exceed; such a step would tend to reassure Spain. p. 62

Philadelphia, Nov. 29. Gérard to Vergennes. N°. 39. Continuation of his report re damage suffered by Admiral Byron's squadron. Indifferent members sent by Pennsylvania to the general Congress. The state of the finances calls for great and speedy remedies; explains why all work in connexion therewith has been suspended. p. 73.

Dec. 4. Gérard to Vergennes. N°. 41. News from New York, to the effect that the English commissioners are returning to London. This commission has produced an impression unfavourable to England. General Reed elected President of the Executive Council: dinner in honour of the event; Gérard invited. Fresh expressions of gratitude for the King's friendship for Americans. Proposed changes in the constitution of Pennsylvania; Mr. Payne ably defends the present system; motives underlying the new constitution. Gérard's reflections on it. Offers made by him to the Congress to encourage American cruisers to destroy or seize cargoes of masts. p. 76.

December 12. Gérard to Vergennes. No. 46. Reasons which led the President of the Congress to resign two days previously. Mr. Jay, member extraordinary from New York, chosen President in place of Mr. Lawrence; former of French origin. Committee engaged on a form for eliminating the constitutional incompatibility of Mr. Jay's two offices. Deputation sent to Gérard: reasons for it being sent. Account of all that was said by the members, and of Gérard's replies to them. Gérard's proposal to the Congress to make concessions to Spain appears likely to be adopted, on condition that the latter country will supply pecuniary assistance towards payment of their debts. Particulars on this head, in case of conquest. Congress resolves to recall Mr. Arthur Lee, its agent in France. Gérard, on being asked, assured them that France would not attach any importance to Lee's recall. Drayton apologizes to Gérard for a paragraph in the paper of Dec. 9. Samuel Adams also explains his connexions with Temple, and goes into particulars on the whole matter with Gérard. [Dec. 14.] Two members from Maryland assure Gérard of their State's anxiety that the King should believe in their unalterable devotion to independence and to the fortunate alliance between the United States and His Majesty. They express the satisfaction of their State, both at the establishment of a Consulate and at the appointment of M. Daumours as Consul. Details of certain particulars concerning the new President of the Congress; who is only to retain his position as a member of the Congress until the month of March. The real reason of Mr. Jay's appointment (as President of the Congress). The State of Vermont, whose inhabitants are a kind of savages, can put into the field five or six thousand trained and resolute men. The State of New York has tried to subdue the State of Vermont by force; this civil war has with difficulty been suppressed for the time being. Means employed to bring about a friendly settlement of this dispute. An anonymous writer asserts in the Gazette of Dec. 10, that the high cost of the necessaries of life is due to the operations of monopolists. Difficulty of establishing regulations for the press. The new President of the Congress pays Gérard a visit on the very day of his inauguration. The Congress replies to Gérard re premium to be given to vessels capturing hostile ships laden with masts. Encloses letter from the new President of the Congress. Resolution of the Congress fixing a salary suitable to the dignity of the new President. Details of the smallness of the allowances made to members of the Congress; their disastrous consequences. Plan of several States to remedy the disadvantages referred to, and thereby give more stability to the changing and fluctuating composition of the Congress. The President consults with Gérard as to how he should act in regard to Temple; Gérard gives him the same answer that he made to the deputation of the Committee. Violent excitement among the citizens over the Tories' proposals, and outcries of the Whigs. Certain particulars as to the clothing of the American Army. General Washington's wish to retire to his Virginia plantations for a while, causes alarm in the Congress. Addition of a premium granted by the Congress to the one offered for the capture of vessels laden with masts. p. 84.

Dec. 19. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 47. Encloses cutting from the Gazette of Dec. 15, re certain articles relating to M[r] Deane's case. Gives particulars of a letter re M[r] Lawrence's retirement; opinions divided concerning it. Encloses the thanks tendered to Lawrence by the Congress; also the explanation of his reasons for resigning. Mentions Lawrence's plan of being sent to Europe, either to replace Franklin, or to raise the proposed loan in Holland. The Congress divided into parties over Deane's case; his secret has been made generally known in such a way as possibly to have great influence on what is being considered in the Congress, and on the people themselves. Conference between Gérard and the new President re the matters of chief interest to France and the United States. Gérard suggests to the President the importance of not allowing any misunderstandings to affect the alliance with France. He urges him not to lose sight of the reputation of the Congress in respect of the consistency of their administration, and chiefly, to endeavour to regain the Tories, and restore unity among the citizens. Jay takes Gérard's suggestion like a sensible man, and seems well disposed to protect the interests of France with no less zeal than those of the United States. Gérard refers to the disorganized state of the finances, in the general administration, and, most of all, in trade. The President is giving his attention to both these points. The Congress is occupied in settling confederation, and in fixing the plan of operations and expenditure for next year. General Washington's speedy arrival in Philadelphia gives grounds for hoping that the work connected with all these matters will be hastened. Virginia and Carolina are not pleased at the Florida campaign. Encloses the questions printed in the newspapers by the supernumerary retired officers. Also, d'Estaing's proclamation to the Canadians. [Dec. 22.] Reports his strong & successful plea on behalf of Spain at the dinner to the new President, and in Miralles' presence. Shews how necessary it is that the States should fix their boundaries as to leave her (Spain) in possession of such territory as is useful to her. p. 102.

Versailles, Dec. 25. Vergennes to Gérard. N° 8. French ministry ignorant of d'Estaing's whereabouts; disadvantages ensuing therefrom. Do not think the English will evacuate New York, but are rather of opinion that they will stay there as long as possible, in order to make it the centre of their intended operations. Efforts which the Americans should make to guard against the designs of the common enemy instead of yielding to a sense of security as they seem to be doing. Gérard has done well in inducing the Congress to desire the departure of d'Estaing's squadron. Re depreciation of paper money; the King has consented to a plan which must certainly have the effect of increasing its value. There is little hope of a reconciliation with England, through the medium of Spain. The proposal of a many years' truce has been privately communicated to Franklin, who saw no objection to it. The full powers furnished him on leaving Philadelphia are not sufficient to authorize him to negotiate a peace with England. It would be well if the Congress were to send him more formal powers in order to take part with France in the negotiations that may take place at any moment. Gérard must do his utmost to induce the Congress to consent to a many years' truce. Assurance which H.M. is prepared to give the Congress as to the certainty of its observance. France and Spain will maintain the English in the possession of Canada and Nova Scotia. As for Newfoundland, the conquest of that island depends on circumstances. News of Mr. Hartwig, a protestant minister, sought for. p. 115

Gérard to Vergennes. N° 49. Clinton's proposal to Washington re exchange of officers misunderstood and ineffective. Resumes his account of the constitution of Pennsylvania. Convocation of the general assembly instead of that of the convention. Discussions in writing for and against the charge that the partizans of the constitution had violated it by fixing the period of its probation. Report of his (Gérard's) various interviews with the President of the Congress and General Washington. Use to be made of all available resources for an active war, a mere war of defence being insufficient. Need of adopting a more vigorous system; the King does not ask efforts beyond the means of the United States; but, by shewing their resources, they can advance the establishment of their independence. The President points on the other hand, to the wretched state of the finances, and the difficulty of getting recruits. These reasons have, however, no force so long as the King employs all his forces against the common enemy. Several members in favour of making an honest admission to the King of the inability of the American Republic to act vigorously on the offensive: Gérard dissuades the President from the idea of this embarassing declaration, as well as the members most strongly in favour of it. Such an admission would compromise the Congress after solemnly announcing its readiness to carry on the war by itself. Popular murmurs against the size of the debt, without ability to see the consequences of it. Several States ask for a division of the taxes between the States, a long and delicate operation, which would involve fresh difficulties for the working of a system of government. A zealous government must submit to certain domestic disadvantages for the sake of the general good. The only hope shewn is in the assistance of Spain; this matter is to come up at once, without regard to petty considerations of dignity. Washington seems to approve of Gérard's suggestions. He declares the campaign against Canada to be impracticable without the previous evacuation of New York—which becomes daily more unlikely to happen. Indian attacks more to be feared than English. Congress has not yet told Washington of its resolution re Canadian campaign, but keeps repeating to him that no risk must be run of deceiving its ally. No order as yet for a Florida campaign, though many preparations have been made for it. Praise of Washington. Apparent unwillingness of England to cede territories to the United States which do not form an integral part of the Colonies. The latter must not expect their allies to continue the war to gain them an extension foreign to the system of the Union. This consideration will affect the offers to be made to Spain. Washington asks what compensation the King would claim were he to assist in the conquest of Canada. Gérard has no information on this point, but the compensation would be in conformity with the letter and spirit of the treaty of alliance. The enquiry into the finances seems likely to produce a resolution. A loan to be raised in Europe. Paper money to the amount of 30 to 35 million dollars withdrawn from circulation for a period of six months. The reason assigned for this course is the multiplication of forged paper money, and the advantage to be derived from restoring the credit of paper money, which has of late become depreciated. There seems to be little foundation for these views; the operation is, moreover, likely to arouse popular protest, and several States will dispute the competence of the Congress in this matter. Objections to such a regulation; the holders of the suspended paper money will be the only sufferers. The course of trade will also be affected without compensation to the general welfare. According to the year's accounts, the public debt amounts to 110 million dollars. Encloses translation of a letter communicated to him by M[r] Richard Henry Lee, as evidence of his conduct towards that individual. Pressing attentions of Samuel Adams and Francis Lightfoot Lee, to Mr. Gérard, which do not, however, alter the opinion of the last mentioned that it is Adams only who by his devices keeps the Congress from giving him (Gérard) a positive and satisfactory answer re Lee's expressed views. p. 125

MINISTRY OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS. POLITICAL CORRESPONDENCE. UNITED STATES.

Vol. 7. 1779.

1779. Philadelphia, Jan. 4. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 50. Reports that General Washington has induced the Congress to give up the proposed attack on Canada. Plan adopted by the Congress to make an effective diversion during the coming campaign; its efforts to be bounded only by the means at its disposal. The evacuation of New York being very unlikely, some difficulty might arise in forming a second army corps. General Washington authorized to draw up a plan of operations. The president of the Congress makes open profession of his devotion and gratitude to the King of France, to which he (Gérard) makes a suitable and satisfactory reply. It has been agreed to submit political matters to him, and to ask him to give his opinion on them. A large number of landed proprietors in the state of Pennsylvania have joined in asking the Congress to increase the taxes, thus shewing their zeal for independence, and their conviction that this is the only remedy for the disordered condition of the finances. The depreciation of the paper money would fall on the people; Americans are convinced that its value can only be kept up by means of taxes. General Clinton has offered to ransom Burgoyne's troops, having failed to obtain their exchange. He will, however, be refused. Fresh considerations have warded off the attack that was to have been made on D[r] Franklin. p. 1.

Jan. 5. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 51. Referring to transmission of enclosed resolution of the Congress, re attack on Canada and a vigourous prosecution of the war. The King should insist on the suppression of articles 11 and 12 of the Treaty of Commerce. p. 5.

Jan. 28. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 56. Anxiety of the Congress re invasion of Georgia, and consequences entailed on South Carolina. Means taken by the Congress to protect the latter state from the enemy's attacks. Desire of the Congress that the Comte d'Estaing should help in opposing the English attack in that quarter. Having been personally consulted by the Congress re plan of said assistance, he dwelt strongly on the difficulties arising from the state of affairs in the Islands. The Congress appears to be convinced of the force of his contentions in respect of the assistance which they thought the Comte d'Estaing might be able to afford. The Congress has expressed to him its entire satisfaction at the impression made on Americans by the publication of the treaty. His own letters, and those of the Congress, have been sent to the Comte d'Estaing by the Marquis de Brequigny, who has gained the esteem and the trust of the Congress. The President and the Congress have admitted the justice of his (Gérard's) demand re compensation on the part of whichever one of the allies may ask the assistance of the other in a special campaign, according to the terms of the treaty of alliance. His difficulty in connexion therewith; he stipulates, inter alia, that, in the case of the mutual assistance, which the King should have the right to require of the United States, H. M. should be free to propose another, and to agree with the Congress in regard to it. A junction of the Spanish forces with the American might conquer Florida. His suggestions re Florida and the Mississippi favourably received; a committee formed to devote itself entirely to this matter. The president of the committee on Foreign Affairs has assured him (Gérard) that the committee would take no action without previously consulting him. Differences of opinion among members of this committee, the majority of whom, however, lean towards his (Gérard's) suggestion. Has made it plain to the United States that they have no claims to the possessions of the King of England, or in respect of the navigation of the Mississippi. The King will not prolong the war for a day simply in order to obtain for the United States their former possessions. The president of the Congress wishes to define the boundary between Georgia and the other territories of the English colonies. He (Gérard) has communicated the above particulars to M. de Miralles. p. 7.

Feb. 10. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 60. Referring to, and enclosing, a declaration from the State of Maryland, which declines to join the general Confederation. Accession of the State of Delaware thereto. Ravages committed by the New Jersey Tories, and Whig retaliation. Effects of the faults of the constitution of Pennsylvania. Troops from the southern provinces, and detachments from Washington's army, sent to Georgia. Military operations in connexion with the taking of Fort Tropit. Account of the celebration of the anniversary of the signing of the alliance between the Congress and the King of France. p. 16.

Feb. 12. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 61. Continued scruples on the part of Congress as to meaning and application of Art. 4 of the treaty of alliance and to the campaign against Georgia. Creation of two new committees to consult with Gérard in connexion therewith. Debates of members on the point. His reply to the arguments of the committees on the matter in dispute, referred to at the outset of this despatch. Insisted that article was quite clear and only question was amount of indemnity. Specious arguments of a member of the committee, to which Gérard makes an emphatic reply, by drawing the attention of that body to the assistance which the King owes to his allies. Misapprehension of Americans in respect of their treaty with the King, whom they deemed to be thereby exclusively bound to their cause, while leaving them to the quiet enjoyment of their independence. Levy of troops ordered by the Congress, which appears to adopt, unanimously, all Gérard's conclusions concerning the foregoing matters under discussion. p. 21.

Feb. 15. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 62. The president of the Congress expresses his joy at the immediate prospect of peace negotiations, Conference between Gérard and the committee of the Congress re Spanish matters; communicates the decision of that court to them in confidence. It appears to be agreed to cede the Floridas to that power, without any explanation as to the Mississippi; importance of the speedy deliberations of the Congress on this point. In view of the impossibility of vigorous action, it would be well to make peace as soon as may be. All officials ordered to report immediately on all matters relating to foreign affairs, in order to avoid the usual prolongation of debates. Success of means employed by the Congress to sustain its own credit and the public confidence: good effect on the price of flour and on paper money. Private opinion that peace will be made without the States. In default of subsidies from the King of France, who could not even authorize a loan, the Americans, satisfied with their independence, would be in favour of peace, and would forego all ambitious designs. Congress enquires seriously into Spanish matters, urged thereto by Gérard, in consequence of certain previous vague hints given by M. de Miralles. Grounds for hoping that the Americans will gladly yield to the demands of Spain. The chief difficulty would be in connexion with the limits of American territory. The same applies to claims in respect of Newfoundland fisheries; there is a general desire that it may fall to France. There is a universal sentiment in favour of peace, and of an alliance with Spain. Rise of suspended paper by 25 per cent. Price of gold fallen from 10 to 6 and 7 per cent. Perfect unity among members of the Congress. Everything points to the conclusion of peace. p. 29.

Feb. 17 Gérard to Vergennes. N° 63. Conference of Gérard with the Committee of Congress on the affairs of the alliance. The address of Gérard. He began by impressing on the committee the determination of the King to fulfil punctiliously his whole duty towards the alliance. The King would agree to no peace, which did not provide as a preliminary for the independence of the United States. Gérard contrasted the attitude of Great Britain on this subject with the favourable disposition of Spain in seeking to bring about fresh mediation. Told the committee that all considerations pointed to the desirability of peace as soon as the primary object of the war had been attained. The King had no ambition for conquests, but he would not refuse the advantages which the first achievements of his arms might procure. Gérard dwelt upon insufficiency of financial resources and difficulty of obtaining recruits; and the impossibility of the King giving pecuniary aid. He insisted upon this point as otherwise Congress might be reluctant to conclude peace. Congress should have a plan of war and a plan of peace, both equally decisive and well defined. As matters stood the pretentions of the United States should be confined to the integral parts of their territory. Conquest of Canada can only be the last fruits of a successful war. As he had hinted as to the necessity of meeting the views of Spain, Gérard was asked for an explanation. He replied he had no authority to speak on this point, but his personal opinion was, that Spain would confine her attention to securing her frontiers and to preventing trouble with her neighbours. This object would be attained by the possession of Pensacola and the exclusive right of navigation on the Mississippi. On this point there were differences in the committee, several insisting with warmth on preserving the navigation of the Mississippi for the United States. In conclusion it was decided unanimously that efforts be made to satisfy Spain.

Feb. 18. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 64. Has insisted, in his speech to the committee, on their renunciation of all claims to the northern possessions of England, and on the necessity of making instant or vigourous efforts and demonstrations. Sensible Americans convinced that it is their duty to accept peace on condition of independence. Resolution to satisfy Spain by granting her what is fitting. Particulars on this head. Disadvantages to be feared, and means of remedying them. Arrival of Richard Henry Lee. p. 51.

Versailles, Feb. 19. Vergennes to Gérard. N° 9. Approves of the means taken by him to forewarn the Congress against the erroneous views of Richard Lee. The honour and interest of the United States prescribe the duty of fidelity to the alliance with France, which is the essential basis of their political existence. The King makes it a matter of conscience to fulfil the obligations which he shares with the United States. He has rejected the overtures made to him by England through the medium of Spain, and will accept none that are not based on the independence of America. A fresh scheme of conciliation, concerning which Spain has consulted France, and to which the King has agreed, since it would actually ensure the independence of America. Confidential communication which it would be well for him to make to the most patriotic and discreet members of the Congress in order to protect that body against the possible misuse, by England, of the overtures made to her by Spain in this connexion. Grounds which lead France to consider the attack on Canada as impracticable. The opinion of Spain on this point, which France is bound to respect, is not favourable to it. Gérard will confine himself to urging the Americans to concentrate all their efforts in doing as much harm as possible to the common enemy. Commends Gérard for having induced the Congress to explain itself in regard to the Floridas. If they offer them to Spain with Pensacola and Mobile, he (Vergennes) will set that court's mind at rest as to the future views of the United States. He (Gérard) will continue to maintain the Congress in its inclinations not to insist on the right of navigation on the Mississippi. In order to protect American trade, France will grant the ships engaged in it the same assistance as to her own. The present high cost of French goods in America can only be temporary. Gérard will consult with M. de Sartine as to the facilities to be given to American captains for recruiting their crews from among English prisoners. No news of the Comte d'Estaing. Quite impossible to continue the subsidies. It seems probable the interests for the payment of which the Congress has drawn on Franklin will be paid, at least in part. Association of bankers pledged to a limited advance. The Congress ought not to have published the treaty of alliance with France, without first consulting the latter country. Gérard might convey a gentle hint to the principal members of the Congress, in this sense. The publication of the treaty will, however, do good. p. 57.

Philadelphia, March 1. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 66. Gérard has been sounding public opinion. There is a general desire for peace. Almost without exception Congress believes peace to be necessary, and the wishes of the people are even more explicit. Their one object is the restoration of quiet, the discontinuance of taxes and the re-establishment of commerce. Congress on the other hand while admitting the difficulties of the situation, are actuated by a desire to gain such advantages from the circumstances as will increase their power and influence. A loan of at least £2,000,000 and a good harvest are necessary for an aggressive campaign, but Congress counts on aid from France and Spain to bring England to her knees. Hence the ambitions of the Americans are unlimited. There are, also, demands on the part of the separate states. Hence from the mere excess of the claims it is probable that the Congress, after some explosions of patriotic zeal, will finally content itself with peace on the simple condition of independence. If Congress prove obstinate, the people will most likely bring them to sober views. Among the various conditions of peace, besides their independence, the Americans contemplated the cession of Nova Scotia to them and the preservation of the fisheries on the coasts of that peninsula. New England insistent on this. Gérard deprecated this idea, particularly as Great Britain was mistress of one entire state and two important places in the centre of the States. The French King would be astonished at those pretentions, particularly as the States could not claim Nova Scotia even by right of conquest; if the States were successful, the Allies must in right and honour make demands; and that the magnitude would drive Great Britain to continue the war. He suggested that the States claim only the fisheries on the Nova Scotia coast, alleging the specious plea of ancient possession, but they should not make this an ultimatum. After discussion the States came to the conclusion to leave all such propositions to the decision of France. As to the Newfoundland fisheries, Gérard's informants stated that the Americans had no pretentions to the fisheries either on the Newfoundland coasts or on the Banks; and that their desire was that France should obtain half of the fisheries, partly to preserve the alliance and partly in the interests of commerce. As to Spain the disposition of the Americans was to leave the key to the Mississippi entirely with Spain; to disclaim any rights of navigation on any parts of that river watering Spanish territory; to allow Spain to have Pensacola and the two Floridas. The Americans would desire merely to have an entrepôt for their Mediterranean trade. In consideration of these sacrifices, Spain should grant a pecuniary subsidy to the United States. These views appear to prevail for the moment, but they will doubtless be subject to modifications. Washington informed Gérard that a convoy with 2500 men left New York a week before; he was assured they were for Georgia. From appearances it would seem that Great Britain was about to evacuate Rhode Island, and make New York, Charlestown and Halifax its sole ports in America. p. 75.

Philadelphia, March 3.

Gérard to Vergennes. N° 67. The committees directed to prepare the instructions to the plenipotentiaries from the United States to Spain have commenced their work. An amicable beginning was interrupted by lively opposition. The objects in dispute were (1) the acquisition of Nova Scotia, (2) the manner in which the instructions to the peace plenipotentiaries were to be carried out. The Eastern party raised the questions, and its views were strongly opposed. Some of those in opposition to the demands of the Eastern party, had recourse to Gérard for arguments. He suggested to them, inter alia, that supposing independence to be granted, the United States should not make a claim to territory, to which they had no right; that France in procuring for the United States their independence, had undertaken no engagement to assist them to make conquests; that as the demands meant continuation of war, the relations of the United States with the Allies would be essentially changed by that fact, and that the Allies would undoubtedly look for indemnities and compensations from the United States; that by insisting on this course the United States would lose character and their reputation would be tarnished by ambition and greed. Gérard assured that the majority of the delegates would favour a peace, the terms of which should be settled by France. On the question of boundaries, it is proposed to take the treaty of Paris and the proclamation of the King of England of the 8th Oct., 1763, which fixed the limits of the English colonies. As regards Spain it is proposed to make as the condition of peace, the cession of the two Floridas to that power. Respecting the Newfoundland fisheries, Gérard was assured of the desire of the United States that France alone should share with England these fisheries. Gérard contrasts the course pursued by the United States during these negotiations with that held by Great Britain, much to the disadvantage of the latter. p. 85.

Philadelphia, March 4. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 68. General predisposition in favour of peace, and on conditions to be determined by the King of France. Confederation regarded as very uncertain by several members of the Congress. They foresee a difficulty from the increased debt as a necessary consequence of the union, and fear a dissolution, when the danger of war is removed. Several years war would, in their opinion, put an end to persoual views in men's minds in dealing with public affairs. While admitting the need of peace, the gist of their opinions is that the States have not the means to make war, and are incapable of making a good use of peace. Gérard gives them no hope of obtaining war subsidies from the King of France. Adoption of the principle of only insisting, in respect of the boundaries of the United States, on the cession of the territory held by them prior to the Revolution. They will probably forego their claim to Canada and Nova Scotia. Why the bouudary from Lake Ontario to the Mississippi will be the most difficult to settle. Reasons for desiring to include the navigation of Lake Champlain in the ultimatum. Will, as a last resort, hold by the Treaty of Paris, and the King of England's proclamation of October, 1763, while rejecting the Canada Bill, which was never adopted by the United States, but was, on the contrary, one of the grievances which led them to take up arms. Explains why the arrangement of a truce would be hurtful to the common cause of France and the States. [March 6.] The opposition party is bringing its efforts to bear on a specious object, in order to make the peace project impossible: explains what the object is. Crafty motion made by Samuel Adams; rejected by a very large majority. His motives; to which Gérard adds others. Mr Arthur Lee reports to the Congress his conversation with the Comte de Vergennes as to a proposed journey to Spain; he complains of the lack of confidence shewn him by that miuister; the motives by which he accounts for it. A suggestion made to Gérard by one of the leading members of the Congress, and declined by him. He dwells strongly on the disadvantages of a truce. A fresh storm raised against Franklin. p. 96.

March 8. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 69. Speaks of the praiseworthy secrecy with which the Congress is dealing with immediate matters. The news of the memorandum presented by the Spauish ambassador to the British ministry has produced good results in America. Debates in the Congress as to navigation of the Mississippi and other boundaries. Claims will be confined to that which may belong to the 13 United States without reference to conquests. Separation between America and England completed, the allies will have no cause to fear the latter power. Assertion of a member of the Congress that the aim of the opposition leaders is to combine an alliance with a peace with England. Mr. John Adams writes to the Congress that the King of France will not assist the States in any way. The Mess[rs] Lee are supposed to have received notice of the speedy arrival of the English Commission. Proposed motion on this subject, and the results expected from it. Another motion proposed to ensure half pay to the officers of the army for life, if they finish the war. Measure considered useful. The Congress protests that its conduct has always been in conformity with the stipulations of the alliance. p. 113.

March 10. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 71. Principle discussed of treating with France, and of shewing her every confidence. M[r] Samuel Adams makes plain the attitude of the opposition on this point. The majority firm in respect of maintaining the French connexion and independence. Proposed determination of the instructions to be given to the plenipotentiary. Fresh news of the speedy arrival of the English commissioners; it is thought advisable to be in a position to tell them that the points to be negotiated have been decided on, and that, having been settled in France, it is there that the commissioners must make their proposals. Plan of presenting a petition to Congress, in order to hasten operations. Should the English commissioners arrive before the conclusion of the said operations Gérard will endeavour to secure a refusal to admit them. Shews the importance of their being excluded. The alliance does not weaken the prejudices of the American people. Many persons favour an alliance with England, if she will recognize their independence. Explains difficulty in which he would be placed, were the English commissioners to begin by recognizing independence. It would not then be easy to oppose their admission; all that could be done would be to receive their proposals, and refer them to the Congress in Europe. Shews that this is what England wishes to avoid. Motion as to measures to be taken for increasing the army, and putting it in a condition to act. Proposal made to Congress to treat with England as to Mississippi navigation article, on the ground that the States have shared this navigation with her since the treaty of Paris. Has protested strongly against the plan. England cannot grant the United States that which she has no right to dispose of. Spain is under no obligation in respect of the Congress, the two powers not being bound by express conventions. Spain's friendship needed by America; the King would side with the former. Several members of Congress determined not to vote for any peace condition except such as the King's minister shall consider practicable. Proposal to recall all commissioners now abroad. Ill-success of the attempt to define the boundary between the State of Massachusetts and Nova Scotia. p. 121.

March 12. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 72. Last sittings of Congress devoted to boundaries. Lively debates on Mississippi navigation. Injustice of demanding a cession from Spain to which the United States have no right. Congress to consider the fisheries article. Resolution to increase and strengthen the army. Re action of the corps of officers of Pennsylvanian regiments. Coudition of American troops. Dearness of provisions. Lack of arms and supplies. Fears for Charles Town. Distaste for French trade. Credit on France asked for, to purchase arms and supplies. Large means needed to meet all expenses. All prices double. No funds available in France to pay the interests assigned to it. Smallness of fund appropriated to all expenses. Source whence the rest may be obtained. Inaction of Congress, in face of so many difficulties. It is in need of provisions and of credit. No hope of any French subsidy. Prosperous condition of the State of Connecticut. The conduct of the war will be governed by the spirit of economy, and will be defensive. Imminent danger of Philadelphia. General Washington will have nothing to do with any plan of attack; he feels the need of peace. His caution in not risking the army. There seems to be no chance of success for an offensive campaign. p. 131.

March 18. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 74. Different tone adopted by the opposition since Gérard's conference with some of its members. Moderation of the debates: of the articles relating to Nova Scotia and the Mississippi. Public opinion seems to be in favour of confidently addressing the King of France, and asking his intervention with the King of Spain. Mr Lee's charge that matters discussed in the Congress were too well known outside; reply of the zealous partizan of France to whom he alluded. Increased confidence in French party, due to the better turn taken in French affairs. Has transmitted to Congress certain pressing representations agreed on with the president; copy enclosed. Congress resolves to increase number of troops. Proposal to double taxation. p. 144.

POLITICAL CORRESPONDENCE. UNITED STATES.

Vol. 8.

Philadelphia, April 4. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 76. At the time of his last report, the committee were on the point of taking a vote when the opposition again intervened. The point of attack was the Nova Scotia fisheries. Samuel Adams in speaking on the antagonism betweeu the Eastern and Southern states, let drop the words that it was becoming clearer every day that these two empires must eventually separate. On the question of rights of New England in those fisheries, the New Englanders allege that the treaties of peace between France and England gave them a title. On referring to the treaties it is found that their benefits are confined to British subjects, which the Americans were, wheu the treaties were made. Gérard, consulted, asks from whom the opposition would propose to demand a share in the fishing of Nova Scotia and Newfoundland. The members replied, from France and England. Gérard deals vigorously with this proposition, asking if it is from America's ally that the United States would snatch away its possessions. He reminded them that the treaty of alliance provided that if it fell to the allies to share conquest among themselves France was to have Newfoundland: France anxious to help America, but its own interests must not be attacked. Inconsistency of abandoning the principle of liberty to demand a share in a distribution considered unjust. Eagerness of Americans to invade fisheries everywhere, notwithstanding their possession of the most abundant fisheries on their own shores. The views he held prevailed, but vote deferred till following week. All the points in the instructions to plenipotentiaries settled, except the fisheries, and it appears this will be concluded to satisfaction of France. Growing embarrrassment of public affairs hampers work of Congress. Paper money discredited. Knows of case where $48 was paid for guinea. Mr. Holker has suspended his drafts. Secret drafts drawn in England at 12 and 15 per cent. Famine in many places. Acrimonious discussions going on, and doubts raised as to authority of Congress. The terms of Samuel Adams and Mr. Lee expire in May. Some chance of their not being returned. Their absence would tend to greater union and vigour in Congress. Gérard gives his reasons for the course he has pursued towards the delegates. Many opulent and distinguished citizens asked Gérard whether overtures of France to Congress were limited to making peace, conditional upon the two points—independence and the maintenance of the alliance. On being assured that such was the case they declared themselves as well as all Pennsylvania for the party supporting that policy, and offered to lead a movement to drive from their seats all delegates opposed to that policy. Gérard thanked them, but advised the employment of peaceful methods to attain the ends desired. Pennsylvania to determine the future of its officers independently of Congress, an arrangement which will perhaps be followed by other states. Uneasiness regarding the last expedition of General Clinton. Washington suspects its purpose may be the burning of Philadelphia. The terror excited is salutary and will lead to measures for the defence of Delaware.

Philadelphia, April 20.

Gérard to Vergennes. N° 77. Situation but little changed. His friends in majority, but attendance of members fluctuates so much as to render a vote hazardous. In favourable moment the Spanish business was settled, the only opponent being Mr. Lee. Chief difficulty now is the recall of commissioners employed in Europe. Opposition fear that persons chosen may not be favourable to their views. Anxiety as to the absence of news from their commissioners in France. Their silence attributed to lack of confidence in them on the part of the King. The friends of the alliance will limit the discussion of the fisheries question to the Nova Scotia fisheries, and will exclude from consideration those of Newfoundland. The Gazette of 17th contains ostensible conditions of treaty of reconciliation. General Arnold is to be tried by council of war. New issue of paper money enhances greatly the value of specie. Expenses of coming campaign will exceed 80 million dollars. Opinion as to effect of depreciation of paper money divided in Congress. The Government of Carolina suggests that the French in Charlestown form themselves into a battalion for the defence of the town. Idea approved by Gérard, who hopes this action may inspire Americans with respect for and confidence in the French. Le Sr. de Britigny proposed as Colonel for battalion. Great satisfaction in United States with the declaration of the Due de la Vauguyon respecting freedom of commerce. Recruiting goes forward with fair success, but the States complain of being hampered by Congress. Some of them have offered to double or triple their contingents in granting an increase of $30 a year in the pay of soldiers. Inaction of Washington's army. The attempt of Clinton on Providence will probably spur Washington into activity. It is said Clinton has 6,000 men with him, but it is unlikely he has stripped New York to this extent; if this were the case New York could have no more than from 1,000 to 1,200 men. Americans paying little attention to movements of British army, as the conduct of the latter increases the number of their enemies wherever they go. Gérard is taking advantage of the movements of the British to urge the vigorous system which Congress finally adopted. p. 16.

Versailles, April 22. Vergennes to Gérard. N° 10. Anxiety of French ministry at lack of news from America. The King has not made himself responsible for the loan of 3 millions, but only for the interest on this loan at 6 per cent, in the event of its not being repaid at the date agreed upon. France is about to send to sea a fleet of 30 ships, to be supported by a considerable number of Spanish ships, it being her intention to compel England to make peace. The Congress must also make the greatest exertions possible. Spain's renewed and latest effort in regard to peace or at least a suspension of arms, after which she will make common cause with France. Reflections on the former matter. Spain thinks that England only desires peace. Is awaiting England's answer prior to joining France. Means which Gérard might make use of in order to remove the bad opinion of the Congress as to Spain's proposal to leave the English in possession of the posts they occupy. Reports approaching arrival of the Chev[r] de la Luzerne. p. 28.

[Followed by Extract from Boston "Gazette" of April 22, 1779. and a Circular to the various State Legislatures, on the possibility of peace, etc.]

Philadelphia, May 4. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 78. Reports the same spirit, the same animosity, the same tardiness in the proceedings of the Congress. Peace party thought recall of commissioners a good opportunity. Detriment to interests of the States from the animosities that have arisen between the old and new commissioners. Franklin's recall negatived; matter to be debated. Bitterness and indecency of debates re Arthur Lee. Opposition agrees that he ought not to have been accredited to France, but holds that he might be to Spain. Anyone, however, unworthy of the King's confidence could not gain that of His Catholic Majesty. The States were divided 4 against 4 by the manœuvres of those responsible. The validity of this decision is contested by the patriots, who wish to resume the question and are adopting means to uphold it with which Gérard has supplied them; gives details. Publication of the list of personal votes; the majority in favour of the good cause. The King of Spain should, in the interests of the alliance, refuse to accept this decision. M[r] Lee insinuates that, on account of the family compact, the French King's affection would always lean exclusively towards Spain. The opposition is in close correspondence with John Temple at Boston, where he has made some converts. He will proceed to France, to arrange means with M[r] Lee for bringing about the failure of his real instructions, should they be contrary to their views. Urges his arrest on his arrival in France. The order he received from the Congress to quit Philadelphia might serve as an excuse for doing so. What should be thought of the eagerness of the opposition to warn the people against France, as shewn by the enclosed documents. Should the general Congress wish to do anything against the alliance, the American army would be inclined to revolt. The principal officers are confident of the favourable disposition of the people of their States. General Sullivan has acted in such a manner as to leave no doubt as to his way of thinking. The American army now consists of 8 or 9 thousand men. Those on six months' furlough are returning and will raise it to 14 thousand men during the course of the month. They are to come out of winter quarters on May 16, for an offensive campaign against the Indians towards Lake Ontario and a defensive against the English of New York. Sullivan is to command this expedition. Gérard's many conversations with Washington make it possible to give him the highest and most flattering commendation. p. 44.

May 6. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 80. States that one of his aims in going to the camp was to arrange with Washington a plan of joint operations between the King's squadron and the American forces for an attack on Halifax and Newfoundland. Reports to minister the result of his efforts in this direction, and on the difficulties of the plan in question, which was communicated to him by d'Estaing. p. 51.

May 7. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 81. Re opinion that it would be better to substitute a truce for a formal and definite treaty. Several well-intentioned members of the Congress, when sounded on this point on an occasion made use of by Gérard assured him that the American people were greatly averse to such a plan, and that the Congress would not dare to adopt it. Such a proposal coming from France, would give rise to endless suspicion and distrust, which would recoil on the Congress, and endanger its very existence. Several States which desire peace and have nothing to gain by a continuance of the war, would oppose any plan which held out a possibility of its renewal at any period, however remote. The indefinite period of a peace would be too uncertain for Americans. At its conclusion, France and Spain, unable and unwilling to protect America, would leave her to the mercy of England. Gérard's simple remark to the members as to this discussion. They maintain that the outcome would render the truce disastrous to America, since it would destroy the basis on which it is hoped to found a firm government. The disbanding of the troops forms part of the purpose of all the States; danger of such a course during a limited truce, and one looked upon as precarious. The plan offers no advantages to the States, either in respect of administration, of population, of agriculture, or of the arrangement of the finances, etc. Gérard, finding it impossible to allay these apprehensions, drops the whole question as of no importance. He leads his conversation with Washington on to this subject, to whom the idea seemed entirely novel: is struck to find him in complete agreement with the members of the Congress concerning it. His unqualified objections to it. Explains plan he intends to follow in order to carry out the minister's instructions. Takes as his premiss the fact that the Congress has not taken into consideration the possibility of an armistice being proposed. Success of the first move made in this direction eagerly seized upon by three members. p. 28.

[May 8]. The fight over M[r] Lee transferred from the general Congress to the public papers. Fears lest the indiscretion of the two parties should endanger the secret of the French negotiations. Plan for guarding against such a danger. Encloses cutting from a Boston newspaper insisting on the conquest of the whole of North America. p. 55.

May 11. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 82. The gist of the system to be adopted or rejected has been put forward by those in favour of peace, according to their promise. Sittings in connexion therewith taken up with recriminations. Memorandum presented by Gérard to the Congress in order to point out the course it should pursue [Enclosed with this despatch.] Sensation caused by it, without offending any one; those opposing it condemn all delay, and vote in favour of an explanation of its motives; which are merely the commonplaces of the constitution of the Assembly. The opposition establish the fact that the best answer to the memorandum is to complete the work in hand. General expression of trust in, and gratitude towards the King of France. All this has resulted in taking the contents of the memorandum into special consideration. In replying to the King's letter of notification, strong emphasis will be given to the devotion felt for His Majesty and the gratitude of the United States towards his person. The same expressions will be repeated in another letter, thanking him for having seen to the payment of the interest on their loan, and soliciting the supplies indispensably necessary for a continuation of the war. A strong impression has been made by the passage in the memorandum which refers to the King's willingness to lend the States all the assistance possible; an impression confirmed by the subsequent announcement of d'Estaing's coming. States that he has little hope of bringing about the change which his endeavours have accomplished, and which he supported by means of private conversations, his chief aim having been to allay the prevailing bitterness. Reports the true and firm, but moderate language which he used to them; the reflection which struck them most forcibly. Dangers to the States in inclining towards war. They can only justify themselves to the world by following the prudent course marked out for them by the French proposals. Mr Arthur Lee will not go to Spain. The friends of France have been urged to moderation, thus making it easy for the opposition to return without hurting their self-esteem. Measures to be taken to prevent the compromising of the French negotiations. The Massachusetts members discuss the fisheries article with Gérard, who begs them not to advance any claim which might compromise France's interests in respect of Newfoundland; they adopt the considerations and expedients suggested to them by him. p. 63.

Gérard to Vergennes. N° 85. Résumé on page 294.

Philadelphia, May 16. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 85. Satisfactory impression produced in Congress by the reading of memorandum of Gérard's respecting d'Estaing expeditiou. Mr. Penn of South Carolina gave utterance to very warm expressions of confidence and gratitude towards the King. Resolution adopted by Congress assuring him of their gratitude, and fidelity to the principles laid down by Alliance. Washington was given full power to direct the operations of the campaign in co-operation with Gérard and d'Estaing. Fishery question up again. The majority of members incline to Gérard's views. Assurances received by Gérard from the merchants in the East that peace would not be allowed to depend on the preservation of the fisheries. Quakers solicit Gérard's good will. He advised them to become citizens of the republic. Their number and wealth make them important. Inhabitants of Bermuda desire to join Americans, committee appointed to confer with them, along with Gérard. p. 89.

Philadelphia, May 21. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 87. Notwithstanding the harmony in Congress on the matter mentioned in his last despatch, the opposition have made notable gains. Owing to accidental circumstances the majority of the peace party has been so reduced that they can only count on 10 votes, against 5 held by the opposition. It is therefore necessary to temporize. The Opposition are skilfully misrepresenting the attitude of France, and are succeeding in misleading Congress. They no longer desire to encroach on French rights in the fisheries, but are limiting their demands to the fisheries reserved or not reserved to England in American waters from Nova Scotia to Hudson's Bay and Davis strait. These claims alarm the Peace party, who see in them the continuation of the war. The Peace party declare they will take no part in the war. In spite of these conflicts, Congress as a whole is with the Peace party. Gérard of opinion that it is only by written memoranda that he will be able to act upon Congress. Among reasons given for this course, is that the propositions of the Opposition party would deprive France of the almost sole advantage secured to her by the treaty of Alliance, that of seizing Newfoundland or of at least increasing her share therein. Gérard has induced a friendly delegate to propose, that, in case of war, it would be agreed to divide these fisheries between France, United States and Spain. In his memoranda he has confined himself to generalities, setting forth the principles of the Alliance, and defining the terms of the treaty. He encloses a copy of a memorandum, and of a résumé thereof in English (see N°. 89). Draws attention to a passage towards the end of it, in which he says that his object is to let all America know the course pursued by the King. This is the strongest check on the war party, as the country is all for peace. He has authorized some deputies to let it be known that negotiations for peace are on foot. Active newspaper controversy going on, the Opposition party arguing for their views on the fisheries and for the total expulsion of the English from America. These extravagant schemes are put forward simply as a snare for France, to induce her to refuse co-operation and thus authorize a step of some sort towards the English. Impossible to say where such a step might lead to, as these men of the Opposition are perfectly unscrupulous. In concluding, Gérard believes that the most effective step for France to take would be to take advantage of the delays of Congress and conclude a treaty of truce with England stipulating for independence in accordance with the terms of the Alliance, and have the treaty reach America in the midst of the debate. This direct appeal to the American public would most probably gain the day for peace. Congress is occupied with the settlement of its finances, to convince France of its good faith in this regard. Its plans. Public debt now reaches $120,000,000. Paper money being refused by country people. Army suffering from the disorders in the currency. High prices augmented by monoplies. List of ships put to sea to oppose the English. There are some vessels and several frigates on the stocks, but work has been suspended on account of lack of materials and workmen. p. 96.

Philadelphia, May 21. N° 89. A memorandum submitted by Gérard for the consideration of Congress, giving the various reasons why the United States should not make their participation in the fisheries on the shores of the British possessions in America, a condition of any peace they might negotiate with Great Britain. p. 110.

Philadelphia, May 29. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 91. Unanimous resolution of Congress to call upon the States to provide taxes to the amount of $45,000,000 in addition to the sum of $15,000,000 imposed in January previous. These two sums are intended to redeem an equal amount of paper money. General determination of people to re-establish the public credit. Well considered arrangements, which include a European loan. France expected to assist. Gérard's memorandum on fisheries well received and has had good effect. Steps taken by leaders in Congress to warn landed proprietors and farmers against ambitions of merchants in the towns, who alone would profit from the extension of the fisheries. Desire for peace prevailing in Congress. Opposition hurting their cause by the delays they occasion. Severities of English in Virginia arouse general hatred. Gratitude and good will of United States towards France. Recall of Mr. Lee. p. 133.

Philadelphia, May 30. Account of an audience given by Gérard to the Chiefs and representatives of the Delaware Indians. (Appended to N°. 94.) p. 142.

Philadelphia, June 1. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 95. Development of the plans of the Opposition party. They will insist upon an assurance of quiet enjoyment of the fisheries. They, however, restrict their claims to fishing on the high seas and at suitable distance from the shore to prevent smuggling. They demand that France and Spain shall engage to assist them by force of arms if necessary, in case England should undertake to prevent the enjoyment of these rights. These demands affect the existence of four states. Although Connecticut does not share the views of the other three states, she will not withdraw her support from them. Impossibility of the Peace party coming to a decision against the scheme, owing to terms of Articles of Confederation. Complications arising from the precarious state of the confederation. Danger of an open breach among the States at the existing juncture. The Opposition maintain that in making the future conduct of the States depend upon the decision of France they will have satisfied all their obligations to that Crown. The alternatives seem to be either an open quarrel among the States, or permission to the Opposition States to address themselves to England, which they would probably do. The only way out of difficulty is in hands of France by means of the declaration suggested respecting the fisheries. The position of the question being changed, the dignity and rights of the King would not compel him to reject this expedient. Gérard has not discouraged these hopes. He points out that instructions to plenipotentiaries are not so limited as to exclude all expedients or modifications; that the United States are not in a position to make demands on Spain, as any engagement would affect the impartiality necessary for mediation. The outlook is not clear as the obstinacy and astuteness of the Opposition turn everything to their advantage. The fall of Charlestown expected momentarily. Ravages and murders of English in Virginia and New Jersey. Acts of violence of Vermonters against inhabitants of State of New York. Congress resolved to repress those with heavy hand. The purpose of the truce explained to Congress, which resolves to accept in an indefinite way, on condition that stipulation is made for the evacuation of United States territory. This resolution furnishes sufficient foundation for the expedients demanded by the circumstances. Gérard cannot but think that a treaty or truce concluded on the principles of the Alliance and presented to the United States would change the posture of affairs. On the other hand he thinks that if the King would bring himself to make the declaration regarding the fisheries desired by the States, it would smooth out matters and furnish new titles to the gratitude of the United States. p. 147.

June 5 Gérard to Vergennes. N° 96. Gérard present at a conference with the Delawares. There were also present the president of Congress, the president of the State and the superintendent of Indian affairs. The grievances of these Indians forcibly and skilfully stated. Vague solutions offered by the presidents in regard to the most important points. The Delaware chief puts little trust in the reality of the language used by them, They rely on the advice and friendship of the King of France, whom they call their father; the King of Spain their second father. whereas they only call the United States their brothers. Gérard's most friendly answer to them. Their applause of it, and satisfaction of the presidents. Difficulties which the Congress will encounter in the plan adopted in regard to the Indians, namely, of not being satisfied with their neutrality. The Congress counts on the effect of Gérard's speech on the other nations, to whom the Delawares will convey it. These latter, however, insist on the fixing of a conference, to which they would bring the natious in question, and at which a French officer should be present, to testify, openly, to the union established between the King of France and the United States. Gérard promises the Congress to name such an officer, at their first request to do so. Reports waste of several sittings of the Congress, intended for the decision of their ultimatum. There is a suspicion that the opposition wishes, at all costs, to await the arrival of reinforcements from England, in the hope of powers given to some plenipotentiary to opeu a negotiatiou. They believe that it would fail if it were direct and isolated. Deep impression made by a letter by Americanus, of which Gérard encloses extract. The Congress much occupied with the loan to be raised in Europe. No vote for the re-election of the Mess[rs] Lee as members of the Congress. M[r] Schmid publicly thanked for his conduct. The Virginian and Maryland leaders insist on a more vigorous use of reprisals, on account of the cruelties perpetrated against several Frenchmen. Due attention must be paid to au allied people who are risking life and fortune on behalf of America. Difficulty of finding opportunities of sending to France. Two ships bound for Nantes taken by the English. p. 155.

Philadelphia, June 12. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 98. Opposition submitted its project regarding fisheries to Congress, that is to say, whether it should demand the cession of them from England. Proposition negatived. Many of Opposition against project; and in despair that question had been stirred up; would have desired Congress to throw themselves on good will of France as regards all accessory conditions of treaty. Majority in Congress held this view, but things had got to a point where it seemed necessary to give some satisfaction to New England. Connecticut withdrew its support from New England on this occasion. There is general desire to show deference and gratitude to the King. Situation easier owing to estrangement of Mr. Lee and Samuel Adams, chiefs of the Opposition. Under pressure of public criticism they are now urging peace and blaming their opponents for delays. The delegates from Virginia, New York, Maryland, New Jersey and Connecticut and other States have thanked Gérard for his assistance. He is turning this good will to account, in striving to bring about common action among the well-intentioned deputies. Until then, there was little cooperation among men of common aims and views. Opposition impute to France desire for war. General disbelief in this. Certain delegates instructed to prepare a letter to the King, showed draft to Gérard, who approved, but suggested that they express explicitly the resolution of Congress to come to no peace with England, until there was at the same time peace established between that power and France. As to the truce, some delegates consider that Article 1 of the treaty of Alliance did not authorize Congress to insist on the nature of the act which would terminate the war. This stipulation may serve as a base for the measures to be taken by the King in this regard. Congress has begun to publish its Journals. Salutary effects. Lengthened observations on internal political arrangements in United States. Congress asked Gérard to join with it in soliciting from Mr. de Boville powder, lead and arms, if these can be spared from the arsenals of the King. As they were much required Gérard consented. General lack of provisions and tripled prices. Washington's army contains only 7,000 men, to which are added 3,000 militia. It is supposed that the English have 8,000 men, and 120 flat boats. The New Jersey delegates say that there is everything to fear, but their people will hold steadfastly to independence and the French alliance. They say their people and those of Virginia view with satisfaction the barbarities of the British as tending to augment the alienation of the Americans. The sustained activity of Congress tends to counteract the evils of its work and internal administration. All parts of administrative system undergoing transformation. Public clamour against Congress for its inaction respecting the French negotiations and paper money. p. 161

Philadelphia, June 17. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 99. The relative strength of the parties in Congress is affected by the most trifling and temporary circumstances. Opposition strength rests in casual combinations. The Peace party has the greater power. Delegates exhort Gérard to exercise patience and all will terminate satisfactorily. Peace party endeavouring to give some satisfaction to Eastern delegates. Resolution of Congress not to give up or weaken common right of fishing by any treaty. Two propositions before Congress. (1) To try to obtain a guarantee from the King against all violent interference with the peaceful enjoyment of the fisheries and (2) to propose to the English a regulation for the conduct of the fishermen of the respective countries, without compromising rights. This overture to the English to be made only in case England should demand guarantees from the United States for the possessions retained by England in America. The second proposition favoured by Gérard. Both involve an appeal to the King, but the second tends to the making of a treaty of commerce. The advantage to France in the second proposition is that it offers the alternative of the quiet enjoyment of the fisheries, or no treaty of commerce between the United States and England. Letters from delegates denounce those who advocate other terms of peace than those fixed by the Alliance. Bitter feeling against England. Virginia bent on regaining her predominance, and on holding to the Alliance. Congress disquieted by Virginia's activity. Several other States share Virginia's views. An object towards which the King might work and which his disinterestedness promised success was the union of the several States. Gérard relates of an interesting conference between Virginia and Maryland representatives at which he was present. Both agreed to leave the settlement of their dispute to the King. As to d'Estaing, the total defeat of the English before Charlestown regarded as certain. On the other hand the English position on the Hudson very menacing. Clinton has fortified a tongue of land near Fishkill. From this position, he holds both banks of the river, interrupts the movements of supplies, and divides the American army in two. He is said to have 10,000 men and to expect large reinforcements. While waiting he is constructing a large fort. He appears to have abandoned the idea of an attack on West Point. Though reinforced Washington's army does not exceed 9,000 men. Shortage of provisions and ammunition. The militia cannot be held long enough together as harvest is commencing. Tories on the North river very active and bold. Americans determine to keep their army together, not to attack Stonifort, to confine their activity to annoying the enemy, and to wait for a chance. At Rhode Island, the British have 5,000 men, while Americans have no more than 2,500 there to oppose the British. The success of the enlistments by the States doubtful. This information is trustworthy as it has been furnished to the War Council by Washington. His army is encamped at Smithroes. Elation of Americans at deliverance of Charlestown. The source of the many voluntary errors which have placed the Americans in such an embarrassing position is the hope of augmenting the loans by lulling the people into a perfect security. The products of this policy is $15,000,000. Congress is occupied with a general scheme of finance. A delegate communicated to Gérard a plan to redeem the paper money by taxes. In meantime the presses are busy turning out more and more paper money. Expenses going on at rate of from $18,000,000 to $20,000,000 each month. Astonishing progression in the expenses of the war from year to year. In spite of these facts, many people believe that a loan of a million sterling would put them on their feet, and that the taxes would enable them to continue the war. Mr. Temple has embarked at Boston for Amsterdam. If he lands in France he should be arrested. If he lands in England his conduct will unmask all those involved in his intrigues. Gérard is in ill health and will go home as soon as a frigate can be obtained. In the letter sent by Congress to the King, the request of Congress was limited to arms and ammunition. The value of immediate necessities 400,000 or 500,000 livres. Congress cannot contract with private individuals for these things. Its only resource is the King's goodwill. It is the King's interest to supply to Americans the means of maintaining their resistance. Congress desires portraits of King and Queen to place in the Assembly hall. p. 179

Philadelphia, June 22. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 100. Congress has directed a résumé to be laid before it of its resolutions respecting instructions for its minister. Hopes by this act to upset the plans (of the Opposition). Gérard has doubts whether this will succeed as the others are very adroit and persevering. Fresh proofs that there is no desire on the part of leaders to go to the point of war to assure the fisheries, and the fear is to alienate the friendship of the King by extravagant demands. It is not certain however that the deputies will be instructed in this sense. The deputies have not changed their tone but insist peremptorily on securities of some sort. The step taken by Virginia reported in letter of even date has not shaken their determination. They see in it the threat of separation, but it does not distrub them. It is doubtful whether they are acting with approbation of their constituents. Independence of delegates towards the State they represent one of great vices of American Government. The States lose no time in paying their share of the tax of $60,000,000, which appears to be entirely absorbed by current needs. Congress unable to cease issue of paper money. Gérard consulted as to the terms of the truce. In advising, he leans completely on the Truce of 1609. They have always rejected the idea of an armistice, properly so called. Gérard advises that the truce should be for not less than two years; that it should include the evacuation of the territory of the United States, and some expressions favourable to the liberty of the United States. The first point has been agreed to. Gérard has hopes that second way be accepted also. This would in a measure reconcile the arrangement with the project desired by Spain and approved by the King. p. 205

Philadelphia, June 22. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 101. The Virginian delegates have handed to Gérard an authenticated copy of the act by which the legislature has ratified the treaties concluded between the King and the United States. Motives for this proceeding—to destroy the hopes and schemes of the enemies of America. Gérard believes this step will be followed by the other States. p. 203

Philadelphia, July 6. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 102. Long useless debates in Congress. Gérard is giving all his support to the plan of making Great Britain's consent to a regulation concerning the fisheries on the high seas, an ultimatum attached to the proposed treaty of commerce. This will make a serious obstacle to the concluding of the treaty and will thus serve to postpone the resumption of communications between the Americans and the British. Much caballing and scheming respecting the appointment of a plenipotentiary. Expects to see Arthur Lee set aside, and Franklin retain his present commission. Congress has determined to borrow $20,000,000 which it considers sufficient to finish the campaign. Paper money discredited. Impossible to fix a limit to the ills which are threatening from the present disorders. Intelligent people look to an internal revolution as a result. Prices advancing from week to week. Gérard has a Te Deum sung on anniversary of Declaration of Independence. Congress and principal officers of Government were present. Good results from this act for the Catholics, many of whom are suspected. News from Charlestown. Among others that Governor Ruthledge proceeded against declared Tories and those receiving protection from the English. He had put to death those seized and declared the others traitors, and confiscated their property. Gérard had taken measures jointly with Congress to investigate charges of cruelty imputed to the English against the subjects of France. No proofs yet discovered. News of the movements of the British from Washington. Gérard thanks Vergennes for acceding to his wish to be recalled. The majority of Congress decided to avoid any course of action that could displease the King. The Peace party not satisfied with these assurances are awaiting the arrival of a delegate from Charlestown, which will give them an incontestible majority. p 35

Philadelphia, July 9.

Gérard to Vergeunes. N° 103. Division between the two parties in Congress becoming wider and more embittered. Both sides have lost all sense of moderation. Gérard no more than an onlooker in the discussions, who endeavours to temper the heat displayed on both sides. Gérard confesses error as regard the committee of Philadelphia and its affiliated societies. They claim arrogantly the right to decide all matters concerning the public and those for which no provision has been made by law. It is by similar committees that the way was prepared for the revolution. Gérard had conversations with the secret author of this monstrous outgrowth of the Republic. No limit to what they presume to undertake. One of their first objects is to force Congress to restore the credit of paper money and to stop the issue of it. They commence to threaten Congress. The committee in Boston under direction of Samuel Adams is urging Congress to make no peace without an explicit assurance as to fishiug rights. Gérard has had several confidential conversations with Mr. Tenifer, president of the Maryland senate. He is satisfied Congress in general is attached to Independence and the French alliance. He deplores the lack of cooperation among the well-intentioned, which gives to their less numerous opponents a position of superiority. Congress indifferent as to matters of public concern. He is convinced that the Americans may be forced to be satisfied with some expedient similar to the Treaty of 1609. Tenifer consulted Gérard as to attitude which Maryland should take towards Confederation. He fears that Confederation may dissolve after peace has been attained. Believes that the alliance with France is only bond of union among the States and that every effort should be made to have the alliance ratified by all the States. Would wish States to make the King of France perpetual arbitrator of their differences. Fears the prepouderance which the Western territories would give to some States. New York offered Maryland 5,000,000 acres; Virginia was disposed to give as much. Necessity alone would induce Maryland to accept these offers. If Maryland had joined Confederation there would have been civil war against Vermont. Believes the leaders of the Opposition are in pay of England. Eastern States have always stood for their independence. To offset the designs of this party he would have closer bond between France and America, making the subjects of each State, subjects of the other as well. Gérard poiuts out the difficulties in way of this. On this question whether Maryland should joiu Confederation, Gérard said that as Marylaud was already confederated for all purposes except for the extension of territory, she might well await the course of events before decidiug on the final step. Tenifer spoke much of the extreme interest the United States would have in reuniting Canada to the confederation; but he is convinced, as Gérard is, that there would be little hope of conquering that province. He would desire to join Canada by kindly measures and fears that the province will be alienated for ever by the pretentions of the Eastern States, who claim the territory as far northward as the 46th degree. This, if acceded to, would deprive the Indians of Canada of a large part of their present possessions. Maryland seeks to oppose these claims by a league, which would embrace New Jersey, Rhode Island, Delaware and Pennsylvania as well as Maryland. Gérard invites attention to the letter from Americanus, (see ante), and to the address of the committee of Philadelphia which contains doctrines subversive of society. Prudent citizens have no sympathy with these doctrines but hesitate to oppose them because of the popular fury. A Wilmington merchant has been murdered, because he was suspected of selling flour to Philadelphia, without the permission of the committee. A couple of Irishmen have just arrived, who report that their compatriots are under arms to the number of 15,000, following the example of America. The Vermont Commissioner states that inhabitants of Vermont to number of 10,000 in arms. A proposition from the State of New York to disarm the Vermonters dismissed as impracticable. The fear of forcing them to declare for England will lead to ways of conciliation. The affair is the more delicate, as New York suspects Massachusetts of fomenting the resistance of Vermont. p. 45

Philadelphia, July 9.

Gérard to Vergennes. N° 104. Acknowledges receipt of despatch No. 9. to which he replies. As to the plan of pacification proposed by Spain which Franklin is disposed to recommend to Congress, Vergennes directs Gérard to prepare the way for it by confidentially communicating its terms to a few members of Congress. Gérard will defer carrying out these instructions until the decision of the King on the fisheries question has been received. It would, in his opinion, be well that Congress should decide that it desired peace on terms, which would present no difficulties to it. A truce unsatisfactory to either party thereto would give an advantage to the war faction, if the question were raised before acceptable conditions were fixed. Faction reigns here, and he would have no assurance that the best intentioned members would not abuse his confidence. Thinks it well that the overture should reach Congress first through Franklin, but he will be watchful for any opportunity to assist matters. The distrust in which Mr. Lee is held is safeguard against the danger that England may accuse France in the eyes of Americans of conniving at the Spanish proposition for a truce. There is always a vague hope that formal guarantees will be given regarding the fisheries; the proposal of the King to make with the United States a treaty still wider against any attempt which England might afterwards make against the United States, would not seem to guarantee the fisheries also. Gérard hopes that his course towards Canada has been approved. Since Washington has declared decidedly against this expedition, no person else has dared to raise the question. While England remains on the defensive, the Americans have enough to occupy them in the south and west of the lakes, as well as in New York and Rhode Island. No attempt will be made against Halifax without a concourse of naval forces. There is then every appearance that the plan of Spain in this regard will not be exposed except in the case of extraordinary success, and of an exertion on the part of the United States which is entirely improbable. No person during the course of the present negotiation has proposed to demand Canada even on the supposition of the indefinite continuance of the war. Gérard therefore foresees no difficulty to carrying out his instructions in this regard. The resolutions of Congress are entirely satisfactory to Spain. Doubt as to the projected loan in Europe. They will confine themselves to asking aid in the way of munitions, and to the product of the loan of $20,000.000 opened in America since the beginning of the month. Congress will be informed of the satisfaction of the French ministry on the appointment of Franklin. They agree with France in the question of the publication of the treaties. The article regarding Spain not understood here. The motives of France for desiring to arouse the Americans to activity are fully appreciated by the better people. Gérard remarks again on the anarchy which reigns in the administration and which hampers all useful action. p. 58

Philadelphia, July 14. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 105. Gives an account of the debate in Congress on the Peace propositions. The first day the Peace party gained the advantage, but a day or two later there was a complete reversal, the Opposition, being strengthened by four new members, managed to secure adhesion to their views. Great distress among the Peace party. The Opposition renewed its former demands, but did not insist on their being in nature of ultimatum. In place of that, the plentipotentiaries were to be instructed that in case of refusal to give the guarantees, they were to await fresh orders before signing any treaty. The propositions adopted by the majority were (1) that the right of fishing belonged to the United States and was essential to their subsistence and that treaties should be made with France; (2) that an article should be proposed to extend the guarantee of the French Crown to the fisheries and that this obligation should be submitted to the King as being essentially included in the treaties as much by title of inherent right to the sovereignty as being comprised in the necessity of the liberty of the States in point of commerce; (3) that peace should not be made without having it mentioned in the treaty that England should not trouble the States in that enjoyment; (4) that no treaty of commerce should be concluded with that power without setting forth in it the regulations on this subject; (5) the propositions above mentioned. The Opposition offered a resolution that the States would continue the war alone. if France and Spain declined to go on. Four States declared positively that they would separate from the Confederation, if this scheme was adopted. On the vote the first two propositions passed, in spite of the protestations of the Peace party; the others were postponed. Gérard had a long conference with the President of the Congress and two friendly delegates. As the result of their deliberations, an invitation was extended to Gérard to communicate to Congress the views of the King as contained in his last despatches. He appeared before Congress and made a speech. In the course of his speech he took steps to prepare Congress for Franklin's communication respecting the treaty. Thanked for speech. Gérard's plan is to make assurance on part of England respecting the fisheries on ultimatum.

bound up with the treaty of commerce, and if possible not to call upon France for anything except goodwill. As for the truce for a long term, he would leave it to circumstances to prescribe the method. He is urging his friends to have matter definitely settled, so that the mind of Congress may be prepared for the communication from Franklin. He advises friends of his early departure and they are endeavouring to get matters concluded before he goes. English have taken New Haven and Fairfield, Connecticut, and are carrying on usual barbarities. p. 67

Philadelphia, July 18. Gérard to Vergennes, No 106. The Committee of Foreign Affairs asks Gérard, confidentially, for the notes on which his speech was based: he gives them accordingly. Good effects of the reports drawn up therefrom. There is no sign, however, of any more favourable attitude on the part of the opposition. Gives the President of the Congress and the advocates of peace due credit for their zeal. His interviews with both parties. Explains necessity of producing the present crisis, by joining the matter of the truce to other matters of greater import to the leaders of the opposition. Gives details on the subject, with observations relative thereto. Letter of apology received from Arthur Lee, together with the one written by him to Gérard, on the occasion of his (Lee's) correspondence with Dr. Berkenhout. Also encloses his own answer; its skilful reticence admired by every one. Suspicions aroused against the Messrs. Lee and their adherents by the correspondence in question. Return of John Adams, who is inclined to wait on him (Gérard) in order to end the present deliberations, which might otherwise be prolonged by the despatch of a plenipotentiary. Neither party has much trust in Franklin. Various contradictory resolutions on the matter of the fisheries. Changes in regard to other articles, namely in regard to boundaries and in regard to Spain. Latest resolutions satisfactory to France. The determination of boundaries deferred till after peace. The offers to be made to Spain follow the lines suggested by Gérard. The opposition leaders intend to submit these resolutions to a reconsideration; their plan in connexion therewith. Gérard's note on the points. Arguments used by opposition leaders: An attack on the confidence inspired by the King's attitude towards the United States and its people. Course to be followed, should the advocates of peace fail to succeed. Last attempt to obstruct peace negotiations. Has come as a surprise to the advocates of peace, and to Gérard himself. Temple sails for Holland, not for France. Expresses his suspicion in regard to this decision: it would be well to intercept his correspondence. p. 93

July 18. Gérard to Vergennes, No. 107. Gives full report of matters connected with the capitulation offered to the English General before Charles Town. Troops delighted at the refusal to capitulate. Measures recently taken by Virginia: that State feels that the indifference of the people and the States lays them open to very great dangers. It will receive taxes in kind, and pay its troops and its requirements in the same way. Believes that the State and trade will benefit thereby. Invites the other members of the Union to follow its example. The ravages and incursions of the English appear to predispose the members of the Congress to regard the proposal favourably. Virginia is losing no opportunity of consolidating the system, which she has caused to be communicated to Gérard. The Eastern States, while of the same opinion, rely entirely on their militia, and wish to do away with the army. Their action is inspired by the spirit of republicanism. Popular committees reorganized. Their disadvantages. Differences of opinion. The western army continues its march. Hopes based on General Sullivan's activity and ambition; his objective. Difficulties which he may meet with. The English are pushing forward reinforcements. The withdrawal of so large a force has weakened Washington; it is difficult for him even to act on the defensive. Repeats a story, connected with the undertaking, which he thinks worthy the Minister's attention. General Reed's objective. The Congress decides on reprisals. Ill-treatment of American soldiers shewn by the latest exchanges. A force of 800 men has left Halifax for the Penobscot river; it is proposed to attack them by land and by sea. Subscription of a Philadelphia society to tender for the loan of 20 millions, recently opened by the Congress. Other measures taken to enable the Congress to cope with its difficulties; flattering hopes on this point. A despatch from Charles Town states that the English left their entrenchments to attack General Lincoln. Advantage gained by the latter; capture of two English galleys. Other successes hoped for. Encloses a Baltimore newspaper. p. 106

Versailles, July 18. Vergennes to La Luzerne. N° 1. Opposition party in the Congress, which favours the views of England; its leaders. The system at variance with the (French) alliance which they support. French ministers cannot believe the sensible members of the Congress so ignorant as to follow the lead of the opposition. Means of persuasion which the opposition may have used in order to secure the adoption of their plan. Arguments to be set against those of the opposition. Effect which Spain's declaration must produce in the Congress. The Congress must be convinced that the King would not hear of a peace nor of a truce, without having first obtained the independence of the United States. Endeavours to be used to keep the Congress from listening to the suggestions of the opposition in favour of England. Advantages which France may have gained from Gérard's suggestions to the Congress on behalf of peace. Representations to be made to the Congress of the disadvantages arising from their not having made any offensive movement against England. Efforts which the King is making against England in Europe and in the Islands; necessary that the Congress should make France aware of its plans, in order to ensure joint action. Also, of its settling, at the earliest possible moment, the various matters that may be at issue between it and Spain. Three matters that may come under this heading. It concerns the Congress to determine the boundaries of the United States on the Mississippi. It would be well for the Congress to declare that the United States advance no claim to the navigation of the Mississippi, and confine themselves to petitioning the goodwill of Spain in this matter. The United States have no claim to the Floridas, and Spain is at liberty to conquer them. The United States would, indeed, have nothing to gain by possessing the Floridas. Reasons which may lead Spain to make the conquest in question. Difficulties of the United States in respect of their finances; depreciation of their paper money. Quite impossible for France to lend them any pecuniary assistance; she can, however, furnish the Congress with supplies of arms and ammunition. The King cannot grant the Congress a peace subsidy. It would be well, however, to hint to the Congress that it might be possible to obtain pecuniary assistauce from the King of France. Encloses a copy of a report on the grounds of the King's attitude towards England. Also copies of the latest despatches sent to Gérard re the truce with England, proposed by Spain; with instructions as to how La Luzerne is to express himself on the matter. "Feelers" wherewith he must approach the Congress re the case in which France might find herself compelled by events to offer England a truce. p. 115

Philadelphia, July 19. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 108. News received that on the midnight of the 15 and 16th July, General Wayne captured fort at Stony Point. The movement is the first of the sort made by the American troops and the result does them honour. Washington at once took his army to the North river. Opposition chiefs have just requested a conference with Gérard on the question of the fisheries. Cannot foretell what may take place. p. 133

Philadelphia, July 20. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 109. The conference mentioned in the last letter took place to-day. Mr. Laurens alone was present, General Whipple being unwell. The arguments were the same as have been spokeu of many times, and resolved themselves into this: that fishery rights are rights inherent in sovereignty, and as such are comprised implicitly in the Treaty of Alliance. Gérard pointed out the absurdity of these views. He dwelt on the contradiction and impossibility of the demands as regards England, and the injustice and indecency of the Opposition attitude towards Frauce, and argued that, in attempting to force the King to withdraw from course of action taken when he espoused the cause of the Americans, they were exposing the King to the loss of his reputation for justice, good faith, and moderation, which were of more consequence to him than the independence of America. Such a course would strengthen the case of England with other European powers. If America's plans were pursued with an eye single to her own interests, France must have equal liberty to consult hers. The course taken by the Opposition was making it impossible for the King to negotiate satisfactorily, and would eventually expose the Opposition to the resentment of their own people. He regretted that a union so frank, so noble, and so generous on the part of the King should be degraded by the views and proceedings of a small number who cared nothing for the engagements, honour and interests of the States. Spain would probably withdraw from its offices as mediator when the ends aimed at and the means by which they were to be attained were essentially changed. The Spanish King could not fail to be disgusted with the Americans, and would not be disposed to contiuue an alliance with them. After some protestations that his views were not what they were supposed to be, Mr. Laurens asked Gérard whether it would not be well to make the fisheries a sine qua non of a treaty of commerce. Gérard supported this idea heartily. Cannot tell how Mr. Laurens will vote, as several congressmen are quite uureliable. Desire for peace ou reasonable terms strong and growing. Congress resolved to carry on reprisals in England. English barbarities serve Alliance better than victories. (23rd.) Motion made day before that in a Treaty of Peace, England should not be asked to recognize American fishing rights, but an ultimatum should be presented that England would not molest American fishermen on the high seas at fixed distances from English coasts.

Four Eastern States, New York, New Jersey, Delaware and South Carolina supported motion. Congress anxious to know how far King could be induced to go in support of this proposition. The only ultimatum Congress seems disposed to adopt is that the territories of the States shall remain as they were before the Revolution troubles began. Moderation must prevail. Consequently the pretentions in the North which would hem in and trouble Canada must be put aside. Boundaries in the South. Better tone in Congress and press toward France. Dangers of indiscreet disclosures through unrestrained press. Gérard urges the appointment of a permanent commission for foreign affairs. Activity and public spirit of Virginia. (25th.) Congress has made progress in Peace affairs. It was decided, (1) to make no mention of fisheries in Treaty of Peace; but (2) that a stipulation against interference with American fishermen should be sine qua non of Treaty of Commerce; (3) that the right to fish should be restricted to the Newfoundland and other American Banks, and at a distance of three leagues from English coasts. It was tacitly agreed that if France should desire a greater distance from these coasts, United States would comply; (4) that France should be asked for explicit guarantee of fisheries, which they regard as implicit in the treaty. But they would be content with a guarantee of any sort which would give the United States the security they desire; (5) it was proposed to renounce the ultimatum of the treaty of commerce, if France should give the guarantee. This was objected. But there was a disposition to leave France free to give or refuse the guarantee; (6) it was proposed to revoke the two resolutions concerning the essential right of America to the fisheries and the obligation of France to support this view, but the Eastern States induced Congress to regard the subsequent resolutions as sufficient modification of the two mentioned; (7) it was resolved that the Peace treaty should be a recognition, formal or tacit, of independence within the territories of the 13 States and that they should content themselves with the simple stipulation that England would not molest the inhabitants within these territories; (8) that they should fix without delay the propositions to be made to Spain in accordance with these resolutions; (9) it was suggested that France had been put in a position to prevent forever the making of a treaty of commerce between England and the United States. The suggestion was rejected. Proposal for a truce put aside. Gérard hopes King will be fairly satisfied with the resolutions. p. 135

Philadelphia, July 31.

Gérard to Vergennes. N° 110. Congress occupied with Pacification projects. Motion to rescind the two resolutions respecting essential rights to fisheries and obligations of France under Alliance defeated. On the 29th Opposition proposed that should Americans be molested in the fisheries after the Peace all the States should unite to oppose force to force. After violent debate, proposition adopted. Southern delegates protest, and seek means to have resolution rescinded, as well as that making England's toleration of American fishermen a sine qua non of treaty of commerce. They hope for France's influence in holding Union together. As a way out of the tangle, and to save the Americans from themselves, Gérard proposed that the King should make use of the delay to conclude a peace analogous to the plan of the Alliance. Disposition towards peace general. Attachment of army to Alliance pronounced. Its firmness alone prevented negotiations with English commissioners. Secret caballing going on against army. Washington urged to attack English at King's Ferry, but considers risks too great. Inferiority of his army in numbers and discipline. Internal troubles. Clamorous for Washington to do something to protect districts overrun by English. Unwisdom of these demands. Gérard praises Dickinson's Letters of a Farmer. p. 158

Philadelphia, August 1. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 111. Opposition made motion at Rhode Island that settlement of fisheries question be included in treaty of peace. After long debate this was negatived. Opposition moved that steps be taken to assure declaration of Congress that no negotiations would be entered upon with the English, which did not provide for independence or evacuation of the territory of the States. After discussion this was not pressed as it might hamper future liberty of action. The declaration would remain on record. The question of a short truce during negotiations was considered and was left to be determined by circumstances. Gérard strives to find why New York delegates yielded to Eastern States regardiug the fisheries. His conclusions. A project on foot to dissolve existing Congress and call a new one and so break up intrigues. Mission of Messrs. Berkenhaut aud Temple to announce Englaud's concession of iudependence and to fix the other conditions the United States would be disposed to accept. (5th August.) Congress has settled all the points which should be dealt with in a treaty of peace. Committee appointed to draw up resolutions and instructions to plenipotentiaries. No time to be lost in pronouncing on terms of treaty with Spaiu. Choice of plenipotentiaries causes disquiet. Military and naval movements. News of d'Estaing's success gives great joy. p. 172

Philadelphia, August 8. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 113. In course of some reflections, he urges that the King give the guarantee desired respectiug the fisheries. This would overturn the plans which the English party are elaborating. p. 192

Philadelphia, Aug. 8. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 114. The Committee ask for a fixed basis whereon to draw up instructions. The draft of peace conditions must be in harmony with the scheme of the Treaty of Alliance. Proposed conditional plan, in the event of the non-success of peace. Plan defined: debates in connexion therewith. The great majority aroused against these proposals makes it impossible to submit a motion on the point. The notion of an offensive league and of an indefinite war, has been rejected. There is a general desire not to hamper an immediate and future peace by means of fresh claims. The chimera of South Carolina has not misled the majority, but there seems to be an agreement as to desiring that of Nova Scotia; which goes to shew the manner in which these matters are discussed. Debate on the treaty to be submitted to Spain. The United States will offer her the security of the Floridas; no decision has as yet been come to in respect of assisting in conquering them. The Congress is doubtful as to its resources (for such a purpose). p. 195

Philadelphia, Aug. 14. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 116. The partizans of war propose to restore all the resolutions regarding fisheries. Defeated. They renewed proposition of an offensive and defensive alliance with France and Spain. This was rejected as Congress thought affairs were taking favourable turn, and the proposition would not be necessary. There is a disposition to give up claims to Florida and guarantee it to Spain; also to disclaim any right to navigation on Mississippi, provided the Spaniards will give the Americans a free port for the exchange of foreign goods. Instructions as regards other points are divided into 4 parts. (a) respecting peace with England, (b) respecting a treaty of commerce with England, (c) respecting the attitude of United States to France, (d) respecting attitude towards Spain. (a) As regards peace, they insist upon a recognition, at least tacit, of their independence. Peace should also be conformable to the treaty of Alliance. Indications of the limits of the States in the powers given to plenipotentiary. If agreeable to France, a truce will be agreed to, but with the stipulation of the evacuation of the territories of the United States. (b) Treaty of Commerce. This will be based on treaty with France. A declaration on the part of England that her people will not molest the Americans in their fishing off the shores of British territory, beyond a distance agreed upon, a sine qua non of the treaty. (c) As regards the relations with France, the American plenipotentiary should co-operate with France in all matters relating to the negotiations. As regards the fisheries, a proposed article giving effect to the views of New England was submitted, but it was decided to leave this article to the action of circumstances. These resolutions were approved unanimously by Congress. Notice of the approaching arrival of Luzerne. Information received that Spain had declared against England. This news tended to upset all the proceedings for Peace, but Gérard showed the necessity of binding the United States more closely to the scheme of Alliance. These considerations prevailed and the plenipotentiary was assured by several delegates that their States regarded the alliance with France as the sheet anchor of America. Virginia has determined to put itself at the head of a Confederation opposed to that of the East and to that end is establishing its forces on a respectable footing. Maryland seems ready to move on same lines and for same reason. The local committees cause anxiety. Their aim seems to be to throw the authority of the State into the hands of the ignorant populace. Resolutions taken by Maryland to recruit troops and naturalize strangers principally the French. It was also resolved that the exportation of commodities would be permitted to the French on the expressed desire of himself or other agent of France. Gérard is taking advantage of this to send some provisions to the French West Indian Islands.

Boston, Aug. 19. La Luzerne to Vergennes. N° 2. Enforced delays of his departure for Philadelphia. Danger of the roads from Philadelphia to Boston. Encloses details of the reception given him by the Council of Massachusetts. The State of Massachusetts asks for the frigate which brought La Luzerne, for use in the attack on Penobscot. Reports how he evaded the request (see p. 188). Regained credit of paper money. Discontent of the country people, which keeps them from bringing provisions into Boston. An assembly chosen to settle the legislation of the State of Massachusetts. p. 210

Philadelphia, Aug. 19. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 118. Reports La Luzerne's arrival at Boston. The Congress inclined to an interchange of packet-boats.

Gives particulars into which he enters in order to settle the ideas of Americans in regard to Spain's declaration. He represents the attitude of that Power as being wholly determined by its relations with France, and causes it to be communicated to the Congress in such wise as to make it less set on the form of recognition of independence; to increase the gratitude of Americans towards Spain, and their attachment to the alliance. Spain's proposal is published in the newspapers, and produces an impression which is lost in the general delight caused by that Power's declaration. The analysis of Spain's motives troubles the minds of Americans. Gérard endeavours to correct their notions by assuring them that it is the conviction of England's being a long way from the recognition of independence which has led the King of Spain to use force instead of mediation. He is careful, however, to assign all Spain's views to her affection for France. Gérard never omits to impress on the Congress that the cost to France of supporting their cause makes it impossible for her to give them any pecuniary assistance. Ineffectual measures taken to raise the credit of the paper money. Estimate of expenses for the current year. [Aug., 25.] The endeavour to secure an alliance with Spain makes good progress among the well-intentioned, in spite of the opposition of the Eastern party. M[r] Arthur Lee assures the Congress that the Court of Spain is eager to ally itself with America, and the reports of its ministers in France represent to him the intentions of the latter country in the same light. Reduction and discouragement of the American army. South Carolina appears to be threatened with the fate of Georgia, unless d'Estaing comes to its assistance. p. 218

POLITICAL CORRESPONDENCE. UNITED STATES.

Vol. 10, 1779.

Boston, Sept. 3.

La Luzerne to Vergennes. N°. 3. Leaves following day for Philadelphia. Takes advantage of his stay there to study conditions in Massachusetts. Clash between Massachusetts men and English, in which Americans suffered severely. Rich prizes of merchant vessels brought into Boston by an American fleet. Several members of the Council of Massachusetts called on Luzerne and Samuel Adams their spokesman urged that as there was nothing to fear from the English in the Antilles, part of the French fleet might be detached to assist the American fleet to attack the English fleet in New York harbour. Control of New York harbour would greatly forward American plans on land. Luzerne expressed the greatest sympathy, but said he would have to consult Gérard who was more fully au courant with conditions. He also intimated that the request should more properly come from Congress than from Council of any single State. A few days later, these same members again visited Luzerne bringing with them a Canadian, and some papers relating to a proposed expedition into Canada. The Canadian who was recommended by General Gates gave assurances of the desire of the habitants to throw off British control, if they could obtain sufficient assistance. He declared that the farmers were despoiled of their cattle and grain, and that the money they received as payment was quite discredited. The gentilshommes were favoured by the British, and were well disposed towards them. The clergy, though discreet, were eager for liberty, and the Canadian nation as a whole desired ardently to be independent and united to the United States. The Indians were loyal to the English. The English in Canada number not more than 4,000 men. As this force has to protect the extensive frontiers of Canada a body of 3,000 French men sailing up the St. Lawrence, would have an easy task to take Quebec. An American general who was present showed how the Americans might cooperate effectively in this conquest. Luzerne was much impressed with the whole scheme, but foresaw difficulties arising from lateness of season, and inability of allies in this delicate plan to communicate with one another. New England has greatly at heart the conquest or independence of Canada and Nova Scotia. If choice had to be made of one of the two, New England would prefer Nova Scotia, on account of the fisheries, as well as the impossibility of the English holding Canada should Nova Scotia be lost to England. It was impressed on Luzerne that the fisheries were of as much importance to Massachusetts, as rice, tobacco and indigo were to the Southern States, or grain to the inland States. Luzerne discreetly refused to be drawn into a discussion on these matters. He is pretty well persuaded of the loyalty of this State to the alliance and to independence. The newspapers and preachers are strong for both. He has heard warm prayers for the French King and the Royal family in spite of the prejudice against Roman Catholicism. Tories extremely repugnant to mass of people. They are fugitives and their property is confiscated. Though well disposed to the alliance and resolute for independence, the New Englanders will be found troublesome and obstinate in adherence to their own schemes. p. 1

Philadelphia, Sept. 5. Gérard to Vergennes. N°. 119. State and situation of affairs (in the United States) and demand in favour of the alliance between the United States and the King of France. Delight caused in America by the receipt of Spain's manifesto. Advantages which the Congress hope to gain from the war, without binding themselves afresh either to France or to Spain. Spain's absolute silence re the United States in her manifesto, humiliates a section of the members of the Congress. The opposition realize, however, that it is imperative for America to gain the friendship of that country. Alarm of certain members of the Congress at the purpose attributed to France of conquering and keeping Ireland. State and disposition of the State of New York. Condition of the State of Pennsylvania. Close union between Maryland, Virginia and North Carolina. The Philadelphia committee gains greater ascendency every day. Congress resolves, on the proposal made to it of stopping the printing of paper money, not to extend the manufacture of it beyond 200,000,000 dollars. The Committee cuts off the supplies of the army. France cannot count on the assistance promised her by the Congress for her squadron and for the Islands. p. 17

Philadelphia, Oct. 10. Gérard to Vergennes. N° 121. Relates chiefly to propositions respecting the entrance of Spain into the Alliance. A motion was made in Congress that the American plenipotentiary be authorized to conclude a treaty of alliance with France and Spain, the conditions of which were that the two Crowns should guarantee to the United States, the Floridas, free navigation of Mississippi, Canada, Nova Scotia and the fisheries. If these terms should be rejected by the two powers the plenipotentiary should guarantee on behalf of the United States, that Spain should have the Floridas, and the Bahamas, in case she should gain them by conquest, and the navigation of the Mississippi with certain restrictions, and that France and Spain on their part should guarantee Canada and Nova Scotia to the United States. Gérard, when consulted, declared that if the object of the authors of the motion was to repel Spain, they had set about it in the most effective way. It meant the indefinite continuance of the war. Southern States utterly opposed to the propositions. The gains would go to the Northern and Eastern States, while the burdens would fall on the South as they were convinced that the Northern States would not lift a finger to make effective the guarantee as regards the Floridas. As the interests of Spain were opposed to the propositions before Congress, all the ill-consequences of a disagreement with that power would fall on the Southern States. The views of the Southern members were that Spain should be asked simply to join the alliance, or, better still, that the question of an alliance should not be raised with Spain at all, as in that case Spain would be free to take the part of mediator, and would be able to prevent France from falling in with the plans of the Eastern States. If either proposition were accepted by France and Spain, the States would call on those powers to assist in the conquest of Canada, and Nova Scotia, as there is no American sufficiently presumptuous to suppose that the United States could succeed in such an enterprise unaided. The Virginian deputies have drawn up, in concert with Gérard, a resolution to the effect that, as the United States are bound by their relations with France to meet the requirements of Spain, the American plenipotentiaries should confide to the King of Spain the resolutions mentioned earlier, but the deputies insisted also upon adding, in spite of Gérard's advice, a clause calling for a free port for the United States on the Mississippi, south of the 31st degree. Matter not concluded there being warm discussions. The serious nature of the reverse suffered by the Boston troops on the Penobscot. English attacks on shipping on the Rapahannock river. Means of sustaining army precarious, though commodities are abundant. Talk of making Washington dictator to provide for the maintenance of the army, and to prevent it disbanding. Pennsylvania taking steps to remedy the disorders in the State. The committee of Philadelphia is being dissolved. The American army requires large quantities of powder and muskets. The Opposition less extravagant, but persist in demanding free navigation of Mississippi. The South supporting them since, though the Southern deputies would prefer a free port without free navigation, to free navigation without a free port, they despair of bringing the Opposition around to their views. p. 27

Philadelphia, Sept. 17. Gérard to Vergennes. N°. 122. It is not to be supposed that England will buy the defection of America (from France) by recognizing her independence. The system of Committees is the means used by the faction [the opposition] in order to strengthen its power and to gain popularity. The whole scheme built up by it would come to nothing were Spain to refuse to treat with the Congress until after gaining possession of the Floridas. p. 42 has at last decided to offer Spain the secure possession of the Floridas. The plenipotentiary authorized to make this offer, on condition of Spain's granting the navigation of the Mississippi. The Congress orders powers to be drawn up for the negotiation of peace, and for the agreement with Spain. The appointment of the plenipotentiaries gives rise to great debates, the decision by ballot passes unanimously. (Sept. 27.) Jay is finally chosen for Spain and John Adams as plenipotentiary to treat of peace. A description of these ministers. After having laid a foundation in American policy, Gérard hands over the conduct of the King's business to the Chev. de la Luzerne. The wish to please Spain seems to be almost unanimous. p. 46

Versailles, Sept. 25. Vergennes to Luzerne. N°. 2. Instructions on entering on duties as Agent to Congress. Luzerne will probably find great discussions going on respecting the Peace overtures suggested by Spain. There is no party in Congress actually insisting on the prolongation of the war, but the party under the direction of Lee and Adams is working indirectly to that end by making difficulties in the conditions of peace. The two points on which this Opposition party make its stand are the fisheries and the lands situated on the shores of the Mississippi. Vergennes states their pretentions on these points and discusses the former at length. As to the fisheries, there are two sorts: that on the high seas, and that along the coasts. The fisheries on the high seas cannot be in question; they must be as free as the seas themselves are. The shore fisheries are quite different. They belong to the countries owning the shores, who are within their rights in dealing with them as they please. Thus the fisheries on the shores of Newfoundland, Nova Scotia, and Canada belong to Great Britain. The Americans have no claims whatever to them, and any rights exercised by the French are in virtue of express treaties. The Americans claim that, as they have always fished on those coasts concurrently with the English, the right still remains with them. This, however, is not the case, since they enjoyed the fishing as subjects of England, and having divested themselves of that state, they lose the privileges appertaining thereto. The United States claims that the Treaty of Alliance with France binds the latter country to guarantee these fisheries to them. The article, however, on which they rely only guarantees to the United States their independence and the enjoyment of such possessions as they have at the time the peace is made. This point is elaborated. While the United States are within their rights in endeavouring to secure Canada and other British possessions by conquest, until they have done so, no rights arise under the Treaty which France is bound to guarantee. It should be remembered also that France has most legitimate rights towards these British possessions, but it relinquishes them, in order not to embarass the United States. This generosity should be an example to the United States, and should extinguish any jealousy they might feel at the slight advantages France enjoys in those fisheries at the expense of Great Britain. As the Mississippi matter was fully dealt with in despatch No. 1, it need not be further discussed except to say that the United States have every interest in satisfying all legitimate desires of Spain. Luzerne will find many deputies holding perverse views on public questions. He must follow the steps of his predecessor, and as far as he can inculcate correct ideas among the deputies. But he must be careful to do so discreetly and not raise antagonisms. The news which Luzerne is carrying to the United States of the Spanish declaration ought to have good effect. If questioned on the subject in the United States Luzerne may say that the Kings of France and Spain are determined not to close the war except by a definitive treaty, unless overriding and unforeseen circumstances should make a truce a necessity. If the deputies should object that a mere truce would not be a fulfilment of the guarantee given by France, Luzerne may reply by pointing out that while France has guaranteed independence nothing is said as to the mode by which this is to be affected. A truce followed, if necessary, by suitable measures may meet all requirements, as well as would be done by express stipulations in a treaty with England. In any case Luzerne must not provoke discussion on these subjects. Regarding assistance in way of arms and ammunitions. Conduct to be observed towards Delaware and other Indian tribes. Luzerne authorized to continue the gifts or promises made by Gérard to different American authors. There is a possibility that divergence of interest may break up the Confederation into smaller groups. This, though unfortunate for them, would be no concern of France, whose whole wishes would be fulfilled in seeing the United States independent and peaceful. These however are considerations for the future. At present it is essential that union should be maintained among all the States. Luzerne should see that, if possible, all treaties between France and the United States. p. 56

Philadelphia, Sept 26. La Luzerne to Vergennes. N° 4. His arrival in Philadelphia. Description of the countries through which he has passed. Dwells on the political advantages derived by France from American independence. Is received by General Washington, who shows him the forts built for the defence of his position. Washington is of opinion that the United States should facilitate the acquisition of the Floridas by Spain, which by giving, in turn, a subsidy to the Americans, would revive the vigour of his operations. The benefit of any pecuniary assistance which Spain might give to the United States. The American general appears to have no anxiety as to the rest of the campaign; he will remain on the defensive. Encloses a copy of his own letter to d'Estaing, re difficulties in the way of joint action on the part of the said Vice-Admiral and Washington. The Congress leaves the former at liberty to come to whatever decision he may judge to be the most advantageous. p. 79

Versailles, Oct. 1. Vergennes to La Luzerne. N° 3. The present condition of affairs makes it necessary to give up the idea of a new treaty which Gérard had been instructed to submit to the Congress. Explains matter. Regrets difficulties which delayed La Luzerne's arrival at Philadelphia. Re attentions shewn him by the Massachusetts Council. Explains why he should have accepted the honours offered him. Views of King and French ministers re decision in respect of the request made by the Congress for H.M. frigate La Sensible. p. 93

Philadelphia, Nov. 8. La Luzerne to Vergennes. N° 9. Reports complete defeat of the Indians and of the Cherokees. Unfortunate results which this conquest may have; the representatives of the bordering States claim to have a greater right to occupy the conquered country than those of the United States. p. 99

Philadelphia, Nov. 11. La Luzerne to Vergennes. N° 11. Account of the Savannah campaign. D'Estaing's praiseworthy conduct during the scige of Savannah. Although d'Estaing's arrival in America has not had all the good results expected of it, still, those who mean well [towards France] note that it has produced several. Garrison of Rhode Island arrive at New York, on transport ships. Clinton intends to strengthen the garrison at Halifax. p. 103

Philadelphia, Nov. 30 La Luzerne to Vergennes. N° 15. M. de Miralles receives instructions to urge the United States to direct their operations in such wise as to facilitate and ensure the successful conquest of Eastern Florida. Proposals well received by the Congress, who do not, however, consider it possible to attack S. Augustine, so long as the English hold Georgia. M. de Miralles asks that the King's squadron shall take part in the proposed campaign against Florida, and that La Luzerne shall support the request in the Congress. La Luzerne yields to these importunities, but makes no positive statement. Western Florida will be ceded to the Spanish, should it be successfully conquered. Certain members propose to put a price on the cession of Florida, in order to restore the finances of the Congress. The plan is, however, rejected by the saner portion of the Congress. Debates re plenipotentiaries in Europe continue, while the needs (of the country) grow daily greater. Motives of this method of acting. The Congress admits that it would be unfair to ask the King for fresh pecuniary assistance. They rely, rather, in this respect, on the generosity of His Catholic Majesty. Adams seems to have left with the intention of complying purely and simply with the wishes of the Congress. Encloses a newspaper cutting which he has had drawn up, in order to weaken the impression made by the unbounded demonstrations of delight of the English at events in Georgia. p. 107

Philadelphia, Dec. 13. La Luzerne to Vergennes. N° 17. General Gates intends to invade Canada, in order to invite the people to return to the American union, under conditions for which the King should stand surety. La Luzerne, without disapproving or approving of the plan, points out that France could not possibly render financial assistance. Gates considers the evacuation of Rhode Island to be due less to the fear aroused in the English by d'Estaing's arrival, than to a design, on the part of these latter, of some secret undertaking. As the embarkations preparing at New York seem aimed at the Antilles in general, La Luzerne and de Miralles intend to notify their respective commandants. Estimate of the English forces in New York and the adjacent islands. Americans take possession of Newport, on its evacuation by the English. Washington's army cantoned in the Jerseys. p. 114

Philadelphia, Dec. 17. La Luzerne to Vergennes. N° 18. The State of New Jersey relieves a Frenchman in the amount to which he had been made liable in the apportionment of public taxes. Don Juan de Miralles, although holding no official standing, has met with no less consideration on the part of the Congress in respect of his request for a campaign against Eastern Florida. He does not, however, think that Spain can supply the ships and troops that the Congress asks for. Encloses the letter and the resolution of the Congress, stating that the conquest of Florida is to be undertaken on behalf of His Catholic Majesty. Number of troops which the Congress will have to support the Spanish operations against the Floridas. M. de Miralles appointed minister plenipotentiary to the Congress. The Congress says nothing concerning the conquest to be made of parts of Louisiana and its dependencies. Virginia lays claim to the parts of Louisiana now in the possession of the English. Spain appears to expect the cession of these same territories, which the State of Virginia intends to conquer on her own account. She also shews signs of a jealousy of Spain. An officer of Virginian troops makes an incursion into the farther side of the Mississippi, and takes possession of the country traversed, in the name of his State. Encloses account of the check sustained by this officer from the Indians. The Congress takes cognizance of the acts of ownership exercised by Virginia in order to consolidate her alleged conquests, and recommends to refrain from making grants of land while the present war lasts. p. 120

1780. Philadelphia, Jan. 17. La Luzerne to Vergennes. N° 26. The Congress grants 1,700 men to the southern States, to protect them against the English invasion. The Congress undecided whether to evacuate or to defend Charlestown. Resolution to compensate soldiers for the depreciation of the paper money: to raise a monument to Count Pulawski. General Lee's disgrace due to his rashness of speech. Arnold's trial instituted before a court-martial; motives based largely on plots and personal hatreds. Conditions of peace granted by the Congress to the Six Nations Indians. p. 8

Jan. 25. La Luzerne to Vergennes. No 27. American army reduced to 7,000 men, and about to undergo a still greater reduction. Eagerness of certain members of the Congress whose attitude is doubtful, to spreads the report that a mediation has been begun in Europe, in order to lead the Americans to confine themselves to a war of defence. The English have left only 11,000 men in New York. Washington uneasy at the reduction of the army; he sends a despatch to the Congress to draw its attention to the matter. Note sent to a committee for the purpose of leading America to make extraordinary efforts to drive the English from the continent. La Luzerne transmits to the Committee the ultimatum submitted by Spain to England, on the occasion of her mediation. A member of the Committee expresses his surprise at it; he looks on it as destructive of the American union. Shews how he went to work to remove the impression produced by it. A representative states positively that news from Europe announce the existence of a mediation for obtaining peace. Reports on how he explained to the Committee the principles governing the mediation of a Power that was not bound by engagements to France. Recommends to the Committee the vigorous action by which alone the United States can win support and dwells on the trust shewn by other powers in the King of France. The members agree to draw up a plan of campaign, to be submitted to France. One member suggests the idea of asking the King for a squadron of 4 or 5 ships of the line; La Luzerne undertakes to forward the request [to the French government]. Explains why he allowed the Committee to hope that a squadron might be sent. A member proposes to employ a French squadron in the conquest of Nova Scotia. La Luzerne states that he has no instructions on the point. He points out to the Committee that there can be no question of gaining Canada or Nova Scotia, until after the English have been driven out of the territory (the "continent") of the 13 United States. The opposition fear the rivalry of the Southern States, and would abandon them without regret if such a sacrifice would facilitate the conquest of Canada. The Congress returns thanks for the arms and ammunition supplied to the United States by the King of France. It begs the King for clothes and garments of which the army is in the most immediate need. La Luzerne hopes there may be no further cause to fear requests from the Congress for pecuniary assistance. Explains how he will act when the question of a peace subsidy shall arise. In the event of Spain's consenting to grant the United States a peace subsidy, M. de Miralles should be authorized to communicate the fact to the Congress. La Luzerne is assured that the report of his conference (with the Committee), when made to the Congress, had the best possible effect. The need of making every possible effort, during the coming campaign, is clearly recognized. La Luzerne writes to the Governors of the different States urging them to rouse the people to do their utmost for the common cause. According to the President of the State of Pennsylvania, the people are making extraordinary efforts to finish the war. Reports all the members of the Congress as being unanimous in their attachment to independence and to the (French) alliance.

Vergennes to La Luzerne. N° 4. Regrets the infrequency of news received from him. Squadron and body of troops about to be sent to support the efforts of the United States in the coming campaign. The Marquis de LaFayette is proceeding to America to confide the French plan to General Washington. Precautions to be taken to guard the secret; limits of the information to be given to the Congress. Efforts to which the Americans must be stirred up against the English. Spain silent as to her intentions in regard to the United States; attitude which the latter should maintain towards Spain. Adams arrives at Versailles; he believes himself to be sent to treat immediately of peace. Deceit practised by Arthur Lee in regard to Gérard and Holker; must be exposed. Special motive of the present received by Lee from the King. Reflections on the difficulties which might ensue from Lawrence's mission to Holland. Refutes La Luzerne's opinion that the United States will soon be able to do without European manufactures. Loan of 3 millions which France has obtained for Franklin. p. 35

La Luzerne to Vergennes. N° 30. Reports view of the Congress re the incontestable rights of the United States in regard to extending their possessions as far as the banks of the Mississippi. Gist of the instructions sent to Jay re the aforesaid rights [of the United States to all the countries which extend to the bank of the Mississippi.]* Claim of the Congress to the navigation of the Mississippi, and limits wherein they are willing to confine it. Compensation expected from Spain in return for this concession. Letters whereby Don Juan Miralles is instructed to urge the Americans to undertake the conquest of the parts of Louisiana now held by the English. Views of various members as to the United States ownership of the territories between the Atlantic ocean and the Mississippi. Difficulties which may arise in connexion with the boundaries of the Floridas, as defined in the Ultimatum transmitted to Jay. Encloses translation of the King of England's proclamation of 1763, defining the boundaries of the English colonies. Boundaries thereby assigned to the Floridas. It is thought that the United States will submit to the conditions imposed by Spain for the navigation of the Mississippi. Enumerates the only Mississippi districts which are likely to cause real difficulties. Describes cautious manner in which Miralles wishes him to ascertain the views of the United States re possession of the Mississippi. Miralles tells him in confidence that he is authorized to purchase the Floridas, should the United States conquer them. News received at Philadelphia of Spanish victories over the English on the Mississippi. News received with mingled satisfaction and anxiety in America. Committee appointed to receive La Luzerne's communication, who points out in a speech to the committee, the need of a speedy settlement of the joint interests of Spain and America. He informs the committee of Spain's claims to the Floridas and to the navigation of the Mississippi. A member protests against the claim. Grounds whereon he contests the United States claims in both these respects. He examines, with the members of the Congress, the bearing of the charters on which the United States found their claims to the Floridas and to the navigation of the Mississippi; these charters actually favour the United States view. He discusses, with the committee, the respective claims of the United States and of Spain to the possession of the Mississippi. The determination of Spain to take possession of the countries in dispute, is the best way of solving the difficulties. p. 45

Philadelphia, March 13.

La Luzerne to Vergennes. N° 33. Encloses cutting from Pennsylvania paper giving an account of His Catholic Majesty's operations on the Mississippi, and of the conquest of some 500 leagues of country on the western bank of that river. It was Miralles who had the news put in all the public papers; it has aroused the greatest excitement. Several persons living in Philadelphia lay claim to these countries, as well as various States. Defines individual claims referred to. Grant of land on the Mississippi made to a company known as the Indian. A private individual opens an office for the sale in parcels of lands situated between the Ohio and the Mississippi. Spain's claims to the territories in question cause anxiety to several members of the Congress; La Luzerne induces them to postpone the raising of any discussion on this point. Miralles insists that La Luzerne shall confine himself to saying, when the territories situated on the Mississipi are spoken of, that he has no instructions from the Court of Madrid, to treat of that matter. Miralles has Galves' promise of appointment as minister to the United States; the Congress will, however, only treat with him through the medium of the French King's minister (La Luzerne). Mutual confidence between La Luzerne and Miralles. Means taken by La Luzerne to induce the members of the Congress to change their views re Spain's right to conquer the countries on the Mississippi. His interview with Matthews re Spanish claims in question; principles on which the United States base their rights to these same territories. p. 64

Philadelphia, March 18. La Luzerne to Vergennes. N° 35. Acknowledges receipt of despatch No. 2. The question of right to fisheries on the shores and Banks of Newfoundland no longer occupies public attention since it is known that John Adams is the bearer to Europe of the ultimatum of Congress on the matter. Luzerne cannot learn whether the fisheries are sine qua non, or whether Adams, after having exhausted his means of obtaining all that his people desire, will yield to the pressure of circumstances. It should be noted that in Massachusetts itself, while the merchants are resolute to obtain full freedom in fishing, the agricultural population are eager for peace. The prejudices of the United States against Spain have increased since the success of M. de Galves against the fort of Natchez on Mississippi. Moderate opinion in United States favours the union of the forces of Spain with those of France. Luzerne promises to conform to the Minister's instructions on the several points set forth in his letter. On the question of having the treaties between France and the United States ratified by the several States, Luzerne points out difficulties and asks for further instructions. The articles of Confederation forbade individual States from entering into relations or negotiations with any Prince or foreign State without consent of Congress; and the action of Virginia and Maryland in ratifying the treaties has given rise to much disquietude. The President of Congress sent a copy of each treaty (omitting the secret article) to each State, and the acceptance by each gave all necessary authenticity to the treaties so far as the States were concerned. Great difficulties would arise if the custom grew of requiring the acquiescence of each State to treaties. If, for instance, a treaty of peace required to be accepted by each State, there would surely be embarrassments over the fisheries question. Misunderstanding arising from the publication in the English copy of two articles in the last treaty with France which did not appear in the French copy. These were actually annulled, but having been published, were operative for some time to disadvantage of the French Islands. Great gratification of Congress at reply from King to request for portraits of their Majesties. p. 76

Philadelphia, April 10. La Luzerne to Vergennes. N° 41. Negotiation begun and broken off in connexion with a cartel whereby it was proposed to exchange the prisoners made at Saratoga against an equal number of American militia forces. La Luzerne's protest against the inequality of such a cartel. New shipment intended to reinforce Clinton before Charlestown. Translation of a letter said to have been written by Clinton to Lord Germaine. English ship, laden with 18,000 bushels of oats, captured by an American privateer. p. 94

The writer, not being "warm for Liberty," was not permitted, as formerly, to preach in the Independent meeting-house near Inglisdale. An account is given of the engagements, and exchange of prisoners, at the Cedars, south-west of Montreal. On return to New Windsor, received reports, not entirely authentic, of successes of Lord Cornwallis in North Carolina and of Howe's intended departure from Halifax to New York. Describes the conduct of the Committees, which are exactiug declarations of allegiance to Congress, or the surrender of arms with engagements of neutrality. 9

June 14. Setting out for New York, hears of a riot there on the 12th when suspected Tories, all Churchmen, were abused or banished. On May 15th the Continental Congress resolved on the suppression of all authority under the Crown of Great Britain. A provincial Congress for Pennsylvania to be called. Almost all suspected of attachment to Goverument imprisoned or banished. The fleet hourly expected to attack the city. "In this situation it had been hazardous, rash and presumptuous in the highest degree to pray for the King; and yet clergy could not, consistently with their duty, oath and good conscience, omit praying for their Sovereign, in case they officiated publicly; it was therefore judged most expedient and prudent to shut the churches for the present, and suspend the public exercise of their function, leaving the issue to the goodness of Providence." 13

Halifax, Nov. 14. To the Churchwardens and Vestry of St. Johns Church, Lunenburg. [Signed "Charles Nova Scotia."]. Regrets their embarrassed state; they are under displeasure of the Society [for the Propagation of the Gospel], which may be misinformed. It is the trustee for contributions from well-disposed persons, and is justly careful in applying these. It requires that the congregation provide a glebe or parsonage house for its missionary, and contribute according to ability to his support. Requests information as to possibility of fulfilling these conditions at Lunenburg, and as to attendance and prospects of growth; and that a similar communication be made to the Society. 25

Halifax, Dec. 27. To Lord Dorchester. Relies on his Lordship's support in promoting religion, virtue, literature, loyalty and order. Is pleased at the prospect of the establishment of a university in Quebec. Makes suggestions as to the staff, endowment, curriculum, location, &c. Approves of proposal for teaching botany and scientific agriculture. Makes observations on the exclusion of clergymen from the offices, and of theology from the curriculum, especially in relation to the conciliation of the Canadians. Transmits a sermon on the unity of the King's subjects: in appendix thereto, reference made to a legislative grant for a seminary. Fears efforts to frustrate this design. Proposes calling together the clergy of Nova Scotia, and visiting New Brunswick. Has not yet fixed a time for visiting Canada. Mr. Mongan proposed as commissary in Canada; should he not go, which of the clergy there would he (Lord Dorchester) recommend? 26

Halifax, Dec. 26. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Arrived Oct. 15th, after seven week's voyage. Has made Halifax his place of residence: only there could the leading personages be met. Was received with kindness. Gave assurance that his office did not interfere with the civil departments. Even Dissenters seem satisfied, and come to his sermons. As a result of his representations and the King's Instructions, the Assembly granted £400 for an Academy. Some difficulty in getting concurrence of the Council, who wished the Academy to be at Halifax. Preached before the Legislature at their request, sermon published, and is being translated into German by Mr. Houseill, the German missionary. Requests the Archbishop to recommend a principal for the Academy: he is to be a clergyman. The character of the position described. Refers to Lord Dorchester's statement that the people of Canada desire a university, and to his own reply. The need of Commissaries in Canada and New Brunswick: is ready to appoint Mr. Cooke for New Brunswick. Refers to the method of obtaining his own salary. Must rely on advice and assistance. His Grace in the difficulties he will encounter. Met Prince William Henry when he was in Halifax: gave him the message of loyalty and attachment which he intended to give the King in person at the time of his presentation, but was prevented by embarrassment. The Prince very sensible, and attentive observer. Refers to local matters: decline of congregation of Halifax; presence of two popular preachers, a Roman Catholic and a Presbyterian, each of whom has had a place of worship built; also a Methodist meeting-house lately erected; Mr. Weeks, the curate, a poor speaker; Dr. Breynton, the rector, though in England, draws his salary; it would be well to admonish him on the subject; best that a clergyman come from England in his place; Dr. Byles, who is in Halifax, not popular; the Church has little property; divine service is now solemnized on Wednesdays, Fridays, and Saints' days; preaches in person frequently. Refers to proposal of the S.P.G. to withdraw Mr. Money and their mission from Lunenburg; this should not be done. The last two missionaries there, Messrs. Brizaliers and De la Roche, were unsatisfactory. Has had friendly correspondence with most of the clergy of the diocese; they have little intercourse with each other; will call them together for his first visitation, issue a circular letter, and then visit New Brunswick and the interior missions of Nova Scotia. Will communicate later as to appropriation of lands for a bishop. More clergymen needed, but his nephew, Arch. Peans Inglis, the only candidate for Orders: his good character. 30

Halifax, Dec. 18. To Dr. Morice [Secretary of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel]. Refers at length to the proposal to withdraw Mr. Money from Lunenburg. Has not insisted on immediate compliance, owing to the danger and difficulty of withdrawal. The decline of the congregation there due to a disagreement with the last missionary. The inhabitants poor, industrious, universally loyal; about 300 Anglicans church attendants, including some respectable Loyalists: they are now doing much for the Church. Advises the continuance of the mission. Has directed the missionaries to continue their correspondence with the Society. Mr. Rowland to be at Shelburne in the spring. Mr. Cosset, missionary in Cape Breton, has gone to New Hampshire for his family. "There appears to be a greater laxness in all ecclesiastical matters here, than in the southern colonies formerly." To remedy this will be his endeavour. 39

[Memorandum.] Postscript was added as to mode of paying his subscriptions to the Society. 42

Halifax, Dec. 27. To Rob. Rashleigh & Co. Financial matters. 42

Halifax, Dec. 26. To Mr. Cumberland. Discusses the method of drawing allowance from Government. Also the application of money granted by Parliament for building churches; it should be distributed with regard to the numbers and ability of the people; half should be advanced when the building materials are collected, the remainder when the edifice is entirely roofed in; it should be paid to two or three principal inhabitants,—under bond, if deemed expedient. Refers to personal matters. 43

Halifax, Jan. 16. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. [Extract.] Has sent circular letters to the clergy of the diocese, and to those of Quebec, New Brunswick, and Newfoundland. Finds expences very heavy, Dr. Breynton, whose leave of absence is extended, should return to Halifax or resign. Requests copy of Instructions to American Governors as to appointment of a bishop. Is on good terms with the Governor, who is good-natured, but his ideas too entirely military. His own two great objects are the proper establishment of the Church by act of Legislature, and establishment of a college. 45

Halifax, March 1. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Refers to former communications. Finds a general and deplorable lukewarmness in the province. Explains some claims of the Governor which have caused alarm. At a meeting of churchwardens and vestry of Halifax to investigate the church debt, a proposal was made regarding Dr. Breynton's leave of absence. The Governor disapproved, claiming both right of presentation and of granting absences. The law gives the right of presentation to the parish; claim of granting leave of absence strikes at episcopal authority. Asks advice. Gives another example of improper interference. Is on best terms with the Governor. Is preparing to open Sunday-schools. Refers to death of Bishop Lowth of London, and succession of Bishop Porteus. 46

March 8. [Postscript to above letter.] Has received a letter from Lord Dorchester, promising his support, and desiring assistance in forming a general system of education. Remains neutral in feuds which tear the province. Will take steps to obtain lands for the Bishops of the Province from Governor Parr. Is attempting to obtain information as to the different settlements. 49

Halifax, Feb. 22. To Lord Dorchester. Sends a duplicate of his last letter. Refers to the proposed seminary in Quebec, and gives a statement of the topics as to which particular regulations would be required. Suggests text-books on agriculture. 51

Halifax, April 7. To Dr. Morice. Hopes that mission at Lunenburg will be continued. Mr. Bisset, missionary at St. John, N.B., died 3rd March. Had contemplated sending Dr. Byles to succeed him, when a letter was received from the churchwardens, requesting the appointment of

Mr. Thomas Moore, of Hampsted, Long Island. Mr. Moore's character and career. Has written to Mr. Moore, and submits the matter to the Society. Encloses certificate regarding Mr. Foreman school master at Digby, whose bills on the Society have been protested. Inhabitants at Sissiboo and St. Mary's Bay have applied for a clergyman: a subscription being raised. Capt. Moody, who reads prayers on Sundays, will furnish a house; will himself apply to the Governor for a glebe. Requests that copies of Society's abstracts be sent. 53

[Memorandum.] Postscript to above letter recommended appointment of a school-master to Tracadie: about one hundred families there, three-fourths negroes; also thirty French families, and a priest. 56

Halifax, April 12. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Sends copy of questions sent to the Clergy of the Diocese, to which they are to bring answers at his invitation on the 18th June. Wishes the Archbishop to be informed fully of his procedure, that he may interfere or give advice; shall have little difficulty with the clergy; but many are old and infirm, whereas active men are required. Refers to death of Mr. Bisset, and measures taken to replace him. Should have authority to fill vacancies, since a great evil hitherto has been the long delays is doing this: but the Society's consent to appointments should also be obtained. Explains with some detail the expence to missionaries of moving their families, which must be done by water. Only road, that between Halifax and Annapolis, is scarcely passable. Is preparing a map for the Society. Has obtained Sunday-school teachers in Halifax; hopes for the establishment of similar schools elsewhere; they are much needed. Mr. Toosey is at Quebec. Report that Mr. Mongan has gone to Ireland. 56

Halifax, April 5. To Lord Dorchester. Returns thanks for assurance of support. Approves of plan for one or more universities, with subordinate seminaries. Principal difficulty will be the procuring of funds. That and other difficulties in connection with the academy in Nova Scotia. Some interested persons wish it located at Halifax, an unsuitable place, contrary to the wish of the Assembly, who chose Windsor. Having been informed that Mr. Mongan has gone to Ireland, requests opinion on appointment of Recto rand Commissary of Quebec. Hopes that report of his Lordship's ill-health is not true. 59

Halifax, April 17. To Rashleigh & Co. Business matters. 61

Halifax, May 7. To Mr. Cumberland. Will do all possible to fulfill the expectations of his friends, but great exertions demanded by the difficulties of the ecclesiastical situation. Has received Treasury orders concerning the £2,000 granted for building churches. States promises made by Governor Parr to eight settlements, the performance of which would be preferable to the proposal of building four churches. States the rules which will be observed in transmitting the certificates authorising the payment of this money. Explains the circumstances which make his own allowance scanty. 61

Halifax, May 14. To Mr. Rowland. Has learned of his arrival at Shelburne. Recommends that all revenues of Shelburne be divided equally between him and Dr. Walter, incumbent of the other parish there. Explains the process to be followed in obtaining licence and institution (from the Bishop), and induction (from the Governor). The money granted by the British Treasury for building churches will be issued in three payments, when the work is begun, half finished, and completed, on the certificate of the Bishop. As £300 are granted to Shelburne, explains the rules by which certificates will be granted. 64

Halifax, May 13. To Brooke Watson & Co. Personal and business matters. 66

Halifax, May 16. To the Rev. Mr. Wiswall. Has received answers to questions, and letter giving excuse for non-attendance at visitations because of infirmities, expence, &c. While wishing the welfare of the clergy, is distressed that bodily infirmities should prevent the performance of duty, and apprehensive as to how the Society may view such a situation. Expence will not be great, as he himself will provide diet, and obtain beds in private families. Temporal damage should not come in competition with a clergyman's duties. Should the clergy manifest lukewarmness to the effort now being made to remedy the deplorable state of religion in the province? 68

Halifax, May 20. To Lord Dorchester. Is glad to hear of his improved health. Returns thanks for the list of Protestant clergymen and school-masters of Quebec. Approves the allowance made Mr. Bethune, although he is of another communion. Is glad Messrs. Scott and Lucas were discountenanced: intends to be rigid in requiring letters of ordination and testimonials from strange clergymen, as his patents have made it his duty. Applications for clergymen will increase with accessions of settlers from the revolted colonies; to meet them seminaries should be established. It would be proper that the Jesuit and Sulpician estates should be appropriated to support a seminary and a Protestant bishop. To transfer them to Lord Amherst will cause discontent. States the qualifications necessary in a Commissary at Quebec, and asks if Mr. Toosey possesses them. If he does not, will apply to the Archbishop of Canterbury for a proper person. Wishes to know what settlements in Quebec most need missionaries and schoolmasters, that application may be made to the Society. Hopes that his Lordship's proposed tour to the west will confirm his health. Regards the sentence of Court Martial against Capt. Coffin as extraordinary: the same charge could be made against many others in the Navy. Recommends four Loyalists of merit: Isaac Wilkins, Maj. Thos. Barclay, Maj. Philip Cortland, Maj. Samuel Baynard. 69

Halifax, June. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. A letter of condolence on the death of his daughter. 73

Halifax, June 28. To Dr. Morice. Is pleased at the appointment of Mr. Money to Lunenburg, which will soon be one of the most flourishing missions. Has taken steps to secure glebes at Lunenburg, Shelburne, Digby, and Parrsborough. The visitation is just ended. Has obtained information, some of which he lays before the Society. In Mr. Eagleson's mission at Cumberland but one family professing the Church of England: many Papists, a priest, and two mass-houses; the others sectaries, among whom fanaticism is prevalent. The salaries allowed Messrs. Neumann and Bailly for teaching French and German at Lunenburg not needed; they have no pupils, the inhabitants wishing their children taught English. The Loyalists settled in Campbelltown at Sheet Harbour have asked for a missionary and a schoolmaster in a memorial signed by 53 persons: there are 51 children. Has sent tracts, &c. Recommends appointment of schoolmaster. Loyalists of Clements township, settled in 1784, recommend in memorial signed by 44 persons, the appointment of Denis Casey as schoolmaster. Inhabitants of Amherst in Cumberland County have applied for a schoolmaster. Churches are to be built at Preston and at Rawdon; people of each place have applied for a missionary. Letters from Col. Fanning, Governor of the Island of St. John [Prince Edward Island], and Mr. Desbrisay, the only clergyman there, described the state of religion. Has urged the Governor to recover the Parliamentary grant of 1771 for building a church. Urges an additional allowance to Mr. Desbrisay, and that the schoolmaster's salary, now withdrawn, be restored. Has sent tracts, &c.: these are much needed. Mrs. Bisset asks that her young son be educated by the Society. Shall send Dr. Byles to St. John's, since Mr. Moore has declined the invitation. Suggests that the Society employ two clergymen from the revolted colonies, Mr. Bowden formerly assistant of Trinity Church, New York, now at Norwalk, Connecticut, and Mr. Wright, from Ireland, now teaching school in New York and officiating at a church in Brooklyn. Recommends his nephew, Arch'd P. Inglis, to be a missionary of the Society. Mr. Rowland arrived at Shelburne in May: hopes harmony may be restored there. The church has been begun at Shelburne. Has drawn up plans for all the new churches. 74

Halifax, July 7. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Gives thanks for copy of Gov. Parr's Instructions, also for the addition of £100 to his own salary. Encloses copy of printed account of visitation. Adds some details. Eleven clergymen assembled—all in province but two, one prevented by bad weather, other by poverty. The Rev. Mr. Peters, formerly of Connecticut, wrote urging the clergy to have nothing to do with a bishop appointed by the King, not elected by themselves. As much solemnity as possible given the visitation: a large confirmation at the same time. Visitation began Wednesday, June 18th: a sermon preached by a clergyman on each day. Describes the delivery of the Bishop's charge, examination of the clergy's credentials, presentation of address from the clergy, investigation of the state of the missions, measures to procure glebes. Religions state of the diocese unsatisfactory. Gave private exhortation to Mr. Eagleson of Cumberland, who had been represented as a drunkard. Presented a memorial to the Governor for land for a Bishop, but he cannot grant more than 1,000 acres. Instructions should be obtained from England, since grant should be of at least 30,000 acres. Also the Bishop's school, and glebe lands should be exempted from quit rent. Explains at length the controversy as to right of patronage between the Governor and the churchwardens and vestry: the Governor's claim applies at present to the church of Halifax, but it could be extended to many others. Inconveniences and discontent which result. This is one example of the military spirit which has always characterized the administration of the province. Suggests that an order be obtained from the King, confirming the provincial law, which gave the patronage to the parishes; by "Parish" to be understood "Churchwardens and Vestry." Is preparing to set out for Fredericton, N.B. 79

Halifax, July 15. To Brooke Watson & Co. Personal and business matters. 85

Halifax, July 16. To Mr. Cumberland. Returns thanks for his (Cumberland's) work, the Observer. Explains the drafts made for his allowance. Is pleased to hear of a further grant of £1,000 for building churches. Discusses method of drawing the money. There are no churches at Windsor, Horton, or Granville; only a small, unfinished church at Cornwallis. 85

Halifax, Sept. 13. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Returned last evening from tour, undertaken the beginning of July, covering 700 miles in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. Visited Windsor (church a wretched hovel), Falmouth, Cornwallis (church a mere shell), Aylesford, Wilmot (church soon to be built), Granville (old and populous settlement; desires church and clergyman), Annapolis, and Digby. Here most of the inhabitants his old parishioners. The Rev. Mr. Veits, the churchwardens and vestry presented an address. Laid corner stone of new church. Crossed bay of Fundy to city of St. John, where Dr. Byles is giving satisfaction. Refused ordination of a Mr. James, one of Lady Huntington's preachers, but disapproved by her. Fears he may distract the congregation. Went to Fredericton, touching at Gagetown and Maugerville. At Fredericton had much conversation with General Carleton, the Governor, on the state of the Church. Induced him to accept principle that churchwardens and vestry should recommend ministers for appointment. Annual revenue from college reserve at Fredericton £100. Divine service performed for first time in new church there: 55 persons confirmed. Returned to St. John, held a visitation, confirmed 95 persons, and laid corner-stone of church. Churchwardens and vestry have recommended Dr. Byles to the Governor to be their rector. Crossed to Digby, and visited Sissiboo, "the worst road I ever travelled." People Loyalists, much scattered; no church, glebe, or parsonage. Confirmed 42 persons at Digby. Held confirmation at Annapolis. Steps have been taken towards building a church at Granville. At Cornwallis was invited, on the suggestion of the Dissenting minister, Mr. Graham, to use his meeting-house. Did so: confirmed 42 persons. At Windsor measures have been taken to build a church and establish the academy. Confirmed about 40 persons there. Inhabitants of Newport have opened subscription for a church. About £1,400 needed to assist old settlements in building churches. Did not visit Cumberland, as had intended, but wrote to magistrates. The excursion has done much good. Met everywhere with attention and politeness. Adverts to Archbishop's letter. Thanks for addition to salary. Is disappointed that no tutor has been obtained for the academy. May prevail on his nephew to take charge temporarily. Dr. Moriee disapproves of appointment of Dr. Byles to St. John, because he holds chaplaincy of garrison at Halifax. Urges confirmation of the appointment: Dr. Byles has no duties at Halifax; has leave of absence; has appointed Mr. Houseall his deputy; and is greatly needed at St. John. [Remainder of letter is in paraphrase only]. Will appoint Mr. Cooke to be Commissary. Presbyterians of Shelburne having petitioned Mr. Pitt for £1,000 to build churches: advises against it. Some parts of Dr. Morice's last letter peevish. Suggests that Society's abstracts be prepared by some judicious persons not by the secretary. Paragraph from letter of Mr. Clarke published in the abstract, gave offence in New Brunswick. 87

Halifax, Sept. 18. To Lord Dorchester. Refers to his tour. Is glad Mr. Toosey's character is so respectable; some delay advisable, but if he continues satisfactory will appoint him Commissary. Introduction of foreign clergymen into Quebec had bad effect. Arrival of Mr. Tunstall at Montreal will help to obviate the evil. Recommends Mr. Toosey to take charge of congregation in Quebec City, receiving part of the salary of Mr. Montmollin, who is too old for duty; also a similar arrangement between Mr. Tunstall and Mr. De Lisle at Montreal; Mr. De Lisle might continue ministrations to German Protestants in French. Bad pronunciation of English by Messrs. Montmollin and De Lisle causes disgust. Found Gov. Carleton happy and successful in his government at Fredericton. Found many Loyalists there prosperous and contented. Proposes to visit Quebec next summer; also to visit Shelburne and other missions on the sea-coast next month. 93

Halifax, Sept. 21.

To Mr. Cumberland. Having completed his tour, is able to give information regarding the old settlements. Describes with some details conditions in Windsor. (a miserable log church), Newport (no church), Falmouth (shell of a small church), Cornwallis (shell of a church, too small), Horton (churchmen few, no church), Aylesford (thinly inhabited, no church), Wilmot (many Loyalists settled here, a new church begun), Granville (old populous settlement, no church; annexed to Annapolis, but attendance of missionary difficult), Annapolis (shell of neat little church), Lunenburg (church much decayed; will be repaired), Cumberland (no church). Old settlers of province were poor and indolent; a spirit of industry introduced by the Loyalists. Now a general inclination to have divine worship regularly established. This should be promoted by Government: it will increase loyalty; but bounty must be bestowed with caution. As majority must pay subscriptions chiefly in labour and materials, a small sum necessary for each place. Recommends £200 each at Windsor, Newport, Cornwallis, Granville, and Cumberland. Has met with utmost politeness from all ranks and denominations throughout Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. His knowledge of Americans enabled him to act so as to remove prejudices entertained especially by Dissenters, against bishops. The provinces though poor, will, by the protection of Great Britain and the observation of the new Navigation Act, soon be flourishing; the people, except for some trifling circumstances, are perfectly contented. Describes the health, fertility, and resources of the country. Has been disappointed as to obtaining tutors for the academy; his nephew will take temporary charge. Expects to open the academy with about 30 scholars. Help is needed for building another church at Halifax. 96

Halifax, Nov. 6.

To Dr. Morice. Has completed his tour, and requests that certain particulars be communicated to the Society. Found the missionaries properly employed. The state of the country, with respect to churches, deplorable. [Much of the information, being already catalogued under the preceding letters, is not here repeated]. The use of the church at Falmouth, built with a grant from the Provincial Assembly, is claimed by Dissenters. Wilmot is improperly annexed to Cornwallis, the distance being 40 miles. In sending a map to the Archbishop of Canterbury. Found the missions of New Brunswick in a flourishing condition for so new a country. Mr. Andrews, missionary at St. Andrews, diligent, but weakened by a stroke of palsy. His wish that his son be appointed assistant seems reasonable. This mission contains 100 families. Mrs. Bisset still awaits an answer to application for her son. Returning to Digby, visited Sissiboo: on north side of Sissiboo river are 37 Loyalists families, on south side, called New Edinburgh, 17 families, all scattered; near New Edinburgh a large French settlement, with resident priest; on west side of St. Mary's Bay many Loyalists settled. Confirmed nearly 400 persons in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, besides 125 at Halifax in June. States the proposals of the people of Granville, which contains upwards of 200 families, one-third Loyalists, re church and missionary; if carried out, earnestly recommends a new mission for Granville, Wilmot, and western part of Aylesford. Missionaries of Cornwallis and Annapolis will still have extensive fields; attached to latter is new township of Clements, containing 60 families, almost all Loyalists. There are glebes at Granville and Wilmot. Building operations proposed at Cornwallis, Windsor, and Newport. Report of but one church family in Cumberland inaccurate; many such, and some classed as Methodists are church people in principle. Explains in detail the circumstances connected with the sending of Dr. Byles to St. John, of which the Society disapproves. He is now at Halifax and will remain, but is needed at St. John, where a Methodist minister is gaining ground fast. Is glad of Mr. Foreman's appointment as teacher at Digby. Recommends Mr. Casey for Clements. Has received memorial signed by 114 Loyalists of New Oswegatchy [now eastern Ontario], Canada, asking that the Rev. Mr. Bostwick be appointed missionary to them. Has left appointments of Messrs. Toosey and Tunstall at Quebec and Montreal in the hands of Lord Dorchester. Agrees that caution is necessary in selecting missionaries and comments thereon. The Academy was opened 1st inst., with his nephew acting President. A Mr. William Cochran, educated in Dublin, lately professor of languages of the College of New York, is applying to be appointed a missionary. Requests that the two sets of church-plate from the Archbishop be given to Trinity Church, St. John, and the church at Windsor. Refers to some peevish passages in his (Dr. Morice's) last letter which require no answer. 100

Halifax. Nov. 14. To Brooke Watson & Co. Personal and business matters. 109

Halifax, Nov. 20. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. The Academy opened, with his nephew, Mr. A. P. Inglis, in charge. As the Provincial Act required the President and principal tutor to be clergymen of the Church of England, admitted him to Deacon's Orders. Describes the preliminary examination, &c., and the ordination.—his first,—which took place in St. Paul's Church, Halifax, on October 19th. Drew up regulations for the Academy, approved by the other Governors. Opened the Academy at Windsor on November 1st: 17 pupils entered; there are now 20. Gov. Parr has written to Lord Sydney on the subject of patronage. States the arguments for the churchwardens and vestry, and for the Lieut. Governor. Agrees himself with the Attorney-General that the latter claim is not well founded. "It would be very dangerous in this country to broach such a doctrine as that the laws of the province which have been ratified by the Crown may be dispensed with." The vestry of Halifax are requesting Dr. Breynton either to resign or to return to his mission. Wishes the Archbishop to send out a worthy clergyman; states qualifications necessary; a good preacher and able man needed to counteract activities of Presbyterians and Methodists. Requests his Grace's support in a proposal to the Society for a new mission at Granville; suggests Mr. Inglis as missionary. Earnestly requests that no missionaries be sent who are not well and favourably known. Some unsatisfactory persons have been sent to Canada, as Mr. Langhorne and Mr. Bryant. Refers to application of William Cochran. Also to disposal of Jesuit estates in Canada. The Blacks in Nova Scotia have been in general indolent and improvident, the natural consequence of their former state, and sudden emancipation. Considers that slaves should be well treated, and given the opportunity of winning freedom, but should not be suddenly emancipated. Inhabitants of Island of St. John refuse to subscribe for a church till money granted therefor be returned by Patterson, the former governor, who is alleged to have misappropriated it. 110

December. To Dr. Porteus, Bishop of London. Mr. John Mitchell, who carries this, says he was ordained by a previous Bishop of London, officiated in Maryland, and, being a Loyalist, moved to western Canada. Having lost his credentials, he wishes to obtain copies, and to be appointed a missionary. Expresses pleasure at the transfer of Dr. Porteus to London. States the good results from the appointment of a Bishop in America. Refers to the need of caution in the choice of missionaries; to the opening of the Academy; and to the establishment of Sunday-schools. Has appointed a Black as schoolmaster to the settlement of his race at Tracadie, and given him tracts, &c. Explains the charge against Mr. Patterson of embezzling or misapplying £3,000 voted for church-building, &c., in the Island of St. John, which should be refunded. Recommends allowances to Mr. Desbrisay, the clergyman there, and for a schoolmaster. 117

Dec. 12. To Mr. Cooke. Is sending commission as Commissary of New Brunswick. Trusts that the appointment will have good results. Recommends that the Clergy be convened annually. Discusses the terms of glebes: in England they are not held in fee simple, but in abeyance; does not approve of the system of empowering the justices to hold them. Refers to the Society's disapproval of the removal of Dr. Byles to St. John. The Methodists are making rapid progress there. Personal matters. 121

Halifax, Dec. 18. To Brooke Watson & Co. Personal and business matters. 123

Halifax, Dec. 18. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Announces the appointment of Mr. Cooke as Commissary for New Brunswick, and suggests the granting of a salary of £100. The Academy and the Sunday-schools are succeeding well. Diocesan affairs much improved during the past year. Of the eleven missionaries of the province, four are diligent, three indifferent, and four harmful. Supremely important that missionaries sent out should be fit for their office. The absence of a missionary has caused tht utmost confusion at St. John. If the Society still objects to Dr. Byles, Mr. Cochran might be sent. Suggests Mr. Inglis for Granville, and a clergyman from the revolted colonies for Sissiboo. 124

Dec. 20. [Memorandum.] Wrote to Dr. Morice, announcing appointment of Thomas Brownsprigg schoolmaster to the Blacks at Tracadie. 126

Halifax, Dec. 26. To Lord Dorchester. Announces the opening of the Academy: hopes in time to have agriculture taught. Care taken to inculcate principles of loyalty, and of attachment to the Sovereign. Wishes to know whether Lord Dorchester is coming to Nova Scotia, in order to decide with regard to his own visit to Quebec. Also wishes advice as to the fixing of Mr. Toosey at Quebec, and of Mr. Tunstall at Montreal 127

Halifax, Jan. 1. To Mr. Cumberland. Personal and business matters. 129

Halifax, Jan. 1. To Mr. Cumberland. Personal and business matters. 129

Halifax, Jan. 1. To Calvert Clapham. Personal and business matters. 129

Jan. 6 To Governor Parr. Recommends grant of £100 to the Loyalists of Annapolis, who are completing St. Luke's Church, the shell of which was erected by the old settlers. 130

Halifax, Jan. 22. To Col. Gab. Ludlow [Mayor of St. John]. Has been informed, by Mr. Whitlock, that he himself has been accused of immoral conduct when in St. John last summer. Dr. Calef said to be the instigator: his only motive would be the opposition (of the Bishop) to the Methodist teachers whom he (Calef) wished to introduce into the Church. Suspects that Peters, formerly a missionary of Connecticut, and Sam Hake are responsible. A deposition of denial has been taken. Denounces the calumny, and requests investigation. [The following note is added.] "Not this, but the other that follows Gov. Carleton's letter, was sent to Col. Ludlow." 131

Halifax, Jan. 22. To Governor Carleton. Requests that he assist Col. Ludlow in the investigation of the slander which has been circulated in St. John. 133

Halifax, Jan. 22. To Col. Ludlow. States the information he has received of a calumnious charge of immoral conduct circulated against himself at St. John. Its absurdity makes a formal refutation ridiculous. Suspects that Sam. Hake is at the bottom of the affair. Requests a searching scrutiny that the villians responsible may be restrained. 134

Halifax, July 9. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Repeats the account of the slander, with some additional details. Dr. Calef is a physician from New England, a weak, "enthusiastical" man, who was offended because one of Lady Huntington's preachers—whom she patronizes—was not ordained. Hake, who is supposed to be responsible, is a commissary to the garrison of St. John. He and Peters were considered the fabricators of the falsehoods published against him [Bishop Inglis] in London. Peters had attempted to get the clergy of the province to recommend him to be Bishop. Lord Dorchester leaves adjustment of matters in Canada till his [the Bishop's] arrival: requests advice. Mr. Eagleson's conduct has greatly improved. 135

Halifax, Jan. 27. To Mr. Cumberland. Recommends the bearer, Michael Wallace, a member of the Assembly. Governor Parr has allowed £100 from the church grant to Annapolis, and an additional £100 to Shelburne. During last year five churches begun, of which three are covered in, and two others repaired. Will endeavour to have Assembly's allowance of £400 a year for the Academy made permanent. If successful, will apply to the Government for further help. 137

Halifax, March 2. To Lord Dorchester. Is distressed at news of King's illness. Will go to Quebec at earliest opportunity. 139

Halifax, March 14. To Col. Ludlow. Dr. Calef has admitted his attempt to obtain perjured evidence against his [the Bishop's] character, and offered to make a public declaration, authorises Col. Ludlow, Judge Putnam, and Attorney-General Bliss to act as they deem best. 139

Halifax, March 17. To Dr. Morice. Inhabitants of Granville have taken steps towards building churches and maintaining a clergyman; they number 1,031, more than one-third Church people, and of these four-fifths are Loyal emigrants. In the eastern part the Dissenters will surrender their meeting-house to the Established Church; in the middle part a subscription for a church opened; in western part inhabitants, though not numerous, will probably build a church. A church will be built in Wilmot, where there are 500 inhabitants, mostly Loyalists. A missionary for these townships and western Aylesford will have care of about 2,000 souls. The inhabitants desire Mr. Inglis. Dr. Byles is pleased at his appointment to St. John. It is right that the people be impressed that the Society's bounty is not permanent. Proper superintendence can be maintained over the schoolmasters at Clements and Campbelltown. Not many Germans at Clements. "Never was able to see the good policy of sending foreign missionaries or schoolmasters to the colonies." Again recommends Wm. Cochran. A Mr. Cheever, formerly an independent minister at Liverpool, wishes to be admitted to Holy Orders. Inhabitants of Liverpool have applied for a schoolmaster; those of Chester, 133 persons, for a missionary and schoolmaster. At Cumberland a subscription has been opened for a church, and the people will contribute to support a clergyman. 141

Halifax, March 18. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Is forwarding, under cover to Lord Sydney, various papers regarding diocesan business. Is obliged for appointment of Dr. Byles to St. John. The cancellation of his former appointment encouraged Dr. Calef in his slander. States how that affair stands. Refers to the news of the King's illness. Will use the prayer ordered by the Privy Council. The Legislature, now sitting, will probably adopt some measures re the Academy. 144

Halifax, March 17. To Brooke Watson & Co. Business matters. 145

Halifax, April 10. To Col. Ludlow. Accepts Dr. Calef's recantation, and forgives him. Sees no necessity for publishing it, but requires a signed copy. Thanks his friends for their exertions, which were necessary in the cause of religion. The Assembly has granted in perpetuity £400 for the Academy, to be levied on the revenue from sugars; the Lieut. Governor, Bishop and others are constituted Governors and made a corporation; the institution is to be called King's College. 146

Halifax, April 20. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Explains the action of the Assembly in regard to the Academy, which is to be erected into a College when matters are ripe for it. Consent of Governor, Lieut. Governor and Bishop necessary for the validity of regulations; President to be a clergyman of the Church of England; grant of £500 to purchase land near Windsor on which the edifice may be erected. Is much pleased. Hopes the Home Government will give assistance to the Academy, the great importance of which is pointed out. 147

Halifax, April 20. To Mr. Cumberland. Announces the Assembly's action re the Academy. "No other British Colony in North America ever did so much for promoting literature." Hopes for assistance from the Home Government, which will strengthen their hands and increase attachment to Government. Explains the importance of the Academy to the Government. At the quarterly visitation next week the Governor will fix on a site. Requests assistance in obtaining a grant for the building, which may cost £3,000. The number of students is 30, including some midshipmen, and the institution is flourishing. 149

Halifax, April 21. To Brooke Watson & Co. Personal and business matters. 151

Halifax, April 21. To Governor Carleton. Has given Dr. Byles institution to St. John, and given orders for his induction, in the manner agreed upon. Refers to Dr. Calef's recautation. 152

Halifax, May 1. To Governor Macormick [of Cape Breton]. Importance of the diffusion of Church principles. Will be glad to meet wishes in this respect in Cape Breton. Explains the condition of the Academy. Is going to Quebec, and if possible, will call at Sydney. The title of Lord is not annexed to the Bishop of Nova Scotia. 153

Halifax, Aug. 27. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Has arrived from Quebec, after a passage of nine days and an absence of four months. Wrote from Quebec giving account of what he had done in the Island of St. John, where he stayed ten days. Gives a detailed description of conditions in Canada, and of his actions there. At Quebec but few English, surrounded by French Catholics; have no church, no vestry, no churchwardens; have services in the Recollet Church after the Roman Catholic services are finished. The clergyman, Mr. Montmollin, speaks very bad English. Held a meeting of principal gentlemen of the congregation: at their request urged Lord Dorchester to appropriate the Recollet or some other church. He refused. Steps taken towards building a church. Informed Mr. Montmollin that an English preacher should be settled at Quebec. Visited Three Rivers, where are about 24 Protestant families, and a clergyman, Mr. Veyssiere, who speaks English very badly. As there was a great dearth in the province gave 100 loaves to the poor—one-half to the Grand Vicar, Mr. St. Onge, for Catholics. Visited a Protestant settlement of 15 families at the River Du Loup; also Mr. Doty's mission at Sorel, now William Henry. At Montreal the congregation will give £100 a year to an English preacher: Mr. Tunstall to be settled there. The clergyman, Mr. De Lisle, is a sensible man, but poor speaker of English. Dissenters are numerous, but will join the Anglican Church. Gave 100 loaves to be distributed as at Three Rivers. Confirmed 170 persons. Visited the Island of Montreal, the Indian settlement of Caughnawaga, and the Cedars. Returned to Quebec. Mr. Toosey appointed minister, and churchwardens and a vestry selected. Project of building a church stopped because land belonged to Jesuit's Estate. Had induced congregations of Montreal and Three Rivers to memorialise Lord Dorchester for a Jesuit and a Recollet church, which he granted. Congregation of Quebec did likewise, but result not known. Held visitation at Quebec August 5th: all clergy attended except Mr. Bryan. Mr. Stuart came from Kingston and Mr. Langhorne from Ernest Town. Describes proceedings of the visitation. Appointed Mr. Stuart Commissary for the Western Settlements [i.e., the later Upper Canada]. Issued a set of injunctions covering points on which complaints had been made. Wrote to inhabitants of Niagara, "consisting of many thousands of Protestants," who had made application, promising a clergyman if they would fulfil the requisitions. 154

Halifax, Sept. 2. To Brooke Watson & Co. Personal and business matters. 160

Halifax, Sept. 4. To Lord Dorchester. Announces his return. The Archbishop of Canterbury's anxiety regarding conditions in Canada. Gives a summary of the report he has sent to the Archbishop regarding his tour in Canada [some of the topics referred to are not in the letter catalogued above]. Has hopes of better things in Quebec. Gives thanks for Lord Dorchester's kindness and support. 160

Halifax, Oct. 9. To Lord Hood. Inadequate provision for religious welfare of the seamen of the Navy at Halifax. Suggest that religious books and tracts be provided on ship-board, and that a resident chaplain be fixed at Halifax. The 4d. per day deducted from the wages of every seaman for the purpose would afford a competent maintenance. Sir R. Hughes approves of the scheme. 162

Halifax, Oct. 16. To Dr. Morice. Refers to his visit to Canada. Explains proposal that part of salary of Mr. Veyssiere be applied to the support of an English clergyman at Three Rivers. Refers to events in Nova Scotia during his absence: Mr. Twining arrived at Cornwallis—he has since married, and been instituted to the parish of Cornwallis and cure of Horton; Mr. Wiswall has removed to Wilmot—as he is old and infirm, he refuses to serve Granville also, as had been the design; Mr. Eagleson of Cumberland again charged with intemperance and neglect of duty; church-building at a standstill; people of Granville discontented. Set out for Windsor Sept. 11th. Visited Granville: population about 1,500 (not 1,031 as formerly estimated) and increasing rapidly; a set of enthusiastic anabaptists, called New Lights, causing much disorder. Besides Christ Church, a former Dissenter meeting-house given up by them to off-set the work of the fanatics, two more churches will be built. Recommends that a mission be established in Granville under Mr. Inglis, and endowed with one of the three new allowances of £75 from the Society. These were intended for Messrs. Twining, Shreve, and Rowland, but the last two have Government allowances. Mr. Wiswall will have Wilmot and Aylesford, containing about 600 and 300 inhabitants; churches will be built; has himself given 200 acres in Aylesford towards a glebe. Put Mr. Fox, the Society's schoolmaster, in possession of the school lands at Cornwallis. Held investigation into the conduct of Mr. Eagleson: he has been suspended, and is to appear next June to vindicate his character. [Memoranda only are given of the remainder of the letter.] Recommends allowance to Mr. Bailey for expences in defending his glebe. Has written to Mr. Cooke re new mission in New Brunswick. Mr. Arnold applies to be settled in Sussex Vale. Wm. Sutherland opened school at Campbelltown on May 26th with 17 scholars; Thomas Brownspriggs has 23 negro scholars at Tracadie; a schoolmaster should be appointed at Campobello, where are 88 children. Churches at Digby, Shelburne, Manchester, Parrsborough and Preston covered in. 163

Halifax, Oct. 16. To Brooke Watson & Co. Business matter. 169

Halifax, Oct. 17. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Requests his interposition for establishing of mission of Granville. The Governor's right of patronage should be decided: he is inducting clergymen to livings without invitation from the Bishop; requires registrations of livings to be made to him, although that right belongs to the Bishop by the King's Patent; and denies right of the Society to send clergymen to parishes without his consent. [Here the copy of the letter ends abruptly]. 169

Halifax, Oct. 24. To Governor Carleton. Is sending his observations on the Marriage Act, a copy of which had been sent by the Governor. Magistrates should not be authorized to publish the banns during divine service. They should not be permitted to solemnize marriages except in cases of necessity. 170

Halifax, Oct. 15. To Governor Parr. Announces the institution of Wm. Twining to the Church of St. John in Cornwallis. 172

Halifax, Nov. 21. To the Bishop of London. Preached in the course of visitation, in Halifax, Island of St. John, and Quebec on the King's recovery. Brought the news to the last two places. Encloses observations on the New Brunswick marriage bill. It is very imperfect, and injurious to the Church. A useful bill brought forward in New Brunswick to constitute the rector, churchwardens, and vestry a body corporate. 172

Halifax, Nov. 30. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Returns thanks for assurance of support to his recommendations. Gov. Parr has rectified the irregularity of the induction of Mr. Twining to Cornwallis. Right of presentation still undecided. Congratulates the Archbishop on his successful resistance to Lord Stanhope's bill. Encloses account of religious, literary and political state of Canada. Likewise an account of the scrutiny into Mr. Eagleson's conduct. It is desired that a clergyman be sent out to succeed Dr. Breynton in Halifax. The Governors will appoint Mr. Cochran, President of the Academy, where there are now 33 pupils: 70 acres of land purchased, and a stone-quarry discovered. Importance of the Academy in a country "where the old inhabitants have little sense either of religion, order or loyalty." Wishes Government assistance through the interposition of the Archbishop. Refers to the wish of a Mr. Parker, of Boston, to receive a degree of D.D. from an English university. Encloses a paper by Mr. Monk, late Attorney-General of Quebec, concerning the Sulpician estate. 174

Halifax, Dec. 4. To Dr. Morice. Thanks for statement of salaries paid by Government for missionaries. It was necessary, as all the money was not being drawn. Refers to appointment of Mr. Twining to Cornwallis. Again recommends Mr. Inglis to be appointed to Granville, since Mr. Cochran is to be President of the Academy. The proposal of fixing missionaries only on the sea-coast not good. [A paragraph subsequently cancelled, refers to Sissiboo, where the people begin to think seriously of building a church, as an example of the necessity of having matters prepared for the reception of the missionary in a new mission]. Refers to act of New Brunswick incorporating churchwardens, &c. Another missionary should be sent for New Brunswick; or Mr. Hubbard of New Haven might be invited. Encloses copies of his charge to the clergy in 1788. 177

Halifax, Dec. 4. To Lord Hawkesbury. Explains the situation of the Academy. Asks for interposition to procure money from Parliament for a building. The natural advantages of Nova Scotia. In a few years grain will be exported; a sloop with wheat sent to Connecticut this autumn. Has instituted a Society for promoting agriculture. Nova Scotia and New Brunswick abound with rock, or bird's eye maple, which makes beautiful furniture. Is sending a tea-table made from it to his Lordship. 180

Dec. 4. To Brooke Watson & Co. Personal and business matters. 183

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 29b

Halifax, Dec. 7. To Mr. Cumberland. Refers to some personal matters. Six new churches built; five or six more in a year or two. Again requests assistance in procuring money for building the Academy. 185

Dec. 12. [Memoranda.] Wrote to Lord Dorchester, Gov. Carleton, and Mr. Finlay, enclosing plan of the Society for promoting agriculture. 186

1790. March 6. To Lord Dorchester. Has already done all possible to obtain a worthy clergyman for the people of Nassau [the district from the Trent River to Long Point, Lake Erie, in the present province of Ontario]. The report of the Council of Quebec on education seems good. Difficulties in the way. The Canadians, while possessing several good qualities, appear to have the same blind attachment to their ritual and to the Pope as the French had when Canada first settled: just as the people of New England retain puritanical principles; though these things have long since been thrown aside in the respective parent states. The light of science is the most likely means to expand the minds of the Canadians. The exclusion of the teaching of theology inadvisable: in the British Universities its study is not compulsory. The Church of England in Quebec City cannot appear respectable or flourish without a decent church building of its own. 186

Halifax, March 6. To Brooke Watson & Co. Personal and business matters. 188

Halifax, March 15. To Dr. Morice. Proposes to visit Shelburne, Lunenburg, Cumberland, and the western missions of the province. Churches will be built in Aylesford, Wilmot, and Granville, where Christ Church will be enlarged. There has been delay in building at Sissiboo. Inhabitants of Clement about 80 families, mostly Loyalists, wish a missionary, and money to build a church: thinks missionaries of Digby and Annapolis may minister to them. Gov. Carleton and Mr. Cooke consider that the new mission in New Brunswick should be at Nashwalk. Believes that Mr. Arnold will have a title for Sussex Vale from the Society for promoting Christianity among the Indians, lately transferred from Massachusetts to New Brunswick. Has received a letter from Col. Butler and R. Hamilton of Niagara: inhabitants of that district 1,000 men, 700 women, 1,400 children, about one-half professing the Church of England; undertake to pay for an Anglican clergyman £100 a year; a general subscription for churches and clergymen has been begun, but the Protestant clergymen first to arrive, of whatever denomination, will be the first provided for. Requests that an active clergyman be sent. Has received a memorial from the townships of Augusta and Elizabeth Town, in Lunenburg or New Oswegatchie [a district comprising that part of the present province of Ontario from the Quebec boundary to the Gananoque river], asking for Mr. Bostwick or some other clergyman; they number about 1,500; are 'alarmed at the prospect of enthusiasm, which begins to spread its baleful influence among them." Mr. Bostwick willing to go to Canada, but wishes to know the salary, and whether, like other loyal clergymen from New England, he will be allowed £50 for moving. 188

Halifax, March 16 To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Is sending a copy of his charge to the clergy of Quebec: the ignorance of the King's Printer here, a Hessian soldier, causes many errors. May be invited to New York to assist in consecrating a bishop. Again refers to hope of Government assistance for the Seminary. Governor Parr's indifference to it causes difficulties. 191

Halifax, April 3. To Mr. Bostwick. Wishes him to settle in Lunenburg above Quebec. Thinks he may rely on receiving £50 a year and £50 moving expenses from the Society. 193

[Memorandum.] Sent copy of last, with note signifying the Society's compliance with the terms stated. 194

April 10. To Mr. Macdonell [later first Roman Catholic Bishop of Kingston, Upper Canada.] Acknowledging his letter of Dec. 9th. Approves of plan proposed, and will take certain steps to forward it. 194

Halifax, April 13 To Mr. Dempster. Refers to the Rev. Alex. Macdonell, with whom he had several interviews last summer. His proposal to divide the Popish Bishopric of Quebec and appoint a native of Great Britain to one of the new Sees, appears rational. Describes state of Canada: bigotry and ignorance prevail. Canadians as much a separate people as at the conquest, acting Bishop and leading clergy averse to diffusion of information. Mr. Macdonell complains of these things. By his plan the Jesuit's estate, worth £1,200 a year, and that of the Sulpicians, £10,000 a year, could be appropriated to literature and education without giving offence. If another Popish bishop appointed, Mr. Macdonell should not be overlooked. Returns thanks for his (Mr. Dempster's) exertions in behalf of the Loyalists. 195

April 14. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Is sending copy of report on education by the Legislative Council of Quebec, a result of his visit last summer. It contains a curious letter from the Popish bishop of Quebec. Is sending also a letter to Mr. Dempster, M.P., as to a proposal by Mr. Macdonell. Approves of the proposal. The only objection is that it would increase the number of Popish bishops: but one of the present coadjutor-bishops might be acting bishop of the See. 197

April 15. To Lord Dorchester. Comments on the Legislative Council's report on education. Lord Dorchester's wish to unite the Canadians with the Protestants seems impracticable, unless by adopting the proposal of a Catholic clergyman in Quebec. He says that Mr. Baille, the coadjutor, and other Catholics of liberal sentiments are injured and discouraged: Bishop Hubert is weak and narrow, entirely influenced by his Secretary and Grand Vicar at Quebec, two hot-headed men. The proposal is to divide the Bishopric of Quebec into two Sees, one to be given to Mr. Baille, (Bishop Hubert retiring on an allowance), the other to a native of His Majesty's European dominions. It is said that the majority of Romish clergy are in favour of the change: if so, the proposal should come from them, but they are afraid to act. The number of Popish bishops would not be increased, but there would be two acting bishops instead of one, which might be an advantage. 198

Halifax, May 5. To Mr. Cumberland. Is thankful for the hint that encouragement to American-bred divines may cause murmuring. Explains at length that there has been no occasion for murmurs. States in some detail the history and present condition of the seminary, which is designed to prevent the importation of American divines and American politics. 200

May 5. To Brooke Watson & Co. Personal and business matters. 203

Halifax, May 6. To Dr. Morice. Is pleased that the Society concurs in arrangements proposed for Granville, Wilmot, and Aylesford. Mr. Inglis will remove to Granville. It will be prudent for the Society hereafter to consult him (the Bishop) regarding removal of missionaries. Has received church-plate for Windsor and St. John, and books for himself and Mr. Wiswall. Makes suggestions as to Mr. Inglis's library. 204

May 20. To Mr. Grenville [William Wyndham Grenville, at this time Home Secretary]. Replies to a letter signifying the King's wish for a statement respecting the clergy of the Established Church, their salaries and emoluments, the ministers or priests of other denominations, and the necessary means for promoting religion. Gives some details. [They are to be found in the next letter.] 205

May 20. To Mr. Grenville. In answer to the same request. From various causes the clergy receive little support. In the Province of Quebec are eight Anglican clergymen, three of whom are foreigners, supported by the Government and the S.P.G.; there are three Dissenting ministers, one having a Government salary; and upwards of two hundred Romish clergy, supported by tithes and contributions. Refers to his Observations on the religious, literary and political state of the province, transmitted to the Archbishop of Canterbury, for further details. In New Brunswick are six missionaries supported by Government and the Society, and one Dissenting minister. In Nova Scotia are thirteen clergymen supported by Government and, except one, by the Society; seven Presbyterian ministers and a multitude of Methodist teachers and sectaries. In Cape Breton are two clergymen, and in the Island of St. John one. On his return from a visit to a distant part of the diocese will give a fuller answer. A church-building is needed at Quebec, and clergymen at Niagara and Detroit. Recommends the need of a building for the Academy to the consideration of the Government. A churchyard should be provided from the parade around the Church at Halifax. 206

Halifax, May 27 To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Is pleased to learn that the seminary will be made a royal foundation with exhibitions. Suggestions as to the Board of Governors to be created by charter. Cannot yet form a judgment as to the efficiency of Mr. Cochran, who is now at Windsor. Lands should be appropriated for the seminary and for the bishops of the See, exempt from the usual conditions. Is glad that the right of patronage will be adjusted, and a churchyard allowed at Halifax. Discusses the qualifications necessary in the man to be appointed rector of Halifax. The appointment of a bishop for Canada will be a great benefit: Peters should not receive it: recommends Mr. Boucher. Mr. Toosey has been appointed Commissary at Quebec. Mr. Inglis has gone to Granville. Dissenters near Annapolis may give up a meeting-house to the Church of England. Refers to his answer to Mr. Grenville re the religious state of the province. 210

Halifax, July 7. To Dr. Morice. Has just returned from Cumberland: visited Wilmot and Aylesford also. With Mr. Twining and Mr. Shreve investigated charges against Mr. Eagleson, who offered no defence. His suspension continued, and the mission declared vacant. Recommends that a small pension be allowed Mrs. Eagleson. Found a clergyman named Jarvis Jones at Cumberland: requests information as to his character. In Sackville, Dorchester, Hillsborough, Hopewell and Moncton are nearly 300 families: Anglicans most numerous, several Lutherans, about 70 French families: inhabitants of Westmorland (part of Cumberland before the creation of the province of New Brunswick) and Amherst willing to build a church, but need Government assistance. Recommends arrangements for schoolmasters in those townships. Inhabitants of Country Harbour, 30 families with 67 children wish a schoolmaster. In neighbourhood of Preston, where a new church is completed, are 600 inhabitants, of whom 150 are blacks. 213

July 12. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Refers to scrutiny into conduct of Mr. Eagleson: describes method followed, and care taken not to alarm public opinion. Christ Church at Windsor has been raised: recommends an allowance for it, and for churches at Horton, Cornwallis, and Amherst. Mr. Cochran doing well at the Academy: will make a visitation there with Mr. Strange, the new Chief Justice. Fears the prospect of war with Spain will prevent a grant towards building a college. If grant be made, proposes to move to Windsor during building operations: it is the most suitable place for the episcopal residence. Suggests purchase of land there for such residence. Proposes to live himself on his own property at Aylesford. Requests advice as to whether the clergy of the diocese should take out new licenses. 216

July 19. A Postscript to the above deals further with the suggestion of purchasing land at Windsor. 220

Halifax, July 19. To Brooke Watson & Co. Personal and business matters. 220

Halifax, April 9. To Mr. Grenville. Acknowledges letter announcing King's approbation of the College at Windsor, intention to grant a royal charter, and Parliamentary grant of £1,000. Cannot answer requests for information owing to necessity of embarking for Shelburne and Lunenburgh. 221

Halifax, Sept. 8. To Mr. Grenville. In answer to letters of Dec. 16th and June 5th, gives a detailed account of the "State of the Church of England in the three provinces of Quebec, New Brunswick, and Nova Scotia." Quebec has population estimated at 145,000, of whom 120,000 are Catholics, who have 147 parishes; 25,000 are Protestants, 20,000 being in the New Settlements.Refers to the degraded state of the Church of England, the appropriation of the Jesuit's Church at Montreal, the unsatisfactory ministrations of foreign clergymen. Recommends the appropriation of a church at Quebec; the deduction of £100 from the salary of the Rev. Mr. Leysspere, of Three Rivers, for an English clergyman; the enforcement of residence on the chaplain of the Quebec Garrison; the establishment of an English school in each parish, and of a college at Quebec, with both Protestant and Romish professors; checking the unjustifiable methods of the Romish clergy in making proselytes, of which an example is given; restraining the pompous processions which are offensive to Protestants and nourish superstition among Catholics and the requirement, after a definite period, that all pleadings and public documents be in English only, and all persons holding civil office be proficient in English. The inhabitants of the New Settlements are mostly Loyalists and Protestants, have few churches or schools, but a glebe in each township, and have three clergymen, settled at Cornwall, Kingston and Ernest Town. Another has been sent to Augusta. Recommends that provision be made for clergymen at Niagara and Detroit, and that a seminary be established and endowed. In New Brunswick, settled by Loyal emigrants, the Church is in as good a state as can be expected. Each township has a glebe, is erected into a parish when it has a regular clergyman; there are five churches and more needed. Recommends the establishment of an itinerant missionary at Sackville. Nova Scotia, the most valuable province in British America, had an estimated population of 14,000 before the Rebellion, now 30,000, although many who came in 1783 have since returned to the revolted colonies. Most of the missions are constituted parishes. The act establishing the Church is rather injurious than serviceable, and there are too many Dissenters in the Assembly to make probable a remedy. Refers to loss, or injudicious location, of glebes; the need of a churchyard at Halifax; the dispute over patronage; the good results from the grant for church-building (six churches are finished, four are building, and two have been enlarged); the need of appropriations for churches at Windsor, Horton, Cornwallis, and Amherst, and of clergymen for the district between Halifax and Canso, and for Sissiboo. A foundation for supporting the clergy by a moderate tax would be desirable, but difficult to obtain. The next best thing is to allot good glebes. But does not wish the clergy to be wholly independent of the parent state. Explains next the condition and importance of the seminary at Windsor. Has taken care that principles of loyalty be strongly inculcated. Encloses list of students. Makes suggestions regarding the royal charter; representation in the Assembly; personnel of the Board of Governors; and visitational power of the Bishop. Besides a president, and the master of the English school, two professors are necessary. Discusses the subjects of the curriculum, the salaries of professors, and the endowment of the college with lands. Suggests the propriety of alloting lands for the use of his successors in the diocese. Describes the plan for the College edifice that he has drawn: one wing will be built, a superstructure of wood on a solid foundation of stone. 222

Sept. 11. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. [Memoranda only.] Informed the Archbishop of his visit to Shelburne, consecration of the new church, and confirmation of 284 persons, and of his indisposition while visiting Luneuburg, where he confirmed about 30 persons. Is glad of answer respecting participation in consecrating an American bishop—had already decided it was impracticable. Recapitulated substance of letter to Mr. Grenville. Endeavoured to remove objections to exhibitions at the English universities for the local college. 234

Halifax, Oct. 18. To Brooke Watson & Co. Personal and business matters, 234

Halifax, Nov. 5. To Dr. Morice. Visited Shelburne and consecrated the church—the first ever consecrated in British America. Gives population returns of Shelburne as derived from careful investigation; 202 heads of families and 50 bachelors, taxables, and many people too poor to be taxed, in all 1,500 to 2,000 souls professing the Church of England; the total population of the township is about 3,500 whites and 1,162 blacks, of whom 350 are in Birch Town, where Col. Bluck teaches 44 black children. There are 12 schools in the town of

Shelburne, with 257 scholars, but it is supposed there are 770 children in the town. Gives returns for more westerly settlements: Barrington has 160 families (6 adhere to the church), led away by Methodists and New Lights; Argyle has 70 English (20 are Church people), and 40 Acadian families, occasionally visited by a priest; Yarmouth has 150 families (12 are Anglican), mostly Dissenters, who have a meeting-house but no minister. Recommends that these settlements be visited by the missionaries at Shelburne, Messrs. Rowland and Walter, alternately. Visited Lunenburg, and urged the vestry to repair the church and build a parsonage. Attempted to compose some differences between Mr. Money and a part of the congregation. Recommends that a supply of books be sent to Mr. Money. Visited Windsor: describes the College lot, and the new church. Visited Aylesford, Wilmot (the new church is raised, but its covering retarded for want of workmen), and Granville. At Granville found perfect harmony between Mr. Inglis and his congregations, Christ church in the upper district enlarged, the middle church raised, and preparations made for building the lower church. Returned and consecrated St. Mary's Church, Aylesford, on the 10th October. Describes it, "the neatest, best finished church in the province." The rapid and excellent work due to James Morden, whom he recommends to be a member of the Society. Has obtained an exeellent glebe there. Expects that Granville, Aylesford and Wilmot will be made parishes. Recommends the appointment of a schoolmaster for Aylesford. Objects to a deduetion from Mr. Veit's salary. 235

Halifax, Nov. 10. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Is uneasy at diffieulties in proeuring a suecessor to Dr. Breyuton: suspects interferenee from interested persons. In Halifax there are two active parties: the Governor and one or two others wish Mr. Weeks to eontinue in the parsonage; those who send their children to the school of Mr. Wright (who succeeded Mr. Cochran) wish him to remain assistant to Mr. Weeks. The Governor refuses to induct a rector presented by the parish, and many of the people to support one presented by the Governor. Has urged the Vestry to apply again to the Archbishop, but is told they have resolved to let matters stand. "A few warm men led the Vestry; the serious and most numerous part of the congregation is disgusted; and the Dissenting meeting-houses are crowded. 240

Nov. 10. To Brooke Watson & Co. Personal and business matters. 241

Dec. 20. To Mr. Grenville. Sends a second list of students at the Academy. That Institution "flourishes, and is in good reputaton." The work of quarrying stone for the building has begun. Three Popish priests have lately arrived, making ten in the provinee. Though wishing liberty of conscience to all, cannot regard with pleasure this indication of an increase of Popery, which should be regarded with a jealous eye in Protestant States. There is no law to prevent priests and Dissenting ministers from entering the provinee. The dispute over the right of presentation has a bad effeet on the Established Church. 242

Dec. 20. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Encloses letter to Mr. Grenville. Has received the answer expected from the Vestry of Halifax, though couched in kind language. Their explanations are of no force. Has not accepted Dr. Breynton's resignation, that there may not be a lapse. "The parih resembles an Independent congregation much more than a regular parish of the Church of England, and the example may be contagious." Weeks is a mere cypher. The Church declines fast, while Roman Catholics and others are gaining ground. Refers to the death of Dr. Chandler at Elizabeth Town. 244

Halifax, Jan. 1. To Brooke Watson & Co. Personal and business matters. 246

Jan. 5. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Refers to the news of peace with Spain. Also to his correspondence with Mr. Grenville. Acknowledges hints that Mr. Weeks was applying for appointment to the Church of Halifax. The business was kept secret from him. Discusses the subject of presentation to benefices: the evil results of entrusting that to the Governors has been witnessed already in the revolted colonies and are now repeated here. Mr. Weeks is disqualified, but is to be forced into the office because he is a Free Mason. If the people are not to have the right, they would be better pleased to see it vested in the Bishop. Suggests that the Vestry's application to the Archbishop be considered as standing, that a worthy man and good preacher be sent over, and that Mr. Grenville write to the Governor in his behalf, and on the general subject of presentation. Is glad that some allowance can be made to Mrs. Eagleson. Wishes to know whether it is customary in England for the clergy to take out licenses from a new bishop. His health is improving after the fatigue of last summer. 247

Jan. 1. [Memorandum.] Wrote to Lord Dorchester. 251

Halifax, Feb. 22. To Mr. Hubbard. Offers him an appointment to the mission in Cumberland. 251

March 7. To Dr. Morice. From the account he (Dr. Morice) has given. Mr. Jones is unfit for the mission of Cumberland. Has written to Mr. Hubbard, late missionary at New Haven, Connecticut, to remove there. Has written again to Mr. Bostwick about removing to Canada. Mr. Price has gone to his mission of Nashwalk. Refers to various matters: appointment of schoolmasters at Campo Bello, Cumberland, Amherst and Aylesford; application to make Mr. Arnold, of Sussex Vale, a missionary of the Society; application for a clergyman from the settlement at River Miramichi (200 families,—40 professing the Church of England, and some Catholics promising support); rental of part of his glebe by Mr. Money; the need of a clergyman at Niagara; the death of Dr. Lort; a mistake in the last abstract re the population of Shelburne; the contribution of parishes in Aylesford, Wilmot and Granville. Requests that for schoolmasters at Aylesford a man be procured who understands psalmody and chanting the service. Proposes to introduce this custom, and to restore the English psalm-tunes in place of those brought in from New England. 252

Halifax, April 5 To the Archbishop of Canterbury. About 1,000 tons of excellent stone have been collected for the College building. Encloses Articles of Enquiry sent to the clergy in preparation for the triennial visitation. Dr. Walter will remove to Boston: suggests that, as one missionary is sufficient at Shelburne, his salary be transferred to Sissiboo. Conditions at Halifax remain as they were. "Celerity in the execution is essential to the success of any measure here"; therefore has pushed on the academy with speed. Encloses a statement of the expenditure of the Parliamentary grant for building churches; it has been faithfully and frugally applied. The Chief Justice and himself will see that the grant for the college is similarly expended. Describes the excellent character of Chief Justice Strange. 255

April 5. To Lord Grenville. Congratulates him on his elevation to the peerage, and on the peace with Spain. War would have been ruinous for the colonies. Alludes to the progress being made towards building the college. 257

Halifax, June. To Mr. Cumberland. Has just finished the triennial visitation, and is preparing for a tour through the diocese. Encloses a statement of the expenditure for building churches. Governor Parr declines drawing any more money for churches or college. Explains at length the probable causes of this. Describes the progress on the college building. Refers to the profligate life of London, and to the unprecedented complexion of European politics. 258

Halifax, June. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Receives great satisfaction from learning that the dispute about patronage will soon be terminated, and that Mr. Stauser will be rector of Halifax. Will consider the hints given regarding the size of the college, and the methods of tuition. A new plan (described) has been adopted for that building, and work is begun. Relies on further grants to make up the total cost, £3,000. Explains the policy as to public speaking at the academy, to which the Archbishop apprehended too much time was being given. Gives an account of the triennial visitation held the week before Whitsunday, which was attended by the greater part of the clergy. Some do not like restraints. The Methodists are gaining ground at Windsor because of the missionary's mismanagement. A memorial was presented by the clergy urging an increase of their salaries to an equality with those of New Brunswick. On the 26th inst., consecrated the new church at Preston; the people there wish for a missionary. 260

Halifax, June 30. To Lord Grenville. Encloses the plan, and elevation, adopted for the college at Windsor. Describes the proposed building. 264

June 30. To Brooke Watson & Co. Personal and business matters. 266

Dec. 28. To Dr. Morice. Gives a report of the triennial visitation. It will be necessary for the Society to use its injunctions and authority to insure more punctual attendance at visitations. Refers to the consecration of the church at Preston. The people wish a mission, which Mr. Wright, master of the grammar school in Halifax, would be willing to serve. The inhabitants of Nashwalk wish assistance in building. They are dissatisfied with Mr. Price, who has opened a school at Fredericton. Dr. Walter has moved to Boston. Mr. Jones, who is represented as quiet and inoffensive, officiates at Cumberland and Sackville: recommends that he have an allowance. Refers to failure to obtain Mr. Hubbard and Mr. Bostwick. John Dunn, recommended as schoolmaster at Cumberland, has taught there since 1790. Has appointed Thos. Cooke to succeed Wm. Sutherland as schoolmaster at Campbelltown. The mission of Windsor is declining. 266

Halifax, Sept. 30. To Governor Parr. Announces the institution of the Rev. Robert Stanser as rector of St. Paul's Church, Halifax, and requests his induction. 268

Halifax, Oct. 3. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Describes the investiture of Mr. Stanser, who gives satisfaction, with the rectory of Halifax.

The Governor relinquished his claim to the right of presentation; was delayed by illness beyond his intended time of leaving Halifax for the country. Has selected the property of George Deschamps at Windsor to be purchased as the site of the Bishop's residence. Thinks Windsor will be the seat of Government. Intends himself to move to Windsor for three years. Adheres to his plan as to his own property at Aylesford. Mr. Cochran is giving satisfaction in the academy, and preaches at Falmouth and Newport, abandoned by Mr. Ellis because of infirmity. Is glad that Government will allow the money needed for completing the college. Has consecrated churches at Preston, the upper district of Granville, Annapolis, and Digby; and held confirmations at Halifax, Cornwallis, the middle district of Granville, Annapolis and Digby, confirming 355 persons. Has received letters from Mr. Toosey respecting his salary; and from Mr. Macdonell re his proposal to divide the Romish Bishopric of Quebec. Lord Dorchester, who has gone to England is a worthy man but much attached to the Canadians. Has given letters of introduction to Dr. Brown, the Presbyterian minister of Halifax, who has gone to London to seek a salary from the Treasury. Regards Brown with favour, but sees difficulties in the claim of right made by him: thinks allowing a salary as an act of benevolence to an individual different from granting money to meeting-houses; but fears an allowance from the Treasury may create a troublesome precedent. 269

Halifax, Oct. 15. To Mr. Cumberland. Is sending this letter by Chief Justice Strange, who is going to England on family business. Gov. Parr's refusal to draw for money to build churches causes inconvenience: Mr. Turner has made advances for the middle and lower districts of Granville; the churches at Digby and Manchester are finished, but the last payments cannot be obtained. Gov. Parr is allowing his private chagrin to injure public business: he thinks he has an absolute right to draw for the money in the manner he chooses. Suggests that a soothing letter from Cumberland might remove the embarrassment. The cellar-storey of the College is raised. Is experiencing trouble with the building. 273

Halifax, Oct. 17. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Chief Justice Strange, who carries this letter, is a man of high character and ability; he will be able to give information concerning the province. It would be desirable to obtain the College charter, and provide one or two professors. Finds it difficult to procure a house in Windsor, though his health and the welfare of diocese and college demand his removal thither. There are difficulties also in purchasing Mr. Deschamp's land. Mr. Stanser is satisfactorily settled at Halifax. Is about to ordain to Deacon's orders Mr. Frederick Dibble, son of a former missionary in Connecticut, who has been teaching Indian boys in New Brunswick. States the condition of the mission of Windsor, where Mr. Ellis alleges bad health for his lack of vigor. Mr. Cochran of the academy is doing remarkably good work at Newport and Falmouth. Intends to propose that Mr. Ellis, who spoke of resigning, allow Mr. Cochran part of his salary to officiate on Sundays. 274

Correspondence of Bishop Inglis, 1791-1799.

Halifax, Nov. 9. To Dr. Morice. Reports the consecration of churches, in various missions visited; number of persons confirmed, etc.; Mr Stanser's induction as rector of St. Paul's, Halifax. Encloses memorial from the Germans in Montreal, re appointment of rector: thinks case peculiar and deserving of attention. Has received a letter from Govr Fanning, re urgent need of clergy for the Island of St. John; arrival of many hundreds of emigrants from the Highlands of Scotland mostly Roman Catholics. Details re mission at Cumberland, etc. 1

Halifax, Nov. 21. State of the Mission of Windsor. Report of the bishop on the charges made against the resident missionary whose conduct is very unsatisfactory. Wishes to submit case to Archbishop of Canterbury before taking action.

Halifax, Nov. 26. Encloses report of the Windsor mission. This will give His Grace an idea of the trouble these missions occasion. From one cause or another every mission in Nova Scotia demands an equal amount of attention. Urges grants from Government in aid of church building at Windsor, Cornwallis, Horton and Amherst. Governor Parr's death; supposes successor will be military man, which he deprecates. 13

Halifax, Nov. 29. To Mr Cumberland. Re money allotted for the building of churches; Govr Parr's death; progress of building operations on the college at Windsor. 14

1792. March 20. To Dr Morice. Intends to hold a Visitation in New Brunswick in the coming summer. Laments "backwardness of people to contribute towards the support of their Clergy." Attributes it to poverty, indifference and influence of sectaries. Insists on people's contributing to support of missionaries, when applied for. 15

Halifax, March 20. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Enclosing the Charge delivered to the clergy the previous June. Anxious to hear who is to be the next Governor. Is entirely satisfied with Mr. Stanser (rector of St. Paul's): Govr Parr's action in relation to deputy chaplaincies. Reports progress of college-building: desirability of charter. Arrival of Lt. Govr Simcoe, of Upper Canada. Question of a bishop for Canada; suggestions as to the fitness of certain persons mentioned. Matters still unsatisfactory at Windsor. 16

Halifax, April 15. To Dr Morice. Re State of the mission of Cumberland "where an "active Clergyman is greatly wanted." Particulars re glebe. Schoolmaster wanted on road between Halifax and Windsor. Question of Mr Stanser's right to emoluments of Deputy Chaplaincies at Halifax. Necessity of regulations for chaplains for garrisons, regiments and ships of war. 19

April 19. To Mr Toosey. [Extract.] Re his intention of going to England in order to solicit the appointment of Bishop of Canada. Strongly advises him to wait till they hear from England on the subject of a Bishop for Canada. 21

May 24. To Brooke Watson & Co. Re personal business matters, etc. 22

May 25. To Dr Morice. In reply to letter of March last: a school house at Aylesford is begun; has directed Mr. Jones, who has gone to Miramichi, to insist on security for his salary, etc., and to draw for £20 from the Society [for the Propagation of the Gospel]. Doubts the expediency of leaving Windsor entirely in the hands of Mr. Ellis, because of the encroachments of Methodists, and the evil effects of the popular apathy. Has assigned salary of £40 to Mr. Cochran, who has had much success at Newport and Falmouth. Refers to intended visit to New Brunswick, and to sending to Bishops in England of copies of charge to clergy. 23

June 25. To D[r] Morice. Is about to set out for New Brunswick. Has requested recommendations for a schoolmaster at Guysborough; refers to similar appointments at Parrsborough and Amherst. Has not heard recently about school master at Tracadie. Has made a will, granting certain conditional bequests to the S.P.G. in trust for his successors, and another for the missionary in Aylesford. Is negotiating for purchase of land near Windsor, to be the residence of his successors, where for various reasons the bishops of that diocese should reside. 25

July 1. To B. Watson, Esq., & Co. Re business and personal matters. 26

June 25. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Account of Mr. Wentworth's appointment to this Government received with universal satisfaction. The instructions re a charter for the Seminary at Windsor must give satisfaction: they will place it on a more respectable footing than any hitherto erected in North America. Doubts suggested as to authority to confer degrees in the Liberal Arts. The importance of such authority. The need of a professor of Natural Philosophy and Mathematics. Hopes that the building of the College, now suspended, will soon be resumed. The progress of the work. Being informed of Mr. Toosey's intention to embark for England to seek appointment as Bishop of Canada, had written advising the suspension of the voyage, but apprehends that the letter did not reach him before his embarkation. 26

July 1. To Brooke Watson, Esq., & Co. Has purchased land at Windsor, to be appropriated to a public use by the S.P.G. Has arranged to have Mr. Dight take up the mortgage on the land. Gives instructions in this regard. 28

June 27. To Mr. Dight. Re personal matters. Also re taking up of mortgage on land purchased. 28

Halifax, Oct. 15. To Dr. Morice. Gives an account of his visitation of many parts of the Diocese, including most of the new settlements in New Brunswick. Contrary to the orders of Governor Carleton, who is well disposed to promote the Church of England, reservations for glebes in New Brunswick have been improperly made. Has drawn up a memorial to Gov. Carleton on the subject. Mr. Price, of St. Mary's Parish near Fredericton, who is attentive and diligent, has been moved to the principal settlement therein, on the Nashwalk. Incloses a printed report of his tour back to St. John. At the request of the Society, explains the circumstances of appropriations for building parsonage houses at Gagetown and Kingston, and reports on the teacher at Gagetown. In the neighbourhood of Kingston churches have been erected at Belleisle and Oak Point. Explains conditions in Sussex parish, and recommends that it be erected into a Mission, and that Mr. Arnold be appointed to it. Recommends an appropriation to the school teacher of Sussex Vale. The people can spare only a little farm produce—as is the case in almost all the new settlements. At visitation of the city of St. John all the clergy of the Province attended. Mr. Jones has been fixed at Miramichi, where the people have agreed to the terms proposed. Tracts are desired. Has directed the clergy to draw up a memorial to the Governor on the subject of glebes. Has admitted Mr. Dibblee to Priest's Orders: describes his parishes—Woodstock, Northampton, Prince William, Queensborough. The condition of the Indians. Has appointed Mr. Berry schoolmaster at St. Andrews: makes suggestions re schoolmaster at Campo Bello. Is much pleased with the progress, upon the whole, in New Brunswick. Gives a summary account of proceedings in Nova Scotia, to be described in more detail later. The truth has now come to light re the murder by the Rebels in 1776 of Mr. Avery, the Society's missionary at Rye. 29

Halifax, Nov. 25. To Dr. Morice. Supplementary to his letter of October 15th, gives an account of conditions in Nova Scotia. Churches are to be built in Clement, Newport, and, as a result of Mr. Cochran's visitation, probably in Rawdon and Douglas townships. Incloses a petition from inhabitants of Fanningsborough for a missionary and schoolmaster; also a letter re deplorable state of inhabitants at Sheet Harbour and along the sea coast, for want of ordinances of religion. Importance of the mission of Lunenburgh, where the church has been repaired. A schoolmaster is desired at Stormont in Country Harbour. Recommends that a new mission be opened at Preston in preference to Sissiboo: Preston and adjacent townships have been erected into the Parish of St. John, and a new road has been opened by the extraordinary exertion of Gov. Wentworth. It is probable that there are as many people now in these British Colonies, desiring the Society's assistance, as in North America before the Revolt, although the benefactions are reduced. Gives statistics. The great need of funds and capable men. Mr. Pigeon, who has resigned his commission as Lieutenant of the 65th Regiment, desires admission to Holy Orders and appointment to the mission of Cumberland. Observations on this subject. Has appointed Patrick Patton schoolmaster at Guysborough. Thom. Brown Spriggs has abandoned station of schoolmaster at Tracady. 37

Nov. 26. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Some personal remarks. Refers to letters to Dr. Morice, making observations on need of missionaries and funds, and on action taken re glebes. Recommends that a Doctor's Degree be conferred on Mr. Cook, Missionary at Fredericton and Commissary in New Brunswick. Conditions in the Academy at Windsor. The need of a Professor of Mathematics and Natural Philosophy. There are two students from Upper Canada. The building is to be completed with wood as competent mason cannot be obtained in Maritime provinces. Mr. Cochran, the President a competent man, desires his name, as President, inserted in the Charter. Does not consider it advisable to go to Canada: conditions there are described. Refers to Mr. Toosey's visit to England, seeking appointment as bishop of Canada. 41

Halifax, Nov. 30. To Brooke Watson, Esq., & Company. Business matters. 45

BISHOP INGLIS' NOTES OF HIS CORRESPONDENCE.

Nov. 30. Wrote to Mr. Cumberland re expenditure of money for building churches. 45

1793. March. To Governors Fanning, Clarke and Simcoe, re use of Collects for Lieut. Governor and Council, and for the Legislature during its session. 45

March 20. To Dr. Morice re Mr. Pigeon, who is recommended as missionary at Cumberland. Had recommended appointment of a schoolmaster at Shelburne. Churches are to be erected and at Clement and at Franklin, near Barrington. To encounter the spirit of wild enthusiasm among the Methodists had instituted a Lending Library. Requested more books, particularly tracts against the mad proceedings in France, which were favoured by a few wrong-headed people here. 46

April 30. To Dr. Morice in answer to his letter of Jan. 26th. Expressed satisfaction at measures adopted by the Society in New Brunswick but surprise at the appointment of a missionary to Barrington. Observations thereon: most of the people at Barrington were averse from the Church of England. Of the 360 families in the place, only 38 were church people. Schoolmaster more useful than clergyman. Answers the Doctor's queries. 46

June 4. To Dr. Morice. Re appointments of Messrs. Willoughby Ormond and Pigeon, and distribution of prayer books. 47

June 4. To Brooke Watson & Company. Re business matters. 47

June 15. To B. Watson & Company. Re business matters. 47

End of notes.

Halifax, June 28. To Lord Grenville. Incloses a sermon, preached before the Legislature when accounts received that war with France was likely to take place: having been circulated by the Members, it may have been of some service. Was happy to testify his sentiments concerning our most gracious and amiable sovereign, and his able and upright ministry. Describes conditions in the Seminary: the want of professors and a charter. Proposal of exhibitions for students from the seminary to the English universities most judicious: suggests that part of the money be assigned to scholarships in the seminary 48

Halifax, July 3. To Brooke Watson & Company. Re personal and business matters. 49

July 5. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Mr. Cochran is well qualified to be President of the College; if not appointed, his salary should be increased. Salary of President should be £400 a year. The proposal of exhibitions to the English universities judicious: explains how it could be improved by devoting part to scholarships in the Seminary. The reason is the poverty of the people. The good work of the Seminary in preparing young men for Holy Orders. The building operations are progressing. Refers to departure of Messrs. Willoughby and Ormond to their missions; they had, probably by mistake, obtained the licence of the Bishop of London, as was formerly customary. Refers also to intended ordination of Mr. Pidgeon, summer's tour, &c. 49

July 4. [Memorandum] Wrote to Dr. Morice re appointment of Messrs. Willoughby and Ormond, assignment of Government allowances, ordination of Mr. Pidgeon, institution of Mr. Weeks at Preston, &c. 52

Jan. 20. To Dr. Morice. A parsonage-house has been purchased at Gagetown. Land purchased at Windsor for the Bishop's residence has been legally secured. By the assistance of Mr. Blowers, Attorney-General, the legal encumbrances were removed. Has conveyed the land to the S.P.G. A description of it is given. Refers to non-arrival of prayer-books, inability to estimate probability of Mr. Ormond's success, and situation of suit re glebe at Digby. 53

Feb. 8. [Memorandum] Duplicate of above sent, and the Hon. S. S. Blowers recommended to be Member of the Society. 55

Jan. 20. To Brooke Watson, Esq., & Co. Re business matters. 55

Feb. 8. [Memorandum] Wrote to Archbishop of Canterbury, re building operations on the College, apprehension of an American war, and doubt as to time of holding Visitation, because of public troubles. 56

Jan. 25. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Ship Rashleigh detained at Falmouth by stress of weather; a professor for Seminary was on board. This removes apprehension that Government would do nothing further for the Seminary. Industry of the province has been checked by removal of 1200 blacks to Sierra Leone, and of the whale fishers from Halifax to New Haven, and by loss of ships in the war. Nothing done on College building last summer because of apprehension of French invasion: all the men were under arms, and prices doubled. Hopes to remove to Windsor next summer. 56

May 3. [Memorandum] Wrote to the Archbishop of Canterbury. Preparations for erecting College: the last £1000 granted by Parliament would be required. Would hold Triennial Visitation at Halifax 18th June. April 25th was appointed for a General Fast. Had just heard from Bishop Mountain, who was struck with his difficulties, but not discouraged. Accounts of state of Halifax as given in the Parliamentary debate were exaggerated. Make some statements re military situation. Mr. Ormond has gone to England. 58

3,500 men were the most that could be got to defend Halifax; that there were not 9.000 males from 16 to 60 in the whole province; that trade was much depressed owing to removal of blacks and the fishermen of Dartmouth and the war; that in 1793 the militia of Halifax numbered upwards of 700; in 1794, the number but little exceeded 400.

May 3. [Memorandum] Wrote to Dr. Morice re Mr. Ormond. 59

June 4. [Memorandum] Wrote to Dr. Morice by Mr. Ormond. 59

June 28 To Dr. Morice. No reply received to letters re purchase of land at Windsor for Bishop's residence. Triennial Visitation is just ended: besides other business, attention was given to the preparation of a memorial to Lieut. Gov. Wentworth re glebes, and to a scheme for the relief of clergymen's widows and orphans. Purposes in a few days to set out on usual summer tour. Refers to various matters in connection with schoolmasters. Will fix Mr. Pidgeon at Newport, with charge of Rawdon and Douglas also. The library for Mr. Ormond will be given to Mr. Pidgeon. Mr. Ormond was not calculated for this country. Is sending copies of his sermon at the General Fast in April. 59

[Memorandum] Wrote also for books, and re Government allowance to Mr. Pidgeon. 61

June 28. [Memorandum] Wrote to the Archbishop of Canterbury that King's College was raised; that Mr. Miller had arrived, but was not qualified to be Professor of Mathematics. 61

Halifax, July 1. To Brooke Watson, Esq., & Co. Re business and personal matters. Is concerned to learn that the ship Rashleigh has been captured. 62

Halifax, Nov. 12. To Brooke Watson & Co. Re business and personal matttrs.. Requests forwarding of bond of Jonathan Deane, among papers re losses in American Rebellion: there is some hope of recovering part. 65

Halifax, Nov. 12. To Dr. Morice. New church at Parrsborough consecrated. Mr. Willoughby has removed from Cumberland to Douglas; observations thereon. Mr. Lloyd has been placed at Chester, where the people, though poor are taking steps to erect a church and parsonage. Suggests that the next missionary be appointed to Westmorland and Cumberland. Recommends John Millidge, student at the Seminary in Windsor to be missionary at Sissiboo. 63

Halifax, Dec. 8. To Brooke Watson & Co. Re business matters. 66

Halifax, Dec. 27. To Dr. Morice. Gives particulars supplementary to those in letter of Nov. 12. The abstracts for 1794, and some books and tracts have arrived and been distributed. Describes conditions at Chester: believes the people, though poor, will do everything in their power; Mr. Lloyd has reclaimed many from the Methodists and New Lights. Wishes Mr. Willoughby to be continued at Douglas. Mr. Pidgeon is doing well at Newport and Rawdon. 66

1794 (sic.) Jan. 1. To Brooke Watson, Esq., & Company. Re business matters. 67

1795. Jan. 8. [To the same.] Re business matters. 68

Jan. 15. [To the same.] Re business matters. 68

1794. Dec. 27. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Re the arrival of Mr. Lloyd, his appointment to Chester. and the conditions there. If church is built at Chester, it will be the seventeenth since the Bishop's arrival, all of them in places where there was no church before. Incloses copy of letter to the Duke of Portland from the Governors of the Seminary at Windsor giving a statement of disbursements, and the condition of the edifice. 68

1795. Halifax, Jan. 10. To the Bishop of Lincoln. Incloses a copy of letter to the Duke of Portland re the Seminary, and account of disbursements from the Government grant thereto. Returns thanks for being mentioned in a sermon before the Society in 1792. Gives some particulars relative to the Seminary and to religion: the low state of literature at his arrival in 1787—there was not even a good grammar school in the whole province; the opening of an academy at Windsor in 1788; the work it has done, in spite of many difficulties about 150 youths of Nova Scotia and from New Brunswick and Canada have been admitted. Many of these have left owing to want of professors; the importance of the inculcation of good principles, as was seen in the American Rebellion; the efficacy of the College of Windsor for this purpose; the consequence of Nova Scotia to England; the discouraging aspect of ecclesiastical affairs in 1787; the progress since made in building churches.—On his arrival in 1787 there was but one decently finished church in the province, at Halifax. The shells of two others had been raised but not finished. The total number erected and finished since his arrival is nineteen. Expresses thanks for the part taken by the Bishop of Lincoln in promoting Dr. Mountain to the Bishopric of Canada. 69

Halifax, Jan. 26. [Memorandum.] Wrote to the Archbishop of Canterbury re good effects of having fixed a rector in St. Pauls Church, Halifax; re-organisation of an Agricultural Society, formed here in 1789; and number of churches erected or finished since 1787, of which a statement is inclosed. 73

March 25. To Dr. Morice. Announces the death of the Rev. Mr. Lloyd, of Chester, while on a snow-shoe journey: his good work: his death a great loss. The Rev. Mr. Rowland, of Shelburne, also has died; his son was appointed curate before his death. In accordance with the request of the officials of Shelburne, heartily recommends the appointment of the younger Mr. Rowland to be their missionary. In reply to letters of November and January, comments on applications of Messrs. Cochran, Weeks and Ellis, therein announced. Is sorry for the Society's embarrassment, originating from Mr. Willoughby's indisposition at Cumberland, on which some remarks are made, and a failure of funds. Has sent for Mr. Willoughy to confer about his removal to Windsor. 74

March 26. To Brooke Watson & Company. Re business matters. 78

June 18. [Memorandum] Wrote to Dr. Morice re deaths of Messrs. Cooke and Ellis; his own intended departure for New Brunswick; conditions at Windsor, where Mr. Willoughby officiated; and applications for missionaries from inhabitants of Antigonish, alias Dorchester, New Dublin Township, and La Have. 79

June 20. [Memorandum] Wrote to Mr. Cumberland re a business matter. 79

June 23. To the Bishop of Lincoln, Dr. Prettyman. In reply to a letter of March 31st, expresses thanks for attention to the Seminary. The sum requested to finish it has been granted. The importance of the Seminary, the advantages of its location, the service it has already rendered the Church, and the character of the building. Gives thanks for the receipt of his Lordship's excellent and timely charge. 79

June 28. To Brooke Watson, Esq., & Company. Re business matters. 81

Halifax, July 3. To Brooke Watson, Esq., & Company. Re business and personal matters. 82

July 3. To the Archbishop of Canterbury [Extract]. Expresses his sentiments re Mr. Cochran's claim to be President of the Seminary. When a Charter is granted, would prefer a duly qualified President from England; if such cannot be procured, Mr. Cochran, a man of abilities, must be appointed. 82

Halifax, July 1. To Brooke Watson, Esq., & Company. Re business matters. 83

July 18. To Brooke Watson, Esq., & Company. Re business matters. 84

Halifax, Aug. 1. To Brooke Watson, Esq., & Company. Re business matters. Wishes bond of Jonathan Dean to be sent to himself. 84

July 8. [Memorandum] Wrote to B. Watson: asked whether bonds due in America were payable by the last treaty; informed him of new Iron Company at Sissiboo. 85

July 16. [Memorandum] Wrote to Dr. Morice re injury that would be done to the Church by rejoining Newport to Windsor. 85

July 20. [Memorandum] Wrote to the Archbishop of Canterbury on the same subject as last, and on that of the college. 85

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 29b

Clermont, Sept. 3. To Dr. Morice. Has been obliged to move to Clermont because of his health. Desired to remove to Windsor but no house available. Has recommended Mr. Pidgeon to investigate certain charges against Mr. Jones of the new parish of Norton. Recommends that a mission be opened at Norton to secure the glebe. Mr. Wiswall, missionary at Aylesford and Wilmot, wishes to give up Aylesford, because of the indifference of the inhabitants: reasons for opposing this proposal. Governor to appoint Mr. Gray to Newport. Bishop is much opposed to re-uniting Newport and Windsor. Refers to need of missionaries at various places, and means of supplying them. 86

Clermont, Oct. 28. To Messrs. Watson & Co. Re personal and business matters. 88

Clermont, Nov. 14. To Dr. Morice. In reply to letter of June. Frequent change of schoolmasters inconvenient, but unavoidable: the high wages, due to the war, attract them to other pursuits. Mr. John Millidge, ordained priest, has returned to Cumberland and Westmoreland. Mr. Gray, ordained deacon, who was proposed for Newport, Rawdon and Douglas, has been appointed King's Chaplain to some 500 free negroes, known as Maroons, settled at Preston, who had been sent last summer from Jamaica, where they raised an insurrection; suggests that he be made the Society's missionary at Preston. Mr. Charles Weeks wishes to be missionary at Newport, Rawdon and Douglas: the need of a missionary there. Refers to school matters at Country Harbour and at Onslow. Explains the need of missionaries at Yarmouth, Sissiboo (now Weymouth), and Clements. Churches have been erected at Clements, but, as at Wilmot, no workmen could be got to make pews. 89

Clermont, Dec. 7. To Gov. Carleton [Extract.] Expresses pleasure and approval of the Duke of Portland's observations re Government allowance for the Rev. Mr. Arnold and the Rev. Mr. Dibblee. Comments on the excellence of the idea in general, and on the particular necessities of these two clergymen. 92

Clermont, Dec. 12. To Brooke Watson & Co. Re personal and business matters. If deemed advisable, his bonds and mortgages are to be sent out to be presented to the commissioners for liquidating British debts due from Americans. 93

Clermont, Jan. 1. To Brooke Watson & Co. Re business matters. 94

Clermont, Jan. 10. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Re method of making reports. Several missionaries' salaries in arrears. They fear of course with grounds that Government has not provided for them. Great increase in general prices makes living difficult under best of circumstances. Has improved in health since removal from Halifax, although infirmities of age remain. Requests opinion as to propriety of applying for the assistance of a Commissary. Halifax was not an eligible situation for a Bishop. Until peace be restored, nothing further to be expected from the Government towards the Seminary. Had intended to send his son to Oxford, but is now very reluctant to part with him, as he is the comfort and stay of his old age. Infidel writing of Thomas Paine and others found their way into the Diocese. 94

Clermont, Feb. 1. To Simon Baxter. In reply to letter of Oct. 22 which repeated complaints against Mr. Jones and stated that he (Baxter) had, taking advantage of a legal technicality, withdrawn his grant of a glebe, but would give another if the Gospel should flourish. Remonstrates strongly reminding him of Achan and Ananias. Mr. Jones had been acquitted of the charges after impartial inquiry. However, Mr. Jones will be removed, and no mission established at Norton until a church is built and the glebe granted. 96

Clermont, Feb. 21. To Brooke Watson & Company. Re personal and business matters: liquidation of British debts due from Americans, &c. 99

Clermont, Feb. 28. To John Macolla and John Bond of Rawdon, and James Campbell and Lewis Ettinger of Douglas. The Society has withdrawn its missionary (stationed at Windsor) from Falmouth, and has united Newport and Windsor; Rawdon and Douglas will, therefore constitute one mission. It remains that the Society's conditions (explained) be complied with. 100

March 14. To Dr. Morice. Acquiesces in Society's resolution to re-unite Newport to Windsor. Discusses Right of Presentation claimed by Governor. Is of opinion that the grant by Government of an allowance in aid of missions does not give Governor right to present, as Government grant is made to Society to assist it in its work, and the disposal of the grant should be entirely with the Society. There has been no direct insistence on the right, and the Bishop has avoided discussion on the subject. A circumstance contributing to the Governor's view of the right is that the Government allowance has been paid in Nova Scotia through the Governor. In New Brunswick, payments of allowances have been made in London to agents of the different missionaries. On Governor's legal right to present, the law is not quite clear. It simply requests him to induct a minister into a parish that shall make presentation of him. Bishop is of opinion that it is most advisable to let the Presentation remain where custom has fixed it—in the Governor; especially in these times of Democratic rage and delusion. Encloses several applications. (1) from inhabitants of Clements for a missionary. These are very worthy people but as they have occasional service, their application may be deferred for the moment. Sissiboo, now called Weymouth is the first place that should be supplied. (2) from Vestry and Church Wardens of Yarmouth for a clergyman, which he recommends. Mention is made of French settlements and between 600 and 800 persons, young and old, unbaptized at Weymouth, Yarmouth and Argyle. (3) Memorial from Prince William and Queensbury in New Brunswick. Believes they will fulfil any engagement they may enter into. (4) Memorial from Onslow for a schoolmaster. Some details of diocesan business. 101

April 1 [Memoranda.] Wrote to Dr. Moriee re notice of a reversionary legacy to the first Protestant Bishop in British America; also recommending school appointments at Kingston and Sussex Vale. 104

Wrote to Henry Parsons re a personal matter; to Dr. Gaskin, giving a contribution to the S.P.C.K.; and to Mr. Lyttleton re appointment of a teacher for the Blacks at Fredericton. 104

April 24. To Sir J. Wentworth. Recommends the proclamation of a General Fast, in accordance with the royal example in England. 104

May 30. [Memorandum]. Wrote to Dr. Morice re news that two clergymen were coming from England; character of the people in the colony—fickle in their attachments and enmities—religious principles have a strong hold on them; in order to have anything done, it is necessary to soothe, adjust and to show firmness alternately; assignments of various clergymen, &c. 105

Clermont, July 1. To Brooke Watson & Company. Re business and personal matters. 106

July 28. [Memorandum.] Sent duplicate of last. 106

Clermont. July 10. To Mr. Cossit. Serious charges have been made against Cossit by his parishioners in Cape Breton. As the Episcopal jurisdiction covers the Maritime provinces and Newfoundland the Bishop must take cognizance of the charges. They are: promotion of strife among the inhabitants; defiant disregard of the Ordinance specifying mode of selecting Church Wardens and vestrymen; by an improper appointment of a warden giving occasion to a violent altercation in the Church; and appointing as clerk a man of grossly immoral character. Urges him to take all necessary steps to retrieve his position, and regain confidence of community. 106

Clermont. July 10. To Mr. Matthews. In reply to letter of June 9th re Cossit. Will institute a scrutiny, if Cossit persists in his conduct. Has written him. Urges delay, and an endeavour to reclaim Cossit. 108

Clermont. July 21. To Dr. Morice. Mr. Norris has arrived and been fixed at Chester. Is surprised that Messrs. Willoughby and Norris, converts from the Church of Rome, have not brought their letters of Orders. Is satisfied with the character of the diocesan clergy, as seen in the Visitation lately held. The severity of the winter and spring and great heat in summer. Discusses the questions of the improvement of glebes, and their exchange or sale, which he is advised by the ablest lawyers cannot be done without an Act of Parliament, which he would be unwilling to apply for, as giving the Assembly a chance of intermeddling with glebes. In reply to letter of March 20th, refers to appointments of Messrs. Tupper, Green, and C. Weeks. The importance of school appointments. Proposal to employ candidates for Holy Orders as schoolmasters is, in general, good. Defends himself against the suspicion (implied, he thinks, in a passage quoted) that in appointing missionaries he acted contrary to the Canons and Rubrics: explains the practice he has followed in ordinations and appointments. Is apprehensive of trouble in Cape Breton over Mr. Cossit and in New Brunswick (of similar character). 109

Clermont. July 22. To William Moore Smith. Has seen his (Smith's) advertisement that he was appointed General Agent for assisting British creditors before the commissioners in the United States. Accordingly briefly states his case: was Rector of Trinity Church in New York City; lost his property by confiscation; had bonds and mortgages for land sold before the troubles began; could not obtain allowance for these from the Commissioners in England for compensation of losses. Mentions the following personal details: he was a native of Europe: before the evacuation of New York in 1783, he went to England, where he remained till he was promoted to the See of Nova Scotia in 1787 when it was erected into a diocese. 114

Clermont. Aug. 25. To the Rt. Hon. Brooke Watson, Lord Mayor of London. Personal. 115

Clermont. Sept. 9. To B. Watson & Co. Has received the bonds for debts due him in the United States. Requests that the mortgages and certain other papers be forwarded. Refers to other business matters. 116

Clermont. Sept. 12. To William Moore Smith. Will send the bonds for the debts due him in the United States, an affidavit attested before Col. Th. Barclay (Speaker of the Assembly, and a Commissioner for settling the Boundary between New Brunswick and New England), and other papers. Comments on the case, and requests opinion as to probable outcome. 117

Clermont, Oct. 10. To a Committee of the Church at Windsor. In reply to a letter which stated that Mr. Willoughby had, without notice, gone to New Brunswick, and that Mr. Cochran had declined officiating in his absence without authority. Their expectation that notice be given when service is to be suspended is reasonable. Believes Mr. Willoughby will return, but authorises Mr. Cochran, whose attitude was proper, to officiate till then. Differs in opinion that the Committee is to be considered as Church Wardens. Urges that this irregularity at Windsor be removed. 119

Clermont, Nov. 15. To Dr. Morice. Arrival of the Rev. Mr. King, who has been assigned to Rawdon and Douglas. Refers to a list of glebes sent to the Society by Mr. Morris: he was mistaken as to there being glebes at Yarmouth and several other places. Is disposed to serve Mr. Willoughby, recommended for a mission in New Brunswick, when a vacancy offers: Willoughby likes his present place, but not the people; the want of church wardens and vestry makes difficulty. Mr. Norris well satisfied at Chester. Has recently married. Mr. Gray ordained priest and assigned to Preston; Mr. James Bisset ordained and given an assignment at the request of the trustees of the Academy at Fredericton, who found it necessary to annex the duties of Indian Missionary to the appointment of their President. Mr. Tupper has resigned the school at Aylesford. Comments on conditions at Clements and Wilmot. Is thankful for the progress of the diocese during the ten years of his episcopate; when he went to Halifax there were only 4 churches in the province; of these the one in Halifax was the only one finished. These are now completed and some of them enlarged, and 17 new churches have been erected. In 1788 there were 483 communicants in diocese. The last returns give 650, which is much below the mark. In 1788 there were 11 missionaries. At the time of writing there were 15. Refers to some personal matters. 120

Nov. 15. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Personal matters. Comments on the ravages of the French, "the most sanguinary, unprincipled, and impious men, or rather monsters, that ever disgraced humanity"; who "are undoubtedly to be considered as a scourge in the hands of God." 124

Clermont, Dec. 4. To B. Watson & Co. An order for articles for personal use. 126

1798. Clermont, Jan. 1. To B. Watson & Co. Re personal and business matters. 126

Clermont, March 1. To Brooke Watson & Co. Re personal and business matters. 127

Clermont, March 1. To Dr. Morice. Explains dispute between Mr. Cossit, Missionary at Sydney, Cape Breton, and his parishioners: last June Mr. Matthews, President of His Majesty's Council at Cape Breton, complained of Cossit. Wrote to Matthews and Cossit on the subject. Cossit denied the charges, and offered evidence to invalidate them. It appears that Cossit and Matthews are exasperated against each other, and that Cossit was imprudent, though private letters from reliable sources satisfied the bishop that Cossit was diligent in the discharge of his duty as a clergyman, and that his moral character was exemplary and unblemished. Requests that Cossit be given redress should Matthews prevent his receiving the Government allowance. Such altercations are frequent. Mr. Fox now teaches at Sydney. Mr. Baxter, who had recalled his grant of a glebe in Norton, has restored it: suggests that Mr. Jones be appointed missionary at Norton and Bellisle. Mr. Beardsley has declined the mission of Queensberry and Prince William. Will investigate charges against Mr. Price at Triennial Visitation of New Brunswick next summer. Recommends the appointment of Mr. Charles Weeks, who now has the Maroon school, to be itinerant missionary in Eastern Nova Scotia. Recommends the request of Mr. Inglis for a grant towards erecting a parsonage aud improving the glebe at Granville. [Note appended: "The preceding letter much altered and abridged and dated March 12, 1798 was transcribed. Having received packets from Messrs. Matthews and Cossit, I was obliged to write it over again, and adapt it to the intelligence from Cape Breton."....] 127

Clermont, March 5. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Personal inquiries. The severe winter has interrupted communications with England. Refers to request of January 10, 1797. for assistance of a Commissary; an additional reason was, that it had been hinted that if Prince Edward's Chaplain was appointed, the salary could be procured: to get out of this disagreeable situation, had consulted the Archbishop. Comments at some length on the reuniting of Newport to Windsor, its disadvantages, and the probable motives which influenced the Society's action. Refers briefly to the implication of disregard of ecclesiastic rules with respect to ordination and institutions. 131

Clermont, March 12. To Mr. Matthews. [Note: "This was not sent."] Has received a letter from the Rev. Mr. Cossit, inclosing a notice from Matthews that, because of omission to perform divine service in the parish church at Sydney, he (Matthews) will sign no more certificates for the Government allowance. Officiating in a private house during inclement weather is normal throughout the province. Mr. Cossit states that he applied for the Council room, but received no reply. Mr. Cossit's defence made a censure of him improper. Advises that the matter be dropped. 133

Clermont, March 12. To Mr. Cossit. [Note: 'This was not sent."] In answer to letter of January 24th: advises a conciliating and prudent conduct, in order to assist efforts to soften things with Matthews. 134

March 16. To Mr. Matthews. In reply to a letter of Feb. 15th. Explains at length his conduct in the Cossit affair. As there were no charges of immorality, and it was evident that the people were much exasperated against each other, his duty was to act as peacemaker. It is not easy to judge re Cossit's removal across the river, and officiating in a private house. The most aggravated charge is re Cossit's conduct towards Mr. Murray on his death-bed; would desire, however, to have it substantiated on oath before proceeding further. Explains that Cossit is the duly appointed parish minister, and can obtain the Government allowance without a certificate. Difficulty of sending a clergyman to investigate. Once more urges peace, and non-interference with the allowance. Will send proper admonishments to Cossit. 135

March 20. To Mr. Cossit. Acknowledges letter of Jan. 24 and enclosures therein. Is surprised at disavowal of any knowledge of the violent party spirit which manifestly exists in Cape Breton. It exists beyond doubt and is disgraceful to individuals, and ruinous to the settlement. Matthews has written re his refusal to sign certificate for the Government allowance: some of his reasons call for attention: that the church building is neglected because no parish officers are chosen, that as there are stoves service could be held in the church. As in last letter, urges reconcilation. Admonishes Cossit to have church wardens and a vestry elected, not to intermeddle in the choice of vestrymen, and to avoid party. Inquiries as to attendance at death-bed of Mr. Murray, formerly Provost Marshal, and as to divine service at last Christmas. 140

Clermont, May 9. To Mr. Smith. Is forwarding documents re claims against American citizens. Some personal remarks. 144

Clermont, June 22. To Dr. Morice. Refers to school charges and appointments at Annapolis, Wilmot, Aylesford, Campbell Town (Sheet Harbour), St. Margaret's Bay. Hopes that the appointment of Lieut General Ogilvie to the civil and military command of Cape Breton will have a good effect on the Cossit trouble. The inhabitants of the Province have followed the example of England in contributing liberally to the assistance of Government. Refers to various matters of church business. 144

Clermont, June 22. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. The inhabitants of Nova Scotia have shown laudable liberality in contributing to the assistance of the Government. He gave £100 and has directed his agent in London to give the same sum annually so long as the war lasts. A subscription in Halifax raised £3000 in 2 or 3 days. Subscriptions are being opened in all the counties, and all classes are contributing generously. Before the subscriptions were opened, the Royal Nova Scotia regiment remitted part of their pay as a contribution to the Government. At a meeting of the Governors of King's College at Windsor, it was reported that there were 14 students. Difficulty of obtaining suitable ward for students. As to Mr. Willoughby. 146

Clermont, July 1. To Brooke Watson, Esq., & Co. Re personal and business matters. The ship Earl of Mansfield captured by the French. 148

Clermont, Sept. 28 To Dr. Morice. Has held Triennial Visitation in New Brunswick. The missionaries in New Brunswick are respectable men of exemplary lives and diligent in the discharge of their duties. Refers to conditions at Nashwalk, where Mr. Price has resigned rather than face the charges against him. Recommends Mr. Elias Scovil to be missionary at Westfield and Greenwich, on the St. John's River. Explains the situation with regard to glebes. Applications have been made for schoolmasters from the parishes of Springfield, Burton, Prince William, and Fredericton, N.B. In answer to letters received, refers to explanation why Messrs. Norris and Willonghby did not bring their letters of Orders, to the disposition being made of those clergymen, to the assistance suggested to be given Mr.

Jones, and to the proposed appointment of Mr. C. Weeks to Weymouth or Yarmouth. Suggests a grant for erecting a parsonage at Granville. Requests an addition to the salary of Mr. Stanser at Halifax, who, because of the increase of prices, is in want. 149

Clermont, Oct. 1. To Brooke Watson & Company. Re business matters. 155

Oct. 8. [Memorandum] Wrote to the Archbishop of Canterbury re Visitation of New Brunswick, condition of the churches, Mr. Stanser's pecuniary difficulties, the Bishop of Quebec's letter. Wrote to Dr. Parker. 155

Clermont, Oct. 16. To Wm. M. Smith. Re his claims in the United States. 156

Clermont, Oct. 16. To Brooke Watson & Co. Re personal and business matters. 157

Dec. 18. [Memorandum]. Wrote to Dr. Morice re Mr. Week's appointment to Weymouth, and re missionaries' allowance from Government. 158

1799. April 12. [Memorandum]. Wrote to Dr. Morice re Mr. Houseall's death and resultant arrangements, and provision of a glebe for Mr. Inglis. 158.

Clermont, Jan. 1. To B. Watson & Co. Re personal and business matters. Asks for proof that mortgages sent out were lost. News of Admiral Nelson's victory has diffused universal joy; prays that "it may be the prelude to a total overthrow of French Atheism, anarchy and plunder." 158.

Jan. 14. [Memorandum.] Transmitted duplicate of last. 159

Clermont, Jan. 12. To Mr. Cochran. In answer to request for information re reported dissatisfaction of the Governors of the College with Cochran. Has taken little part in business of College. Believes Governors think College will not flourish under Cochrane's presidency, because of his unpopularity arising from his selfishness. Will act with fairness and justice. Is recommending Mr. Shea to be steward of the College. 159

Clermont, April 8. To W. M. Smith. Re the writer's claims in the United States. 160.

Clermont, April 9. To B. Watson & Co. Re personal and business matters. 161.

Clermont, June 20. To Mr. Eagleson. In reply to a letter calling for salary, with interest and damages. Would not notice it, except from motives of humanity. Would be glad to give assistance, consistently with duty and character. 161.

CORRESPONDENCE, MEMORANDA, ETC., OF BISHOP INGLIS, 1799-1837.

Description (with some extracts) of a volume numbered 673 in the MS. Library of Lambeth, which has title in Archbishop Tennison's writing: "These are the original papers which a Cabal of Socinians in London offered to present to the Embessadour of the King of Fez and Morocco when he was taking leave of England, August, 1682." Page 1.

Copy of a reply from the Episcopacy of England to an address from the Clerical and Lay Deputies of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States (dated In Convention Christ Church Philadelphia, Oct. 5, 1785). Expresses willingness to comply with request to provide for an Ecclesiastical Constitution in America, but await explanation re certain alleged alterations adopted in the Convention. "Duplicates.....were put into the hands of Mr. Adams, minister from the United States, to be forwarded to Philadelphia, February 27, 1786—by me—J. Cantuar." 2.

1786. June 7. To the Commitee of the General Convention at Philadelphia. Delay in dealing with request for the consecration of American Bishops by the Archbishops of Canterbury and York due to tardy receipt of liturgy articles and ecclesiastical constitution. Question taken up at a meeting of Archbishops and Bishops. It was observed with concern that, besides a number of verbal alterations in the liturgy, two of the confessions of Christian faith have been entirely laid aside, and that an article has been omitted from the Apostle's Creed. As a proof, however of the desire felt to maintain spiritual communication with the Church in America, and in the hope that their representations as to changes and omissions may have desired effect, a bill has been prepared authorizing the Archbishops and Bishops to give episcopal consecration to persons who shall be recommended without requiring oaths or subscriptions inconsistent with the situation of such persons. There is every prospect of the bill being enacted. Particular care must be exercised to satisfy the requirements as to the qualifications of persons offered for consecration. 3.

Forms of testimonials required from candidates for episcopal consecration. 7.

"An act to empower the Archbishop of Canterbury, or the Archbishop of York, for the time being, to consecrate to the office of a Bishop, persons being subjects or citizens of countries out of his Majesty's Dominions."

"To the Commissioners appointed by Act of Parliament for inquiring into the Losses and Services of American Loyalists. The Memorial of Charles Inglis, Doctor of Divinity, late Rector of the Parish of Trinity Church, in the City of New York," sets forth in some detail his conduct during the American Revolution. Had, before the outbreak, formed a resolution, with the Rev. Dr. Bradbury Chandler, the Rev. Dr. Myles Cooper, the Rev. Dr. Samuel Seabury and others, to watch all publications disrespectful to Government, with a view to their refutation. In 1774 published in the New York Gazette printed by Hugh Gaine, a series of loyalist papers over the signature A New York Farmer. Did much in other ways to confirm the loyalty of his friends and tenants in New York City and Province. Wrote an answer to the pamphlet Common Sense, with the title The Deceiver Unmasked; or Loyalty and Interest United. This was printed in New York, through the agency of the Mayor, David Matthews, but destroyed by the mob. With some alterations, it was printed in Philadelphia by James Humphreys, under the title The True Interest of America impartially stated. In 1776 visited Matthews and other loyalists confined in the jail of New York. On the arrival of Sir William Howe at Staten Island, frequently sent information re the rebels. Gave an account of his conduct, &c., in a letter to the S. P. G., printed in the Society's Abstract for 1777. In March, 1777, delivered a sermon on the duty of loyalty, which was printed. In September preached a sermon to the Provincial Troops, which, at the request of Gov. Tryon and the officers, was printed under the title The Christian Soldiers' Duty briefly delineated. Extract given. In 1778, when the American Congress had violated the Convention of Saratoga and committed other enormities, wrote a series of letters on the subject over the signature Papinian, printed in Rivingston's Royal Gazette, Gaine's New York Gazette, and as a pamphlet, The Letters of Papinian. Published a sermon in 1780. [Incomplete.] 9.

Clermont, Dec. 18. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Is obliged for offer to assist in appointing a Commissary. Fears he cannot name a person most fitted without giving offence. Mr. Stanser well qualified, but his parochial duties at Halifax are laborious, and he may be appointed Garrison Chaplain succeeding Mr. Wetherall, Prince Edward's Chaplain. No better qualified than Mr. Inglis of Granville. No person would be of more service than his own son: his qualifications. Mr. Willoughby a good man, but would not serve as well as others. Would not choose Mr. Wetherall, and hardly grant him a commission. This a private letter; one which may be shown to the Secretary of State will accompany it. Has heard the happy news of the victory of the Nile. Returns thanks for information that his proceedings re ordination, &c., are approved. 23

If his own son considered too young for Commissary, proposes the Rev. A. W. Inglis of Granville. Refers to his refusal to ordain chaplains for the warships or clergymen for the West Indies. The marriage of the Rev. Mr. Beardsley, of Maugerville, N.B., while a former wife was living has caused scandal. Suggestions as to action re the German Church at Halifax, where the missionary Mr. Houseal, has died. 27

Approves of women being employed as school teachers, but they cannot be obtained. Describes the activities of a sect called "New Lights," the descendants of New Englanders who came on the expulsion of the French Neutrals: they "are, almost to a man, violent Republicans and Democrats." Explains the affair of Mr. Beardsley's marriage. Refers to appointments of schoolmasters at Aylesford, Springfield, and Burton. 33

Clermont, Aug 31. Memorial to the Duke of Portland. Re claims submitted to the Commissioners for carrying into effect the sixth article of the Treaty of Amity, Commerce and Navigation between His Britannic Majesty and the United States [Jay's Treaty]. Clermont, Oct. 17. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Condition of King's College, Windsor. Subscriptions originally intended for improving the library room, are now to be used in purchasing books: requests approbation of His Grace, and a list of books. Refers to the arrival of the Duke of Kent; his character; the return of his own son from Philadelphia and New York; the failure of the Americans to pay debts; the improved state of Europe; the reported application for a gentleman from Oxford to be President of the College. 39 character and training of his son, who will enter on public life with more ardour when countenanced by His Grace. His son met with a severe accident on the occasion of the visit of the Duke of Kent. 43

Clermont, April 14. To Sir J. Wentworth. Explains at length the evil consequences of his (Wentworth's) proposal to grant marriage licenses to ministers of all denominations were carried into effect It would weaken the Church, and probably stir up ill feeling between members of the Church and Protestant dissenters, who now live on excellent terms together. Refers to reports re ecclesiastical irregularities of Mr. Twyning: he is now reformed. 44

Clermont, May 2. To Dr. Morice. Re situation at Windsor, where assistance is requested towards the erection of a parsonage; and other diocesan matters. 47

4. To Dr. Morice, re visitation, &c. 49

Clermont, July 28. To the Duke of Kent. Regrets the suddenness of the Duke's departure for England. Lays before him certain information re the welfare of the province. The dangers to Church and State from the sect of "New Lights", and another body of dissenters from the Church of Scotland, the "Seceders" or "Antiburghers." The promotion of the Semiuary at Windsor and an increase of the number of missionaries are the best means of counteracting those evils. Requests for his son an appointment as chaplain to H.R.H. 49

Clermont, July 26. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Refers to allowance for a commissary. Had frequent conferences with Sir John Wentworth re proposed innovation in granting marriage licenses: induced him to promise no change until communication be received from the King's Minister. Has learned that, at the representation of the S.P.G., the Duke of Portland has given assurances that licenses will be granted as before. The cause of the proposal was the Provincial Secretary's desire. for larger perquisites. Mr. Stanser should succeed Mr. Wetherall as Garrison Chaplain at Halifax: Wetherall wishes to retain the office after his return to Europe. 52

Clermont, July 26. To B. Watson, Esq., & Company. Re personal and business matters. 55

Burke, the Popish priest at Halifax, who calls himself "Vicar General of the Diocese of Quebec," asking for a corporation to receive donations and hold property for educational purposes. Clermont, July 1. To B. Watson & Company. Re personal and business matters. Directions as to disposal of any money which may be paid by the Commissioners for liquidating debts due to Loyalists by Americans. 63

July 18. To B. Watson & Company. Re business matters. 64

Clermont, Sept. 28. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Charter for college at Windsor received. The Archbishop appointed Patron. Explains at length the condition of the College, what has been done, and what is required. The English school containing upwards of 20 students has been laid aside. There remain 33 students under instruction by the President in classics and mathematics. The number of students diminished owing to the War. In this early stage, the professors and even the President must act as tutors. Mr. Cochran has strong claims on Presidency—has quite overcome former objections to him. Professors should have at least £200 a year, and perquisites from students' fees. His son has been appointed Commissary: Would it be practicable to obtain a Government allowance for him? 65

Oct 12. [Memorandum.] Wrote to Dr. Morice re correspondence with Mr. Cossitt; Mr. Norris's difficulties; Mr. Bissett's good work at Maugerville, and the impropriety of turning him out to make room for Norris; the attempt to alienate the glebe at Weymouth, and the importance of better security for glebes and school lands; his son's marriage to Miss Cochran; and other diocesan and personal matters. 68

Clermont, Oct. 25. To Brooke, Watson & Company. Re personal and business matters. 70

Clermont, Oct. 27. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Re the Seminary; and his son's claim to a Government allowance. 73

Nov. 25. [Memorandum.] Wrote to Dr. Morice. 74

Clermont, Dec. 21. To Messrs. Blowers and Croke. Re their letter to the Archbishop of Canterbury on the subject of procuring instructors for the College. Enters at much length into the claims of Mr. Cochran, the former President, to be continued in that office, claims which were ignored in their letter. 74

Clermont, Dec. 28. To Messrs. Blowers and Croke. States at length the reasons why the offices of President and Professors should be restricted to clergymen of the Church of England, a qualification not mentioned in their letter to the Archbishop of Canterbury. Relates the history of the establishment of the College showing the evident intention of the King, the founder of the College to use it as a means of promoting the cause of true religion. 78

1803. Clermont, Jan. 3. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Chief Justice Blowers and Dr. Croke were joined with the writer in a committee to procure President and Professors and to frame statutes for the College. Explains his reasons for dissenting from their letter to the Archbishop on the subject of restricting offices to clergymen, on the treatment of Mr. Cochran, and on the salaries of Professors. 85

Clermont, Jan. 1. To Brooke Watson & Co. Re personal and business matters. 89

Clermont, Jan. 18. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Re the apparent design of appointing laymen to the offices of President and Professors in the College. Explains the difficulties he finds in co-operating with the other Governors of the College, who are official men and, with the exception of Sir J. Wentworth and the Secretary of the Province, lawyers. Refers again to Mr. Cochran's claims to the Presidency. 90

Feb. 18. To Messrs. Blowers & Croke. Has received draft of statutes for College: will consider them. In the matter of Mr. Cochran, he himself is the most proper person to substantiate his claims. Notes the inaccuracy of their statement that the Committee were instructed to seek a President "in England." Discusses at length their arguments in favour of admitting laymen to the Presidency and Professorships. The Provincial law establishing the College requires the President to be a clergyman. Refers to granting of degrees to former pupils, and to the presence of certain books not of the College Library in that room. 93

Clermont, March 28. To the Bishop of London. Re Dr. Paley's theological works, and the character of infidel attacks on Christianity. [Incomplete]. 103.

March 28. [Memorandum.] Wrote to Dr. Morice re death of J. W. Weeks, missionary at Guysborough; inconvenience of keeping missions vacant; the glebe at Weymouth. Made inquiries as to the qualifications of heads and fellows of Colleges. 104.

April 5. Extract of a letter to Sir J. Wentworth. Explains the delay in the preparation of statutes for the College, the disagreement which has arisen as to the qualifications of the officers, and the need of deliberation. 104.

April 14. Postscript of a letter to Mr. Weeks of Weymouth. Re desire of Mr. Weeks to be appointed to Guysborough. 107.

Clermont, April 19. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Disagreement re qualifications of College officials. His objections to the statutes drawn up by Dr. Croke. 107.

Clermont, May 9. To Messrs. Blowers and Croke. In reply to a letter stating intention to submit draft of statutes at an early meeting of the Governors of the College. The draft should not be transmitted to England until the Governors have conferred together, and considered several objections. Refers to the salaries proposed. 109.

May 16. To Brooke Watson, Esq. Re his claims against the United States. 109.

[Memorandum.] Re loss of letter addressed to the Archbishop of Canterbury, dated June 21st, and of memorial to Sir J. Wentworth, which were on the packet Lady Hobart. 110.

Clermont, Aug. 13. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Is inclosing duplicates of lost letter and memorial. Unpleasant state of matters re the Church of England, the College, and the Roman Catholics. It is not improbable that the Popish Seminary at Halifax will be licensed. Requests concurrence and assistance in obtaining the royal permission, should it appear necessary for the writer to cross the Atlantic to avert impending evils. 110.

[Memorandum.] Re Elias Scovil, teacher, moved from Fredericton to Kingston, 24th June, 1803. 111

Clermont, Sept. 22. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Transmits printed copy of statutes of King's College for revision. Explains manner in which they were adopted. They bear the writer's protest against certain objectionable features. Difficulties which have been experienced in opening the College, as a result of those features. A majority of the Governors have a visionary scheme of a complete University. 111.

Clermont, Sept. 27. [Memorandum.] Wrote to Dr. Morice, giving an account in diary form of a diocesan tour: confirmations, conditions of missions, &c. Gen. Despard wrote asking the removal of Mr. Cossitt from Sydney. Recommended Miss Bailey to be schoolmistress at Annapolis. Referred to various other diocesan business. Page 113.

Clermont, Nov. 14. [Without superscription, but apparently to Dr. Croke.] Refers in ironical terms to the rectification of his mistakes. Explains action taken re the principalship of the Latin school at Windsor and Mr. Twining. Objection to harsh, unjustifiable language does not come with good grace from his correspondent. Had signed the statutes on condition of his protest being entered; this was prevented except in three copies. Until Dr. Croke writes with decency and temper, the Bishop of Nova Scotia declines correspondence. 115.

Clermont, Nov. 12 To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Anxious for news from England, because of threatened invasion of Napoleon. Has written to the Governors of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, and Prince Edward Island, requesting the appointment of a general fast and humiliation. Renews request that he may go to England; that is, "on the supposition that no public calamity shall happen." The Governors of the College, during his own absence, retracted their agreement to have his protest entered in all copies of the statutes. This due to Dr. Croke, who has procured a judgment against a tax on income for parochial expenses at Halifax, and manifests uniformly an anti-clerical disposition. Through him objection is made to requiring a recommendation from the Archbishop for College officials. Dr. Croke may wish the Presidentship for a friend. If a layman be appointed President, will request permission to resign office of Visitor. 117.

Clermont, Dec. 5. To Brooke Watson & Co. Re personal and business matters. 120.

Clermont, May 14. [Memoranduu.] Wrote to Dr. Morice re controversy with Mr. Burke; appointment of Mr. Twining as assistant to Mr. Bailey, and of Mr. Norris to Cornwallis; need of schoolmasters. 120.

Clermont, July 1. To Messrs. Brooke Watson & Company. Re personal and business matters. 122.

Clermont, July 30. To Dr. Morice. Is about to set out for New Brunswick. Explains proposed removal of Mr. Shreve from Parrsborough to Lunenburgh. Mr. Norris now claims the mission at Lunenburgh, although he had applied for Cumberland, which Mr. Twining probably will relinquish. [Note: "This letter somewhat varied was sent to Dr. Morice"....] 122.

Halifax, Aug. 25. To Dr. Morice. Has just returned from New Brunswick: held triennial visitation at St. John: ecclesiastical conditions are generally satisfactory. The situation in St. John: a chapel at Carleton has been transferred to the Church Corporation. A parsonage erected at Maugerville. The people generally are backward in contributing to the support of the missionaries. Has had difficulty in securing the Government allowance for Mr. Norris against an unjust attempt to deprive him of it. Is sorry to learn of resolve of society to discontinue Lunenburgh mission and transfer allowance to Yarmouth: hopes it may be reconsidered. 124.

Halifax, Sept. 12. To Goodall & Turner. Re personal and business matters. 127

Clermont, Oct. 1. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Re statutes of King's College. That requiring age of 16 years for matriculation has been repealed. 128

Clermont, Nov. 2. To the Church Wardens and Vestry of Clemens. To be delivered by the Rev. J. Inglis. Praises their zeal, and urges that they draw up a memorial to the Society. 129

Oct. 25. "Extract of a letter from Dr. Cochran to Mr. Halliburton, Secretary to the Governors of King's College, to be laid before the Governors." As the statutes have never been executed in full, holds it unjust that he alone should be bound to their letter. 130

Halifax, Feb. 16. To the Archbishop of Canterbury. Refers to activities of Roman Catholics: application for a charter for a seminary erected at Halifax, visit of their Bishop of Quebec, interference in marriage questions, objections of Acadians of Clare to the erection of a [Church of England] parish near them. Consequently had in his Charge made some general remarks on the nature and tendency of Popery. Edmund Bourke, Popish Priest at Halifax, published a Letter of Instruction to the Catholic Missionaries of Nova Scotia and its Dependencies, containing, in a postscript, misrepresentation of the Charge and personal abuse. The Letter "seemingly recommends Loyalty," but really advances "the old Popish Creed, so justly alarming to all Protestant Governments." It shows that they should not be assisted, by a license to the Seminary, in propagating their dangerous tenets. Bourke's personal attack aroused indignation, and the Lieut. Governor and the Attorney General wrote him letters of reprehension. A second edition of the Charge, with those letters subjoined, will be issued. The liberty assumed by the Popish Bishop of Quebec in exercising episcopal functions outside his jurisdiction calls for the serious attention of the Government. 130

Halifax, Feb. 16. To Lord Hobart. Incloses copy of Bourke's Letter of Instruction, pointing out its democratical tendency, denial of King's supremacy, and assertion of Pope's authority in Church and State. Also incloses copy of his Charge, which called forth Bourke's abuse. Refers to efforts to procure a license for a Roman Catholic seminary: Protestants alarmed at the progress of that sect. Submits to the wisdom of Government whether it be right to allow the Popish Bishop of Quebec to exercise his functions, in the Maritime Provinces, thus animating the Roman Catholics and providing a dangerous bond of political as well as religious union among them. 133

Clermont, Nov. 12. To Dr. Morice. Adds some particulars to letter of 25th August. Suggests that Mr. Arnold, missionary at Sussex Vale, be officially appointed to Norton also, to secure the glebe there. Recommends that Robert Payne be appointed schoolmaster at Prince William. In reply to letter of August 25th notes references to Mr. Twining's removal to Annapolis as Mr. Bailey's assistant, discontinuance of mission at Lunenburgh, and farm at Windsor as Bishop's residence. The need of Mr. Twining at Annapolis, especially as he could serve the contiguous settlement of Clemens, where the people have behaved well, but are being perverted by sectaries. Does not "wish to see a clergyman, with cure of souls, in America, wholly independent of the Society and the English government," nor would it be prudent for one with a large family to rely on subscriptions. Discusses reasons assigned for discontinuance of Lunenburgh mission; backwardness in contributions is a condition everywhere: the people of Lunenburgh have solemnly engaged to meet the Society's requisitions; the conjecture that the Germans can never be incorporated with the English is not well founded; Germans are desirous of learning English, and are among the best supporters of the Established Church. Trusts that the resolve will be reconsidered: it would afford a triumph to Methodists and New Lights, and leave unoccupied a long and important line of sea-coast (as is stated in a memorial from Lunenburgh). A more dubious matter is whether Mr. Shreve, who has acted irregularly in his movements from mission to mission, but is a good clergyman, should be continued at Lunenburgh: recommends his continuance, with admonitions. Would Society approve of Mr. Norris going to Cornwallis if Mr. Twining be removed? The failure of the agent for New Brunswick has caused great loss to the clergy there: recommends that Government allowances be paid to the Society. 135

Clermont, Nov. 20. To Goodall & Turner. Re personal and business matters. 143

Clermont, Jan. 1. To Goodall & Turner. Re personal and business matters. 143

Clermont, March 5. To the Bishop of Quebec. Personal. 144

Clermont, March 22. To Dr. Morice. Is pleased at continuance of Lunenburgh mission: also that Mr. Norris will receive his allowance. Is negotiating re renting Society's farm at Windsor: a reserve is made for building residence for Bishop. As early as 1710 the Society authorized Governor Hunter to purchase a Bishop's residence at Burlington, New Jersey. Has granted a glebe at Aylesford to the Society: there is a doubt whether it can hold lands in trust, which should be resolved. As no missionary is available for Chester, a layman has been appointed to read prayers there; recommends the appointment of a schoolmistress also. Dwells on the dangers from the great number of vacant churches, especially in view of the activities of Methodists, New Lights, and Roman Catholics. Repeats observation that there are now probably as many persons in British America looking to the Society for spiritual aid as in the Revolted Colonies in 1776. Is to ordain Cyrus Perkins, who has been reading prayers at Cumberland recommends him to the Society as a missionary. Maj. Gen. Despard, Commandant and President of Cape Breton, has again applied for the removal of Mr. Cossitt,—transmitting statement of finding of Grand Jury "against the Rev'd R. Cossit for attempting in September 1800 to persuade people to deprive Major General Despard and Lieut. Col. Kearny of the command of His Majesty's troops stationed in the Island, and to support Brigadier General Murray in his unjustifiable detention of His Majesty's Government." Will visit Cape Breton and investigate. 144

Clermont, March 18. To Mr. Cossitt. States new complaints received. Will make an official investigation. Suggests propriety of resignation and removal. 149

Clermont, April 8. Circular. To the Churchwardens of Gagetown and other congregations under the Rev. Mr. Richard Clarke's ministry in ———— County, New Brunswick. Re information that Clarkes parishioners do not contribute to his support. States the Society's requisitions, which are (1) that a church be provided; (2) also, a glebe with parsonage or at least temporary substitute; (3) that the parishioners contribute the sum of £30 stg. for support of missionary; and urges their fulfilment, especially as the country is now become more prosperous. 150

Clermont, April 18. To Goodall and Turner. Re personal and business matters. 152

Clermont, May 4. To Archbishop Sutton. Congratulates him on his translation to the See of Canterbury in succession to the late Archbishop Moore. The change will bring him into closer connection with the S. P. G. States the importance of its work. Explains the circumstances of the establishment of King's College at Windsor; the framing of the Statutes and his own protest; and the failure of the late Archbishop, on account of illness, to give a decision. His objections to the limitations on the powers of the Visitor, the absence of restrictions confining the Presidency to clergymen, the exclusion of Dublin graduates from office, and the requirement, now repealed, that matriculants should be sixteen years of age. Had proposed that the Governors should take an oath, but this was not relished.

There is yet time for His Grace to make alterations. Refers to method of transmitting correspondence. States the conduct of Roman Catholics which has given offence and alarm to Protestants. 152.

May 15. [Memorandum.] Wrote to Dr. Morice inclosing memorial from St. John, N.B., for aid for an assistant to Dr. Byles. 156

Clermont, July 1. To Goodall and Turner. Re personal and business matters. 156

Clermont, Oct. 18. [Memorandum.] Wrote to Dr. Morice re Cossitt's removal from Cape Breton and subsequent conduct. 158.

1806. Halifax, April 14. To Lord Grenville. Expresses gratification at the unshaken position of the British Empire; also at His Lordship's being placed at the head of the Miuistry. Refers to the unfortunate condition of King's College, which will be fully explained by his son, the bearer of the letter. 159.

Aug. 14. [Memorandum.] Wrote to Dr. Morice re transference of Mr. Twining to Sydney, Norris to Coruwallis, Cossitt to Yarmouth; importance of Cumberland—4,000 inhabitants of whom 500 profess Church of England; school appointments at Northampton, N.B., and Campbell Town, Sheet Harbour; &c. 160

On return to St. John had some trouble in reinstating divine service in the Chapel of St. John at Carleton. Halifax, Nov. 10. To Dr. Morice. Sends report re Chester and Aylesford. Greatly to be wished that missions could be increased in proportion to rapid increase of population. Multitudes are being led away by fanatical teachers of dubious loyalty: should these gain an ascendancy in the Legislature, towards which they are making large strides, the consequences would be disastrous. Urges Society's support to application of Prevost for Government grants to Chester and Aylesford. 24

Halifax, Dec. 2. Dr. Inglis (Bishop's secretary) to Dr. Morice. His (Dr. Morice's) letter of June 21st shows a misunderstanding re arrangements for Dr. Cochran and Mr. Willoughby. Writer explains at length the preliminaries of that arrangement, and his own report to the Bishop, as a result of which it was made. Mr. Twining hopes Society will save him from protest of his bills by the Provincial Agent. This evil frequent and causes much loss. Distress caused by 15% income tax. Government never intended to demand this from salaries of £70 or £75, but it is levied on the aggregate of the Provincial estimate, and afterwards distributed among the small salaries. 26

PATENT OF NOBILITY GRANTED TO ROBERT GIFFARD, SEIGNIOR OF BEAUPRE.

The Archives has lately come into possession of the very valuable document, a copy of which is hereunder, conferring a title of nobility on Robert Giffard, Seignior of Beauport. It was the first patent of nobility granted to a resident in Canada.

Robert Giffard was a native of Perche, the province in France which with Normandy furnished the largest number of first settlers in this country. Born in 1587, he visited Canada in 1627 as ship's surgeon on the vessel by which the annual voyage to the new colony was being made. With the conquest of the country by Kirk, Giffard returned to France. When Canada was restored to France, missionary enterprise among the Indians was revived, and the early letters from the Jesuit Fathers aroused much enthusiasm at home. Companies were formed in different parts of the country, of people who from one motive or another, desired to come to Canada, and among the leaders of this movement was Giffard. Having obtained the seigniory of Beauport a tract lying between the St. Lawrence and the St. Charles rivers, he gathered together such of his neighbors as he could to accompany him, and with them set out for Canada. On reaching his seigniory he began to carry his plans into effect. A manor house, outbuildings, and houses for his tenants were at once erected, liberal terms were made with the tenants, and farming operations were soon under weigh. This was the first seigniory in Canada, in which agriculture was carried on, on any considerable scale.

Giffard occupied an important place in the life of the little colony. He was King's physician for nearly thirty years, and a member of the Council, from at least 1646. In 1647, he was granted the seigniory of St. Gabriel, which he transferred to the Jesuits in 1667. He died on the 14th April 1668.

Philadelphia, May 14.

Gérard to Vergennes. No. 83. Deals with despatches Nos. 7 and 8, so far as they have not been answered by other communications. Correcting a statement in an earlier letter he says the intention of Congress is to continue the War rather than accept an honourable peace, without comprising France in it. He is glad to be advised that either of the allies may receive propositions from the common enemy, but that neither may enter upon isolated negotiations. Has impressed this idea strongly on members of Congress. Hopes King is satisfied with manner English commissioners have been dealt with. Believes Congress will remain faithful to its resolution not to treat with English except on conditions: (1) the evacuation of their territory or the recognition of their independence (2) the association of France in the peace. Thinks it might be dangerous to press too strongly upon the Americans the desirability of relinquishing the idea of conquering Canada. The most reasonable among them are not equal to such moderation. The King would do well to rely upon the impossibility of the Americans succeeding in this enterprise themselves, and trust to the skill of his agent to evade the American demand for French co-operation. Washington has probably some inkling of France's views, but he certainly will make no ill use of his surmises. Gérard is following instructions and eluding schemes presenting themselves every now and then, for an attack on Halifax. Congress pleased with approval of King, respecting its conduct towards Burgoyne's army. Majority of states will refuse to continue the war simply on the question of the fisheries. Principal ground for fear, in Gérard's opinion, is the weakening or even dissolution of confederation when common peril passes. Gérard impresses on Congress that Great Britain is about to push the campaign vigorously. This is necessary as Opposition continue to evade resolutions of Congress as to strengthening the army. Depreciation of the paper money, which is the scourge of America. Lee and one or two of his friends persist in maintaining that the articles advanced by Beaumarchais must be regarded as gifts and that France would not dare to refuse further succour nor even to make War for the fisheries. The other members treat these views with contempt. There is desire that France should guarantee loans of Congress. Gérard recommends this. He is intimating that there are negotiations on foot between Spain and England, in order to bring Congress to a decision. Congress would unanimously reject a long truce. Its acceptance of the truce might be brought about, however, by obtaining England's acceptance of it, as the desire in America for peace is so strong, that if the alternatives were an assured truce for long period or continued war, they would probably decide for former. As to Franklin, Gérard is persuaded that if Lee were out of the way, Franklin would be recalled. Gérard paves the way for greater freedom of action on part of France by warning members of the consequences of their dilatoriness. Intimates that if Americans insist on conditions in treaty with England, which go beyond their independence, they may not find themselves supported by France, as the latter country looks to the terms of the Alliance alone for its guidance. He has to deal with a set of ill intentioned sophists who would take advantage of the smallest opening to bring everything to confusion. He would be afraid of seeming to throw ridicule on Congress if he reported to the King the curious metaphysical arguments by which they support their pretentions to a share in the fisheries on British coasts. Gérard has informed members of Congress that he thought the King would Support the United States in their demands as regards the Nova Scotia fisheries, so long as these demands did not offer an obstacle to peace. p. 70

1780 Philadelphia, Jan. 16. La Luzerne to Vergennes. No. 25. States that neither he nor Congress has received any news from Europe since his arrival. The terms of the Ultimatum, of which Adams is the bearer, are coming to be known in the Eastern States, and are causing so much excitement as to be disquieting were it not for the sincerity of the other states towards the Alliance. The four New England states, already so influential, have made a sort of coalition with Pennsylvania and Delaware, by which they obtain a practical control over the work of Congress. As Georgia is not represented, the States line up 6 against 6, the New England group being perfectly united, while the other is broken up by internal divisions. New York State is exercised over posture of affairs, and is taking steps to counteract the measures of the northern states, when this seems necessary. La Luzerne advises, as best plan, an effort to detach Pensylvania and Delaware from the New England states. The most intelligent members think there will always be rivalry between the northern and the southern states, and that it will be with the middle states, that is to say, New York, the Jerseys, Pennsylvania, Maryland and Delaware, to hold the balance between the opposing forces. La Luzerne presumes that the fleet which left New York lately is destined for the conquest of South Carolina, and possibly of North Carolina as well. If the English become masters of the two Carolinas, their Assemblies will send no more members to Congress. To offset the weakening of the Southern influence, La Luzerne suggested that the members for those states now in Congress, should be authorized by their constituents to represent them for an indefinite period, at the time their period of representation was limited to one year. p. 1

An Act respecting the Civil Service of Canada.

SHORT TITLE.

1. This Act may be cited as the Civil Service Act. R.S., c. 17, s. 1. Short title.

INTERPRETATION.

2. In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires,— Definitions.

(a) 'head of the department' means the minister of the Crown for the time being presiding over the department;

(b) 'deputy,' 'deputy head,' or 'deputy head of the department,' means the deputy of the minister of the Crown presiding over the department, and the Clerk of the Privy Council; and includes also the Auditor General, in all cases in which such meaning is not inconsistent with his powers and duties under the Consolidated Revenue and Audit Act;

(c) 'Board' means the examiners appointed for the purposes of this Act. R.S., c. 17, s. 2; 3 E. VII., c. 9, s. 1.

CONSTITUTION.

3. The Civil Service for the purposes of this Act includes and consists of all classes of officers, clerks and employees, elsewhere than in the provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta and in the Northwest Territories and the Yukon Territory, in or under the several departments of the Executive Government of Canada and in the office of the Auditor General, included in schedules A and B to this Act, appointed by the Governor in Council or other competent authority before the first day of July, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-two, or thereafter appointed or employed in the manner provided by the Civil Service Act for the time being in force; and also includes,— Of whom the Civil Service shall consist.

(a) such officers, clerks or employees in the lower grades as are determined by order in council; and,

(b) such officers, clerks and employees in the provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta and in the Northwest Territories and the Yukon Territory, holding positions which if held in other parts of Canada would bring them under the provisions of this Act, as the Governor in Council brings under the provisions hereof.

Exception.

2. The Civil Service shall not, however, include nor shall this Act apply to any of the officers or employees to whom by the provisions of the Post Office Act that Act instead of the Civil Service Act is intended to apply. R.S., c. 17, s. 3; sch. B.; 2 E. VII., c. 28, s. 1.

Outside division.

(b) The second or outside departmental division which shall comprise officers, clerks, and employees of those classes mentioned in schedule B, and the other officers, clerks and employees included in the Civil Service who are employed otherwise than on the departmental staffs at Ottawa. R.S., c. 17, s. 4.

Regulations.

5. The Governor in Council may, from time to time, make general rules and regulations, not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, respecting the appointments and promotions of the officers, clerks and employees in the Civil Service and all other matters pertaining thereto. R.S., c. 17, s. 5.

If the actual number exceeds that allowed

2. If the number of officers, clerks, and employees then attached to any department in either division thereof is greater than the number allowed to the department, as herein provided, the Governor in Council shall name the persons to fill the several offices; and the remainder shall be supernumerary clerks, ineligible for increase of salary, of that class respectively in which they rank, and shall so remain until promoted in the manner herein provided or until severed from the service. APPOINTMENTS.

Competitive admission examinations.

13. Except as herein otherwise provided, appointment to positions in the Inside Service under that of deputy head shall be by competitive examination, which shall be of such a nature as will determine the qualifications of candidates for the particular positions to which they are to be appointed, and shall be held by the Commission from time to time in accordance with the regulations made by it and approved by the Governor in Council.

Qualification of candidates.

14. No person shall be admitted to such an examination unless he is a natural-born or naturalized British subject, and has been a resident of Canada for at least three years, and is, at the time of the examination, of the full age of eighteen years and not more than thirty-five years, and presents the required certificates as to health, character and habits.

Computation of number of vacancies.

15. Before holding any such examination the Commission shall require each head of a department to furnish it with the number of additional permanent officers or clerks likely to be required in his department within the next six months.

2. On this basis, and having regard also to the requirement of the several departments for temporary services, a computation shall be made by the Commission of the number of competitors to be selected at the next ensuing examination.

3. If there remain from a previous examination successful competitors who have not received appointments, their number shall be deducted in making the computation, and their names, in the order of merit, shall be placed at the top of the list to be prepared in accordance with section 17 of this Act.

Notice of examinations

16. Thereupon due notice of the examination shall be given by the Commission, stating the character and number of the positions to be competed for.

List of successful competitors

17. Immediately after the examination the Commission shall make out a list of the successful competitors thereat for each position, in the order of merit, up to the number computed in accordance with section 15.

Selections to fill vacancies.

18. From the said list the Commission, on the application of the deputy head, with the approval of the head, of any department, shall supply the required clerks, whether for permanent or temporary duty.

2. The selections shall be, so far as practicable, in the order of the names on the list, but the Commission may select any person who in his examination shows special qualifications for any particular subject.

3. The Commission shall forthwith notify the Treasury Board and the Auditor General of the name and position in the service of each clerk supplied to any department and also of the rejection of any such clerk during his probationary term.

4. Assignment for temporary duty shall not prejudice the right to assignment for permanent duty.

5. No clerk supplied for temporary duty shall be so employed for more than six months in any year.

Rejection during probation.

19. The head of the department, on the report in writing of the deputy head, may, at any time after two months from the date of assignment, and before the expiration of six months, reject any person assigned to his department.

2. The cause of the rejection shall be reported by the deputy head to the Commission, who shall thereupon select another person to take the place of the one rejected, and decide whether the latter shall be struck off the list or allowed a trial in another department.

Probationary service.

20. After a person so selected has served a probationary term of six months, he shall be deemed to be permanently accepted for the service.

Professional and specially qualified officers.

21. If the deputy head reports that the knowledge and ability requisite for the position are wholly or in part professional, technical or otherwise peculiar, the Governor in Council, upon the recommendation of the head of the department based on the report in writing of the deputy head, may appoint a person to the position without competitive examination and without reference to the age limit, provided the said person obtains from the Commission a certificate, to be given with or without examination, as is determined by the regulations of the Commission, that he possesses the requisite knowledge and ability and is duly qualified as to health, character and habits.

22. Appointments to the positions of messenger, porter, sorter and packer, and to such other positions in the lower grades as are determined by the Governor in Council, may be made by the Governor in Council upon the recommendation of the head of the department based on the report in writing of the deputy head, and accompanied by a certificate of qualification from the Commission, to be given with or without examination, as is determined by the regulations of the Commission, that the person applying for the appointment possesses the requisite knowledge and ability and is duly qualified as to age, health, character and habits.

Temporary clerks.

23. When, from a temporary pressure of work, extra assistance in excess of those whose names are on the list of successful competitors is required in the Inside Service of any department, the Governor in Council may, upon the recommendation of the head, based on the report in writing of the deputy head of the department that such extra assistance is required, authorize the employment of such number of temporary clerks as are required to carry on the work of the department.

2. Every such clerk shall, however, before appointment obtain a certificate of qualification from the Commission, to be given with or without examination, as is determined by the regulations of the Commission, that he possesses the requisite knowledge and ability and is duly qualified as to age, health, character and habits.

3. No such temporary clerk shall be employed for more than four months in any year.

PROMOTIONS.

Promotion by merit.

24. Promotion, other than from the third to the second division, shall be made for merit by the Governor in Council upon the recommendation of the head of the department, based on the report in writing of the deputy head and accompanied by a certificate of qualification by the Commission to be given with or without examination, as is determined by the regulations of the Commission.

Promotion from Second Division to First.

25. Except as herein otherwise provided, vacancies in the first division shall be filled by promotions from the second division.

Promotion to Second Division.

26. Clerks in the third division shall be permitted to enter for the open competitive examination for the second division, after such term of service and under such other conditions as are determined by regulations made by the Governor in Council, on the recommendation of the Commission.

2. Any person placed in the third division upon the coming into force of this Act, may, by the Governor in Council, upon the recommendation of the head of the department, based on the report in writing of the deputy head, and accompanied by a certificate of qualification by the Commission, to be given with or without examination, as is determined by the regulations of the Commission, be promoted from the third division to the second division without an open competitive examination.

FOURTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION OF CANADA

FOR THE PERIOD

FROM SEPTEMBER 1, 1911, TO AUGUST 31, 1912

In view of the anticipated report of Sir George Murray on the organization of the Dominion Civil Service, and the recommendations which it may contain, the Commissioners in their present report refrain from the further discussion of certain proposed changes in the Civil Service Law which have been recommended in previous reports, and from raising certain new points which under other circumstances might have been dealt with.

In Part III of the Report will be found a number of tabular statements representing the chief results of the work of the Commission during the year ending August 31, 1912. These include the regular and special competitions and examinations held for both the Outside and Inside Service, the lists of successful candidates at these examinations and the subsequent appointments made for the Inside Service. Further tables give the lists of those for whom certificates were issued, after nomination, for appointment under Section 21 of the Civil Service Act of 1908, also of those who received certificates of qualification and were appointed by Order-in-Council to Lower Grade positions. Other tables give the names of those who received certificates of qualification for promotion from one grade to another in the Inside Service.

General Competitions.

The number of positions to be filled in the Third and Second Divisions, through the semi-annual competitive examinations in May and November, continues to increase. As the following summary of results will show, however, the number of properly qualified young men available to fill positions in the Third Division at the initial salary of $500, which is all that the Act authorizes the Commission to offer, is far short of the requirements of the Service. It is true that young women are available in sufficient numbers at the salary offered. The departments are, therefore, more or less forced to accept women for positions which they deem suitable only for men. The lack of male stenographers is particularly noticeable.

For the examinations of May, 1912, the returns from the departments showed that there were no vacancies for women without stenography. The inclusion of a few women in the list of candidates for the Second Division examination when none were advertised for, is explained by the fact that the law permits of those who have passed the Second Division examination being employed in the Third Division if vacancies are available. The following analysis of the results shows, first, the number of vacancies to be filled in the Third and Second Divisions; second, the number of candidates for these positions, and third, the number of successful candidates.

NUMBER OF VACANCIES ADVERTISED.

	Third Division.				Second Division.
	Clerks.		Stenographers.		Clerks.
	Men.	Women.	Men.	Women.	Men.	Women.
November, 1911	55	10	25	35	65	.....

November, 1911	61	75	5	93	68	6
May, 1912	75	.....	11	153	88	2

NUMBER OF SUCCESSFUL CANDIDATES.

	Third Division.				Second Division
	Clerks.		Stenographers.		Clerks.
	Men.	Women.	Men.	Women.	Men.	Women.
November, 1911	17	12	1	40	34	6
May, 1912	22	.....	2	48	45	.....

These results show that in the examination of November, 1911, there were only five candidates for twenty-five positions as male stenographers, and that only one of the five candidates proved to be qualified for appointment. In May, 1912, there were eleven candidates for twenty-five positions as male stenographers, but only two were qualified for appointment; whereas one hundred and fifty-three women applied for twenty positions and over forty-eight were available for appointment. As may be observed from the last list, the Commission had to appoint quite a number of women to positions for which men had been asked. In neither the Third nor the Second Division did the Commission obtain the total number of general clerks required by the departments. As a result, quite a number of positions requiring permanent appointments had to be filled by temporary appointments. With the possible exception of stenographers, the difficulty in these cases is simply the small initial salary authorized for male clerks.

Special Competitions.

Various special competitions were held from time to time to fill positions calling for special qualifications which were not provided for in the regular semi-annual examinations. As a resut of these special competitions, thirty-one successful candidates were appointed in the usual manner, upon the certificate of the Commission under Section 18 of the Civil Service Act of 1908. Particulars as to these are given at page 119 of the Appendix.

Sixteen candidates who were selected by open competition, owing to questions of age or residence, required to be appointed by Order-in-Council, under Section 21 of the Civil Service Act, 1908.

Thirty other persons were selected by the heads of departments without open competition and appointed by Order-in-Council under Section 21, after receiving certificates of qualification from the Commission. Particulars as to the appointments under Section 21 are given at pages 120 and 121 of the Appendix.

Lower Grade Appointments.

For the first year and a half after the appointment of the Commission, examinations for Lower Grade positions were held semi-annually at the same time as the competitive examinations for the Third and Second Divisions. At first the majority of appointments to the Lower Grade were made from the lists of successful candidates at these examinations. However, under Section 22 of the Civil Service Act, 1908, the department had the option of filling vacant positions in the Lower Grade, either from the lists of successful candidates at the general examinations, or by nominating candidates to the Commission for certificates of qualification. In the natural course of practical politics the departments were soon furnished with numerous candidates for lower grade positions. In the end, therefore, very few of the candidates who had paid their fees and proved successful in the general examinations secured appointments. Hence, for the past couple of years, the Commission has deemed it expedient to hold only one general Lower Grade examination in the year.

During the past year, forty-seven candidates took the general Lower Grade examination, thirty-six of whom were successful. Of these, however, only five were selected for permanent appointments, while six were admitted to temporary employment. At the same time, fifty-seven permanent appointments were made on the basis of individual nominations by the departments and forty-seven additional persons were employed in a temporary capacity on the same basis. To test the minimum qualifications of the nominated candidates, sixty-eight different examinations were held during the year.

Temporary Employment.

The number of persons employed in a temporary capacity has very greatly increased during the past year. Two conditions in particular have contributed to this result. In the first place the inability to obtain the required number of male clerks in the Third Division at the authorized salary of $500 required the filling of numerous positions with temporary clerks where permanent clerks were required. In the second place, the typhoid epidemic during the past summer caused for a time a serious shrinkage in the clerical staffs, and in consequence a considerable number of extra clerks were required to meet the situation. Apart from these conditions, however, there was a notable increase in the number of temporary clerks called for.

During the past year, four hundred and fifty-nine persons were employed in the Third Division in a temporary capacity and thirty-eight in the Second Division; of those in the Third Division, two hundred and four were men and two hundred and fifty-five women, the latter chiefly as typewriters and stenographers. All of those employed in the Second Division were men.

Of those employed in the Third Division, fifty-three were eligible for permanent appointment, which most of them subsequently obtained. Of the four hundred and six who were selected for temporary employment, thirty-four afterwards qualified for permanent appointment. A number of others were preparing to take the examinations in November, 1912.

Of the thirty-eight persons employed in a temporary capacity in the Second Division, twenty-eight were eligible for permanent appointments, which they afterwards obtained, and three of the other ten afterwards qualified for permanent appointments.

Examinations for the Outside Service.

Although the Commission does not make appointments to the Outside Service, it nevertheless holds semi-annual examinations and issues certificates qualifying for entrance to the Outside Service. These are known as the 'Preliminary' and 'Qualifying' examinations, and correspond to the Lower Grade and Third Division examinations for the Inside Service. At the two semi-annual examinations of the past year, six hundred and twenty-eight candidates were examined for the Preliminary grade, four hundred and ninety-eight of whom were successful, but we have no record as to the number obtaining appointments. At the same periods, five hundred and fifty candidates took the Qualifying examinations, and of these, two hundred and seventeen were successful, although we have no record of the number obtaining appointments.

Naval Cadets.

The annual competitive examination for Cadetships in the Naval Service of Canada was held in November, 1911. Nineteen candidates wrote on the examination and eleven of these were successful.

Promotions.

Practically the only written examinations held for purposes of promotion are those which qualify for passing from the Third to the Second Division. The candidates for these examinations require to be nominated by the various departments, and take a qualifying examination, which is a modification of the competitive examination for the Second Division.

During the past year, forty candidates were nominated for promotion from the Third to the Second Division; of these, twenty-four successfully passed, and received promotion.

Certificates for promotion without written examination were granted in the case of three hundred and thirty-one clerks of the Inside Service, and were withheld in the case of fifteen. The promotions were distributed as follows:—

(3) No one appointed as the result of such special examination shall be considered as eligible for promotion to Subdivision A of the Third Division who has not subsequently qualified in the additional subjects of arithmetic, history and geography, as required for the regular examination for entrance to the Third Division.

11. Where candidates for employment as temporary clerks require certificates of qualification and fitness under section 23 of the Civil Service Amendment Act, the Commission may require any or all of these to pass an examination which shall be as nearly as may be of the same standard as that set for those who take the general examination for entering that grade of the service.

12. Candidates for the general competitive examination for clerkships of Subdivision B of the Second Division shall take all the subjects in group A of the following list, and any five in group B :—

A.—Writing, spelling, composition, literature, arithmetic.

B.—Algebra, geometry, physics, chemistry, geology (including mineralogy), biology (animal and vegetable), French (for those taking the general examination in English), English (for those taking the general examination in French), Latin, German, history (modern), political science, economics, geography (general, physical and commercial), philosophy (scholastic or general), law (English or civil).

(2) The maximum number of marks for each subject shall be one hundred except in the subject of writing, for which the maximum number shall be fifty marks.

(3) No candidate shall be selected for appointment to a position in Subdivision B of the Second Division who secures less than forty per cent of the marks assigned to each subject in group A, and sixty per cent cent of the marks assigned to the whole group.

(4) No candidate shall be selected for appointment to a position in Subdivision B of the Second Division who secures less than thirty per cent of the marks assigned to each subject in group B, and forty per cent of the marks assigned to the five subjects selected.

(5) The standard of examination shall require a good general knowledge of the subjects selected from the above groups. In order that due regard may be had to the different educational systems in Canada, a curriculum shall be prepared by the Commission showing, with as much detail as possible, the ground to be covered under each of the subjects in the above groups A and B. A copy of this curriculum shall be supplied to any person on making application to the Secretary of the Commission.

13. Candidates may take, in addition to the foregoing subjects, any or all of the subjects of typewriting, stenography, and book-keeping. Where candidates obtain over sixty per cent of the marks assigned to any one or more of these subjects, the marks above sixty per cent may be added to the total of the marks obtained on the whole examination in determining the relative standing of the candidates.

14. Where the deputy head of a department applies to the Commission for a nomination to a clerkship in Subdivision B of the Third Division requiring special qualifications not covered by the general examination for that division, or for a nomination to a clerkship in Subdivision B of the Second Division requiring special qualifications in technical or scientific subjects, a special competitive examination may be provided by the Commission, instead of the general competitive examinations for either of these subdivisions. The subjects for such special examination shall be arranged between the Commission and the deputy head of such department.

15. Where the deputy head of a department applies to the Commission for a nomination to a position above that of Subdivision B of the Second Division, which requires to be filled by appointment from without the Service, the Commission shall, after consultation with the deputy head of the department in which the appointment is to be made, provide a special competitive examination or test, which may or may not involve written answers to questions, but which shall be of such a nature as to secure a person well qualified for the position to be so filled. In determining the qualifications of candidates for such positions, the examination or test shall have special reference to executive ability and tact, such special or professional training as may be required, and a successful experience in duties similar to those pertaining to the position to be filled.

16. Where the appointment is one which is to be made under section 21 of the Civil Service Amendment Act inasmuch as the person to be appointed requires to obtain from the Commission a certificate that he possesses the requisite knowledge and ability, the Commission, with the consent and co-operation of the head and deputy head of the department in which the appointment is to be made, may arrange a form of examination or test, by which to determine whether the person is qualified. On satisfying the Commission that he is duly qualified, such person will receive the certificate of the Commission.

17. When the selection is made by the head and deputy head of the department without reference to the Commission, the Commission may make such inquiries and appoint such an examination or test to determine the qualifications of the person so nominated, as it may deem necessary for an intelligent and responsible discharge of its duties.

PROMOTIONS IN THE INSIDE SERVICE.

18. A candidate who is recommended by the head of a department for promotion, other than from the Third to the Second Division, in order to receive the prescribed certificate of qualification, must satisfy the Commission of his ability to perform the duties of the position to which he is to be promoted. For this purpose the Commission, if it considers an examination necessary, may, after consultation with the deputy head of the department in which the promotion is to take place, prescribe a promotion examination, having regard to the requirements of the subdivision to which the promotion is to be made, and the special duties of the position to be filled.

19. Where there are two or more persons in the employment of a department who are eligible for promotion to any vacant position, the Commission may, at the request of the head of the department, provide a competitive promotion examination limited to those who are declared eligible for promotion. Such an examination shall have regard to the requirements of the subdivision to which the promotion is to be made, and the special duties of the position to be filled. Upon the results of this examination, if satisfactory, the Commission shall issue the required certificate of qualification.

20. Candidates who, under subsection 2 of section 26 of the Civil Service Amendment Act, 1908, are nominated by the head of a department for promotion from the Third to the Second Division must, in order to receive the prescribed certificate of qualification, satisfy the Commission that they are entitled to enter the Second Division. To this end, the Commission, after consultation with the head or deputy head of the department in which the promotion is proposed, shall prescribe a non-competitive promotion examination which, while having special reference to the requirements of the positions to be filled, shall nevertheless insure a qualification substantially equivalent to that required in the open competitive examination for entrance to the Second Division. Such non-competitive promotion examination shall include all of the subjects in group A under regulation 12, any three of the subjects in group B under regulation 12, and two papers on the work of the department in which the candidate for promotion is engaged. The minimum percentages required for passing on the subjects included in group A shall be not less than forty per cent of the marks assigned to each subject and sixty per cent of the marks assigned to the whole group. The minimum percentages required for passing on the subjects selected from group B shall be not less than thirty per cent of the marks assigned to each subject and forty per cent of the marks assigned to the three subjects, also candidates must obtain at least fifty per cent on each of the papers on the work of the departments in which they are engaged. In the case of a candidate who does not obtain the minimum of forty per cent, assigned to the three subjects selected from group B, but who obtains an excess of marks above the minimum percentage required on each of the papers on the work of the department, such excess shall be added to the marks obtained by him on the subjects selected from group B for the purpose of estimating his percentage on the whole group.

21. All general competitive examinations for entrance to the Service shall be advertised in the 'Canada Gazette' at least four weeks before the examinations are to take place. Special competitive examinations shall be advertised in the 'Canada Gazette' at least two weeks before the examinations are to take place. Such advertisements shall state the number of positions to be competed for, the conditions to be complied with by the competitors, the subjects to be covered by any special examinations, and the places at which the examinations may be held.

22. Within one month after the publication of the results of a Civil Service examination any candidate who considers that his answer papers have not been correctly valued may make application to the Commission to have his papers re-read. Such application must be accompanied by a fee of $3 in the case of Third Division or lower examinations, or $5 in the case of Second Division or higher examinations. In cases where the appeal is sustained the fee will be returned.

(2) The answer papers of all candidates at any Civil Service examination, after being valued by the examiners, shall be retained by the Commission for a period of six months from the date of publishing the results, and at the end of that period they shall be destroyed.

23. Every successful candidate, before receiving a permanent appointment to the Inside Service, must furnish the Commission with a certificate of good health, which shall be filled out on standard forms to be furnished by the Commission.

(2 There shall be appointed by the Governor General in Council in each place where an examination is held one or more medical examiners, from whom such certificates shall be obtained.

(3) The fees for the health certificate shall be:—For messengers, porters, sorters, packers, and for temporary clerks, two dollars ($2); for clerks of the Third Division, three dollars ($3); for clerks of the First and Second Divisions, five dollars ($5).

24. Every successful candidate, before receiving an appointment to the Inside Service, must furnish the Commission with references to at least three reputable persons who may be able to give adequate information as to the candidate's character and habits.

25. The following shall be the schedule of fees to be paid by the candidates at the several examinations held under the direction of the Commission:—

Examinations for lower grade positions, a fee of	$2 00
Examinations for clerkships in Subdivision B of the Third Division, a fee of	4 00
Examinations for clerkships in Subdivision B of the Second Division, a fee of	8 00

(2) No fee shall be required for the privilege of taking optional subjects.

(3) The fees for the regular Third and Second Division examinations, for lower grade examinations, and for any special examinations, shall be payable by the candidates when making application for examination. Should any candidate, after making application and paying the required fee, be unable to write on the examination, one-half the fee may be returned.

26. Copies of the reports of the 'conduct and efficiency of all officers, clerks and employees below the First Division' which, in accordance with section 40 of the Civil Service Amendment Act, are required to be made in each department, shall be furnished to the Commission by the deputy heads of the various departments every three months.

(2) To insure uniformity these reports shall be made out on forms prepared by the Commission which may be procured by the departments upon requisition to the Government Stationery Office.

27. The Secretary of the Treasury Board shall notify the Commission of all changes which take place in the organization of the offices in the several departments in the Inside Service, whether these changes result from the creation of new offices, the division or combination of existing offices, or the abolition of offices; also of all changes in the personnel of the officers holding respective offices in the several departments in the Inside Service, whether these changes result from original appointment promotion, transfer, death, resignation or dismissal.

28. The Commission shall select examiners duly qualified to prepare the necessary examination papers and to value the answers of the candidates, in connection with the general and special examinations provided for in the Civil Service Acts and in these regulations.

(2) Each of the examination papers for the First and Second Divisions of the Inside Service shall be prepared and the answers valued by two examiners.

(3) In the case of promotion examinations, and of special or technical examinations for the First and Second Divisions, as far as possible one of the two examiners shall be selected from within the department in which the appointment is to be made, and the other from without.

29. Examiners for the Inside Service shall be paid in accordance with the following scale of fees:—

To each examiner for setting a paper for the general competitive examinations for the First and Second Divisions	$15 00
Where the examination is one of a special or technical character for the First or Second Division of the Inside Service, and where not more than five candidates are taking the same examination, each examiner shall be allowed $20.00 for setting the paper and valuing the answers.

OUTSIDE SERVICE EXAMINATIONS.

The Preliminary and Qualifying Examinations prescribed by the Civil Service Act for the Outside Division of the Civil Service shall be held semi-annually at the same time and places as the examinations for the Inside Division of the Civil Service, and shall be conducted in like manner and governed in all respects by the rules and regulations prescribed for the examinations for the Inside Service, with the following exceptions, viz.:—

(1) The Preliminary Examination shall include the following subjects of the ordinary public school standard: Writing, spelling, and the first four rules of arithmetic. (3) Candidates in the Qualifying Examination who fail in one subject only, but who make the required aggregate of fifty per cent, or three hundred marks, may come up for the subject in which they failed at the next examination, but not afterwards and the marks made in the other subjects at the previous examination will be allowed them, but candidates failing in more than one subject, or in the aggregate, if they come up for examination again, must take all the subjects.

(4) Every successful candidate at the Preliminary or Qualifying Examination will receive a certificate from the Commission.

Prince Edward Island, the smallest of the provinces of Canada, is an island south of the Gulf of St. Lawrence. It is called the "Garden of the Gulf." It has a land area of 2,184 square miles, of which more than 600 square miles are still in forest and woodland. The Island is separated from the adjacent provinces of Quebec, New Brunswick, and Nova Scotia by the Straits of Northumberland. It is 150 miles long, and varies from 9 to 30 miles in width, and has a population of about 104,000. During the summer daily communication is maintained with the mainland by two steamship lines, and during the winter, by steamer specially built for winter navigation. The climate is moist and cool in summer, while in winter the temperature never drops to a very low point. The total precipitation in rain and snow is from 35 to 40 inches annually.

No young man can afoard to loose money. Neether can he afoard to loose time, for time meens money. If he wishes to make his way in the wurld, he must make the best possibel use of his time. In other wordds, he must always be industrius. No matter how bizzy a man may bee at his particuler line of work, he has sum time wich he can devoate to bettering himself in the qualitys in which he is weekest. If he devoates all his time, all his thots, all his energys, to only one kind of work, he will become one-sided. But if he will do his choosen work with all his mite, and, at the same time, keep his leasure hours open to the wisdom which he can find all around him, he will speadily overtake the older kumrad who has eyes onley for his own work. Musick, books and nature are frends that no young man can afoard to despize. Pleasure after work is one of the necesities of life, but the greatest plesure is found in those things which develope and create the qualitys of sweetness, inteligense and sinserity. The young man who wishes to suxceed can do no better than so seak to lern from all things and all peeple, "to find sermuns in stones, books in the running brookes and good in evrything."

The constitution of Canada is contained in an Act of the British Parliament, passed in 1867. Under the authority then vested in the Canadian people they now enjoy what has been well described as the most unfettered government on the globe.

The British North America Act was passed to unite the provinces of Quebec, Ontario, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, and to provide for the future admission of other parts of British North America. Prince Edward Island, British Columbia, Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan have since entered the confederation of provinces.

Executive government and authority is vested in the Sovereign of Great Britain and Ireland, who governs through the person of a Governor General, appointed by him but paid by Canada and advised by a Cabinet chosen from the representatives elected by the Canadian people.

The construcsion of the Suez canal, though a vast and emportent undertakeing, pressented allmost no enjinering dificulties to be overcome. At Port Said, the Mediterranean entrence to the canal, two great peers, to serve as brakewaters, were built of artefishal stone, projecting into the sea, thus provideing a safe and comoddious harbour. At Suez, the Red Sea turminus of the canal, a less formidible defence was needed, but the necessary docks and buildings called for a considereble outlay.

From Port Said to Suez the land is almost a dead leval, the few sand-dunes that break the monotonus uniformaty of the istmus nowhere reach a greater height than fifty or sixty feet. Along the midle line of the istmus there was a series of depresions, some shallow, and others the bottoms of which were lower than the leval of the sea. Although these depresions were at all times dry, yet they were called lakes, and as such figger on the maps. They were found to be thickley incrusted with salt on the bottem and sidos, indecating that at one time they had been filled with sea-water, it is indeed most probible that the hole istmus was at a very remoat periud entirely submirged. In the construcsion of the canal these depresions were made to play a very emportent part. The line of the canal was carried direckly through them; the shallower were made a sufficient depth by dredging, the deeper were simply filled with water and required nothing more for safe navegation than an indication of the channel by buoys.

DICTATION.

F. A. Jones, B.A., Model School, Ottawa: Examiner.

Time: 30 minutes.

Value—50.

Note.—This paper should not be seen by the candidates. A third reading of the whole extract may be given if sufficient time remains. The whole time occupied should not be more than half an hour.

In actual value to man, and influence upon his life, the first rank among insects belongs to the silk-moth. No human labour has a history so ancient, so varied, and so interesting as the silk industry. The search for the "Golden Fleece" has been thought to be the legend of Europe's long and eager quest for the mystery of silk-culture. The product appears to have reached Greece from India by way of Persia. India receives it from that swarming hive of ingenious industry, China. As far back as eight centuries before Christ we have credible notices of the culture of the mulberry-tree and the manufacture of silk cloth. But Chinese tradition carries the art back eighteen centuries further; it attributes the rearing of silk-worms and utilizing their cocoons to an ancient Chinese empress, an invention which raised her to the rank of a divinity.

This Chinese discovery has largely influenced civilization. Consider the multitudes engaged in cultivating the mulberry, which is the food-plant of the silk-worm, in rearing the worms, and in the task of reeling the raw silk from the cocoons. Think of the hosts engaged in dyeing and in weaving the silk, and in devising and making machinery employed therein. Picture the part silk has played in the social life of men and women. What high functions of ancient and modern times, in state and church and society, have not owed a chief accessary in their brilliancy and beauty to the silk-worm's humble industry as developed by man?

William Smith Dingman.

Examined by Mr. Barwick, K.C., representing the Press Association:

Q. You live in Stratford?—A. Yes.

Q. And publish a newspaper there?—A. I am principal proprietor of the Herald newspaper there.

Q. The Stratford Herald?—A. Yes.

Q. What is the amount of your purchases of paper during the year, about?—A. Our newspaper purchases run from fifteen to sixteen hundred dollars, or a little over sixteen hundred dollars.

Q. That is what you call news print?—A. Yes.

Q. And your other newspaper printing, what do they come to?—A. I did not look up that question particularly. I suppose, six or eight hundred dollars.

Q. Six or eight hundred dollars a year?—A. Yes.

Q. What are the other papers used for?—A. Jobbing purposes, printing of small work, letter-heads, posters, and all that class of work; miscellaneous work.

Q. Books?—A. No, we do not print books.

Q. When did you first hear, Mr. Dingman, of the formation of this Paper Makers' Association?—A. It would be shortly after the fire, I think, o· in the vicinity of the time of the fire at the Eddy Mills.

Q. When was that fire? Just a little over a year ago, was it not?—A. Yes.

Q. The twenty-sixth of April, nineteen hundred?—A. Yes.

Q. That was the great Ottawa fire?—A. Yes.

Q. How long have you been in business?—A. I have been in business for myself for seventeen or eighteen years.

Q. Then, you have a pretty good knowledge of the prices before this association was formed?—A. A fair knowledge.

Q. Will you be kind enough to tell His Lordship what effect the formation of this Paper Makers' Association has had on your business? Tell us the course of business, as far as you know, before and since?—A. The prices we had been paying for news print just before the combine came into operation were two and a quarter cents, or two dolla.s and twenty-five cents per one hundred pounds, delivered at Stratford. The effect afterwards was to raise the price at first to three cents, and subsequently to two dollars and seventy-five cents—two and three-quarter cents—with a discrimination against us in the matter of freight delivery.

The discrimination took the effect of the freight being paid free to certain points, which were called equalization points, of which Stratford was not one, and we were asked to pay over and above—to pay the local rate over and above the freight rate from the point of manufacture to this nearest equalization point.

The effect was that the London publisher would get his paper delivered at the same price per carload free of freight at London, while we would be charged the extra rate from London to Stratford.

It effected a discrimination against us of in the vicinity of ten to fifteen cents per one hundred pounds.

Q. That is since the formation of the combine?—A. Yes. I objected to that, and the paper travellers regularly reported our objections, and always we got sympathy from the travellers, but no satisfaction from headquarters.

I investigated the alternative of buying paper from the other side, and found that paper could be purchased over there at two quotations, one at two and one-eighth cents and the other at 2·15, which, with the duty and freight paid, would deliver the paper in Stratford at a trifle under the combine price, with a discrimination in the matter of freight added.

Q. I do not understand the last remark: "with a discrimination added"?—A. With a discrimination against us.

Q. With the present discrimination you could have brought your paper in?—A. Yes, I estimated.

Q. At a less price?—A. At a slightly less price.

Q. With the duty removed?—A. No, with the duty added; with the duty removed the price would have been very much less.

By the Commissioner:

Q. What would have been the exact price with the duty added?

By Mr. Barwick, K.C.:

Q. Have you this in writing now, what you are telling us?—A. Yes.

Q. Well, answer His Lordship's question first?—A. The price from Niagara Falls, New York, of paper would be $2.12½ per 100 pounds, duty 54 cents, freight 12 cents, making a total of $2.78½ per 100 pounds as compared with about $2.85 under the combine regulation.

By the Commissioner:

Q. With the discrimination against you?—A. Yes, with the discrimination against us.

Q. That would not apply to the London paper?—A. No, he could get his delivered in London at $2.75.

Q. You are situated near London?—A. I am nearest London; it is the nearest alleged equalization point.

Q. What is the meaning of that word,—equalization?—A. I tried to discover, but have beeen unable to discover it.

By Mr. Barwick, K.C.:

Q. That is a point at which they deliver paper at a certain rate?—A. Yes.

Q. It is a distributing point?—A. No. I understand it was devised for the purpose of equalizing competition between the different mills so that one could not gain an extra advantage with customers who are contiguous to their own mills; so that Georgetown, for instance, could not have any particular cinch on the paper users near by.

Q. Why?—A. Because it was apparently arranged among the paper makers that Georgetown, for instance, should be a point where they would all be upon equal footing, and the various other equalization points would also be placed where they would be upon equal footing.

Q. You mean to say, where the paper would be the same price, freight would be collected at all these points?—A. Yes.

Q. So that the price paid for paper delivered at London would be the same price as that paid at Georgetown?—A. Yes.

Q. How many miles from Toronto is Georgetown?—A. It is about twenty-five or thirty miles, where the Barber Paper Mills are.

Q. So that the Barber Paper Mills, twenty-five miles from Toronto, for delivery Toronto was an equalization point?—A. Yes, I suppose so.

Q. The effect would be that exactly the same price would be paid for paper delivered from the Barber Paper Mills as it would at London?—A. Yes.

Q. So that it was not a question of equalization to the buyer; it was a question of equalization to the seller?—A. Yes.

Q. What were the average prices you were paying prior to the formation of the combine?—A. Two and a quarter cents a pound delivered at Stratford.

Q. Any allowances, such as wrapping?—A. No, that was the net price, except for the usual discount for thirty days.

Q. Your net price was 2¼ cents, with what discount?—A. I think it was 3 per cent for thirty days.

By the Commissioner:

Q. Two dollars and twenty-five cents per hundred pounds with a discount of what per cent?—A. Three per cent.

IMMIGRATION HALLS.

The opening of new land districts at Medicine Hat, Saskatoon and Swift Current, and the drift of immigration into the great territories adjacent thereto, have spread the movement over a much wider area than has been the case in the last few years. This is specially true of the district east of Calgary, and between that point and Medicine Hat, north of the Red Deer. It is true also in what is known as the Goose Lake country.

NOTE.—Both the following passages should be dictated to the candidates in a clear and distinct voice, at the rates indicated. No preliminary reading is to be given to the candidates. The bar-strokes will indicate to the reader his progress at the end of every fifteen seconds. Upon completion of the two readings, the candidates should be notified that they will be allowed one hour and a half for transcribing their shorthand notes in manuscript.

EIGHTY WORDS PER MINUTE.

The ordinary observer cannot fail to be struck by the obvious improvement in the physique and general character of the | immigrants who are coming to Canada, not only this year, but during the year before. This is manifest not only | in the personal appearance of the immigrants, but in the fact that an increasing proportion of them are country-bred people | with agricultural instincts and inclinations, and a general desire to go upon the land. I have been very much struck | with the greatly improved quality of the immigration from Great Britain and Ireland, and more particularly from England. This makes | itself manifest in other ways besides the appearance of the immigrants. For instance, last year and this spring so far, | there has never been the slightest trouble in clearing out the train-loads of immigrants as they arrive. The demand for | agricultural labour provides the opportunity, and the great mass of British immigrants seize the occasion to work on the land | without delay. Again, the improved quality is seen in the almost total absence of appeals for public help, either from | the charities of this city and country, or from the department; whereas, some years ago considerable sums had to be | set apart for the maintenance of the unsuitable and the destitute. Last year this part of our work was practically | entirely eliminated, and from the quality of the immigrants arriving now, indications point to an almost total absence of appeals | for help from any other cause than sickness or misfortune.

ONE HUNDRED WORDS PER MINUTE.

For years it has been the ambition of every national park in America to capture a pair of Rocky Mountain sheep, but although the best | trappers and mountaineers were engaged, they have apparently defied all endeavours. A number have succeeded in capturing young lambs, but these soon sickened and died. | During the first part of January last it was discovered that a large band of these sheep had taken up their quarters on a sloping | bench at the foot of the mountain about five miles west of Banff and on the main line of the Canadian Pacific railway. It was | decided to make an attempt to capture a pair. Rock salt and hay were scattered for a distance of a quarter of a mile, and | at the narrow end of the grassy bench a small corral of wire netting was erected. A hanging gate was placed over the opening and | wires attached to connect with the hay at the far side of the enclosure. A game guardian visited the trap every morning, but ventured only | near enough to be able to see the enclosure with glasses. The weather was intensely cold, and after the trap had been built two weeks | and there were no results, we began to fear we were to be unsuccessful. However, in the latter part of January the chief game guardian | reported animals in the trap, and a party of men were immediately sent down. They found two full-grown Rocky Mountain sheep that required all | their intelligence and strength to catch and securely tie in two hours' time. They proved to be four and six years of age, the horns | of the oldest measuring eleven inches at the base; and both sheep are magnificent specimens. They were brought from the trap on a handcar | and placed in the old buffalo building, and are in as good condition to-day as they were at the time of their capture. |

He sucsedes in representing the chereful repoas of lak prospecks, where houses in frendly aproxemation, reflecting themselves in the cleer wave, seam as if batheing in its depths. Here are scene shoars incirkled with green hills, behind which rise forrests, mountanes, and icy peeks of glaciers. The tone of colouring in such seens is gay and mirthfullie cleer; the distances appear as if overfloed with sofening vapour, which from wattered holows and river valleys mounts up gaier and mistyer and indecates there windeings. No less is the master's art to be prazed in vews from valies lieing nerer the hie Alpine rangz, where decliveties slope down, luxuriently over-groan, and fresh stremes roal rapidly along by the foot of roks.

With exquisit skil, in the deep shadey trees of the fourground, he gives the distincktif karacter of the severall speces; sati-fying us in the forme of the whole, as in the struckure of the branchs, and the detales of the leves; no less so in the fresh green with its manyfold shadeings, where soft airs appere as if faning us with beninant breth and the lites as if thereby put in moshun. Note.—This paper should not be seen by the candidates. The examiner will read over the whole extract once, and then reread it slowly and distinctly, indicating to the candidates the occurrence of each full stop. A third reading of the whole extract may be given if sufficient time remains. The whole time occupied should not be more than half an hour.

I have called him a colossal spirit, for this impression continues with us: to the last we figure him as something gigantic. All the elements of his structure are vast, and combined in living rather than in symmetrical order. His intellect is keen, impetuous, fit to rend in pieces the most stubborn materials, and extort from them their most hidden and refractory truth. A common truth is wrenched from its old combinations and presented to us in new, impassable, abysmal contrast with its opposite error. Yet humour is his ruling quality, for in this rare gift he stands unrivalled in his own country and probably in every other. His humour is often perhaps overstrained and extravagant yet fundamentally it is genuine and free from superficial distortion. In the treatment of heroes proper he is seldom completely happy. They shoot into rugged exaggeration in his hands: their sensibility becomes too copious and tearful, their magnanimity too fierce, abrupt and thorough-going. In some instances they verge towards absolute failure: compared with their less ambitious brethren, they are almost of a vulgar cast. In the general conduct of such histories and delineations, Richter seldom appears to advantage yet in spite of all, we stand astonished if not captivated, delighted if not charmed, by the artist and his art.

Of late years it has become so easy for great corporations to coalesce under the same management or arrive at an understandiug with regard to rates that the public are often unfairly treated in the matter of charges for the use of these public facilities. This applies to railway companies, express companies, telephone companies, telegraph companies and others. It is universally admitted that it is very difficult for parliament to interfere with these wealthy corporations for the protection of the people. So powerful are they and so far-reaching the influences they can bring to bear on governments that it is almost impossible to get any government with sufficient moral courage to grapple with them in the public interest. I was a member of a committee to inquire into certain rates charged by public utilities of which Sir William Mulock was chairman. From every part of the country there were people coming to these corridors lobbying the members telling them what would happen to their political friends, what great injustice would be done these corporations, how the public would suffer, and bringing every influence to bear on the representatives of the people and on the government to stop interference. In my judgment the solutiou is either independent competition which will afford reasonable charges, or otherwise absolute coutrol of these utilities by parliament. Parliament must deal with that problem one way or the other. I believe the time has come when no government can remain in power that is not possessed of sufficient moral stamina to grapple with these problems. We have tried competition by subsidizing other lines of railway and granting other charters but our experience is that when competition appears these iuterests get their heads together and come to an understanding for their own benefit and remove the competition we expected to get. We have in a measure tried control under the Railway Commission, which, although it does not come up to our full expectations, is certainly doing something. Perhaps it is not doing all we expected of it, because we have not given it greater powers. Now, what has competition accomplished? Have we examples from sources that are not controlled by corporations to show whether it does good or not? I cited an example to this House many years ago which will bear repeating—the carriage of grain by a private-owned railway as compared with its carriage by the government-owned railway at a figure which the government declared paid, but which the private corporations have not been satisfied with as sufficient to enable them to pay their enormous dividends. The Canada Atlantic railway, a private corporation, carried wheat, for instance, 346 miles for 2·27½ cents, a little over 2¼ cents a bushel, while the government railway carried it 828 miles, nearly three times the distance, for the same charge. That was healthy competition. When that fact was brought out, the Minister of Railways was asked if it paid to carry the grain at that figure. The answer was that having regard to the return cargo it did pay. That is one concrete example among several that I could give which will serve to show the advantage of healthy competition. If the Intercolonial railway had been extended to Parry Harbour, so that it could have taken the grain from there instead of handing it over to the Grand Trunk railway, it could have hauled it from Parry Harbour to Halifax for very much less than it cost to haul it jointly by the private-owned railway and the government-owned railway; and had the government railway been extended to the Georgian Bay, there is no doubt that the private-owned railway would have been obliged by the competition to reduce its rates. Let me give another example that came within my own experience a few years ago. I required to get a piece of machinery of only 400 or 500 weight from a firm between 30 and 40 miles east of Toronto. The charge for delivering that in Toronto was $5; yet a farmer offered to haul it with his team at the same price, although we did not give him any subsidy to help him to carry it. On one occasion in this House, when the government was being criticised for not controlling the railways in the interest of the farmers the Hon. Edward Blake made this remark: "I have often thought of it and have searched my brain to find some means of controlling them, but I have long since come to the conclusion that it cannot be done, for two reasons, that these corporations, when they do wrong, have no body to be whipped, and they have no soul to be damned.' Therefore they go on with evidently no fear of the future. If these corporations were not earning big dividends, it might be pleaded on their behalf that they were not making exorbitant charges; but when you see the stock of the Canadian Pacific Railway selling up to between 200 and 300 per cent, you can take this as evidence that their earning powers and their returns from the subsidies which parliament gave them, are yielding them more than they are entitled to. So it is with the express companies. The glimpse which the Railway Commission has recently given the public of what these companies have been doing has shown that what they have been making out of the public is away out of proportion to what was required to pay a large dividend on every dollar they invested in the service. I join with the hon. member for South York every time in demanding that these public utilities should be brought under such control, if there is no possibility of having a healthy and permanent competition, as to secure for the people the service of these utilities at a moderate and reasonable cost. The sooner parliament deals with it the better. Some may say it is a heavy task, but parliament is here for that purpose, and we should never shrink from any task that confronts us as parliamentarians or as a parliament. These problems are not impossible of solution if we apply ourselves to them, and until that is done I will be an advocate of government ownership of these utilities, or absolute control over them by some commission power or authority which will force these corporations to do what they ought to do in the interests of the great users of these public utilities.

What sin is there in the Decalogue in which Reineke has not steeped himself to the lips? Murder, and theft, and adultery; sacrilege, perjury, lying—his very life is made of them. On he goes to the end, heaping crime on crime, and lie on lie, and at last when it seems that justice, which has been so long vainly halting after him, has him really in her iron grasp, there is a solemn appeal to heaven, a challenge, a battle ordeal, in which by means which we may not venture even to mention, the villain prospers and comes out glorious, victorious, amidst the applause of a gazing world. To crown it all, the poet tells us that under the disguise of the animal name and form the world of man is represented, and the true form of it; and the idea of the book is, that we who read it may learn therein to discern between good and evil, and choose the first and avoid the last.

Les arbres étaient revêtus de leur parure ordinaire à la sortie d'un hiver hyperboréen; les bois, les prairies étaient émaillés de fleurs aux couleurs vives et variées, et les oiseaux saluaient par leur gai ramage la venue du printemps de l'année mil sept cent cinquante-neuf. Tout souriait dans la nature; l'homme seul paraissait triste et abattu; et le laboureur, regagnant ses foyers sur la brune, ne faisait plus entendre sa joyeuse chanson, parce que la plus grande partie des terres étaient en friche, faute de bras pour les cultiver. Un voile sombre couvrait toute la surface de la Nouvelle-France, car la mère-patrie, en vraie marâtre, avait abandonné ses enfants canadiens. La colonie était menacée d'une invasion formidable. Les Anglais avaient fait les preparatifs immenses; et leur flotte remontait les eaux du Saint-Laurent sous les ordres du général Wolfe, tandis que deux armées de terre encore plus nombreuses devaient opérer leur junction sous les murs mêmes de la capitale de la Nouvelle-France.

The following is to be twice read aloud to the candidates, who will then write the gist of it in their own words.

THE STEAM-ENGINE.

A steam-engine may be defined as an apparatus for doing work by means of heat applied to water.

The source of heat is called the furnace, and the vessel containing the water is called the boiler. The steam from the heated water goes through a pipe called the steam-pipe to a tube known as the cylinder, which is closed at both ends, and which contains a flat plate called the piston.

The steam is admitted to the cylinder first at one end, and then at the other, so that the piston is constantly forced backward and forward, while the steam is allowed to escape by means of valves. The piston is fitted with a bar or rod called the piston-rod, firmly attached to the centre of the piston, and continued through the cylinder to the open air, where it moves backward and forward exactly as the piston does. By a mechanical contrivance, the straight-line motion of the piston-rod is changed into circular motion, and the engine can then be used for turning wheels, lifting weights, or doing any other work required.

1. Translate into English:

(a) FRANKLIN.

Franklin ne perdait jamais une minute. Il avait coutume de dire: 'La faim regarde à la porte l'homme laborieux, mais elle n'ose pas entrer.' Il avait une telle aversion pour le mensonge (lie) qu'il pratiquait la sincérité jusque dans (even in) les fonctions diplomatiques. Lorsqu'il vint en France pour traiter avec Louis XVI, le gouvernement anglais le fit solliciter (had him approached) secrètement par des amis qui lui garantissaient la possibilité d'une réconciliation entre les colonies et l'Angleterre. Il répondit simplement: 'Je suis engagé avec la France; je reste avec la France. . . . et il signa le traité français.

(b) NELSON ET SES ETUDES.

Les études littéraires de Nelson furent interrompues dès l'âge de douze ans. Avec un pareil système on ne faisait peut-être pas de grands clercs, dit l'amiral J. de la Gravière; mais ce qui valait mieux (was better): on faisait de bons marins. Cet amiral ajoute: 'On ne saurait commencer trop tôt le métier de la mer.' Nelson disait souvent qu'on ne pouvait être un bon officier sans posséder à la fois les connaissances pratiques d'un matelot et les manières d'un gentleman. Dès que la paix de 1783 eut rouvert aux Anglais l'accès du continent, il s'empressa de (hastened to) se rendre en France pour y apprendre une langue dont il déclarait la connaissance indispensable aux officiers de la marine britannique.

(c) De l'Indiscrétion.

Ne publiez point votre affaire.
On se repente toujours d'un langage indiscret,
Et presque jamais du mystère.
Le causeur dit tout ce qu'il sait;
L'étourdi (madcap) ce qu'il ne sait guère;
Les jeunes ce qu'ils font, les vieux ce qu'ils ont fait.
Et les sots ce qu'ils veulent faire. (Panard.)

2. (a) Give the feminine of: le trompeur ingénieux; le paysan laborieux; cet Anglais est grand; ce cheval est noir; un ancien ami est venu hier avec son neveu.
(b) Give the plural of: un pareil système; l'accès; dit l'amiral; le gâteau est bon; le feu est allumé; le bal chez le général; l'avocat plaide le procès de son client.

3. (a) Conjugate the past definite of: recevoir, venir, finir; the present subjunctive of: parler, aller, avoir; the future of: vendre, être, voir; and the past indefinite of: mourir and mettre.

4. Translate into French:
(a) The books that you have bought are amusing.
(b) Though it is cold this morning, I am warm.
(c) How old is this little girl? She will be eight next week.
(d) Do not show it to them, give it to me.
(e) Has Captain Smith returned from France? I do not know.
(f) I wanted our friend to write to them.

5. Translate into French:

Alfred the Great was a wise man and a good king. He was never lazy. He built several schools, and did all that he could to encourage the young people of England to like study. One of the best things that he did, was to build a large number of ships. He fought his enemies on sea, instead of allowing them to land (débarquer) on the coasts. He was for a long time sick before he died. But he was very patient, and endured his sufferings without complaining (se plaindre). He died after a reign of twenty years.

(a) Der Bauer und der Esel.

Ein Bauer ging eines Tages zu seinem Nachbar, um ihn zu bitten, ihm seinen Esel zu leihen. Dieser Nachbar, welcher nicht geneigt (disposed) war, ihm denselben zu leihen, antwortete: "Es ist mir sehr leid, dass Sie ihn nicht früher verlangt haben; ich habe ihn einem anderen geliehen. Während er sich so entschuldigte, (excused) fing der Esel an zu schreien. "Ach!" sagte der Bauer, "das ist Ihr Esel, welcher versichert, dass Sie ihn einem anderen geliehen haben; man muss gestehen, dass Sie sehr dienstfertig (obliging) sind." "Ich finde Sie sehr sonderbar," erwiderte ihm der Nachbar, "dass Sie eher meinem Esel als mir selbst glauben!"

(b) Der Winter in Rom.

Man merkt den Winter nicht; die Gärten sind mit immergrünen Bäumen bepflanzt; die Sonne scheint hell und warm; Schnee sieht man nur auf den entferntesten Bergen gegen Norden. Die Citronenbäume, die in den Gärten an den Wänden gepflanzt sind, werden nun nach und nach (gradually) mit Decken von Rohr (reed) überdeckt, die Pomeranzenbäume (orange-trees) aber bleiben frei stehen. Es hängen viele Hunderte der schönsten Früchte an so einem Baum, der nicht wie bei uns beschnitten und in einen Kübel (case) gepflanzt ist, sondern in der Erde frei und froh, in einer Reihe mit seinen Brüdern steht. Man kann sich nichts lustigeres (nothing more cheerful) denken als einen solchen Anblick. Für ein geringes Trinkgeld ist man deren so viel man will. Sie sind schon jetzt recht gut, im März werden sie noch besser sein. (Goethe.)

Und fliegst so hoch und singst so gern,
Als säh'st du Gott den Herrn.

Agriculture as it was Practised in Upper Canada in 1847.

As the Chief Superintendent had arranged to deliver an Address during his Official Visits to the various Districts in Upper Canada on "The Importance of Education to an Agricultural People," he received an interesting Letter from a gentleman in the Western part of the Province. The Letter proceeded:—

"I take the liberty of giving you the result of part of my enquiries on the subject in this District for the last three years.

"Agriculture is a Science in which I take a very great interest; and this interest leads me continually to make inquiries in localities where I may happen to be . .

"My attention was at first directed to the diseases to which the wheat crop seemed particularly liable in this part of the country, and first I examined the soil, which I found to be, in the majority of instances, a sandy loam, and which, when tested with acids, gave no indication whatever of containing any constituents in the shape of free alkalies, and consisted apparently of nothiug but humus, i.e., ordinary vegetable mould, silex, common quartz sand, with some iron; though there is no doubt it contains a small proportion of the alkalies, in the shape of insoluble combinations which give up their fertilizing properties so slowly as to yield the agriculturist, in ordinary seasons, but a small return for his labour; and to this must be ascribed the exceeding small average of this District, which, in the shape of wheat, only returns between ten and fifteen bushels to the acre, according to the best information I have been able to collect. This average includes bad and good seasons, and many a farmer here obtains nothing like that return from his ground . . . . "

Live Stock.

Good specimens of pure-bred horses, cattle, swine and poultry will be purchased. In horses it is not intended to maintain at first a large number of breeding animals, but to have good specimens of the leading draft breeds, as well as typical animals of the different classes such as roadsters, carriage and saddle horses, and ponies, with the other market classes well represented, especially draft and agriculture horses.

Beef and dairy breeds will be represented by good specimens of the utility breeds. It is planned to have a well-equipped dairy stable, with a number of good milk-producing animals. It is planned also to have a representative herd of about one dozen cows of the milking Shorthorn or the western farmer's type. A number of steers of the various market classes and grades will be kept, fed and slaughtered at the College, in order that the students may study not only the methods of production, but also the quality of the meat produced by these various types of animals.

One of the important duties of the College is to foster the sheep industry in this province, and to this end there will be maintained representative flocks of the more important mutton breeds, especially Shropshires, Oxfords, Hampshires, and Leicesters, all of which are suitable to this country. A number of range-bred wethers will be kept to be used in the live stock class-room and afterwards slaughtered for carcass demonstration work.

The piggery will contain good specimens of all breeds possibly suited to western conditions.

In order to promote the poultry industry there will be maintained representative flocks of the different utility fowls such as Rocks, Wyandottes, Orpingtons, Rhode Island Reds, Leghorns, and turkeys.

X.—COMPETITIVE EXAMINATION FOR TRANSLATOR ON THE STAFF OF THE HOUSE OF COMMONS, DECEMBER 27, 1911. (No. 160.)

FIRST PAPER.

(a) Report of Inspector Jarvis.

Mr. V. Stefanson arrived at Fort Macpherson on July 6, 1908, on the SS. Eva, of Hyslop & Nagle, with a whale-boat and eleven dogs. He is accompanied by Dr. R. M. Anderson, a naturalist on the staff of the American Museum of Natural History of New York City. Mr. Stefanson's present expedition is the second of a series of journeys he has planned to carry out within the coming fifteen years, during which time he hopes to visit and study every Esquimaux settlement from East Cape, Siberia, to the east coast of Greenland and the shores of Labrador. On his first journey, in connection with the Anglo-American Polar Expedition, he spent the thirteen months from July, 1906, to August, 1907, with various groups of Esquimaux between Cape Brown, just east of the Mackenzie river, Arctic Canada, to the north of the Colville river, American Alaska.

The present journey is planned to cover two years, one of which he expects to spend between Cape Brown and Bathurst Inlet, Canada, the other on the Colville river, Alaska. He believes that near the mouth of the Coppermine river there is a group of Esquimaux who have never seen a white man; these he desires to study while as yet they are uncontaminated by white influence, and before "civilized" ways and the diseases of civilization undermine their health and their system of living. On the Colville river there is, by native report, a group of about 300 natives, only odd numbers of which have had contact with whites. These are the only "uncivilized" branch of the so-called Nunatagmiuts (Dwellers among the Hills), who formerly occupied a large portion of the Arctic slope of Alaska, but who have now become few and are scattered to distant places because of the absence of deer from their former hunting grounds.

(b) Surgeon's Report.

To the Warden:

In accordance with the statutory requirements, I herewith submit my annual report of the medical department of the penitentiary for the year ending March 31, 1907.

The fiscal year being somewhat curtailed by the new arrangement, leaving only nine months to form this, the first year of the change, it leaves little of importance to communicate outside of that of the general and familiar subjects which usually form the basis of annual reports.

The prison generally has been kept in a good sanitary condition, and the prisoners present the appearance of having the best of care. The ventilation and heating in the various parts of the prison have been assiduously looked after, and the comfort and protection of the convicts have been attended to.

The food, as regards cooking, quality, serving and allowance, has proved most satisfactory in a health point of view. It is scarcely necessary to state, for it is a fact well known by even those not possessed of any medical knowledge, that a person who is well supplied with food, and who is well nourished, must necessarily be in a more normal mental and physical condition, and consequently more amenable to disciplinary measures.

The hospital has been thoroughly renovated and is always kept clean, sanitary and in a ready condition in every particular for the reception of the sick who may require special care and attention. There has been a large number admitted for treatment, many of whom were detained for weeks and months by the gravity of their disease, but the care and nursing given them, as well as to all others admitted, helped to tide their diseases over the most dangerous periods, and assisted materially in diminishing, during the nine months just completed, the number of deaths recorded in the returns of the hospital overseers, which are appended to this report. Only one accident occurred during the year. A prisoner was unfortunate enough to fall from a scaffold and break his leg. There was, during the year, the usual amount of sickness amongst the officers. One hundred and seventeen were invalided. Seven hundred and fifty-five prescriptions were written for these officers, to whom I made, including night visits, 1,182 professional visits. Many of them were afflicted with serious and prolonged illness and required much attention. One guard was completely disabled for many weeks by a fracture of his leg by falling from a load of hay on the farm. He was brought to his home, where the injured member was adjusted. He is now as well as ever. Sanitary matters have been carefully looked after at the sewage-plant, which has been operated very satisfactorily and has been kept clean and free from offensive odours. Disinfectant material is supplied in such quantities as meet the requirements of the sewage contents and make the effluent inodorous and innoxious.

(c) Provincial Boundaries.

It is desirable that the decision of the Most Honourable the Privy Council on the long-pending boundary dispute should be confirmed by legislation at the present session of the Imperial Parliament, and it is presumed that a request to that effect by the Dominion Government, through His Excellency the Governor General, would, if properly communicated, probably facilitate the immediate passing of such an Act.

My government, therefore, desire very earnestly to press your government to take, without further delay, the necessary steps for this purpose, if these have not been already taken. You are aware that their Lordships of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council reported to Her Majesty their opinion, "that it was desirable and most expedient that an Imperial Act of Parliament should be passed to make their decision binding and effectual."

I take this opportunity of saying that I would be glad if your government would consent to the whole northerly boundary being included in the Act. I think that the Dominion Government will agree with mine, that the Privy Council having decided in accordance with the award as respects our westerly boundary and as respects the westerly part of our northerly boundary, the grounds of the decision at which they arrive involve a decision as to the remainder of the northerly boundary, in accordance with the award.

May I remind you that the request of my government, communicated in my despatch of January 31 last, that the reference to the Privy Council which this province and the province of Manitoba had agreed on should be extended, so as to embrace the whole subject of the northerly as well as the westerly boundaries of the province, was approved of by your government in March last, and communicated to me by your despatch of the 18th of that month. This despatch stated that your government was of opinion, "that it is desirable to settle now and forever the whole westerly and northerly boundary, and believes that the case, as it will be presented to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, will afford such material as is available for the further purpose referred to."

Elle était comme l'enfant gâtée de tout le monde. On ne savait qu'inventer pour la distraire, pour l'arracher à son deuil, pour mettre comme du baume sur la plaie saignante de ce cœur désemparé. Ses amies ne la quittent plus, s'ingéniant à l'amuser, à lui rendre un peu de jeunesse.

Mais, quoi qu'elle en eût, la convalescente préférait à leurs expansions bruyantes, à leur gaiété, les longues visites que lui faisait tous les jours aux mêmes heures, depuis qu'elle avait été entre la vie et la mort, l'un des camarades d'école de son fiancé, un lieutenant de lanciers qui s'appelait George Blith. Il ne tentait pas de la consoler. Le sachant en congé à Cannes, elle avait tenu à le voir assidûment, à l'interroger, à s'entretenir avec lui de l'ami qu'ils pleuraient l'un et l'autre. Il se prêtait à ce triste caprice, avec toute la patiente complaisance d'un frère pour miss Ashton, recommençait les mêmes histoires aussi souvent qu'elle l'en priait, lui servait de garde-malade, la promenait pas à pas par les allées du jardin, lui engourdissait insensiblement les nerfs et le cœur dans le Souvenir.

Et par instants, tout heureuse de ce dévouement si fidèle, de cette amitié si affectueuse, elle avait cette illusion que les deux officiers se ressemblaient, qu'elle retrouvait ce cher fiancé perdu dans ce confident de ses regrets, dans ce compagnon de son deuil, se troublait malgré elle, avait plus chaud au cœur, rougissait lorsque le lieutenant la soutenait, la frôlait de ses doigts hésitants.

During the past year the fanatical section of the Doukhobors, who had spent the winter at Fort William, Ontario, were dumped back without any warning into the province of Saskatchewan, and a crazy band from the United States, calling themselves Adamites, under the leadership of one Jim Sharpe, came over to fraternize with them. In order to look after these deluded people, some of our detachments had to be vacated, and our regular work was seriously interfered with. The Doukhobors, 70 men, women and children, arrived in Yorkton in two colonist cars on April 29, in charge of an Ontario government official, who returned as soon as he could after delivery. Immediately after their arrival they commenced to disrobe, and twenty men and women entirely nude paraded the streets. Inspector Junget had them herded back into the cars, and the provincial government were asked for instructions. Some delay ensued, due, I understand, to a difference between the provincial and Dominion authorities as to who had the care of these people; at any rate we received no instructions from the Attorney General's department until May 12, and in the meantime we acted on our own account, hired the Agricultural Hall and placed the whole party there under a strong guard. On June 5, 1908, the Doukhobors were removed from Yorkton to a camp established near Orcadia, on a school section, the use of which had been authorized by the Minister of the Interior.

The camp consisted of twelve tents inside a seven-foot-high fence; three constables and a matron were placed on guard, and provisions supplied twice a week. The restraint, after a short time, had a beneficial effect, and a few were allowed to go as "mentally cured." On July 15, twelve of the worst, six men and six women, were committed as lunatics. The removal of these twelve was the cause of a three hours' fight, in which the whole band attacked the police with sticks and stones. On July 18, Inspector Junget wired the situation was serious, as the remaining Doukhobors had starved themselves and children since the removal of the lunatics. He took the children to Yorkton and had them fed.

Newfoundland, England's most ancient colony, is a large island in the Atlantic Ocean, at the mouth of the Gulf of St. Lawrence. It is separated from Canada on the west and southwest by the Gulf of St. Lawrence, and on the northwest by the strait of Belle Isle, distant but nine miles at its narrowest point from the shores of Labrador. Its southwest point approaches Cape Breton, about a seven hours' run for a steamer. It is bounded on the east and south by the Atlantic. St. John's, the capital and most eastern projection, is but 1,640 miles from Valentia in Ireland. Newfoundland forms an irregularly shaped triangle, deeply indented with numerous bays and harbours, and surrounded with innumerable islands, and has a coast-line of about 2,200 miles. Its greatest width, between Cape Anguille and Cape Spear, is 317 miles; its greatest length, between Cape Ray and Cape Bauld, is about 316 miles; total area, 42,200 square miles.

Losses by fire on this continant are striking exampuls of carelessness and waist. Success in any kind of practical life does not depend only, or even chiefly, on knowledge. Even in the professions, knowledge alone is of less importance than people usually suppose. And, if much bodily energy is taken up in the day's work mere knowledge alone is of still less importance when one considers what it costs to obtain it. To do a fair day's work with his hands, a man needs, above all things, health, strength, and the patience and cheerfulness which, if they do not always come with these blessings, can hardly, in the nature of things, exist without them; to which we must add honesty of purpose and a pride in doing what is done well. A good workman can get on very well without genius, but he will do badly without a reasonable share of common sense; and he will be all the better for a real knowledge, however limited, of the ordinary laws of Nature, and most of all of those laws which apply to his own business.

There are two distinct kinds of lighthouses, the ordinary hollow-built, comparatively light structure erected on land, and the more solid and substantial edifice built on wave-washed rocks. The erection of the former is an easy matter, requiring only the ordinary skill of the carpenter and the mason; but in the case of those erected a little way out from the shore it is an entirely different matter. The sea-builders, as the men who erect these towers are called, have tides, breakers, rocks, fierce currents and wind storms to contend against. Theirs is a continuous fight against the pitiless sea. In a few moments the work of months may be destroyed by angry waves, and the operations have to be commenced all over again, indeed few men can relate such stories of pluck and perseverance as the sea-builders.

The first lighthouse built of stone was placed on the dread Eddystone rocks in the English Channel in the eighteenth century, and the success of this undertaking gave such an impetus to lighthouse building, that since that time the sea-builders have been busy erecting lights on dangerous reefs and pinnacles in all parts of the globe. Before the stone edifice was placed on the Eddystone, two wooden structures had been built on these rocks and both had been destroyed.

Candidates are requested to give attention to spelling, writing, punctuation, grammar and style.

SETTLEMENT OF STRIKE IN BUILDING TRADES AT CALGARY, ALTA.

On May 18, masons and bricklayers in the employ of several contractors in Calgary, Alta., went out on strike, the cause being the refusal of the contractors to agree to pay masons at the rate of 60 cents an hour and bricklayers at the rate of 65 cents, an increase in the case of masons of 5 cents and of bricklayers of 10 cents over the rate which had been paid during the previous year. The total number of men who went out on strike was fifty-six. Some thirty-six other masons and bricklayers continued at work, their employers having agreed to pay the increase demanded.

The circumstances of the strike were somewhat peculiar. On January 5 of the present year, the bricklayers and masons, who were members of a local union with a membership of about 100, sent a notice to the contractors in Calgary, informing them that three months from that date they would expect to have their wages raised from the flat rate of 55 cents to a rate of 60 cents for masons and 65 cents per hour for bricklayers. When the three months had expired a number of the contractors in the city began paying the advanced rate. About this time, however, a large number of contractors and others interested in the building trades in the city formed what was known as the Calgary Builders' Exchange, though at the time of its formation and subsequently there were one or two other contractors who did not become members. On May 4, the secretary of the Builders' Exchange sent a communication to the secretary of the Stonemasons and Bricklayers' Union, informing the union that he had been directed by the exchange to inform its members that after May 15 the stonemasons and bricklayers would be paid the same wages as they had been paid during the previous year, namely, 55 cents per hour. The union thereupon determined not to allow any of its members to work except for contractors who were willing to enter into an agreement to pay the rates demanded by the union in accordance with the notice given in January. On May 15, on or two contractors who were not members of the Builders' Exchange, and one or two individuals and firms who had on hand certain construction work which they were anxious to have completed, signed an agreement for two years to pay the rate demanded by the union. All the members of the Builders' Exchange, however, refused to grant this rate or to enter into any agreement with the local union. As the members of the Builders' Exchange constituted, with one exception, the most important firms of contractors employing masons and bricklayers, their refusal to grant the wages requested led to a cessation on this class of work on all buildings which they had in course of construction, and began, before the end of the month, to seriously affect the building and business interests of the city.

Early in the month of June, a communication was received at the Department of Labour from the Mayor of Calgary, in which His Worship requested the Deputy Minister of Labour to come to Calgary to intervene in the strike with a view to bringing about, if possible, a settlement of the difficulties. In the same communication a request was also made that the Deputy Minister should intervene in another strike which had arisen among the leather-workers in Calgary. In his letter His Worship said: "If you can arrange to come to Calgary, I think it may prevent a serious and disastrous setback to our progress." On June 4, a telegram was received at the Labour Department signed by three of the leading firms of contractors, requesting, in the names of themselves and the Builders' Exchange of Calgary, the immediate presence of the Deputy Minister of Labour to adjudicate upon the matter in dispute. This communication having been placed before the Minister of Labour, the Honourable A. B. Aylesworth, the latter directed Mr. Mackenzie King, the Deputy Minister, to proceed forthwith to Calgary, and to lend the good offices of the department with a view to effecting a settlement under the Conciliation Act, 1900.

Mr. King reached Calgary about midnight on Saturday, the 9th June, and on Monday morning had interviews with His Worship the Mayor, the officers of the Bricklayers and Masons' Union, and the members of the Builders' Exchange, and arranged a joint conference for that afternoon at the City Hall between the representatives of the Builders' Exchange and the union. The conference lasted from three until nearly seven o'clock, p.m., the Deputy Minister acting as chairman, and the representatives of the two parties exchanging their views across a common board. By the time the conference was concluded the terms of agreement which it was believed would be acceptable to both parties had been drafted. On the following morning the representatives of the Builders' Exchange presented to the members of that body, at a meeting called for the purpose, the terms of the agreement proposed, and after some discussion these terms were agreed to by the members. Having received the assurance of the representatives of the union that the terms would be acceptable to the members of that body, the Deputy Minister then proceeded to formally draft an agreement in accordance with the understanding between the parties. This agreement was presented to the president and secretary of the Builders' Exchange, who signed on behalf of the exchange, and was presented and its terms explained by the Deputy Minister to the members of the union at a special meeting of that body called for the evening of that day. At this meeting the agreement was adopted unanimously, and was signed by the president and secretary of the union, and on the following day the members of the union returned to work.

According to the agreement which formed the basis of the settlement, the masons received the full increase which had been demanded by them, namely, payment at the rate of 60 cents, instead of 55 cents an hour. The bricklayers were given an increase of 7½ cents per hour. Provision was made for the establishment of a Conciliation Board to settle any questions which might arise between the parties, and which might not be covered in the terms of the agreement. Both the Builders' Exchange and the union were to have an equal number of representatives on this board, and the decision of the majority was to be the decision of the board. In the event of the board being equally divided in its decision on any matter referred to it, provision was made for the selection of an arbitrator by the parties, the arbitrator to be such person as might be mutually acceptable, if one such could be found, and failing an arbitrator mutually chosen, a justice of the Supreme Court of the province. The period of the contract was fixed at three years.

THE COMMISSIONERS OF THE TRANSCONTINENTAL RAILWAY, OTTAWA, ONTARIO.

Ottawa, November 18, 1910.

Sirs,—In May last, the Honourable the Minister of Railways and Canals wrote me as follows:—(copy of his letter attached).

In accordance with these instructions I have had an estimate prepared by the district engineers, by information furnished them by their resident and division engineers.

These estimates have since been looked over and revised by Inspecting Engineer MacFarlane, particularly with reference to that portion of the line not under construction as yet.

Difference accounted for as follows:—

Longer time estimated for the staff: Owing to investigation expenses and possible law-suits, staff on final records will have to be kept on and probably increased. This item being only 1·7 per cent of total cost, is not over-estimated.

From this estimate you will see that the total estimated cost of the line will be $143,762,000.

Car-shop building at Springfield.
Terminals at Moncton.
Terminals at Quebec.
Rental of terminals at Winnipeg.

Also in accordance with the minister's wishes, I have had prepared the first of the monthly statements showing him how the above estimate is working out. This statement is for the month of September last, and he will be furnished with one from month to month as the work progresses.

I attach, in duplicate, both estimate and monthly statement, in order that you may send a copy to the minister.

Your obedient servant,

(Sgd.) GORDON GRANT,
Chief Engineer.

OFFICE OF THE MINISTER OF RAILWAYS AND CANALS.

Ottawa, 16th May, 1910.

Dear Sir,—You have undoubtedly read and heard the discussion as to the probable cost of the Transcontinental railway from Moncton to Winnipeg. I think the work has progressed sufficiently far now that we ought to be able to have an accurate estimate of each section, as the road is all under contract and on some sections it is nearing completion. With survey parties on each section they ought to be now able to give an estimate that will be a basis for our calculation. I would like to have that estimate made from the field, and then each month the memo. to show me how it is working out.

Yours truly,

(Sgd.) GEO. P. GRAHAM.

Chief Engineer,
Transcontinental Railway Commission,
Ottawa.

Eighty Words per Minute.

I shall read a few letters about the troubles of the western farmers. I need not go over them all, | but there are statements here from one hundred different points, and there are very few points in the West where | the same tale cannot be told. What is the matter with the conditions at all these points? How much harm | would have been done to the people in the East if the farmers could have turned their grain into money | and then employed the money in such a way that it could have found its way down to the East? | There is one thing I do not think has been touched upon, and it is that a great deal of | the grain in the West is likely to spoil. It was a very wet fall; since that time and after | the snow came it was threshed and it is now lying out in heaps in the fields. It must be | taken, not to an ordinary elevator or warehouse, but to a special elevator, where it can be dried, because if | it is not treated in that way, it is going to heat and spoil. That quality of grain seems to | have a greater value in the United States than here. It seems to me that one way to relieve the | transportation difficulty, for the future at all events, is to proceed immediately with the construction of the Hudson Bay Railway. |

One Hundred Words per Minute.

Cheapness in production is at all times the standard of efficiency, and as soon as a man has reached that time in life in which | he cannot do a fair day's work for a fair day's pay, he is set aside as too old for work, and practically useless from | the industrial point of view. I think there is no more pitiable sight—there is perhaps only one equally as pitiable—on the streets of | our cities, as compared with the man who wants work and cannot get it, and that is the sight of the man who is too | old to work satisfactorily and is cast aside in the rush of industrialism. There is not one of us who has taken any active part | in the charitable work of our cities who has not been moved by the many cases of men and women who have been industrious, thrifty | and hardworking through a long period of life but who are by necessity forced on their children for support, or else into our houses of | industry in their old age. The problem becomes acute for the reasons I have outlined. In the old days, when nearly all our people were | farmers, there was always a corner in the kitchen and a sup to drink and a bite to eat for the old people when they | got beyond their working days; but under our modern industrial system, in our crowded cities, when the cost of living has increased to such a | tremendous degree, the effect is that the old men and women often become a burden on their children. And the great love that parents have | for their children many a time makes the father and mother leave the home of the son or daughter and seek the almshouse and the | poorhouse rather than be a burden on their children.

Demosthenes the fourmost oritor of all history was born in Athens 385 B.C. His father died when he was about seven years old leeving a large istate. The gardians partley embezzeld, partley wasted the propurty, and the young oritor's first law bizness ocupying severel years, was the prosocution of these criminels to recovre what he could. His sucess was put parshall, yet his patremoney with what he erned, always kept him in comparetive afluense in spite of his expencive tastes and grate public and privet muneficense. As a boy he was week and did not avale himself of the phisical traneing then usuel amoung Greek youths of good famelys, but he imployed the best teachers in his studys and his mentle edieation was thorough.

The early years of his manhood were spent in the cevere and painstaking edication of himself as a publie speeker. His rezolushun in overcoming obstakels is mueh dwelt upon by antient writers. He lisped and stamerred and had a week voice, and to overeome these folts he ennuneeated with pebbels in his mouth and declamed while walking uphil or by the roring brakers of the seeshore. His first speaches were harsh and obskur, the sentinces were too long, the metafors voilent and inapt. He was however indomatible in his determenatiòn and eforts to speak well and percevered untill at last the most critiele heard him with delite. Notwithstanding certen deffects whieh eritiks very earley remarked, such as undew vehimense, argumentashun and inteneity too long sustaned, and in jeneral laek of variety and releaf, Demosthenes's oritory is worthy the exalted reguard whieh the best readers have in all ages acorded to it.

The age of Mary Stuart is in many ways the elimax of Scottish national history, as well as one of the most interesting and exeiting ehapters in the history of the world. No painter has ever done justice to the scene which must have been common as the day, when the beautiful young queen, so little aceustomed to the restraints and comparative poverty of her northern kingdom, and able to surround herself with the splendour she loved out of her French dowry, rode out in all her bravery up to Canongate, where every outside stair and high window would be crowded with spectators, and through the turreted gate to the grim fortress on the hill, making everything splendid with the glitter of her cavacade and her own smiles and unrivalled charm. Sadder spectacles that same beautiful queen provided too, miserable journeys up and down from the unhappy palace, sometimes through a stern, suppressed tumult of hostile faces, sometimes stealthily, under cover of night, which alone could protect her. Everything in Edinburg is associated more or less with Mary's name. There is scarcely an old house existing, with any authentic traces of antiquity, in which she is not reported to have taken refuge in her trouble or visited in her pleasure.

There is no indication that the much-contested history of Mary Stuart has lost any of its interest during the intervening centuries, on the contrary her chivalrous defenders are more bold than once they were, and though the tone of her assailants is subdued, it is from a natural softening of sentiment towards the past, rather than from any change of opinion.

My motion about what we might do in connection with tuberculosis was that we should, if possible, do something in addition to what is being done already. No one is finding any fault with what is being done already; it is being done as well as it can be done with the means at the disposal of the people doing it. What we want to do, it we can, is something in addition, to find a field in which the Federal Government can effectively act. A suggestion has often been made which has struck me as extremely practicable, and I had hoped that perhaps some means might be devised at this Conference to carry it out. It is this: to find somewhere a very large tract of land where the climate is especially suitable for the care of patients afflicted with tuberculosis. This could be taken in charge and, in a small way perhaps at first, but subsequently in a larger way, a place could be provided where tuberculous people who are living in towns and cities and have no hope of recovering, could go and find a rural home. Some men would be able to pay for it themselves, others would have to be helped when they went there. But you gentlemen are all familiar for instance with the condition at Saranac, where the whole population practically consists of people who have, at some time or other, been affected with tuberculosis. People go there and stay there; they are afraid to move away. It is practically a community of people formerly affected with consumption. It seems to me that as a start, in connection with the national work, if we could find in Canada a place where a very considerable tract of land could be procured, and where we would be in a position to say to any man, anywhere, who was affected with tuberculosis, and saw no hope of recovery, you can come here and live a rural outdoor life, it would in time grow to be a great institution. I do not think that such a plan would present any great difficulties. I know myself people that would go there, if there were such a place. I presume there is no man here who does not know people who, if they had the opportunity, would go to such a place. I have thought about that a good deal. I do not know if it is practicable or not, but there is a place in Northern Ontario where, so far as my information goes,—I have no medical advice on the subject, but the popular opinion of the people there is very pronounced regarding it—there is a tract running from Englehart, on the Timiskaming and Northern Ontario railway, along the height of land, that would be very well worth investigating. The mining people who are there tell the most extraordinary stories about the cures effected in people going up there affected with lung trouble, who have gone there without any thought of getting cured. For instance, a man is said not to be able to have a cold in that climate. I have spent a little time there myself, but not long enough to be able to make any observations. There, any quantity of land could be got very cheaply. Most of the land is still in the hands of the Ontario Government, and the rest of it is occupied by settlers who would sell at a very low price. The country is good land, excellent farming country. The general impression is that it is not good land, but, as a matter of fact, most excellent crops are raised there, and if, on investigation it was found that the climate is of the character it is said to be, I do not know any place more suitable in every way for having a large tract of land where outdoor treatment could be adopted on a considerable scale. I make that suggestion because it seems to me that something of that kind will have to be done if we are to deal with the question on a large scale. The adoption of this plan would enable the Federal Government to say to all the people of Canada: We cannot undertake the health administration of Canada that is a duty of the provinces; but we can do something the provinces cannot do we can furnish a place where consumptives can go. If that can be worked out in a practical way, it seems to me we would be doing something substantial in the way of making an advance. I just make that suggestion so that it can be considered. I will not feel in the least degree disturbed if you, gentlemen, find there are features of it which are not practicable, except that I shall feel sorry that what seems to me to be a practical proposition, cannot be worked out. If that cannot be done, I would like to see something done on similar lines.

Time: 2½ hours.

1. Translate into French:

A few months ago the eyes of the whole world were turned towards the capital of England. With a splendor such as had, perhaps, never been witnessed before, George V. was crowned King of the immense empire on which the sun never sets. Princes, noble lords, grandees, representatives of every nation surrounded him with respect and honour. He passed in person through the streets of the metropolis transformed, it appears, into a truly fairylike spectacle. His people acclaimed him, wishing him long, happy and fruitful years. But during the course of that majestic ceremony of the consecration, he was seen humbly kneeling to recommend himself to the divine mercy and recognize the sovereign power of "Him who reigns in the heavens and on whom all empires depend." He could not help then but think that all human greatness is ephemeral and that many kings crowned before him in that famous abbey of Westminister were asleep in the tombs close by.

2. Translate into English:

Louis-Joseph de Montcalm de Saint-Véran, né au château de Candiac (Gard) en 1712, avait été envoyé en 1756 au Canada pour défendre cette colonie contre les Anglais. Dès son arrivée, le général français s'empara des forts Oswégo et Georges. Mais, décidés à en finir à tout prix, les généraux anglais réussirent, en groupant des forces imposantes, à isoler Montcalm de la mère-patrie. Malgré la privation des communications avec la France et des secours en hommes, en argent et en munitions qu'il en aurait reçus, le héros put longtemps encore opposer une résistance énergique à l'ennemi. En 1758, il réussit à arrêter les Anglais auprès du fort de Carillon. L'année suivante, attaqué dans Québec même par le général anglais Wolfe, appuyé sur une armée de 30,000 hommes, Montcalm résista pendant deux mois à l'ennemi, que l'hiver allait obliger battre en retraite, quand il dut offrir la bataille à Wolfe, qui venait de pénétrer sur le plateau. Blessé mortellement à la bataille d'Abraham, où périt Wolfe, Montcalm expira le lendemain, quatre jours avant la capitulation de Québec.

(a) Wie viele Menschen haben zusammengewirkt, um mir den Rock, den ich trage, zu verschaffen? Das Rhomaterial, die Wolle, stammt aus Südafrika oder Australien; für mich hat dort der Schafzüchter gearbeitet, aber nicht er allein, sondern in Verbindung mit anderen Menschen, die ihn mit Lebensmitteln aller Art, sowie mit Werkzeugen versahen. Für mich hat der Ozeandampfer die Wolle nach Europa gebracht. Welche unübersehbaren Scharen von Menschen haben Arbeit geleistet, um diese Fahrt über das Meer zu ermöglichen, die Hersteller des Dampfers, die Lieferanten der Roh- und Hilfs-stoffe, der Werkzeuge und Ausrüstungs-gegenstände, die Seeleute, die Reeder, die Männer der Wissenschaft! Weitere ebenso umzählbare Scharen geben dann der Wolle Gelegenheit, ihren Weg auf Eisenbahnen und Landstrassen aus den Lagerhäusern durch Spinnerei, Weberei und Färberei zum Schneider zu nehmen, der mir endlich den fertigen Rock liefert.

Wenn der Frühling auf die Berge steigt,
Und im Sonnenstrahl der Schnee zerfliesst,
Wenn das erste Grün am Baum sich zeigt,
Und im Gras das erste Blümlein spriesst—
Wenn vorbei im Tal nun mit einem Mal
Alle Regenzeit und Winterqual,
Schallt es von den Höh'n bis zum Tale weit:
O, wie wunderschön ist die Frühlingszeit!

Wenn am Gletscher heiss die Sonne leckt,
Wenn die Quelle von den Bergen springt,
Alles rings mit jungem Grün sich deckt,
Und das Lustgetön der Wälder klingt—
Lüfte lind und lau würzt die grüne Au,
Und der Himmel lacht so rein und blau,
Schallt es von den Höh'n bis zum Tale weit:
O, wie wunderschön ist die Frühlingszeit!

2. Translate into German:

(a) A peasant, whose wife had become dangerously ill, went to a celebrated physician in a neighbouring town. As it was well known that the doctor was not only very clever but also very miserly, the peasant thought that he would not come without knowing in advance that there was enough money to pay him well. Accordingly he took along with him a large, well-filled purse, which he showed to the doctor, saying: "This is all I possess in the world, but I will gladly give it to you, whether you kill my wife or cure her." The doctor then visited the poor woman. In spite of all he could do, however, she died after a few days. When, some time later, the doctor demanded his money, the peasant, who had been thinking upon the situation, asked him if he had killed his wife. "Certainly not," was the reply. "Did you cure her?" "No, she died," he answered. "Then you have no right to the money; for you have neither killed her nor cured her."

DEAR HENRY,

You will remember that when I saw you a few weeks ago, I was thinking of making a trip to Europe. I am now able to say that I shall do so in June, and I write to you at once to ask if you could not come along with me. In that case I should find the whole trip doubly interesting. It would be most enjoyable, I think, to go to the Mediterranean, land in Italy, and continue our journey leisurely through Switzerland, Germany and France. For the British Isles, where there is so much that is interesting to be seen, we should leave at least a month.

I sincerely hope that you will be able to accompany me and be my guide. I want to be back in Canada again by September the first.

Yours faithfully,

GEORGE.
